Ironman 250 snowmobile race next weekend

Thief River Falls Sno-Drifters Snowmobile club recently announced the Commercial Sewing Ironman 250 will feature a guaranteed total purse of more than $50,000. The first place finisher in the Pro 500 class will receive more than $12,000. Also, Pro 500 drivers will receive payback through the 30th place.

The race is expected to draw over 100 of the world's fastest professional snowmobile racers including 1993 Racer of the Year, Kuk Hibbert; Eagle River World Champions Brian Sturgeon and Steve Houle; ISOC point leader Nolan Knockenmus; and defending Ironman champ Eric Loge.

Pro class race registration is 4:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Friday, January 7, 1993 at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls. Last chance registration is from 6:30 a.m. to 7:30 a.m. on Saturday morning. However, pre-registration by mail is required. The first Pro 500 class flights will leave at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday. The Northwest Airlink-sponsored celebrity race begins on Sunday at 2 p.m. and will feature sports celebrities, such as former Heavyweight World Championship Boxer Scott LeDoux, former Minnesota Twins Outfielder Al Newman; and former Professional All-Star Wrestler Nick Bockwinkel. Various Minnesota media celebrities, such as Minnesota Snowmobiling Magazine's C.J. Ramstad, SnowGoer Magazine's Dick "Jimi" Hendricks, and local celebrities such as KTRF's Big Red, KKAQ's Kurt Quesnell, and Pennington County Sheriff Gerald Moe, will also compete in the race aboard identically prepared Arctic Cat Jag Zs courtesy of RV Sports, Inc.

The event will help raise money for Make-A-Wish of Minnesota, an organization that fulfills requests made by terminally ill children. Before the celebrity race, a special celebrity auction will be held on Saturday at 7 p.m. at the Best Western Inn. In addition, the Sno-Drifters will donate $1 of every ticket sold at the gate to Make-A-Wish of Minnesota.

The Commercial Sewing Ironman 250, January 8 and 9, in Thief River Falls, is an International Series of Champions (ISOC) sanctioned two-day cross-country and oval racing spectacular. The event combines more than 200 miles of cross-country racing with two days of ice oval competition. Time and points are accumulated in each of Four snowmobile trail signs strategically placed on trails near the outer edge of Thief River Falls will provide direction and assistance to snowmobile enthusiasts. The signs were made by Keith Johnson, a member of the SnoDrifters snowmobile club of Thief River Falls. Each sign will have a Beltline trail map on one side and an area trail map on the other side, and slots for extra maps that snowmobile enthusiasts can take with them. The sign pictured above is located near the Chamber of Commerce office on Highway 59 South in Thief River Falls. Other signs are located near Johnson-Greenline, the Family Bowl bowling alley, and northeast of Thief River Falls on the Whapiti trail. Johnson donated his time in making and installing the signs. Maps of the new Beltline trail will be available at the signs before the Ironman 250 snowmobile race January 8 and 9 in Thief River Falls.

Several face burglary charges

Pennington County Sheriff's department has charged six individuals with crimes in connection with burglaries at the Ralph Wilde residence and Falls Diesel, located just outside of Thief River Falls. According to the Sheriff's department, Marshall and Kittson county authorities are investigating incidents in their county's that could involve some of the individuals being charged with these two burglaries.

Pennington County Sheriff Gerald Moe said Tuesday morning that two different search warrants had been executed in Thief River Falls. Basically, he said, it was a joint effort between the sheriff's office and the Thief River Falls police department. Thousands of dollars of stolen merchandise, described as being enough to fill a pickup truck, was recovered. Sheriff Moe credited Sheriff's Deputy Rick Olson with making it possible to obtain the search warrants and solving the burglaries. Moe said Olson acting on a tip, spent a lot of time following up on that tip and that resulted in being able to obtain the search warrants.

Chad Hageman, Eric Johnson and Terry Hines, Jr. all of Thief River Falls were charged with crimes in connection with a burglary that occurred at the Ralph Wilde residence. Moe said the burglary was reported on December 3 and over $2,300 in tools and equipment were taken from the residence. All of the stolen items were recovered except a $310 pair of speakers.

Chad Michael Hageman, 23, Thief River Falls, was charged with felony aiding and abetting in burglary, and felony theft over $500 and under $2,500. Both crimes punishable by a maximum penalty of five years in prison, and/or a $10,000 fine.

Eric Carl Johnson (Longo), 18, Thief River Falls, and Terry Allen Hines, Jr., 19, Thief River Falls, were charged with burglary in the third degree, and felony theft over $500 and under $2,500. Both crimes punishable by a maximum penalty of five years in prison, and/or a $10,000 fine.

All three men were in custody Wednesday morning pending a court appearance.

Four individuals were charged with crimes in connection with the Falls Diesel burglary reported to the sheriff's department on December 25. In that burglary, a 19-inch color television, VCR, microwave, telephones, miscellaneous tools, several cassette recorders, CBs, and cellular telephones were taken. Some of the items were taken out of vehicles parked inside the building for repair.

Almost all of the stolen items have been recovered. Officials, however, are still trying to determine if all of it has been recovered. Not all of the property owners have provided all of the information needed to identify stolen property.

The four individuals facing charges include: Vernon Lee Walseth, Heather Ann Wolbeck, a 16-year-old male, and Eric Carl Johnson (Longo).

Vernon Walseth, 19, and Eric Carl Johnson (Longo), 18, Thief River Falls, are being charged with third degree burglary and felony theft over $500 and under $2,500. Both crimes are punishable by a prison sentence of five years and/or

State drops proceedings on Miz Ellies' license

License revocation proceedings against liquor license holders of Miz Ellies by the Liquor Control division of the Minnesota Department of Public Safety have been suspended.

Lance Boelter, assistant director of the Liquor Control division, explained that the main reason the proceedings were suspended was because Al Kiesow and Lonnie Watne, who hold the liquor license, promised to cease sales of alcohol at 11:59 p.m. Friday, December 31. In addition, Boelter said, some of the violations listed in the complaint were not violations, but misunderstandings.

Boelter said the suspension of these proceedings will not prevent Kiesow and Watne from opening another liquor establishment in the future, if they desire to do so. Had the proceedings resulted in revocation of the liquor license, they would have been prevented from operating a liquor establishment for a period of five years. The suspension of these proceedings, however, has no impact on pending litigation.

Boelter added that Kiesow and Watne would have had appeal rights under the law if the proceedings had continued. By exercising those appeal rights they could have extended the proceedings for months and even up to one year.

Tuesday, the Pennington county board of commissioners approved a liquor license permit for Ellie Horachek, Mike Schroeder and Angie Friezen. They hope to be operating by January 1. Ellie Horachek will be the manager.

Cross-Country Skiing helps shed unwanted pounds

Northwest Medical Center plans cross-country ski clinic at Old Mill State Park January 28 and 29

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Many people might be doing something now that they would have thought impossible — turning away that one last cookie or one last piece of pumpkin pie. It's probably brought on by that uncomfortable feeling that we all have near the end of the holiday. It's that sluggish feeling. It's that — dare I say — fat roll around our middle.

The one sure way to get rid of that sluggish feeling is to exercise. In the dead of winter, however, that poses an interesting challenge. One way to answer that challenge is with a pair of cross-country skis.

"Cross-country skiing is the number one sport for total body fitness," said Dee Larson, president of the Gnordic Gnomes.

About a dozen people make up the club called Gnordic Gnomes. It is for hardy and not-so-hardy individuals interested in cross-country skiing. The club was formed in Thief River Falls a little over a year ago. Larson said the club has scheduled three events this year. Two of the events will be candlelight ski trips at Old Mill State Park. The third event will be a day-trip to Itasca State Park on February 13.

The first candlelight event will be held in conjunction with the 8th Annual Mid-Winter Cross-Country Ski Clinic being sponsored by Dakota Clinic and Northwest Medical Center.

The 8th Annual Mid-Winter Cross-Country Ski Clinic scheduled for January 28 and 29 is a two-day clinic designed for inexperienced as well as experienced cross-country skiers who want formal instruction. Rental ski packages will be available for participants who do not own cross-country ski equipment. Pre-registration is required as class size is limited to 50 people, 25 in each session.

Although actual skiing will take place at Old Mill State park near Warren, the first meeting will be held in room B1B2 at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls. To be eligible to ski in the clinic Saturday, participants must attend this introductory session. Rental skis may be picked up at the introductory session.

During the introductory session, the instructors will talk about equipment, clothing, exercise in general and do everything to help participates prepare for a day of skiing on Saturday.

Instructors for the session will be Jay and Linda Croy of East Grand Forks. Jay and Linda will teach the basics of cross-country skiing and get participants on their way to enjoying the sport of cross-country skiing. The croys have been skiing for many years and have taught clinics like this throughout Minnesota and North Dakota for many years. They have been involved with this ski clinic since 1986. Both will attend many cross-country ski races in this year.

Larson encourages anyone interested in cross-country skiing to attend the ski clinic on January 28 and 29. It has become so popular, however, that anyone interested in

Only the whisper of skis on fresh snow could be heard. Dee Larson, president of the Thief River Falls Gnordic Gnomes, enjoys cross-country skiing. Larson believes it is the number one sport for total body fitness. Even in the frigid cold she could enjoy herself because she dressed in layers. Larson encourages everyone to try cross-country skiing.

Newspaper policy on announcing births

Red Lake Falls — The Red Lake Falls Gazette recently reiterated its birth announcement policy. Both parents will be printed if they are married, but if parents are not married, says the Gazette, "we will print the name of the mother and the baby but will not print the name of the father or the father's family. The reason for the policy is to keep the Gazette out of court if a mentioned 'father' decides after all that he is not the father and wants to sue the Gazette for claiming that he is the father."

Hope for a New Year

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Residents of small towns find safety in isolation. But even as the vast prairie landscape protects us from the rest of the world, it also poses a formidable barrier to growth and understanding.

We live in a community where everyone knows everyone else, or tries to. It is a neighborly place. We try to protect each other from the forces affecting the outside world, yet we cannot succeed. Victims of violence in the inner city become martyrs for causes that result in limitations on rights to own or possess guns. Drugs thought too exotic for small towns turn up in the hands of our young. Everyday we are faced with examples of how events outside of our insular world affect what we do, our rights and how we act.

It's understandable that we sometimes feel so threatened by what is happening that we refuse to deal with it. We avoid the warning signs and become convinced that the more pluralistic world out there is something to protect ourselves and our families from.

We have also discovered that we can no longer exist without goods we can only find in the outside world. We need the food we can obtain, the clothes we wear and the entertainment to escape. We need their assistance to help us build our roads, highways, water plants and utilities. Yet, when we need their assistance it seems that in the eyes of those who live in the great metropolis what happens here is of little significance. Perhaps they feel that way because we have told them in the past to leave us alone.

This year, let's reflect on what it means to be a small community in a world which daily seems to be getting smaller. Perhaps by reaching out and trying to understand we can keep our safety, our children, our jobs and prosper.

LETTERS

To the Editor:

So the government is going to put one hundred thousand more cops on the streets. Well, at least they will be doing what they do best, spend money. But millions more cops on the streets will not stop crime unless they straighten out the criminal justice system.

Franklin O. Roosevelt once said, "Everything in politics is planned," or something to that effect. Well that is true. All this maiming and murder we are seeing today is part of the plan.

They want our guns but they know Americans are not going to hand them over without bloody confrontations, so they will license us (the law-abiding citizens). They will put such a high tax on ammunition that only the rich will be able to buy it (another slap at the poor and middle class). What will they do with the money they take in? They will put it in the general fund, along with the Social Security tax, the road tax, the airport tax, etc., and then they will blow it for things like huge pay hikes for themselves and welfare for illegal aliens. This, of course, will not prevent criminals from illegally obtaining guns and ammunition, but that is not the aim of the gun grabbers. They just want to disarm honest citizens.

The mega news media and politicians rant and rave about the slaughter on the Long Island commuter train on Decemer 7. They still remind us of the massacre in Lubby's cafe at Killeen, TX, several years ago. But I have never once heard them mention the fact that if there had been just one armed, law abiding citizen in the cafe that day, he could have stopped the kook before he was able to kill 22 and injure 26 people.

On the CNN evening news December 17, it took Susan Rook at least 10 minutes to report all the shootings that occurred that day in the United States. But she failed to mention the gruesome murder of a 79-year-old man in North Dakota that day. The only thing the victim did wrong was to answer a knock on his door in the middle of the night. But then a gun was not used in that murder. Knives were used.

I hear parents of the Japanese exchange student who was accidentally shot in Louisiana have been here. They brought 120,000 petitions bearing 1.7 million signatures calling for a ban on hand guns, in this country, that is. They were given an audience with President Clinton before presenting the petitions to congress. I did not see that on television. I wonder why? I do wish those people would mind their own business.

Sometimes I wonder if we should lock up the politicians and news media and let vigilantes take care of the criminals, or vice-versa, maybe?

Thomas Paine said, "Arms discourage and keep the invader and plunderer in awe, and preserve order in the world as well as property. Horrid mischief would ensue were the law-abiding deprived of the use of them" (Thoughts on Defensive War, 1775).

Dear Editor:

With the holiday season upon us, family, college students and old friends will make the journey home to rekindle friendships at the dinner table, during a football game or at a holiday party.

As Thief River Falls' distributor of Anheuser-Busch beers, Northwest Beverage, Inc. wants to encourage everyone to enjoy the holiday safely — and that means being responsible. So if you are going to a holiday party, make sure it is agreed up front who the designated driver will be. If you are hosting a holiday party, be sure to have non-alcoholic drinks available for designated drivers. Offer food and snacks to your guests (which slow down the effects of alcohol on the body) and close the bar one hour before the party is over. If, despite your best efforts, a guest has too much to drink, call a cab or have someone else drive him or her home.

With a little planning, drunk driving can be prevented. Fortunately, more and more Americans are doing just that. In the past decade, drunk driving fatalities among adults are down 32 per cent, according to the United States Department of Transportation, and among teens they have dropped a remarkable 60 per cent.

The best gift we can give ourselves and our loved ones is a healthy, prosperous 1994. As you toast your friends and family this holiday season, remember..."Know when to say when."

Sincerely,
Shawn Newland
President,
Northwest Beverage, Inc.

Cross-Country Ski Clinic at Old Mill State Park

participating in the event should register early. This year, two sessions, one starting at 9 a.m. and one starting at 1 p.m. have been scheduled.

Larson said cross-country skiing has made winter fun. It's good exercise, she said and it gets her out of the house and into nature.

No-wax skis and equipment have made it easier than ever to cross-country ski. But, Larson said, many people who own equipment may have given up because it wasn't as easy as strapping on a pair of skis. It's almost that easy, but there are techniques that will drastically improve skiing enjoyment.

Larson enjoys both classical and skating styles. Classical skiing is what will be taught during the clinic, but instructors will talk about different styles and techniques.

Larson says cross-country skiing is a little like running and a little like downhill skiing. Larson feels it's a little harder to stop when downhill skiing and believes cross-country skiing brings the skier a little closer to nature.

To Larson, the highlight of the ski clinic will be a Moonlight Ski trip through the park Saturday evening. Larson said their moonlight ski trips fall on nights when there are supposed to be full moons. In any event, the trails are marked by luminaries. The groomed trails in the park will be open anytime from 6 to 9 p.m. Candles will be lit at 6 p.m. Refreshments will be provided beside a roaring fire in the warming house.

There aren't any trails around Thief River Falls specifically designed for cross-country skiing. Larson said that's why the clinic is being held at Old Mill State Park. The park has the equipment needed to groom trails.

Registration. The clinic registration fee is $8 or $18 if skis need to be rented. Each participant will also need to purchase a State Park Ski Pass, which amounts to $1 per day for $5 for an annual permit, and parking costs of $4 for two days or $18 for an annual permit.

Registration forms can be obtained from Northwest Medical Center.

Information about the Gnordic Gnomes will be available at the Moonlight Ski Trip.

Close games start Classic

Delayed a day because of the weather, the start of the 11th annual Thief River Falls Russ Smith Northwest Holiday Classic was well worth the wait for area boys high school basketball fans. All four Wednesday first round match-ups featured down-to-the-wire finishes – a pair of three-point affairs in the first session, and two four-pointers in the evening doubleheader.

Kittson Central got by Marshall County Central 60-57 and Roseau edged Clearbrook-Gonvick 71-68 in the Upper Bracket quarterfinals, while Badger/Greenbush-Middle River shaded Argyle 56-52 and Thief River Falls out-scored Fertile-Beltrami 85-81 in the Lower Bracket.

The weather switched the tournament from a Tuesday-through-Thursday format to a Wednesday-through Friday draw, producing earlier starting times for the New Year's Eve finals.

Kittson Central.....60
Marshall Co. Central.....57

First game of the tournament set the tone for the day as Kittson Central held on for a 60-57 win over Marshall County Central.

The lead changed hands 10 times and there were six ties in this one that wasn't decided until the Nordics missed a 3-point shot with one second left.

It was the 3-pointer that kept Marshall County Central in it. The Nordics shot only 37 percent in the first half, but five of their 10 first half field goals were treys as they stayed within 34-30.

And a 3-pointer by Jake Rantanen with 15 seconds left in the third quarter put the Nordics ahead 46-45 – their final lead of the game.

The smaller, but quicker Wolfpack opened the fourth quarter with six unanswered points and were never headed.

A fast break lay-up by George Hanson off a Marshall County Central turnover gave Kittson Central a 58-52 lead with 1:50 remaining – matching the biggest spread of the game.

A string of five free throws got Marshall County Central back in it, cutting the difference to 58-57 on a pair of Brandon Borg gift tosses with 1:20 still to play.

But the Nordics also missed three free throws during that stretch, and after Scott Zak missed a go-ahead jumper with 12 seconds left, Kittson Central made it a three-point game on two free throws by Nathan Kasprowicz with seven seconds showing – ending a string of five straight misses at the line by the Wolfpack down the stretch.

Kittson Central was led by 5-10 senior Matt Gustafson with 19 points, while Neil Wiese had 13, Kasprowicz 12, and Scott Flatland 10. Borg, a 6-1 junior, finished with a game-high 22 points for the Nordics, while teammate Jake Rantanen had 11. But they were both on the bench with five fouls at the end.

Marshall County Central was just 20-for-61 from the field (33 percent), while Kittson Central went 22-for-49 (45 percent). The Wolfpack went to the free throw line 30 times, but made only 14. The Nordics were 10-for-16 at the line. Marshall County Central finished with a 37-32 rebound edge. Kittson Central topped the turnover charts 18-16.

But Taylor didn't have to carry the entire load for the Rams. Teammate Scott Lunos, a 6-6 junior, contributed 18 points.

It was close all the way as Roseau posted quarter leads of 21-20, 35-33 and 53-51.

Matt Kuznia, a 6-5 junior who is just returning to the line-up after recovering from a season-opening ankle injury, led the winners with 23 points. Billy Holum, a 6-2 senior, chipped in with 12 points.

Thief River Falls.....85
Fertile-Beltrami.....81

A match-up of two high-scoring teams produced just that – a high-scoring finale to end the quarterfinals as Thief River Falls outlasted Fertile-Beltrami 85-81.

The Prowlers came out of the first quarter with a 22-19 lead, but fell behind 45-39 at halftime and trailed 66-57 at the next stop before putting together a 28-point fourth quarter for the win.

A 3-point basket by Jason Allrich kept the Falcons close, 81-78, heading into the final minute, but three times in a 31-second span the Prowlers' Preston Treat made the first shot on bonus free throw situations to open up an 84-78 spread.

A 3-pointer by Jeff Gullickson with 17 seconds left gave the Falcons a shot, but an intentional foul call with 12 seconds remaining gave the Prowlers two free throws and possession of the ball. Kyle Sanden made one of the free throws to ice it.

The loss spoiled an outstanding night for Gullickson, a 6-3 junior, who poured in 38 points – 26 in the first half. Seven of his 13 field goals were 3-pointers. He finished just two points off the tournament single-game scoring record of 40, set by Tommy Jon Deere of Kennedy in 1983.

Adding double figure production to the Falcons attack were Aaron Thompson, a 5-10 junior, with 15 points and Allrich, a 5-11 junior, with 13.

The Prowlers got a 30-point night from Sanden, a 6-10 sophomore, 25 points from Eric Bjorgaard, a 5-11 junior, and 16 from Treat, a 6-1 senior.

Both teams were busy at the free throw line, where the Prowlers were 21-for-34 and the Falcons were 13-for-19.

Scoring

	1	2	3	4	T
Fertile-Beltrami	19	26	21	15	81
Thief River Falls	22	17	18	28	85

F-B - Aaron Thompson 15, Ryan Gast 8, Jason Allrich 13, Josh Carlson 2, Steve Skadsem 5, Jeff Gullickson 38

TRF - Eric Bjorgaard 25, Preston Treat 16, Justin Kempert 2, Nathan Anderson 8, David Johnson 4, Kyle Sanden 30.

Thief River Falls goalie Jeff Lundgren knocked the puck away as Benilde-St. Margaret's forward Ed Rogalski looked for the rebound during Tuesday's match-up in the Thief River Falls/Crookston High School Christmas Hockey Tournament. The Prowlers won 10-4.

Pirates beat Prowlers 3-2 for tournament title...

Crookston wins hockey final

Billed as the championship showdown in the first Thief River Falls/Crookston High School Hockey Holiday Classic, Wednesday's finale of the four-team, round-robin event at Crookston fell far short of being a 'classic' as the Pirates emerged with a 3-2 win over the Prowlers.

The co-hosts had spent the first two days of the tournament out-scoring Minneapolis Roosevelt and Benilde-St. Margaret's by a combined 36-8 margin, but neither one came close to playing championship-caliber hockey in their showdown that also served as the Pirates' home game in the annual home-and-home regular season series between the two long-time rivals.

Thief River Falls came up with just eight shots on goal through two periods in falling behind 3-0. The Prowlers scored 21 goals in their two tournament match-ups against the Twin Cities teams, but they did not get on the board against the Pirates until 5:40 of the third period when Tim Barry intercepted a Crookston pass in the slot and put a backhand past goalie Kevin Capistran.

It didn't become 3-2 until 14:49 when the Prowlers, after pulling goalie Eric Dowers for an extra attacker with 42 seconds left, were awarded a penalty shot when a Crookston player covered the puck with his glove in the crease area during a goal mouth scramble.

TRF/Crookston Holiday Classic

■ Monday, Dec. 27 - Crookston 5, Benilde-St. Margaret's 1; Thief River Falls 11, Minneapolis Roosevelt 0

■ Tuesday, Dec. 28 - Thief River Falls 10, Benilde-St. Margaret's 4; Crookston 10, Minneapolis Roosevelt 3

■ Wednesday, Dec. 29 - Benilde-St. Margaret's 6, Minneapolis Roosevelt 4; Crookston 3, Thief River Falls 2.

■ Final standings - Crookston 3-0, Thief River Falls 2-1, Benilde-St. Margaret's 1-2, Minneapolis Roosevelt 0-3

Marc Seaverson took the shot, scoring easily with a move that allowed him to tuck the puck behind Capistran.

But that was it for the Thief River Falls offense.

Crookston wasn't exactly lighting it up, either, but the Pirates did come up with a 2-0 first period lead.

After the Thief River Falls defense allowed Crookston to walk out of the corner with the puck, it was batted around until Ben Parkin tapped in a rebound to open the scoring at 5:30.

Later, Bryan Widman was stopped as he tried to score on a wrap-around, but Eric Wikoff jammed the rebound through the feet of Thief River Falls goalie Eric Dowers for the 2-0 edge at 9:02.

A 2-on-0 Crookston rush made it 3-0 at 7:45 of the second period as Chris Peterson elected to shoot instead of passing, beating Dowers with a close-in ice-hugger.

The loss dropped the Prowlers to 4-6. They will be back on the ice Tuesday at home against Roseau.

Prowlers go 0-3 at Brainerd

■ Thief River Falls girls lose close games

Thief River Falls played three close games, but couldn't come up with a win at the Brainerd Holiday Invitational girls high school basketball tournament – an eight-team, three-day event that was completed Wednesday.

The Prowlers fell to 1-9 for the year with losses to Hopkins 40-31, Park Center 57-53 and Virginia 54-50.

"We were competitive in every single game," reported Thief River Falls coach Sally Wiltse. "The field was very evenly matched. That made it fun. We played right with teams, but we're still hurt by the same old things – our shooting and our turnovers."

Park Center jumped on Thief River Falls early, then held on for a 57-53 consolation semifinal win Tuesday.

Defensive mix-ups cost the Prowlers at the start as they fell behind 23-8 in the first eight minutes. They regrouped and pulled within 30-26 at halftime, lost ground in the third quarter, 43-34, but caught the Pirates at 53-53 in the final minute.

However, the Thief River Falls comeback was cut short by a couple of misses on close-in shots that were followed by Park Center free throws.

Lisa Rendulich scored a game-high 24 points for the Prowlers, while Toni Chiodo turned in a 13-point, 8-rebound game. Freshman Jenny Hoffner led Park Center with 16 points, getting 9 of them in the Pirates' first quarter outburst.

The Prowlers started with a 12-10 first quarter lead, but with point guard Toni Chiodo going to the bench in the second quarter with three fouls, Thief River Falls turned the ball over 12 times and fell behind 27-23 at halftime – despite a long three-point buzzer-beater by Carrie Lawrence. The Blue Devils maintained a 42-39 third quarter edge.

Lori DeLap scored 12 points and grabbed 13 rebounds for the Prowlers. Sarah Bezek scored 17 points for Virginia, including two free throws at the end to ice it. Teammate Jessica Lamppa netted 14.

Hockey teams win big

■ TRF, Crookston score 10 goals each

It was another sweep for the co-hosts Tuesday in the Thief River Falls/Crookston High School Hockey Holiday Classic.

Day 2 of the four-team, round-robin event found the Prowlers beating Benilde-St. Margaret's 10-4 and the Pirates downing Minneapolis Roosevelt by a similar 10-3 margin.

Those games were played at Crookston. Monday, the Pirates defeated Benilde-St. Margaret's 5-1 and the Prowlers shut out Minneapolis Roosevelt 11-0 in Thief River Falls.

It was another big offensive night for the Prowlers, who duplicated their Monday double-digit goal production in the Tuesday win over Benilde-St. Margaret's.

Thief River Falls looked sharper against Roosevelt the night before, but still racked up big numbers as eight Prowlers scored goals and 13 of them picked up points.

Sophomores Nick Chiodo and Chad Hanson both scored twice, while single goals came from Marc Seaverson, Corey Olson, Jason Breiland, Jeff Twomey, Aaron Ehrenstrom, and Tim Barry. Sophomore Kaine Martell showed a recent switch from forward to defense shouldn't exclude him from the offense by collecting four assists. Seaverson and Twomey, a pair of senior captains, both added two assists to their goals, with sophomore Keith Anderson also picking up two assists.

Seniors Eric Dowers and Jeff Lundgren shared the Thief River Falls goaltending duties, combining for 23 saves. Benilde-St. Margaret's goalies Mark Chamernick and Jeff Foster wound up with 27 stops.

Seaverson was nearly on top of Chamernick when he knocked in a rebound at 6:46 of the first period to start the scoring.

A shorthand goal by Olson, on another rebound that trickled by the sprawling goalie, made it 2-0 at 13:38.

Just 42 seconds into the second period Breiland tipped in a Brent Kleinvachter slap shot for a 3-0 cushion, and Chiodo swept a rebound under Chamernick for a 4-0 gap at 8:02.

Marty Harrington put the Red Knights on the scoreboard by knocking a rebound past Lundgren at 8:31, and teammate Bobby Dolan scored two minutes later when the Prowlers coughed up the puck while in a 4-on-3 shorthanded situation, allowing Dolan to walk in alone.

Martell's centering pass from behind the net set up Twomey during a 4-on-4 skate at 11:18 and Ehrenstrom tipped in a Brian Howe shot from along the boards for a 6-2 spread at 13:16.

Barry scored on a point-blank shot at 5:36 and Hanson's soft-touch upper corner shot 59 seconds later finished off a nice passing play as the Prowlers' lead ballooned to 8-2.

Benilde-St. Margaret's came back with goals by Ed Rogalski that caromed off a Thief River Falls defenseman at 6:53 and on a slap shot by Jeff Girard at 8:37 after Lundgren had been spun around in the crease during a goal mouth scramble.

But the Prowlers put an end to the Red Knights' mini-come back when a nest bit of passing ended with a goal mouth tap by Hanson at 12:16 and a short side shot by Chiodo beat Foster at 14:27.

First period - TRF, Marc Seaverson (Jeff Twomey), 6:46. TRF, Corey Olson (un.), 13:38

Pennington County continues study of solid waste proposals

Pennington county board of commissioners are in the process of determining who will operate the county's solid waste facility. The board is expected to decide upon one of three proposals on a first priority list within the next month. However, it will also be considering whether it is feasible for the county to operate the facility.

The county entered into a lease purchase agreement with Future Fuel, operator of its solid waste facility, in December of 1985. Eventually, the relationship was redefined and Future Fuel was paid for management services. Future Fuel is the only facility in the state of Minnesota that handles recyclables, an RDF (pellet fuel), and compost. Other facilities handle one or two of the above but not all three. Further, the county does not have a source separation requirement. In other words, county residents are not required to separate recyclables from their garbage. Recyclables are removed from the garbage stream by workers at Future Fuel.

The contractual relationship with Future Fuel is nearing an end and last Fall the board requested proposals from individuals or businesses interested in operating the solid waste facility in Pennington county.

Tuesday night, the county board established two priority lists. It had received five proposals, but instead of eliminating any it established two priority lists. The board will now continue negotiations and discussions with the individuals or businesses on the first priority list.

Businesses on the first priority list include Future Fuel, Professional Services Group (PSG) and SwisCorp. PSG is a French-owned conglomerate which has an operation in Wright County. SwisCorp is a corporation composed of a number of people who have a vast amount of experience in waste treatment. Their office is headquartered in Eden Prairie. Businesses on the second priority list include Minnesota Recycling, composed of one individual with a background in solid waste, and Daneco.

Howard Person, solid waste officer for the county, has been directed to establish a list so that a comparison of services and costs can be examined by the board. Person presented one scenario Tuesday in which the cost to operate the facility was based on an $85 tipping fee and the Consumer Price Index. Person explained that the current tipping fee of $45 per ton was established in 1985 and hasn't changed. Person applied the CPI to the tipping fee and came up with a figure of $60 per ton for 1993.

Indeed, it appears that whatever happens residents can probably expect to see the tipping fee increase. Person said, however, that there are a number of options available to the county board instead of increasing the tipping fee.

Steve Nordhagen, operator of Les's Sanitation, was at the meeting Tuesday and was particularly interested in finding out what the tipping fee will be because he will have to establish his rates for the year based on that tipping fee. He also requested to be included in on discussions with potential operators as he provides a substantial amount of the garbage in the waste stream to Future Fuel.

Commissioner Bud Comstock did not exactly approve of basing projected future costs of the facility on the CPI. He said he thought that was a mistake. It could limit the county's ability to negotiate better deals. He also noted that while basing future costs on the CPI in the Twin Cities might work, it hasn't been accurate "in this neck of the woods" for a number of reasons.

At the conclusion of the discussion on the solid waste facility, the board requested that Person set up some times and dates for members of the board of commissioners to visit plants where those offering proposals to operate the facility in Pennington county either operate a similar facility or similar equipment.

Several face charges in connection with burglaries a fine of $10,000.

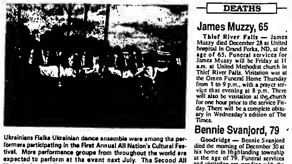
Heather Ann Wolbeck, 22, Thief River Falls, is being charged with aiding in burglary in the third degree, felony theft over $500 and under $2,500, and receiving stolen property. All three crimes are punishable by a prison sentence of five years, and/or a fine of $10,000.

A juvenile petition is also in the process of being prepared against a 16-year-old male from Thief River Falls.



The Thief River Falls police department is also preparing charges against several individuals, some of whom are being charged by the county.

Erick Carl Johnson (Longo), 18, Thief River Falls, and Jason Raymond Leroy Powers, 19, Thief River Falls, are being charged with third degree burglary and theft in connection with burglaries at the Alwood Office building.

Terry Hines, 19, and Aaron Oberg, 19, Thief River Falls, are being charged with third degree burglary and theft in connection with a burglary at the Subway store in Thief River Falls on December 21. A police department spokesperson said $100 in cash was taken in the burglary.

Seton Allen McCool, 19, Thief River Falls, is being charged with burglary and theft in connection with burglaries at the Subway store in Thief River Falls on December 14 and on December 16. A total of $50 in cash was taken in those incidents along with a large container of meat. Charges against others are being prepared.

A law enforcement center spokesperson said officers do not believe the individuals being charged in all of the burglaries above worked in concert to plan and carry out the burglaries. They do believe that they were aware of what was being done, however.

Ukrainians Fialka Ukrainian dance ensemble were among the performers participating in the First Annual All Nation's Cultural Festival. More performance groups from throughout the world are expected to perform at the event next July. The Second All Nation's Cultural Festival in St. Hilaire has been scheduled for July 9 and 10.

Marshall Co. immunization clinics set

Marshall County Nursing Service will hold immunization clinics on Tuesday, January 4, at the Newfolden Community Center from 9 to 11 a.m.; Wednesday, January 5, at the Middle River Community Center in Middle River from 9 to 11 a.m.; Monday, January 17, at the Evangelical Covenant Church in Warren, from 9 to 11 a.m.; and Thursday, January 13, at the Civic Building in Grygla from 9 to 11 a.m.

The vaccine used is provided free of charge by the Minnesota Department of Health for use in community-based clinics primarily for administration to families who are unable to pay for vaccine at private clinics and who are not covered for immunizations by medical assistance, HMO's, or private insurance. There will be a $4 fee for administering the vaccine, but no one will be refused because of inability to pay.

The Marshall County Nursing Service asks that infants be taken to family physicians for the initial DTP and oral polio immunization or bring a signed referral from the physician indicating the immunizations are to be given by the clinic. The nursing service also wants to make it known that immunization services given at public clinics should not be substituted for the child's usual well-child visit with his or her physician. Please bring the child's immunization record each time the child is being brought in for a shot. Immunizations will not be given without the immunization record unless it is the first immunization shot for the child.

For more information contact Nancy Maurstad, RN, at the Marshall County Nursing Service, (218) 745-5154.

Boo to the mayor

Warren — Alice Tangquist wrote a letter to the editor of the Warren Sheaf. Her complaint was that the snowplow kept filling up her driveway with snow after she worked so hard to shovel it. "This is a common complaint," you might say, but read on. Last year she called the mayor about this problem and after that the road grader would lift the blade as he passed her driveway. She said "That was great." However, when Alice called the mayor this year, he bluntly said, according to Alice, "You do it for one, you have to do it for everyone." Alice asks, "What am I to do?" Then, to top it off, she adds, "After all, I just celebrated my 81st birthday."

A memorable visit

Middle River — Elementary students in Middle River were visited by Kevin Nelson on December 20. Kevin paints pictures and sings. He is also a quadriplegic and confined to a wheelchair. Kevin was paralyzed from the neck down at the age of 14 when he dove into a pond and struck his head on the bottom.

Who owns the land?

Erskine — The Win-E-Mac school district may not be the owner of a part of the playground that contains the tennis courts and ball field. The land is deeded to the city of Erskine in the county records, but the school board minutes of July 14, 1969, state that the land was "turned over to the school for use as a playground and athletic field." The city is interested in building an apartment complex on the land so there will be more discussion about who owns what between the school board and the city council in the future.

Red Lake county is looking to Pennington for a good deal

Red Lake Falls — Red Lake county has signed a six-week waste recovery agreement with Sanitary Service of Red Lake Falls in lieu of the three-year proposal presented by Cal and Mary Eckstein, owners of Sanitary Service. County board chairman Lee Nielson told the Ecksteins, "We don't want to get into a three-year contract when so many things are up in the air today. The Thief River Falls facility may give us an opportunity to save some money and we'd like to hear their offer."

-Red Lake Falls Gazette

From $3,639 to $162,592 in 6 months

Erskine — The Win-E-Mac school has a $158,953 difference in its Statement of Changes in Fund Balances for the Year Ended June 30, 1993 from the beginning of 1993 to the present. The representative of Brady Martz Accounts said that mistakes were made in the preparation of the budget last year that either overestimated the number of students who would be attending or duplicating line-item revenues that would be coming from the state.

Ironman 250 promises top racers, top dollar

Snowmobile racing events in TRF start on Saturday

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Commercial Sewing's Ironman 250 snowmobile race in Thief River Falls this weekend is expected to draw top racers and thousands of spectators.

Over 100 of the world's fastest professional snowmobile racers will compete for a guaranteed total purse of more than $50,000, which is the largest purse in the seven-event International Series of Champions (ISOC) series this year. The first place finisher in the Pro 500 class will receive more than $12,000. Also, Pro 500 drivers will receive payback through the 30th place.

Top racers expected to participate in the ISOC race include 1993 Racer of the Year Kirk Hibbert; Eagle River World Champion Brian Sturgeon and Steve Houle.

Prior to the Albertville race last weekend the ISOC Pro 500 point leader was Nolan Knockenmus. Knockenmus, however, did not make the finals. The total point leader in the ISOC is Jeremy Fyle of Team Arctic.

An added challenge to racers at the Ironman 250 in Thief River Falls are two 100 mile races, one each day of the event. Last year, organizers thought the 50-mile course was a little too easy.

Certainly, races Saturday promise to be interesting. At this point in the season, no one can be counted out of the hunt for championship.

There are three more races in the series. Next weekend, racers will be in McGregor for the Winterfest 250. On February 12 and 13, they will be in New London/Spicer for the Coke Classic. The final race for ISOC snowmobile racers will be the Grand Casino Finale at Garrison on February 26 and 27.

Locally, the race is being organized by the local snowmobile club, the SnoDrifters. Club members have met several times during the past few months to make sure everything falls into place on Friday. There are nearly 100 members in the club and they have been very active this year developing a snowmobile trail around and through the city, developing the trail system with trail signs and maps, and in purchasing a $40,000 trail grooming machine.

Club President Kevin Johnson said a few of the members have been working on details for this race since the first week after last year's race. In the last six months, however, there have been many meetings. As a result, Johnson feels comfortable saying that they expect a good race. Johnson said they are a lot more organized than in the past and more organized when compared to other races in the series. They are also offering the largest payout in the ISOC series and are second in money being offered in cross-country races only to the I-500.

Johnson extends a welcome to visitors to Thief River Falls. He said anyone with questions can ask just about anyone at local motels, gas stations and restaurants. Maps of the local trail systems can be found at any of the four signs on

Marshall County Historical Society board looks for someone to serve as curator

Board of directors of the Marshall County Historical Society is looking for candidates to take in-service training for the full-time summer curator position at the society's facilities in Warren.

Curator Elaine Olson informed the board at a special meeting in December that she felt she would not be able to handle the full-time summer position in 1994. She indicated she would be willing to help train and acquaint someone else with the work.

Interested persons may contact the society at P.O. Box 103, Warren, MN 56762.

Concrete—the hottest winter product going

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

What's the hottest thing going in winter construction in the Thief River Falls area this season? It's concrete, mixed to order, hauled to the job site and poured out of the truck at 70 degrees even when the outside temperature is 20 degrees below zero.

"We used to shut down in late November," explains plant superintendent Richard Haugen of the Concrete Inc. plant west of St. Hilaire. "This November we built a building around our mixing equipment, put in a low pressure boiler to heat the water and we'll be cranking out hot concrete all winter long."

Haugen admits that the process has been going even better than he had expected and he predicts that the availability of heated concrete locally will change the schedules for a number of area contractors.

"We had seven employees last summer and we will have four working full-time throughout the winter," Haugen said. "And with the wash plant operating when warm weather arrives we're looking at employment of 10 to 12 people next summer."

Pouring concrete in the summer is the accepted procedure, but mixing and hauling it for pouring in January and February seems to be fighting against the odds. Weighing heavy in the decision of Concrete Inc. to build the facilities to supply heated concrete here was success in bidding for the School District 564 construction projects.

"We bid the whole job on the basis of using heated concrete," Haugen said. "It was expected that most of the concrete needed for the elementary school and Lincoln high school additions would have to be poured during the winter. The elementary school was ahead of schedule and did need some concrete early that we didn't have to heat."

Haugen estimated that about 500 cubic yards of concrete—nearly 80 truck loads—have been used in the school construction so far. That's less than a fourth of the contract. He expects that another 2,000 cubic yards will be needed for the schools this winter.

Concrete Inc. traces its business history back more than 100 years with the Dunlevy family in Grand Forks, ND, although the family wasn't in the concrete business at that time. The ready-mix plant located four and a half miles west

Hundreds in area await satellite TV

Rural electric cooperatives and telephone company are accepting sign-ups for later service

Hundreds of members of area rural electric and telephone cooperatives are awaiting the start of satellite television reception from the Hughes Communications HS 601 satellite successfully launched December 17.

Red Lake Electric Cooperative in Red Lake Falls, PKM Electric Cooperative in Warren and Roseau Electric Cooperative in Roseau along with Garden Valley Telephone Company of Erskine will all offer the service to their members in April when the satellite will beam approximately 70 channels of digital television into homes across the country.

General manager Ron Kennedy of Red Lake Electric Cooperative said that interest has been increasing among the members of that cooperative following successful launch of the nation's first high-powered direct broadcast satellite (DBS) December 17 from the Arianespace launch facility in Kourou, French Guiana.

Red Lake Electric has not taken any sign-ups for the service pending receipt of more information on what its equipment allocation will be and what the actual costs will be.

At Roseau Electric Cooperative, however, sign-ups for the service have been taken since October and about 260 people have paid a $50 deposit to get on a waiting list for service. Equipment will be allocated in accordance with date of sign-up, according to Randy Spicer, assistant manager at Roseau.

The $50 application fee is refundable if the member chooses not to subscribe to the service.

Roseau Electric Cooperative has about 5,000 members, virtually all in the rural areas. The TV service is being made available to residents of cities in the cooperative's area although Roseau Electric does not provide electrical service to those cities and the residents generally have access to cable systems.

A slightly different sign up system was used by PKM Electric Cooperative in Warren, according to manager Charles Riesen. The sign-up was announced at the annual member meeting in November and applications were taken through December 16. A drawing was then held among the 330 who made application to determine an order for allocation of equipment when it is received.

"The first installation will be at the PKM office in Warren," Riesen said, "and Andrew Narlock of Alvarado was drawn to be first in line for home installation. We expect to have a rate schedule available about the first week in February, and the charges for ser-

Pennington County continues study of solid waste proposals

Pennington county board of commissioners are in the process of determining who will operate the county's solid waste facility. The board is expected to decide upon one of three proposals on a first priority list within the next month. However, it will also be considering whether it is feasible for the county to operate the facility.

The county entered into a lease purchase agreement with Future Fuel, operator of its solid waste facility, in December of 1985. Eventually, the relationship was redefined and Future Fuel was paid for management services. Future Fuel is the only facility in the state of Minnesota that handles recyclables, an RDF (pellet fuel), and compost. Other facilities handle one or two of the above but not all three. Further, the county does not have a source separation requirement. In other words, county residents are not required to separate recyclables from their garbage. Recyclables are removed from the garbage stream by workers at Future Fuel.

The contractual relationship with Future Fuel is nearing an end and last Fall the board requested proposals from individuals or businesses interested in operating the solid waste facility in Pennington county.

Tuesday night, the county board established two priority lists. It had received five proposals, but instead of eliminating any it established two priority lists. The board will now continue negotiations and discussions with the individuals or businesses on the first priority list.

Businesses on the first priority list include Future Fuel, Professional Services Group (PSG) and SwisCorp. PSG is a French-owned conglomerate which has an operation in Wright County. SwisCorp is a corporation composed of a number of people who have a vast amount of experience in waste treatment. Their office is headquartered in Eden Prairie. Businesses on the second priority list include Minnesota Recycling, composed of one individual with a background in solid waste, and Daneco.

Howard Person, solid waste officer for the county, has been directed to establish a list so that a comparison of services and costs can be examined by the board. Person presented one scenario Tuesday in which the cost to operate the facility was based on an $85 tipping fee and the Consumer Price Index. Person explained that the current tipping fee of $45 per ton was established in 1985 and hasn't changed. Person applied the CPI to the tipping fee and came up with a figure of $60 per ton for 1993.

Indeed, it appears that whatever happens residents can probably expect to see the tipping fee increase, Person said, however, that there are a number of options available to the county board instead of increasing the tipping fee.

Steve Nordhagen, operator of Les's Sanitation, was at the meeting Tuesday and was particularly interested in finding out what the tipping fee will be because he will have to establish his rates for the year based on that tipping fee. He also requested to be included in on discussions with potential operators as he provides a substantial amount of the garbage in the waste stream to Future Fuel.

Commissioner Bud Comstock did not exactly approve of basing projected future costs of the facility on the CPI. He said he thought that was a mistake. It could limit the county's ability to negotiate better deals. He also noted that while basing future costs on the CPI in the Twin Cities might work, it hasn't been accurate "in this neck of the woods" for a number of reasons.

At the conclusion of the discussion on the solid waste facility, the board requested that Person set up some times and dates for members of the board of commissioners to visit plants where those offering proposals to operate the facility in Pennington county either operate a similar facility or similar equipment.

Ukrainians Fialka Ukrainian dance ensemble were among the performers participating in the First Annual All Nation's Cultural Festival. More performance groups from throughout the world are expected to perform at the event next July. The Second All Nation's Cultural Festival in St. Hilaire has been scheduled for July 9 and 10.

Boo to the mayor

Warren — Alice Tangquist wrote a letter to the editor of the Warren Sheaf. Her complaint was that the snowplow kept filling up her driveway with snow after she worked so hard to shovel it. "This is a common complaint," you might say, but read on. Last year she called the mayor about this problem and after that the road grader would lift the blade as he passed her driveway. She said "That was great." However, when Alice called the mayor this year, he bluntly said, according to Alice, "You do it for one, you have to do it for everyone." Alice asks, "What am I to do?" Then, to top it off, she adds, "After all, I just celebrated my 81st birthday."

A memorable visit

Middle River — Elementary students in Middle River were visited by Kevin Nelson on December 20. Kevin paints pictures and sings. He is also a quadriplegic and confined to a wheelchair. Kevin was paralyzed from the neck down at the age of 14 when he dove into a pond and struck his head on the bottom.

Who owns the land?

Erskine — The Win-E-Mac school district may not be the owner of a part of the playground that contains the tennis courts and ball field. The land is deeded to the city of Erskine in the county records, but the school board minutes of July 14, 1969, state that the land was "turned over to the school for use as a playground and athletic field." The city is interested in building an apartment complex on the land so there will be more discussion about who owns what between the school board and the city council in the future.

Red Lake Falls — Red Lake county has signed a six-week waste recovery agreement with Sanitary Service of Red Lake Falls in lieu of the three-year proposal presented by Cal and Mary Eckstein, owners of Sanitary Service. County board chairman Lee Nielson told the Ecksteins, "We don't want to get into a three-year contract when so many things are up in the air today. The Thief River Falls facility may give us an opportunity to save some money and we'd like to hear their offer."

From $3,639 to $162,592 in 6 months

Erskine — The Win-E-Mac school has a $158,953 difference in its Statement of Changes in Fund Balances for the Year Ended June 30, 1993 from the beginning of 1993 to the present. The representative of Brady Martz Accounts said that mistakes were made in the preparation of the budget last year that either overestimated the number of students who would be attending or duplicating line-item revenues that would be coming from the state.

Marshall County Historical Society board looks for someone to serve as curator

Board of directors of the Marshall County Historical Society is looking for candidates to take in-service training for the full-time summer curator position at the society's facilities in Warren.

Curator Elaine Olson informed the board at a special meeting in December that she felt she would not be able to handle the full-time summer position in 1994. She indicated she would be willing to help train and acquaint someone else with the work.

Interested persons may contact the society at P.O. Box 103, Warren, MN 56762.

Concrete—the hottest winter product going

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

What's the hottest thing going in winter construction in the Thief River Falls area this season? It's concrete, mixed to order, hauled to the job site and poured out of the truck at 70 degrees even when the outside temperature is 20 degrees below zero.

"We used to shut down in late November," explains plant superintendent Richard Haugen of the Concrete Inc. plant west of St. Hilaire. "This November we built a building around our mixing equipment, put in a low pressure boiler to heat the water and we'll be cranking out hot concrete all winter long."

Haugen admits that the process has been going even better than he had expected and he predicts that the availability of heated concrete locally will change the schedules for a number of area contractors.

"We had seven employees last summer and we will have four working full-time throughout the winter," Haugen said. "And with the wash plant operating when warm weather arrives we're looking at employment of 10 to 12 people next summer."

Pouring concrete in the summer is the accepted procedure, but mixing and hauling it for pouring in January and February seems to be fighting against the odds. Weighing heavy in the decision of Concrete Inc. to build the facilities to supply heated concrete here was success in bidding for the School District 564 construction projects.

"We bid the whole job on the basis of using heated concrete," Haugen said. "It was expected that most of the concrete needed for the elementary school and Lincoln high school additions would have to be poured during the winter. The elementary school was ahead of schedule and did need some concrete early that we didn't have to heat."

Haugen estimated that about 500 cubic yards of concrete—nearly 80 truck loads—have been used in the school construction so far. That's less than a fourth of the contract. He expects that another 2,000 cubic yards will be needed for the schools this winter.

Concrete Inc. traces its business history back more than 100 years with the Dunlevy family in Grand Forks, ND, although the family wasn't in the concrete business at that time. The ready-mix plant located four and a half miles west

Rural electric cooperatives and telephone company are accepting sign-ups for later service

Hundreds of members of area rural electric and telephone cooperatives are awaiting the start of satellite television reception from the Hughes Communications HS 601 satellite successfully launched December 17.

Red Lake Electric Cooperative in Red Lake Falls, PKM Electric Cooperative in Warren and Roseau Electric Cooperative in Roseau along with Garden Valley Telephone Company of Erskine will all offer the service to their members in April when the satellite will beam approximately 70 channels of digital television into homes across the country.

General manager Ron Kennedy of Red Lake Electric Cooperative said that interest has been increasing among the members of that cooperative following successful launch of the nation's first high-powered direct broadcast satellite (DBS) December 17 from the Arianespace launch facility in Kourou, French Guiana.

Red Lake Electric has not taken any sign-ups for the service pending receipt of more information on what its equipment allocation will be and what the actual costs will be.

At Roseau Electric Cooperative, however, sign-ups for the service have been taken since October and about 260 people have paid a $50 deposit to get on a waiting list for service. Equipment will be allocated in accordance with date of sign-up, according to Randy Spicer, assistant manager at Roseau.

The $50 application fee is refundable if the member chooses not to subscribe to the service. Roseau Electric Cooperative has about 5,000 members, virtually all in the rural areas. The TV service is being made available to residents of cities in the cooperative's area although Roseau Electric does not provide electrical service to those cities and the residents generally have access to cable systems.

A slightly different sign-up system was used by PKM Electric Cooperative in Warren, according to manager Charles Riesen. The sign-up was announced at the annual member meeting in November and applications were taken through December 16. A drawing was then held among the 330 who made application to determine an order for allocation of equipment when it is received.

"The first installation will be at the PKM office in Warren," Riesen said, "and Andrew Narlock of Alvarado was drawn to be first in line for home installation. We expect to have a rate schedule available about the first week in February, and the charges for ser-

New masthead for Roseau Times-Region.

Roseau — Mary Espe, Roseau county artist, has designed a new masthead for the Roseau Times-Region. The masthead has a three-dimensional state of Minnesota with a stylistic star pinpointing the city of Roseau, stating "Star of the North." Espe worked in graphic design for several years before he and his wife decided to build a house in rural Malung and make their living at free lance art work. Some of Espe's design work included letterheads for the boxer, Mohammed Ali, the Minnesota Vikings and the Buffalo Bills. His logo and letterhead featuring an artist's palette with different colors for Cameo Points won him the Cromte Cup as the most excellent engraved letterhead of the year.

Kristen Vatthauer of RLF named 1994 Beef Queen

Kristen Vatthauer, 18, daughter of Donald and Kathy Vatthauer of Red Lake Falls and a senior at Lafayette high school in Red Lake Falls, was recently selected as Minnesota's 1994 Beef Queen at the Minnesota State Cattlemen's Association convention in Bloomington.

Kristen has previously been selected as Northwest Beef Princess by the Northwest Stockmen's Association which sponsored her in the state competition.

In 1992-93 Kristen was the Minnesota State 4-H Beef Ambassador and she has also been secretary of the Minnesota State 4-H Federation. She has traveled throughout the state, giving motivational speeches, putting on workshops and attending various events as a state 4-H officer.

Kristen currently is president of the Red Lake county 4-H leaders' council, a member of Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD), choir, band and drama at Lafayette high school and president of the school's National Honor Society chapter.

She serves as youth representative to the school district's board of education, is a member of the Red Lake county extension committee and also served on her church council. She plans to attend the University of Minnesota in St. Paul next fall, double majoring in mass communications and food science/nutrition.

The Minnesota Beef Council funds the Beef Queen program with beef check-off dollars. The Beef Queen and Beef Princess (Robin Nickel of Jeffers) represent the beef industry at cattle production events and promotional activities throughout the state.

Kristen and Robin will represent Minnesota beef producers at the Upper Midwest Hospitality Show in the Twin Cities during February, the Minnesota State Cattlemen's tour in July and Minnesota State Fair activities. They also do a number of interviews throughout the year, especially during May which is designated as Beef Month.

Selected recently as Minnesota's 1994 Beef Queen was Kristen Vatthauer, 18, daughter of Donald and Kathy Vatthauer of rural Red Lake Falls. Her mother, the former Kathy Svendsgaard, is employed at Northern State Bank. Kristen is a senior at Lafayette high school in Red Lake Falls and was previously selected as Northwest Beef Princess by the Northwest Stockman's Association, which sponsored her in the state competition.

Story of relatives of area residents inspire movie about being snowbound

When the CBS television network airs the movie "Snowbound, The Jim and Jennifer Stolpa Story" on Sunday, January 9, it will draw special interest from a number of northwestern Minnesota area residents.

Jim and Jennifer Stolpa and their infant son Cleyton were stranded for eight days in the snow of the Nevada wilderness last winter. The baby survived in good health while the Stolpas had to have extensive surgery to amputate their toes and reconstruct a portion of their feet which froze during the ordeal.

Local interest is sparked by the fact that Jim Stolpa has relatives here. He is the son of Kevin and Muriel Mulligan of California. Muriel is a niece of Thomas Osse of Thief River Falls, Alvin Osse of Wannaska and Roy Erickson of Roseau.

The Stolpa family was enroute from California to Pocatello, ID, last January to attend the funeral of Tom and Alvin Osse's sister when the ordeal began. With the main route closed, they attempted to take a lesser used road and became stuck. Their trek of eight days to walk out of the mountain wilderness was highly publicized last year.

The movie about their experience was made last September and October in Vancouver, BC.

Red Lake to host two-day cultural workshops

Two-day traditional gathering and workshop will be held Friday and Saturday, February 11 and 12, at the new Red Lake elementary school, hosted by the cross-cultural training project, Eagles program, drug abuse program and other Red Lake Nation service providers.

Indians and non-Indians alike are cordially invited to participate, especially educators, social service workers and those with a sincere desire to learn more of the unique history and culture that is the Red Lake Nation.

With concurrent workshops to be held all day each day, the gathering will be conducted by elders and others from several U.S. and Canadian Indian reservations. Subject matter may include historical and cultural differences, naming ceremonies, dance, pow-wow, use of tobacco and environmental issues, emphasizing the Ojibwe traditional relationship to the land.

Entertainment by the celebrated Young Dreams Dance Troupe will conclude Friday's events with a traditional gathering pow-wow to close out Saturday. Complimentary meals will be served at noon and the supper hour.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

In response to Tom Fisher's trapping letter in the 12/29/93 Times, I am aware that Gordon Forester is employed by the DNR. I am familiar with DNR wildlife management practices designed to maximize populations of certain animal species used for sport. The letter mentions trapping of natural predators as an activity helpful to this. I agree that conservation is needed...but with an emphasis on balanced ecosystems.

The letter stated the leg hold trap is very humane. Over the years there has been much controversy with that point of view.

If fur trapping and hunting are not for profit, then why are so many wildlife management groups hoping low fur prices will rise to provide more incentive to increase the harvest?

The letter also mentions spending $125 per year on hunting, trapping or fishing license fees, whereas people who don't buy licenses contribute zero dollars to wildlife and the outdoors. Don't forget....you get paid back through pelts and kills. My wife and I spend many dollars and hours every year working with wildlife habitat. Our payback is just to be part of it.

Sincerely,
John Wengeler
Thief River Falls

To The Editor:

I'm not writing this letter to voice a concern but rather to opine on something that we all deal with....sacrifice!

Everyone claims to have given, but how many have given when it was least convenient to them? How long ago did our ancestors come to this country that we have forgotten how to give a helping hand, a kind word. How long ago did we become so pious that we have forgotten to be humble?

I am not a religious man: I can't remember the last time I went to church. But I tell you I haven't forgotten what it's like to have nothing, to be grateful for what I had, and to share.

No longer can we "live and let live." We must now "live and sacrifice" so others might enjoy their version of the pleasure and comforts of our lives.

L. Balderrama

Thief River Falls

To The Editor:

It was a cold Texas wind that blew the morning I stood on Mt. Carmel overlooking what used to be a compound that housed David Koresh and the Branch Davidian believers less than a year ago.

Regardless of who set the fire that fateful day, the government pushed the Waco incident to a conclusion that resulted in the loss of many innocent lives.

Now the government is trying to erase every piece of evidence of its wrongdoing. They have quarantined the site and erected a 10 to 12-foot high chain link, barbed wire fence around it with 24-hour armed guards. They have bulldozed the site once and plan to do it again.

And it is my understanding that the government wants the Branch Davidian Church to pay for all this enormous cost.

To my knowledge, the government has yet to produce one single illegal weapon, not one—and yet this was the pretense for government agents storming the compound with weapons drawn. What did they expect from a people who were paranoid about government to start with?

I do not agree with the Branch Davidian religious beliefs, but defend their constitutional right to have those beliefs and to own legal weapons.

Let me be among the first in 1994 to ask for the resignation of U.S. Attorney General Janet Reno for the part she played in the death of at least 89 American men, women and children.

It is pure hypocrisy for the President and Ms. Reno to give us political rhetoric about too much violence in our society while their hands are dripping with the blood of innocent men, women and children.

It was not the outside temperature, but a cold chill that ran across my very soul that day. When an all-powerful government causes the destruction of innocent lives and tries to hide the memory, it is a sad day for my country. May God raise up voices to speak the truth and seek justice for all.

Sincerely,
Former Texan

Mark Hanson dairy herd continues its lead in DHIA

Mark Hanson dairy herd, which is milked three times a day, again led the Pennington County Dairy Herd Improvement Association for the month of November, according to Randy and Margaret Rasmussen, supervisors for the association.

The Hanson herd of 54 cows—85 per cent of which were in milk during November—averaged production of 68.4 pounds of milk and 2.50 pounds of butterfat per day.

In second place was the Kevin Kalt herd of 59 cows, 85 per cent of which were in milk and averaged 66.4 pounds of milk and 2.11 pounds of butterfat per day.

Third place herd was Walter Bros. Farm with 82 per cent of the 146-cow herd in milk and averaging 60.2 pounds of milk and 2.12 pounds of butterfat.

Other herds in the top 10 included the following with number of cows, percentage in milk, average pounds of milk and average pounds of butterfat listed respectively:

Andy and Karen Peterson, 35, 86%, 55.2 and 1.83; Leonard and Marge Geske, 43, 91%, 51.7 and 1.97; L & R Dairy, 135, 77%, 51.2 and 1.81; Hamrick Farms, Inc., 83, 96%, 49.6 and 1.79; Lyle Swanson, 47, 79%, 49.5 and 1.81; Bob Schindler, 43, 84%, 46.2 and 1.51; and Arden Lundeen, 28, 93%, 45.2 and 1.66.

Number of dry cows in the herd affect the overall totals since production is averaged out over all cows in the herd to give the farmer a record of his herd's earning power for the month. During November there were 24 official DHIA herds and one Owner Sampler herd on test with the Pennington county association.

Spending Phantom Dollars

Lead paragraph of a recent news release from the Minnesota Association of Wheat Growers: "The Minnesota Association of Wheat Growers wants the state of Minnesota to invest one per cent of the $300 million in losses to wheat scab in 1993 toward efforts to solve the disease problem."

Wheat Growers executive director Dave Torgerson said the 1993 growing season started with 2.7 million wheat acres and an average yield potential of 60 bushels per acre. He said that production losses from scab dropped the 60-bushel average yield potential down to an average of 33 bushels per acre on 2.3 million harvested acres. Reduced yield combined with 200,000 acres burned and discounts averaging 55 cents per bushel from scab and vomitoxin created the estimated $300 million "loss."

"The MAWG wants the state legislature to allocate one per cent, or $3 million, of the $300 million in Minnesota wheat losses tallied in 1993 toward research priorities established by crop scientists and members of the wheat industry at a conference on scab held in Moorhead this past November," the release states.

Now, let's wait just a minute. We are talking phantom dollars here. First of all, it's impossible for a person to lose what he or she never had. What wheat producers wound up with in the 1993 crop year was a poor yield of poor quality wheat as a result of weather conditions and disease. What they lost was the difference between what they had invested in the crop and what value it returned. Potential yield doesn't count. Potential prices don't count. Unrealized potential is not a loss, no matter how much it is anticipated.

This is not to minimize the devastation of the 1993 crop year in this area. Farmers indeed count on a marketable crop increase for their livelihood. When it is not forthcoming there are extreme economic hardships. But it is as inaccurate and misleading to call unrealized crop expectations a loss as it is for Congress to call a reduction in spending increases a budget cut.

Furthermore, nobody benefitted from that phantom "loss," least of all the state legislature. It accrued no funds to "allocate" toward the purposes MAWG is requesting. What MAWG is actually seeking is a $3 million legislative appropriation from general tax revenues to fund the scab research program.

When MAWG president Warren Affeldt of Fosston is quoted as stating that "...we feel that investing one per cent of our $300 million in 1993 wheat losses to solving scab and vomitoxin would be a prudent commitment for the state of Minnesota," he is shoveling smoke. If a person could invest a loss, the stock market would be a lot more fun to play.

We can understand and support a request for an appropriation for scab research, but let's not confuse the issue with talk of losses and percentages and investment and allocations. We know that Minnesota wheat farmers are smarter than that.

Airline Deregulation A Success Story

Dr. Richard Lesher, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, criticizes what he calls "the current fad of reports, editorials and analyses regarding the sad plight of commercial airlines and of the pressing need for Uncle Sam to impose order upon a turbulent industry.

"If we were to take all of this stuff seriously," he continues, "the only logical conclusion would be that airline deregulation has proven to be a colossal failure, leaving only bankrupt carriers, displaced workers and stranded passengers in its wake."

Indeed that seems to be the case if one looks at the demise of entire airlines, lay-offs in repair, maintenance and manufacturing facilities, even the sharp reduction in enrollment in the local aviation maintenance program conducted by the Northwest Technical College. Whatever the cause or causes, the nation's aviation and airline industry seems to be in a state of decline and disarray.

Dr. Lesher doesn't see it that way.

"The reality," he says, "is that airline deregulation, launched in 1978, was and remains an unmitigated success story, certainly one of the most conspicuous achievements of the Carter administration.

"The first and most significant impact of airline deregulation was to make air travel available to a much larger segment of the population. In the first 10 years, air traffic exploded from 250 million passengers to 450 million passengers.

"Expansion on that scale usually fosters employment," he continues, "and airline deregulation was no exception. Employment in the airline industry has increased 75 per cent since deregulation, and while some airline unions have been forced to make wage and benefit concessions, the average annual wage in the industry is still $52,000.

"Critics of deregulation predicted it would lead to more fatal accidents and loss of air service to remote communities. Neither fear was realized. The overall accident rate is down 53 per cent, and new regional airlines have sprung up to serve secondary airports. In some cases it is more difficult to arrange flights to out-of-the-way destinations, but that seems a small price to pay for the tremendous benefits of cheaper air travel for the vast majority.

"The latter point must be repeatedly emphasized," Dr. Lesher adds. "Complaints about the cost of air travel are so ubiquitous and shrill one could almost believe the price had gone up instead of down. But if that were true, where did all the additional fliers come from? In truth, the average air fare is one-third less today than in 1978. In how many other vital industries have we seen such a dramatic decrease of cost in that time?

"Be forewarned," Dr. Lesher concludes. "Every report you see lamenting the ill effects of airline deregulation, and advocating a return to federal control, is nonsense."

Pennington County Health Promotion Network sponsors walking seminar

Instead of the community health fair it has sponsored the past two years, the Pennington County Health Promotion Network has scheduled a "Walking Off Weight" seminar for Tuesday, February 8, at 7 p.m. at Northland Community College in Thief River Falls.

Presenting the seminar will be Robert Sweetgall of St. Louis, MO, a nationally-known author, walker and speaker. His presentation will include information on a wellness program that focuses on physical activity, stress reduction and low-fat lifestyles.

Considered the "Pied Piper of American walking," Sweetgall has walked nearly 22,000 miles of U.S. highways on two major journeys. One covered some 10,608 miles along the U.S. perimeter in 1982 and 1983 and the other involved 11,208 miles through all 50 states in 1984-1985.

He has written or co-authored eight books on walking, appeared on national television programs, and his Walking Wellness school curriculum developed in 1985 is considered largely responsible for the resurgence of school walking programs in the United States.

Sweetgall walks 30 miles a week and tours the country presenting motivational workshops and seminars in support of school, corporate and hospital wellness programs.

Prior to becoming involved in the walking movement, Sweetgall gave up a 12-year, $50,000 chemical engineering job with DuPont in 1982. Three years later the Wall Street Journal quipped in a headline, "When Sweetgall Walks, People Listen."

The "Walking Off Weight" seminar is sponsored by the Pennington County Health Promotion Network with funding from Arctco, Inc.; Digi-Key, Inc.; Northwest Medical Center; Dakota Clinic—Thief River Falls; School District 564; and the Thief River Falls Sports Boosters.

Admission for the February 8 seminar will be $3 and tickets are available at the Pennington county extension office at the courthouse building in Thief River Falls or by mail by writing to the extension office at P.O. Box 616, Thief River Falls.

Many await TV system

vice will vary according to the selections for channels that a subscriber makes."

At Garden Valley Telephone Company $30 refundable deposits have been taken since last spring with about 460 persons having made deposits to date, according to Dave Hamre, marketing supervisor. Garden Valley will handle the service in Clearwater, Red Lake, Norman, Mahnomen and Polk (east of Crookston) counties and in the cities of Grygla, Goodridge and St. Hilaire.

Hamre said that most of the applicants are from the rural areas where cable service is not available, although Garden Valley has subscribers in both cities and rural areas in the counties mentioned. While there will be home hook-up kits available, he said, he estimates that about 70 per cent of Garden Valley customers subscribing to the TV service will contract for installation. The aim will be to provide equipment and installation for less than $1,000.

Home reception will be accomplished by an 18-inch dish system being manufactured by Thomson Consumer Electronics, makers of RCA-brand products. The service, known as DirecTv, will expand to approximately 150 channels when DBS-1 is joined by a sister satellite, currently scheduled to be launched in the summer of 1994.

DBS service will be provided in many of the nation's rural areas by the rural electric, rural telephone and affiliate members of the National Rural Telecommunications Cooperative (NRTC) and nationally by DirecTv, a subsidiary of GM Hughes Electronics.

Bob Phillips, chief executive officer of the NRTC, called the successful launch of DBS-1 "the most important technological breakthrough for rural Americans since the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) began bringing electric and telephone service to rural areas in the 1930s and 1940s."

"Many rural Americans don't get cable TV, or the cable they get offers fewer choices than urban service," Phillips said. "With DirecTv, rural Americans, for the first time, will have access to the same state-of-the-art television enjoyed by urban residents, at prices comparable to urban cable. They will have a choice."

Consumers will view DirecTV using the Digital Satellite System (DSS) equipment being manufactured by Thomson. The DSS equipment includes an 18-inch satellite dish, a digital receiver box and remote control and is scheduled to be priced starting at about $700, not including installation.

The programming signed to the system so far includes many of the most popular cable networks, including CNN, The Disney Channel, The Discovery Channel, Country Music Television and many more. In addition, DirecTV will offer more than 50 channels of pay-per-view programming—including hit movies, sporting events and specials from companies such as Sony Pictures, Paramount Pictures, Universal Pictures and the Turner/MGM Library—all at the touch of a button.

"Many people remember the day their local utilities ushered in the modern era by bringing electric and telephone service to their homes," Phillips said. "Future generations are going to remember the day that those same organizations brought them DirecTv and made them part of the information age."

NRTC is a non-profit corporation formed in 1986 and owned by 798 rural telephone and electric systems across the U.S. NRTC's corporate mission is to assist member companies in supporting the media and telecommunications needs of the 25 million consumers who live in rural areas of the U.S.

Currently, NRTC operates a C-band satellite television service called Rural TV, which is distributed by NRTC members to more than 80,000 rural consumers throughout the U.S.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

In response to Tom Fisher's trapping letter in the 12/29/93 Times, I am aware that Gordon Forester is employed by the DNR. I am familiar with DNR wildlife management practices designed to maximize populations of certain animal species used for sport. The letter mentions trapping of natural predators as an activity helpful to this. I agree that conservation is needed, but with an emphasis on balanced ecosystems.

The letter stated the leg hold trap is very humane. Over the years there has been much controversy with that point of view.

If fur trapping and hunting are not for profit, then why are so many wildlife management groups hoping low fur prices will rise to provide more incentive to increase the harvest?

The letter also mentions spending $125 per year on hunting, trapping or fishing license fees, whereas people who don't buy licenses contribute zero dollars to wildlife and the outdoors. Don't forget...you get paid back through pelts and kills. My wife and I spend many dollars and hours every year working with wildlife habitat. Our payback is just to be part of it.

Sincerely,
John Wengeler

To The Editor:

I'm not writing this letter to voice a concern but rather to opine on something that we all deal with....sacrifice!

Everyone claims to have given, but how many have given when it was least convenient to them? How long ago did our ancestors come to this country that we have forgotten how to give a helping hand, a kind word. How long ago did we become so pious that we have forgotten to be humble?

I am not a religious man. I can't remember the last time I went to church. But I tell you I haven't forgotten what it's like to have nothing, to be grateful for what I had, and to share.

No longer can we "live and let live." We must now "live and sacrifice" so others might enjoy their version of the pleasure and comforts of our lives.

To The Editor:

It was a cold Texas wind that blew the morning I stood on Mt. Carmel overlooking what used to be a compound that housed David Koresh and the Branch Davidian believers less than a year ago.

Regardless of who set the fire that fateful day, the government pushed the Waco incident to a conclusion that resulted in the loss of many innocent lives.

Now the government is trying to erase every piece of evidence of its wrongdoing. They have quarantined the site and erected a 10 to 12-foot high chain link, barbed wire fence around it with 24-hour armed guards. They have bulldozed the site once and plan to do it again.

And it is my understanding that the government wants the Branch Davidian Church to pay for all this enormous cost.

To my knowledge, the government has yet to produce one single illegal weapon, not one—and yet this was the pretense for government agents storming the compound with weapons drawn. What did they expect from a people who were paranoid about government to start with?

I do not agree with the Branch Davidian religious beliefs, but defend their constitutional right to have those beliefs and to own legal weapons.

Let me be among the first in 1994 to ask for the resignation of U.S. Attorney General Janet Reno for the part she played in the death of at least 89 American men, women and children.

It is pure hypocrisy for the President and Ms. Reno to give us political rhetoric about too much violence in our society while their hands are dripping with the blood of innocent men, women and children.

It was not the outside temperature, but a cold chill that ran across my very soul that day. When an all-powerful government causes the destruction of innocent lives and tries to hide the memory, it is a sad day for my country. May God raise up voices to speak the truth and seek justice for all.

Sincerely,
Former Texan

Mark Hanson dairy herd continues its lead in DHIA

Mark Hanson's dairy herd, which is milked three times a day, again led the Pennington County Dairy Herd Improvement Association for the month of November, according to Randy and Margaret Rasmussen, supervisors for the association.

The Hanson herd of 54 cows—85 per cent of which were in milk during November—averaged production of 68.4 pounds of milk and 2.50 pounds of butterfat per day.

In second place was the Kevin Kalt herd of 59 cows, 85 per cent of which were in milk and averaged 66.4 pounds of milk and 2.11 pounds of butterfat per day.

Third place herd was Walter Bros. Farm with 82 per cent of the 146-cow herd in milk and averaging 60.2 pounds of milk and 2.12 pounds of butterfat.

Other herds in the top 10 included the following with number of cows, percentage in milk, average pounds of milk and average pounds of butterfat listed respectively:

Andy and Karen Peterson, 35, 86%, 55.2 and 1.83; Leonard and Marge Geske, 43, 91%, 51.7 and 1.97; L & R Dairy, 135, 77%, 51.2 and 1.81; Hamnek Farms, Inc., 83, 96%, 49.6 and 1.79; Lyle Swanson, 47, 79%, 49.5 and 1.81; Bob Schindler, 43, 84%, 46.2 and 1.51; and Arden Lundeen, 28, 93%, 45.2 and 1.66.

Number of dry cows in the herd affect the overall totals since production is averaged out over all cows in the herd to give the farmer a record of his herd's earning power for the month. During November there were 24 official DHIA herds and one Owner Sampler herd on test with the Pennington county association.

Instead of the community health fair it has sponsored the past two years, the Pennington County Health Promotion Network has scheduled a "Walking Off Weight" seminar for Tuesday, February 8, at 7 p.m. at Northland Community College in Thief River Falls.

Presenting the seminar will be Robert Sweetgall of St. Louis, MO, a nationally-known author, walker and speaker. His presentation will include information on a wellness program that focuses on physical activity, stress reduction and low-fat lifestyles.

Considered the "Pied Piper of American walking," Sweetgall has walked nearly 22,000 miles of U.S. highways on two major journeys. One covered some 10,608 miles along the U.S. perimeter in 1982 and 1983 and the other involved 11,208 miles through all 50 states in 1984-1985.

He has written or co-authored eight books on walking, appeared on national television programs, and his Walking Wellness school curriculum developed in 1985 is considered largely responsible for the resurgence of school walking programs in the United States.

Sweetgall walks 30 miles a week and tours the country presenting motivational workshops and seminars in support of school, corporate and hospital wellness programs.

Prior to becoming involved in the walking movement, Sweetgall gave up a 12-year, $50,000 chemical engineering job with DuPont in 1982. Three years later the Wall Street Journal quipped in a headline, "When Sweetgall Walks, People Listen."

The "Walking Off Weight" seminar is sponsored by the Pennington County Health Promotion Network with funding from Arctco, Inc.; Digi-Key, Inc.; Northwest Medical Center; Dakota Clinic—Thief River Falls; School District 564; and the Thief River Falls Sports Boosters.

Admission for the February 8 seminar will be $3 and tickets are available at the Pennington county extension office at the courthouse building in Thief River Falls or by mail by writing to the extension office at P.O. Box 616, Thief River Falls.

Many await TV system

vice will vary according to the selections for channels that a subscriber makes."

At Garden Valley Telephone Company $30 refundable deposits have been taken since last spring with about 460 persons having made deposits to date, according to Dave Hamre, marketing supervisor. Garden Valley will handle the service in Clearwater, Red Lake, Norman, Mahnomen and Polk (east of Crookston) counties and in the cities of Grygla, Goodridge and St. Hilaire.

Hamre said that most of the applicants are from the rural areas where cable service is not available, although Garden Valley has subscribers in both cities and rural areas in the counties mentioned. While there will be home hook-up kits available, he said, he estimates that about 70 per cent of Garden Valley customers subscribing to the TV service will contract for installation. The aim will be to provide equipment and installation for less than $1,000.

Home reception will be accomplished by an 18-inch dish system being manufactured by Thomson Consumer Electronics, makers of RCA-brand products. The service, known as DirecTv, will expand to approximately 150 channels when DBS-1 is joined by a sister satellite, currently scheduled to be launched in the summer of 1994.

DBS service will be provided in many of the nation's rural areas by the rural electric, rural telephone and affiliate members of the National Rural Telecommunications Cooperative (NRTC) and nationally by DirecTv, a subsidiary of GM Hughes Electronics.

Bob Phillips, chief executive officer of the NRTC, called the successful launch of DBS-1 "the most important technological breakthrough for rural Americans since the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) began bringing electric and telephone service to rural areas in the 1930s and 1940s."

"Many rural Americans don't get cable TV, or the cable they get offers fewer choices than urban service," Phillips said. "With DirecTv, rural Americans, for the first time, will have access to the same state-of-the-art television enjoyed by urban residents, at prices comparable to urban cable. They will have a choice."

Consumers will view DirecTV using the Digital Satellite System (DSS) equipment being manufactured by Thomson. The DSS equipment includes an 18-inch satellite dish, a digital receiver box and remote control and is scheduled to be priced starting at about $700, not including installation.

The programming signed to the system so far includes many of the most popular cable networks, including CNN, The Disney Channel, The Discovery Channel, Country Music Television and many more. In addition, DirecTV will offer more than 50 channels of pay-per-view programming—including hit movies, sporting events and specials from companies such as Sony Pictures, Paramount Pictures, Universal Pictures and the Turner/MGM Library—all at the touch of a button.

"Many people remember the day their local utilities ushered in the modern era by bringing electric and telephone service to their homes," Phillips said. "Future generations are going to remember the day that those same organizations brought them DirecTv and made them part of the information age."

NRTC is a non-profit corporation formed in 1986 and owned by 798 rural telephone and electric systems across the U.S. NRTC's corporate mission is to assist member companies in supporting the media and telecommunications needs of the 25 million consumers who live in rural areas of the U.S.

Currently, NRTC operates a C-band satellite television service called Rural TV, which is distributed by NRTC members to more than 80,000 rural consumers throughout the U.S.

Volunteers help keep Roseau library open

Volunteers are making it possible for the Roseau Public Library to remain open from 2 to 4:30 p.m. on Sundays.

Beginning Sunday, January 9, volunteers will check out books, videos and magazines. The volunteers, however, will give only a limited amount of direction. Staff at the library suggest that major research work be done Tuesday through Saturday when the librarian is on duty. Also on Sundays, only individuals experienced with computers may use them.

Library Friends who are willing to serve during Sunday afternoons should contact Aileen Grahn, chairman of the Winter Hours Project. Volunteers may work as individuals or in pairs.

Weight Loss Baffles Scientist!

WASHINGTON – A scientist at National Dietary Research was baffled at how successful a natural food tablet had become in helping overweight people lose weight. Dr. William Morris was baffled because the original chewable tablet formula was developed to help feed the world's undernourished people.

Why the original food formula helped some people lose weight is still a mystery. However, the formula has since been improved, and the new formula's weight loss potential is not a mystery. The fortified formula, called Food Source II (FS-II), is not a low calorie food but a powerful appetite blocker that can actually decrease calorie consumption while supplying essential nutrients.

So how can people lose weight with FS-II—lots of weight! According to Dr. Morris, it is the revolutionary FS-II diet plan that allows you to lose weight without giving up your favorite foods. With the FS-II Plan there are no forbidden foods and the special appetite control ingredient is one of the most effective available without a prescription.

Berkeley-Brown Labs has obtained exclusive distribution rights to FS-II. FS-II is available through pharmacies and other health care professionals.

Flood assistance applications

Federal and State disaster officials remind individuals and businesses that sustained damage during the Flood of 1993 that application for disaster assistance must be made by the extended deadline of January 15, 1994. An application to FEMA is required to be eligible for benefits available under President Clinton's disaster declaration.

Information can be obtained by calling Jim Strandlie at either 681-2637 or 1-800-450-2637. Types of assistance available include money for temporary rental housing and essential home repairs, low-interest loans for homes and businesses, and grants for needs not met by other programs.

Farm families who need help with repair or replacement of homes and personal property should also call even if they applied for aid from agencies such as the Department of Agriculture.

SOUPCON

Sherry LaCoursiere

January is the time for inviting friends over to play games or cards in the evening. These recipes would be great for serving after the games.

Dip pretzels, cookies, cake, doughnut holes or fruit into these creamy fondues:

BRANDIED BUTTERSCOTCH FONDUE
1 package (14 ounces) vanilla caramels (about 48)
1/3 cup whipping cream, unwhipped
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup brandy
4 cups cut up fresh fruit

Place caramels, cream and salt in 4-cup microwave measure. Microwave, uncovered, on high for 3-4 minutes, stirring after 2 minutes, until caramels can be stirred smooth. Stir in brandy.

Pour into fondue or chafing dish to keep warm. Dip and swirl fruit or other treats in fondue.

••••••••••

CHOCOLATE-SOUR CREAM FONDUE
12 ounces milk chocolate (or semi sweet chocolate chips or sweet cooking chocolate
1/2 cup sour cream
1/4 cup half and half
2 teaspoons powdered instant coffee, dry, or
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
2 cups cut up fresh fruit
2 cups cubed angel food cake or pound cake

Heat chocolate, sour cream, half and half and coffee in heavy 2-quart saucepan over low heat, stirring constantly, until chocolate is melted and mixture is smooth. Remove from heat.

Pour into fondue or chafing dish to keep warm. Dip and swirl fruit or other goodies in fondue. (If mixture becomes too thick, stir in small amount of half and half.)

This is a fast tasty accompaniment to any meal and it also makes a delicious treat by itself:

BLUE CHEESE SLICES
3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons crumbled blue cheese
1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 loaf (1 pound size) French bread, cut into 12 slices

Place butter and blue cheese in microwavable bowl. Microwave, uncovered, on medium low heat for 15 to 30 seconds, until softened.

Stir in Parmesan cheese and spread on bread.

Reassemble loaf; place in napkin-lined basket or on microwavable plate. Cover with paper towel and microwave until bread is warm on medium for 2-3 minutes, rotating basket 1/2 turn after one minute.

This would make a great hors d'oeuvre for your guests:

SAUSAGE-STUFFED MUSHROOMS
2 pounds large mushrooms (36)
1 pound bulk Italian sausage
1/4 cup freeze-dried chives
1-2 tablespoons instant minced onion
1 tablespoon chopped fresh parsley
1 clove garlic, finely chopped
1 cup Italian-style dry bread crumbs
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Remove stems from mushrooms; finely chop stems.

Cook sausage, mushroom stems, chives, onion, parsley and garlic until sausage is brown. Drain, reserving fat.

Stir just enough bread crumbs into sausage mixture so it holds together. If mixture is dry, add 1-2 tablespoons reserved fat.

Fill each mushroom cap with about 1 rounded tablespoon sausage mixture; place filled sides up in ungreased jelly roll pan (15x10x1).

Sprinkle with cheese and bake, uncovered, about 15 minutes or until hot.

Make these into little patties for tasty snacking:

MEXICAN BEAN PATTIES
1 can (16 ounces) refried beans
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 cup finely crushed corn chips
1 can (4 ounces) chopped green chilies, drained
1 small onion, chopped (1/4 cup)
2 tablespoons margarine or butter
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
1/4 cup sour cream
1/4 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

Mix beans, egg, corn-chips, chilies and onion.

Heat margarine and oil in 10-inch skillet until margarine is melted. Drop bean mixture into skillet and flatten with spatula to 1-inch thickness. Push in sides to form patties.

Cook over medium heat about 5 minutes on each side or until brown. Top with sour cream and cheese.

Serve your guests this Mediterranean salad for a special treat:

WARM GREEK BEEF SALAD
1 pound beef flank steak
1 tablespoon fresh or
1 teaspoon dried oregano
1 teaspoon vegetable oil
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 clove garlic, crushed
3 green onions, with tops, sliced
1 small green bell pepper, cut in 1/2 inch strips
3 tablespoons red wine vinegar
1 medium tomato, coarsely chopped (1 cup)
1/2 medium cucumber, seeded and chopped
Salad greens

Trim fat from steak. Cut across grain into 2x1/8 inch slices.

Mix beef, oregano, oil, salt and garlic in square microwavable dish (8x8x2). Cover tightly and microwave on high for 6-7 minutes, stirring after 3 minutes, until beef is no longer pink.

Stir in onions and bell pepper. Cover tightly and microwave 2-3 minutes or until bell pepper is crisp-tender. Drain.

Stir in remaining ingredients except salad greens. Serve on salad greens.

Something special for those nibblers, but remember to make them a couple of days before you want to serve them:

SPICED PICKLED EGGS
6 hard-cooked eggs
2 cups white vinegar
1/3 cup granulated sugar or packed brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 small onion, chopped (1/4 cup)
4 whole cloves

Place peeled eggs in bowl or jar. Mix remaining ingredients and pour over eggs. Cover and refrigerate at least 2 days.

This is delicious with crackers or toasted bread rounds:

LIVERWURST SPREAD
1 pound liverwurst
1 clove garlic, crushed
1/2 teaspoon dried basil
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1 (8 ounce) package cream cheese, softened
1 clove garlic, crushed
1/8 teaspoon red pepper sauce
1 teaspoon mayonnaise or salad dressing
Chopped fresh parsley

Mash liverwurst with fork. Thoroughly mix in 1 clove of the garlic, the basil and onion. Mound on plate.

Cover and refrigerate 2 hours or until chilled.

Mix remaining ingredients, except parsley, until blended. Spread over liverwurst. Refrigerate at least 8 hours. Just before serving, sprinkle with parsley.

We wish to express our thanks for the pastoral care, and our thanks to the staff at Northwest Medical Center, Midwest Ambulance Service and United Hospital who cared for our mother on Christmas Day. Thank you to Bud and Alberta Johnson, Pat and Elaine Gaffaney, Sylvia Jensen, Pat and Wally Heaton, Dan and Kyle Joppru, The Catholic Daughters, and National Catholic Society of Foresters for helping us to carry on at this time. Also, thank you to everyone who sent food, flowers, memorials, and all the kind words. It was nice to hear from so many people who cared for mother. Our mother will be greatly missed, but her memory lives on.

Thanks again from the family of Jeanne Altepeter.

MCC boys hold on to win 60-58

It wasn't pretty, but Marshall County Central did come up with a win Tuesday as the Nordics got by Warroad 60-58 in boys high school basketball at Newfolden.

"We played an uninspired basketball," reported Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland. "We didn't shoot very well, and we played poor defense."

Warroad led at the quarter stops 16-11, 29-22 and 42-38 before being out-scored 22-16 over the final eight minutes.

A Jake Rantanen basket with 12 seconds left completed the scoring. Warroad missed a potential tying shot with three second to go that was rebounded by the Nordics.

Brandon Borg led the winners with 19 points, while Scott Zak had 14 and Trever Magner 10. Rex Harkness and Nolan Thompson both scored 16 points to lead Warroad.

Marshall County Central made 24 of 61 field goal attempts (39 percent) and 8 of 13 free throws. Warroad went 26-for-53 from the field (49 percent) and 3-for-7 at the line. The Nordics had a 35-27 rebound edge. The turnovers were event at 11-apiece.

The Nordics are 5-3.

Stretching across the goal mouth, Thief River Falls goalie Eric Dowers made the save as a Roseau player charged net during Tuesday's Section 8A high school hockey game at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center. The Rams out-scored the Prowlers 6-5.

Rams outlast Prowlers 6-5

Fans looking for a good, close, entertaining high school hockey game were granted two of their three wishes Tuesday as Roseau edged Thief River Falls 6-5 in Section 8A play at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

It was close, and it was entertaining. But it was also mistake-filled.

"Two very comparable teams took turns making each other look poor," is the way Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo described the contest. "We made too many mistakes – mistakes that resulted in a lot of their goals. The giveaways just killed us. It's frustrating. You have to quit making those same mistakes over and over. You get to the point where those mistakes just have to stop."

It was a game-long struggle for the Prowlers, who overcame 2-0, 3-1, 4-3, and 5-4 deficits to gain ties at 3-3, 4-4 and 5-5, but could never complete the comeback, despite numerous scoring opportunities.

"We had a lot of chances," acknowledged Chiodo. "We just didn't capitalize."

Andy Lundbohm had a three-goal hat trick performance for the Rams, who gained a quick upper hand by scoring twice in the first 3:21 of the game.

Defenseman Tony Hammer wound up rushing the net and converting a nice set up pass from Jason Lovejoy into a 1-0 lead at 2:57, and just 24 seconds later Lundbohm was on the board when he deflected in Matt Roadfeldt's shot from the point.

Aaron Ehrenstrom was left alone in front of the Roseau net and his long reach steered Nick Chiodo's centering pass by goalie Ryan Vatnsdal to cut into the Rams' lead at 6:11.

The Prowlers coughed up the puck on a power play and Lundbohm took advantage of the opportunity when he beat unprotected Thief River Falls goalie Eric Dowers with a close in backhand at 8:31.

But it turned into a 3-2 game when Corey Olson poked the puck by Vatnsdal with just two seconds left in the first period.

Keith Anderson put a centering pass into the back of the net for a tie at 3:25 of the second period.

Lundbohm scored just four seconds into a power play at 10:53 of the second period to complete his hat trick and put the Rams back on top 4-3.

It might have become 5-3, but the Rams' Bryan Lundbohm missed the net on a clean breakaway, and moments later Jeff Twomey produced another tie when his long, ice-hugging shot went under Vatnsdal at 13:13.

The back-and-forth scoring continued into the third period when Lovejoy, left unattended in front of the Thief River Falls net, quickly put one away at 6:10, only to have Kaine Martell's waist-high slap shot from the point tie it again just 49 seconds later.

The tie lasted six minutes – until Aaron Stromlund's long shot off the left wing sailed by Dowers' glove for the game-winner with 2:51 remaining.

The loss dropped the Prowlers to 4-7.

Eagles' bench plays key role in 47-46 win

Back-up players took on major roles Tuesday as Grygla-Gatzke held off Tri-County 47-46 in boys high school basketball.

The Eagles played without leading scorer Mike Jelle, sidelined by an an injury suffered in a snowmobile accident, and watched sixth man Scott Hoganson go down with an ankle sprain early in the second quarter.

"We were missing some key people, but the kids who played stepped forward and did a real nice job for us," pointed out Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson. "I was really proud of them."

Seniors Rod Holte and Lonnie Larson picked up the slack, said Johnson, while Kevin Warne, Denny Warne, Anthony Holthusen, Tony Mosher, and Shawn Verbout all took on additional responsibilities.

Grygla-Gatzke trailed 8-7 at the end of the first quarter, gained a 20-20 halftime tie but fell behind 32-29 in the third quarter. It ended with Tri-County missing three shots in the final seconds.

"We survived," said Johnson, whose team reached .500 with the win at 3-3.

Lunsetter led the Eagles with 13 points. Jeremy Anderson of the Wildcats led all scorers with 20, while teammate Brian Nelson contributed 10.

Grygla-Gatzke was 17-for-46 from the field (37 percent) and 6-for-12 at the free throw line. Tri-County went 16-for-41 from the floor (39 percent) and 13-for-18 at the line. Tri-County had a 31-24 rebound advantage. Grygla-Gatzke had more turnovers, 22-15.

Mustangs start strong, win 76-63

■ Red Lake County Central boys beat Goodridge

The outcome was decided in a hurry Tuesday when Red Lake County Central jumped out to a 22-4 lead en route to a 76-63 boys high school basketball win over Goodridge at Oklee.

Goodridge managed to stay within 32-21 at halftime, but Red Lake County Central re-opened a 57-33 third quarter gap by going inside, where Aaron Chaput (9) and Ryan Salberg (8) combined for 17 of the Mustangs' 25 third quarter points.

"It was an old-fashion butt-kicking," said Goodridge coach Joba Rahn. "There is no other way to put it. They have a good all-round team. They might just be the best team in the sub-section. I know they have our vote – they've beaten us twice."

A balanced Red Lake County Central attack featured Chaput with 20 points, Bryce Huotari 18, Salberg 11, and Aaron Rosten 11. Only Goodridge scorer in double figures was Mitch Smsky, who finished with 11.

"We came out pretty hot," said Red Lake County Central coach Todd Fore. "That set the tone. We got kind of sloppy the last four minutes of the half, but we got back up on them in the third quarter. They couldn't stop our inside game – that was the main factor."

Goodridge shot 45 percent from the field (24/53) and made 11 of 19 free throws. Red Lake County Central shot 48 percent from the floor (27/56) and went 8-for-15 at the line.

Red Lake County Central is 7-1; Goodridge fell to 3-3.

Matt Kuznia buzzer-beater produces 48-46 win...

Gators top Rams on final shot

Matt Kuznia broke a tie with a long jumper at the buzzer Tuesday, lifting Badger/Greenbush-Middle River past host Roseau 48-46 in boys high school basketball.

The Rams were coming off a championship performance in the Thief River Falls Russ Smith Northwest Holiday Classic, where the defending champion Gators had a 1-2 finish. The win put Badger/Greenbush-Middle River at 3-4 for the year.

"We played our best overall ball game of the year," said Gators coach Eldon Sparby. "Our passing was good, and our defense was the best its been all year."

It was close all the way, beginning with a 10-10 first quarter tie. The Rams led 23-21 at halftime and had a 37-36 third quarter edge.

Both teams had their chances at the end. Badger/Greenbush-Middle River gained possession with 1:14 left in a tie game and planned to work for a last shot. That strategy ended in a turnover with 25 seconds showing. But the Rams' attempt to run the clock down before taking a final shot met a similar fate when they lost the ball with five second to play.

A scramble on the in-bounds play found the ball being batted out of bounds with two seconds left. A final Badger/Greenbush-Middle River time-out set up a play for Kuznia, and it worked as the 6-5 junior hit the buzzer-beater just inside the top of the three-point circle.

"We got lucky," admitted Sparby.

Kuznia finished with 21 points. Teammate Billy Holum had 10. Jeff Taylor of the Rams led all scorers with 22 points, while Scott Lunos chipped in with 10.

The Gators were 22-for-56 from the field (39 percent), which included just 2 of 13 from 3-point range. The Rams went 19-for-46 (41 percent). Badger/Greenbush-Middle River made 2 of 8 free throw attempts; Roseau was 7-for-9. The smaller Gators finished with a 29-26 rebound edge and topped the turnover charts 11-8.

Roseau beats RLCC girls

Roseau exploded offensively at the start of the third quarter Thursday to key an 80-37 girls high school basketball win over visiting Red Lake County Central.

The Rams led only 32-24 at halftime, but quickly doubled the spread after intermission, opening up a 59-28 third quarter gap.

"We completely fell apart in the second half," reported Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto.

Megan Taylor scored 25 points to lead a group of four Roseau double figure scorers. A 10-point game by Meckenzie Molwitz paced the Mustangs.

Red Lake County Central shot just 24 percent from the field (16-for-66), while going 4-for-9 at the free throw line. Roseau shot 47 percent from the field (36-for-77) and made 3 of 7 free throws.

One of the few highlights for the Mustangs was a 42-27 rebound advantage – 16 for Angel Mickelson. But they also had 25 turnovers in falling to 3-5 for the

B/G-MR girls lose one-point contest

The offense was a no-show Thursday as the Badger/Greenbush-Middle River girls lost a 39-38 high school basketball game at Warroad.

It was the third straight loss for the Gators, dropping them to 4-4 for the year.

Warroad trailed 22-14 at halftime, but went ahead 29-28 in the third quarter and won it on a Heather Arntzen shot with four seconds left – her only basket of the night.

"We didn't play very well," acknowledged Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Tom Neibauer. "We came out really flat in the third quarter."

Jessica Borgen scored with 20 seconds remaining to put the Gators up 38-37, but Arntzen followed with the game-winner.

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River put up just 37 shots, hitting 14 of them (38 percent). The Gators were 10-for-13 at the free throw line, where the winners went 7-for-12.

Cold-shooting RLCC girls lose to Falcons

Cold shooting put Red Lake County Central in a hole early, and the Mustangs never recovered, losing a 48-27 girls high school basketball game at Fertile-Beltrami Tuesday.

Red Lake County Central went 3-for-23 from the field and 0-for-8 at the free throw line in the first half to trail 10-2 and 22-7 at the first two quarter stops. Fertile-Beltrami maintained a 32-16 third quarter spread.

"It was a very un-inspiring performance," said Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto.

Angel Mickelson was the Mustangs' only double figure scorer, finishing with 10 points. Danelle Leier led the Falcons with 12 points.

It was a 22 percent, 10-for-45 night from the field overall for the Mustangs, who missed 13 of their 19 free throw opportunities. Fertile-Beltrami went 22-for-57 from the field (39 percent) and 4-for-8 at the line while showing a 40-30 rebound advantage. The Mustangs had 21 turnovers.

Ice-related accidents...

Safety tips offered by DNR

An average of seven people die every year, falling through ice they thought was safe. In the winter on 1982-83, 22 people died in ice related accidents according to Minnesota Department of Natural Resources statistics.

In most cases the victims didn't drown immediately after they fell in. According to DNR reports, most ice accident victims were able to hang onto the side of the ice hole for quite some time before succumbing to the effects of cold water-induced hypothermia. The reason the people died was that they were unable to pull themselves out of the hole back onto solid ice.

"You have to remember that when you break through the ice, a good deal of water splashes onto the surrounding ice, making it extremely slippery," said Tim Smalley DNR boat and water safety specialist. "That, combined with the extra 60 to 80 pounds of water that soaks into your clothing, along with panic, and the effects of cold water makes trying to escape without some kind of aid a real nightmare," he added.

Minnesota DNR recommends that winter recreation enthusiasts who venture out onto the state's frozen lakes, take along a pair of simple tools that can be easily made at home in a few minutes, but can mean the difference between survival and drowning.

Two short lengths of broom handle-sized wooden doweling, with nails driven into the ends and the heads sharpened to a point can easily be carried in a pocket. In case of emergency, while kicking, drive the nails into the ice ahead and pull yourself to safety.

If you drill and extra hole into the nail end of each, the two picks will nest together, acting as a sheath for the nail of the other pick. "Also, if you tie the picks together with a three foot length of strong cord, jump rope-fashion you can just throw them over your shoulder for easy access in an emergency," Smalley advised. "If a companion falls in, you can throw the picks to the victim and talk him or her through a self-rescue," he added.

Although some people carry large nails in their pocket instead of picks, the DNR advises that ice picks are more safe because the floating wooden handles keep them from sinking if you accidentally drop the picks in a panic situation.

People wishing more information on ice safety, may request the free ice safety brochure "Danger Thin Ice" along with a wallet card listing the recommended minimum ice thicknesses for various activities by calling toll free (800) 766-6000.

Lake Bronson St. Park will offer ski, snowshoe events

Lake Bronson State Park visitors will have the opportunity to take part in upcoming snowshoe and cross country ski programs.

An interpretative snowshoe hike will be offered Sunday, Jan. 16. Participants will be visiting portions of the park not accessible during the summer, looking for types of wildlife that are active during the winter – to see how they live and survive in the long cold months.

The hike will last 2-to-3 hours. If it is sub zero weather, the hike will be shortened.

Participants should meet at the park shelter. A number of snowshoes will be provided, but bring your own if you have them. Hot refreshments will be furnished.

The park will also offer a night of cross country skiing by moonlight and candle light from 6 to 9 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 29, followed by a gathering around a warm fireplace and wood stove at the park shelter for hot refreshments. Participants may bring goodies to share.

All skiers will need a state ski pass and valid state park vehicle permits, both available at the park.

For additional information about either the snowshoe or ski programs, contact park personnel at 754-2200.

Pacesetter Camps to sponsor pair of state tournaments in 1994

Pacesetter Basketball Camps has announced plans to sponsor two state basketball tournaments for boys and girls next summer - using separate formats for players in grades 5-9 and for grades 10-12.

Eight regional playoffs will be held throughout Minnesota from March to May to determine the state qualifiers for the boys and girls in grades 5-9.

State tournament games will be played at the St. Cloud Civic Center – June 12 for boys in grades 7-9, June 19 for girls in grades 7-9, July 10 for boys and girls in grades 5-6.

Over 500 teams participated in the grades 5-9 Pacesetter playoff program last spring. Thief River Falls won the girls sixth grade state title.

A new addition to the Pacesetter program this spring will be a 16-team invitational state tournament for high school varsity teams July 16-17, also at the Civic Center.

One team from each of the eight boys and girls Class A and Class AA sections in Minnesota will be invited to participate in the high school tournament, based on a projected ranking by coaches in each section.

At the Pacesetter state tournament, all teams will play within their own class for the first round, with Class A vs. Class AA matchups planned for quarterfinals – similar to the proposed Sweet 16 state tournament for boys that is scheduled to be used by the Minnesota State High School League in 1995.

1993 Pacesetter State Champions

Ninth grade - New London-Spicer boys, New London-Spicer girls; eighth grade - St. Cloud South boys, New London-Spicer girls; seventh grade - Pine River-Backus boys, Crookston girls; sixth grade - Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton boys, Thief River Falls girls; fifth grade - Waterville-Elysian boys, Crookston girls

MCC boys hold on to win 60-58

It wasn't pretty, but Marshall County Central did come up with a win Tuesday as the Nordics got by Warroad 60-58 in boys high school basketball at Newfolden.

"We played uninspired basketball," reported Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland. "We didn't shoot very well, and we played poor defense."

Warroad led at the quarter stops 16-11, 29-22 and 42-38 before being out-scored 22-16 over the final eight minutes.

A Jake Rantanen basket with 12 seconds left completed the scoring. Warroad missed a potential tying shot with three second to go that was rebounded by the Nordics.

Brandon Borg led the winners with 19 points, while Scott Zak had 14 and Trever Magner 10. Rex Harkness and Nolan Thompson both scored 16 points to lead Warroad.

Marshall County Central made 24 of 61 field goal attempts (39 percent) and 8 of 13 free throws. Warroad went 26-for-53 from the field (49 percent) and 3-for-7 at the line. The Nordics had a 35-27 rebound edge. The turnovers were event at 11-apiece.

The Nordics are 5-3.

Stretching across the goal mouth, Thief River Falls goalie Eric Dowers made the save as a Roseau player charged net during Tuesday's Section 8A high school hockey game at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center. The Rams out-scored the Prowlers 6-5.

Rams outlast Prowlers 6-5

Fans looking for a good, close, entertaining high school hockey game were granted two of their three wishes Tuesday as Roseau edged Thief River Falls 6-5 in Section 8A play at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

It was close, and it was entertaining. But it was also mistake-filled.

"Two very comparable teams took turns making each other look poor," is the way Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo described the contest. "We made too many mistakes – mistakes that resulted in a lot of their goals. The giveaways just killed us. It's frustrating. You have to quit making those same mistakes over and over. You get to the point where those mistakes just have to stop."

It was a game-long struggle for the Prowlers, who overcame 2-0, 3-1, 4-3, and 5-4 deficits to gain ties at 3-3, 4-4 and 5-5, but could never complete the comeback, despite numerous scoring opportunities.

"We had a lot of chances," acknowledged Chiodo. "We just didn't capitalize."

Andy Lundbohm had a three-goal hat trick performance for the Rams, who gained a quick upper hand by scoring twice in the first 3:21 of the game.

Defenseman Tony Hammer wound up rushing the net and converting a nice set up pass from Jason Lovejoy into a 1-0 lead at 2:57, and just 24 seconds later Lundbohm was on the board when he deflected in Matt Roadfeldt's shot from the point.

Aaron Ehrenstrom was left alone in front of the Roseau net and his long reach steered Nick Chiodo's centering pass by goalie Ryan Vatnsdal to cut into the Rams' lead at 6:11.

The Prowlers coughed up the puck on a power play and Lundbohm took advantage of the opportunity when he beat unprotected Thief River Falls goalie Eric Dowers with a close in backhand at 8:31.

But it turned into a 3-2 game when Corey Olson poked the puck by Vatnsdal with just two seconds left in the first period.

Keith Anderson put a centering pass into the back of the net for a tie at 3:25 of the second period.

Lundbohm scored just four seconds into a power play at 10:53 of the second period to complete his hat trick and put the Rams back on top 4-3.

It might have become 5-3, but the Rams' Bryan Lundbohm missed the net on a clean breakaway, and moments later Jeff Twomey produced another tie when his long, ice-hugging shot went under Vatnsdal at 13:13.

The back-and-forth scoring continued into the third period when Lovejoy, left unattended in front of the Thief River Falls net, quickly put one away at 6:10, only to have Kaine Martell's waist-high slap shot from the point tie it again just 49 seconds later.

The tie lasted six minutes – until Aaron Stromlund's long shot off the left wing sailed by Dowers' glove for the game-winner with 2:51 remaining.

The loss dropped the Prowlers to 4-7.

Eagles' bench plays key role in 47-46 win

Back-up players took on major roles Tuesday as Grygla-Gatzke held off Tri-County 47-46 in boys high school basketball.

The Eagles played without leading scorer Mike Jelle, sidelined by an an injury suffered in a snowmobile accident, and watched sixth man Scott Hoganson go down with an ankle sprain early in the second quarter.

"We were missing some key people, but the kids who played stepped forward and did a real nice job for us," pointed out Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson. "I was really proud of them."

Seniors Rod Holte and Lonnie Larson picked up the slack, said Johnson, while Kevin Warne, Denny Warne, Anthony Holthusen, Tony Mosher, and Shawn Verbout all took on additional responsibilities.

Grygla-Gatzke trailed 8-7 at the end of the first quarter, gained a 20-20 halftime tie but fell behind 32-29 in the third quarter. It ended with Tri-County missing three shots in the final seconds.

"We survived," said Johnson, whose team reached .500 with the win at 3-3.

Lunsetter led the Eagles with 13 points. Jeremy Anderson of the Wildcats led all scorers with 20, while teammate Brian Nelson contributed 10.

Grygla-Gatzke was 17-for-46 from the field (37 percent) and 6-for-12 at the free throw line. Tri-County went 16-for-41 from the floor (39 percent) and 13-for-18 at the line. Tri-County had a 31-24 rebound advantage. Grygla-Gatzke had more turnovers, 22-15.

Mustangs start strong, win 76-63

■ Red Lake County Central boys beat Goodridge

The outcome was decided in a hurry Tuesday when Red Lake County Central jumped out to a 22-4 lead en route to a 76-63 boys high school basketball win over Goodridge at Oklee.

Goodridge managed to stay within 32-21 at halftime, but Red Lake County Central re-opened a 57-33 third quarter gap by going inside, where Aaron Chaput (9) and Ryan Salberg (8) combined for 17 of the Mustangs' 25 third quarter points.

"It was an old-fashion butt-kicking," said Goodridge coach John Rahn. "There is no other way to put it. They have a good all-round team. They might just be the best team in the sub-section. I know they have our vote – they've beaten us twice."

A balanced Red Lake County Central attack featured Chaput with 20 points, Bryce Huotari 18, Salberg 11, and Aaron Rosten 11. Only Goodridge scorer in double figures was Mitch Smsky, who finished with 11.

"We came out pretty hot," said Red Lake County Central coach Todd Fore. "That set the tone. We got kind of sloppy the last four minutes of the half, but we got back up on them in the third quarter. They couldn't stop our inside game – that was the main factor."

Goodridge shot 45 percent from the field (24/53) and made 11 of 19 free throws. Red Lake County Central shot 48 percent from the floor (27/56) and went 8-for-15 at the line.

Red Lake County Central is 7-1; Goodridge fell to 3-3.

Matt Kuznia buzzer-beater produces 48-46 win...

Gators top Rams on final shot

Matt Kuznia broke a tie with a long jumper at the buzzer Tuesday, lifting Badger/Greenbush-Middle River past host Roseau 48-46 in boys high school basketball.

The Rams were coming off a championship performance in the Thief River Falls Russ Smith Northwest Holiday Classic, where the defending champion Gators had a 1-2 finish. The win put Badger/Greenbush-Middle River at 3-4 for the year.

"We played our best overall ball game of the year," said Gators coach Eldon Sparby. "Our passing was good, and our defense was the best its been all year."

It was close all the way, beginning with a 10-10 first quarter tie. The Rams led 23-21 at halftime and had a 37-36 third quarter edge.

Both teams had their chances at the end. Badger/Greenbush-Middle River gained possession with 1:14 left in a tie game and planned to work for a last shot. That strategy ended in a turnover with 25 seconds showing. But the Rams' attempt to run the clock down before taking a final shot met a similar fate when they lost the ball with five second to play.

A scramble on the in-bounds play found the ball being batted out of bounds with two seconds left. A final Badger/Greenbush-Middle River time-out set up a play for Kuznia, and it worked as the 6-5 junior hit the buzzer-beater just inside the top of the three-point circle.

"We got lucky," admitted Sparby.

Kuznia finished with 21 points. Teammate Billy Holum had 10. Jeff Taylor of the Rams led all scorers with 22 points, while Scott Lunos chipped in with 10.

The Gators were 22-for-56 from the field (39 percent), which included just 2 of 13 from 3-point range. The Rams went 19-for-46 (41 percent). Badger/Greenbush-Middle River made 2 of 8 free throw attempts; Roseau was 7-for-9. The smaller Gators finished with a 29-26 rebound edge and topped the turnover charts 11-8.

Scoring

	1	2	3	4	T

Roseau	10	13	14	9	46

Roseau beats RLCC girls

Roseau exploded offensively at the start of the third quarter Thursday to key an 80-37 girls high school basketball win over visiting Red Lake County Central.

The Rams led only 32-24 at halftime, but quickly doubled the spread after intermission, opening up a 59-28 third quarter gap.

"We completely fell apart in the second half," reported Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto.

Megan Taylor scored 25 points to lead a group of four Roseau double figure scorers. A 10-point game by Meckenzie Malwitz paced the Mustangs.

Red Lake County Central shot just 24 percent from the field (16-for-66), while going 4-for-9 at the free throw line. Roseau shot 47 percent from the field (36-for-77) and made 3 of 7 free throws.

One of the few highlights for the Mustangs was a 42-27 rebound advantage – 16 for Angel Mickelson. But they also had 25 turnovers in falling to 3-5 for the

B/G-MR girls lose one-point contest

The offense was a no-show Thursday as the Badger/Greenbush-Middle River girls lost a 39-38 high school basketball game at Warroad.

It was the third straight loss for the Gators, dropping them to 4-4 for the year.

Warroad trailed 22-14 at halftime, but went ahead 29-28 in the third quarter and won it on a Heather Arntzen shot with four seconds left – her only basket of the night.

"We didn't play very well," acknowledged Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Tom Nelbauer. "We came out really flat in the third quarter."

Jessica Borgen scored with 20 seconds remaining to put the Gators up 38-37, but Arntzen followed with the game-winner.

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River put up just 37 shots, hitting 14 of them (38 percent). The Gators were 10-for-13 at the free throw line, where the winners went 7-for-12.

Cold-shooting RLCC girls lose to Falcons

Cold shooting put Red Lake County Central in a hole early, and the Mustangs never recovered, losing a 48-27 girls high school basketball game at Fertile-Beltrami Tuesday.

Red Lake County Central went 3-for-23 from the field and 0-for-8 at the free throw line in the first half to trail 10-2 and 22-7 at the first two quarter stops. Fertile-Beltrami maintained a 32-16 third quarter spread.

"It was a very un-inspiring performance," said Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto.

Angel Mickelson was the Mustangs' only double figure scorer, finishing with 10 points. Danelle Leier led the Falcons with 12 points.

It was a 22 percent, 10-for-45 night from the field overall for the Mustangs, who missed 13 of their 19 free throw opportunities. Fertile-Beltrami went 22-for-57 from the field (39 percent) and 4-for-8 at the line while showing a 40-30 rebound advantage. The Mustangs had 21 turnovers.

Ice-related accidents...

Safety tips offered by DNR

An average of seven people die every year, falling through ice they thought was safe. In the winter of 1982-83, 22 people died in ice related accidents according to Minnesota Department of Natural Resources statistics.

In most cases the victims didn't drown immediately after they fell in. According to DNR reports, most ice accident victims were able to hang onto the side of the ice hole for quite some time before succumbing to the effects of cold water-induced hypothermia. The reason the people died was that they were unable to pull themselves out of the hole back onto solid ice.

"You have to remember that when you break through the ice, a good deal of water splashes onto the surrounding ice, making it extremely slippery," said Tim Smalley DNR boat and water safety specialist. "That, combined with the extra 60 to 80 pounds of water that soaks into your clothing, along with panic, and the effects of cold water makes trying to escape without some kind of aid a real nightmare," he added.

Minnesota DNR recommends that winter recreation enthusiasts who venture out onto the state's frozen lakes, take along a pair of simple tools that can be easily made at home in a few minutes, but can mean the difference between survival and drowning.

Two short lengths of broom handle-sized wooden doweling, with nails driven into the ends and the heads sharpened to a point can easily be carried in a pocket. In case of emergency, while kicking, drive the nails into the ice ahead and pull yourself to safety.

If you drill and extra hole into the nail end of each, the two picks will nest together, acting as a sheath for the nail of the other pick. "Also, if you tie the picks together with a three foot length of strong cord, jump rope-fashion you can just throw them over your shoulder for easy access in an emergency," Smalley advised. "If a companion falls in, you can throw the picks to the victim and talk him or her through a self-rescue," he added.

Although some people carry large nails in their pocket instead of picks, the DNR advises that ice picks are more safe because the floating wooden handles keep them from sinking if you accidentally drop the picks in a panic situation.

People wishing more information on ice safety, may request the free ice safety brochure "Danger Thin Ice" along with a wallet card listing the recommended minimum ice thicknesses for various activities by calling toll free (800) 766-6000.

Lake Bronson St. Park will offer ski, snowshoe events

Lake Bronson State Park visitors will have the opportunity to take part in upcoming snowshoe and cross country ski programs.

An interpretative snowshoe hike will be offered Sunday, Jan. 16. Participants will be visiting portions of the park not accessible during the summer, looking for types of wildlife that are active during the winter – to see how they live and survive in the long cold months.

The hike will last 2-to-3 hours. If it is sub-zero weather, the hike will be shortened.

Participants should meet at the park shelter. A number of snowshoes will be provided, but bring your own if you have them. Hot refreshments will be furnished.

The park will also offer a night of cross country skiing by moonlight and candle light from 6 to 9 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 29, followed by a gathering around a warm fireplace and wood stove at the park shelter for hot refreshments. Participants may bring goodies to share.

All skiers will need a state ski pass and valid state park vehicle permits, both available at the park.

For additional information about either the snowshoe or ski programs, contact park personnel at 754-2200.

Pacesetter Camps to sponsor pair of state tournaments in 1994

Pacesetter Basketball Camps has announced plans to sponsor two state basketball tournaments for boys and girls next summer - using separate formats for players in grades 5-9 and for grades 10-12.

Eight regional playoffs will be held throughout Minnesota from March-to-May to determine the state qualifiers for the boys and girls in grades 5-9.

State tournament games will be played at the St. Cloud Civic Center – June 12 for boys in grades 7-9, June 19 for girls in grades 7-9, July 10 for boys and girls in grades 5-6.

Over 500 teams participated in the grades 5-9 Pacesetter playoff program last spring. Thief River Falls won the girls sixth grade state title.

A new addition to the Pacesetter program this spring will be a 16-team invitational state tournament for high school varsity teams July 16-17, also at the Civic Center.

One team from each of the eight boys and girls Class A and Class AA sections in Minnesota will be invited to participate in the high school tournament, based on a projected ranking by coaches in each section.

At the Pacesetter state tournament, all teams will play within their own class for the first round, with Class A vs. Class AA matchups planned for quarterfinals – similar to the proposed Sweet 16 state tournament for boys that is scheduled to be used by the Minnesota State High School League in 1995.

1993 Pacesetter State Champions

Ninth grade - New London-Spicer boys, New London Spicer girls; eighth grade - St. Cloud South boys, New London Spicer girls; seventh grade - Pine River-Backus boys, Crookston girls; sixth grade - Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton boys, Thief River Falls girls; fifth grade - Waterville Elysian boys, Crookston girls

MCC boys hold on to win 60-58

It wasn't pretty, but Marshall County Central did come up with a win Tuesday as the Nordics got by Warroad 60-58 in boys high school basketball at Newfolden.

"We played un-inspired basketball," reported Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland. "We didn't shoot very well, and we played poor defense."

Warroad led at the quarter stops 16-11, 29-22 and 42-38 before being out-scored 22-16 over the final eight minutes.

A Jake Rantanen basket with 12 seconds left completed the scoring. Warroad missed a potential tying shot with three second to go that was rebounded by the Nordics.

Brandon Borg led the winners with 19 points, while Scott Zak had 14 and Trever Magner 10. Rex Harkness and Nolan Thompson both scored 16 points to lead Warroad.

Marshall County Central made 24 of 61 field goal attempts (39 percent) and 8 of 13 free throws. Warroad went 26-for-53 from the field (49 percent) and 3-for-7 at the line. The Nordies had a 35-27 rebound edge. The turnovers were event at 11-apiece.

The Nordics are 5-3.

Eagles' bench plays key role in 47-46 win

Back-up players took on major roles Tuesday as Grygla-Gatzke held off Tri-County 47-46 in boys high school basketball.

The Eagles played without leading scorer Mike Jelle, sidelined by an an injury suffered in a snowmobile accident, and watched sixth man Scott Hoganson go down with an ankle sprain early in the second quarter.

"We were missing some key people, but the kids who played stepped forward and did a real nice job for us," pointed out Grygla-Gatzko coach Vern Johnson. "I was really proud of them."

Seniors Rod Holte and Lonnie Larson picked up the slack, said Johnson, while Kevin Warne, Denny Warne, Anthony Holthusen, Tony Mosher, and Shawn Verbout all took on additional responsibilities.

Grygla-Gatzke trailed 8-7 at the end of the first quarter, gained a 20-20 halftime tie but fell behind 32-29 in the third quarter. It ended with Tri-County missing three shots in the final seconds.

"We survived," said Johnson, whose team reached .500 with the win at 3-3.

Rams outlast Prowlers 6-5

Fans looking for a good, close, entertaining high school hockey game were granted two of their three wishes Tuesday as Roseau edged Thief River Falls 6-5 in Section 8A play at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

It was close, and it was entertaining. But it was also mistake-filled.

"Two very comparable teams took turns making each other look poor," is the way Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo described the contest. "We made too many mistakes – mistakes that resulted in a lot of their goals. The giveaways just killed us. It's frustrating. You have to quit making those same mistakes over and over. You get to the point where those mistakes just have to stop."

It was a game-long struggle for the Prowlers, who overcame 2-0, 3-1, 4-3, and 5-4 deficits to gain ties at 3-3, 4-4 and 5-5, but could never complete the comeback, despite numerous scoring opportunities.

"We had a lot of chances," acknowledged Chiodo. "We just didn't capitalize."

Andy Lundbohm had a three-goal hat trick performance for the Rams, who gained a quick upper hand by scoring twice in the first 3:21 of the game.

Defenseman Tony Hammer wound up rushing the net and converting a nice set up pass from Jason Lovejoy into a 1-0 lead at 2:57, and just 24 seconds later Lundbohm was on the board when he deflected in Matt Roadfeldt's shot from the point.

Aaron Ehrenstrom was left alone in front of the Roseau net and his long reach steered Nick Chiodo's centering pass by goalie Ryan Vatnsdal to cut into the Rams' lead at 6:11.

The Prowlers coughed up the puck on a power play and Lundbohm took advantage of the opportunity when he beat unprotected Thief River Falls goalie Eric Dowers with a close in backhand at 8:31.

But it turned into a 3-2 game when Corey Olson poked the puck by Vatnsdal with just two seconds left in the first period.

Keith Anderson put a centering pass into the back of the net for a tie at 3:25 of the second period.

Lundbohm scored just four seconds into a power play at 10:53 of the second period to complete his hat trick and put the Rams back on top 4-3.

It might have become 5-3, but the Rams' Bryan Lundbohm missed the net on a clean breakaway, and moments later Jeff Twomey produced another tie when his long, ice-hugging shot went under Vatnsdal at 13:13.

The back-and-forth scoring continued into the third period when Lovejoy, left unattended in front of the Thief River Falls net, quickly put one away at 6:10, only to have Kaine Martell's waist-high slap shot from the point tie it again just 49 seconds later.

The tie lasted six minutes – until Aaron Stromlund's long shot off the left wing sailed by Dowers' glove for the game-winner with 2:51 remaining.

The loss dropped the Prowlers to 4-7.

Mustangs start strong, win 76-63

■ Red Lake County Central boys beat Goodridge

The outcome was decided in a hurry Tuesday when Red Lake County Central jumped out to a 22-4 lead en route to a 76-63 boys high school basketball win over Goodridge at Oklee.

Goodridge managed to stay within 32-21 at halftime, but Red Lake County Central re-opened a 57-33 third quarter gap by going inside, where Aaron Chaput (9) and Ryan Salberg (8) combined for 17 of the Mustangs' 25 third quarter points.

"It was an old-fashion butt-kicking," said Goodridge coach John Rahn. "There is no other way to put it. They have a good all-round team. They might just be the best team in the sub-section. I know they have our vote – they've beaten us twice."

A balanced Red Lake County Central attack featured Chaput with 20 points, Bryce Huotari 18, Salberg 11, and Aaron Rosten 11. Only Goodridge scorer in double figures was Mitch Smsky, who finished with 11.

"We came out pretty hot," said Red Lake County Central coach Todd Fore. "That set the tone. We got kind of sloppy the last four minutes of the half, but we got back up on them in the third quarter. They couldn't stop our inside game – that was the main factor."

Goodridge shot 45 percent from the field (24/53) and made 11 of 19 free throws. Red Lake County Central shot 48 percent from the floor (27/56) and went 8-for-15 at the line.

Red Lake County Central is 7-1; Goodridge fell to 3-3.

Matt Kuznia buzzer-beater produces 48-46 win...

Gators top Rams on final shot

Matt Kuznia broke a tie with a long jumper at the buzzer Tuesday, lifting Badger/Greenbush-Middle River past host Roseau 48-46 in boys high school basketball.

The Rams were coming off a championship performance in the Thief River Falls Ross Smith Northwest Holiday Classic, where the defending champion Gators had a 1-2 finish. The win put Badger/Greenbush-Middle River at 3-4 for the year.

"We played our best overall ball game of the year," said Gators coach Eldon Sparby. "Our passing was good, and our defense was the best its been all year."

It was close all the way, beginning with a 10-10 first quarter tie. The Rams led 23-21 at halftime and had a 37-36 third quarter edge.

Both teams had their chances at the end. Badger/Greenbush-Middle River gained possession with 1:14 left in a tie game and planned to work for a last shot. That strategy ended in a turnover with 25 seconds showing. But the Rams' attempt to run the clock down before taking a final shot met a similar fate when they lost the ball with five second to play.

A scramble on the in-bounds play found the ball being batted out of bounds with two seconds left. A final Badger/Greenbush-Middle River time-out set up a play for Kuznia, and it worked as the 6-5 junior hit the buzzer-beater just inside the top of the three-point circle.

"We got lucky," admitted Sparby.

Kuznia finished with 21 points. Teammate Billy Holum had 10. Jeff Taylor of the Rams led all scorers with 22 points, while Scott Lunos chipped in with 10.

The Gators were 22-for-56 from the field (39 percent), which included just 2 of 13 from 3-point range. The Rams went 19-for-46 (41 percent). Badger/Greenbush-Middle River made 2 of 8 free throw attempts; Roseau was 7-for-9. The smaller Gators finished with a 29-26 rebound edge and topped the turnover charts 11-8.

Roseau beats RLCC girls

Roseau exploded offensively at the start of the third quarter Thursday to key an 80-37 girls high school basketball win over visiting Red Lake County Central.

The Rams led only 32-24 at halftime, but quickly doubled the spread after intermission, opening up a 59-28 third quarter gap.

"We completely fell apart in the second half," reported Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto.

Megan Taylor scored 25 points to lead a group of four Roseau double figure scorers. A 10-point game by Mckenzie Malwitz paced the Mustangs.

Red Lake County Central shot just 24 percent from the field (16-for-66), while going 4-for-9 at the free throw line. Roseau shot 47 percent from the field (36-for-77) and made 3 of 7 free throws.

One of the few highlights for the Mustangs was a 42-27 rebound advantage – 16 for Angel Mickelson. But they also had 25 turnovers in falling to 3-5 for the

Cold-shooting RLCC girls lose to Falcons

Cold shooting put Red Lake County Central in a hole early, and the Mustangs never recovered, losing a 48-27 girls high school basketball game at Fertile-Beltrami Tuesday.

Red Lake County Central went 3-for-23 from the field and 0-for-8 at the free throw line in the first half to trail 10-2 and 22-7 at the first two quarter stops. Fertile-Beltrami maintained a 32-16 third quarter spread.

"It was a very un-inspiring performance," said Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto.

Angel Mickelson was the Mustangs' only double figure scorer, finishing with 10 points. Danelle Leier led the Falcons with 12 points.

It was a 22 percent, 10-for-45 night from the field overall for the Mustangs, who missed 13 of their 19 free throw opportunities. Fertile-Beltrami went 22-for-57 from the field (39 percent) and 4-for-8 at the line while showing a 40-30 rebound advantage. The Mustangs had 21 turnovers.

Ice-related accidents...

Safety tips offered by DNR

An average of seven people die every year, falling through ice they thought was safe. In the winter on 1982-83, 22 people died in ice related accidents according to Minnesota Department of Natural Resources statistics.

In most cases the victims didn't drown immediately after they fell in. According to DNR reports, most ice accident victims were able to hang onto the side of the ice hole for quite some time before succumbing to the effects of cold water-induced hypothermia. The reason the people died was that they were unable to pull themselves out of the hole back onto solid ice.

"You have to remember that when you break through the ice, a good deal of water splashes onto the surrounding ice, making it extremely slippery," said Tim Smalley DNR boat and water safety specialist. "That, combined with the extra 60 to 80 pounds of water that soaks into your clothing, along with panic, and the effects of cold water makes trying to escape without some kind of aid a real nightmare," he added.

Minnesota DNR recommends that winter recreation enthusiasts who venture out onto the state's frozen lakes, take along a pair of simple tools that can be easily made at home in a few minutes, but can mean the difference between survival and drowning.

Two short lengths of broom handle-sized wooden doweling, with nails driven into the ends and the heads sharpened to a point can easily be carried in a pocket. In case of emergency, while kicking, drive the nails into the ice ahead and pull yourself to safety.

If you drill and extra hole into the nail end of each, the two picks will nest together, acting as a sheath for the nail of the other pick. "Also, if you tie the picks together with a three foot length of strong cord, jump rope-fashion you can just throw them over your shoulder for easy access in an emergency," Smalley advised. "If a companion falls in, you can throw the picks to the victim and talk him or her through a self-rescue," he added.

Although some people carry large nails in their pocket instead of picks, the DNR advises that ice picks are more safe because the floating wooden handles keep them from sinking if you accidentally drop the picks in a panic situation.

People wishing more information on ice safety, may request the free ice safety brochure "Danger Thin Ice" along with a wallet card listing the recommended minimum ice thicknesses for various activities by calling toll free (800) 766-6000.

Lake Bronson St. Park will offer ski, snowshoe events

Lake Bronson State Park visitors will have the opportunity to take part in upcoming snowshoe and cross country ski programs.

An interpretative snowshoe hike will be offered Sunday, Jan. 16. Participants will be visiting portions of the park not accessible during the summer, looking for types of wildlife that are active during the winter – to see how they live and survive in the long cold months.

The hike will last 2-to-3 hours. If it is sub-zero weather, the hike will be shortened.

Participants should meet at the park shelter. A number of snowshoes will be provided, but bring your own if you have them. Hot refreshments will be furnished.

The park will also offer a night of cross country skiing by moonlight and candle light from 6 to 9 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 29, followed by a gathering around a warm fireplace and wood stove at the park shelter for hot refreshments. Participants may bring goodies to share.

All skiers will need a state ski pass and valid state park vehicle permits, both available at the park.

TRF hockey JV is 1-1 at invitational

An abbreviated Thief River Falls appearance at the Grand Forks Invitational junior varsity high school hockey tournament ended with a 7-4 loss to Grafton.

Thief River Falls was a 2-1 winner over Fargo North in the Dec. 27 opening round quarterfinals, but missed a Dec. 28 semifinal assignment because of the weather.

Grafton scored four third period goals to break a 4-4 tie in the Dec. 29 match-up.

Thief River Falls goal scorers were Cory Jenkins, Matt LeMoine, Kyle Cedegren, and Ryan Poole. Thief River Falls goalies Chane Keefe and Brad Inglis combined for 33 saves; Grafton finished with 15.

Pacesetter Camps to sponsor pair of state tournaments in 1994

Pacesetter Basketball Camps has announced plans to sponsor two state basketball tournaments for boys and girls next summer - using separate formats for players in grades 5-9 and for grades 10-12.

Eight regional playoffs will be held throughout Minnesota from March-to-May to determine the state qualifiers for the boys and girls in grades 5-9.

State tournament games will be played at the St. Cloud Civic Center – June 12 for boys in grades 7-9, June 19 for girls in grades 7-9, July 10 for boys and girls in grades 5-6.

Over 500 teams participated in the grades 5-9 Pacesetter playoff program last spring. Thief River Falls won the girls sixth grade state title.

A new addition to the Pacesetter program this spring will be a 16-team invitational state tournament for high school varsity teams July 16-17, also at the Civic Center.

One team from each of the eight boys and girls Class A and Class AA sections in Minnesota will be invited to participate in the high school tournament, based on a projected ranking by coaches in each section.

At the Pacesetter state tournament, all teams will play within their own class for the first round, with Class A vs. Class AA matchups planned for quarterfinals – similar to the proposed Sweet 16 state tournament for boys that is scheduled to be used by the Minnesota State High School League in 1995.

1993 Pacesetter State Champions

Ninth grade - New London-Spicer boys, New London-Spicer girls; eighth grade - St. Cloud South boys, New London-Spicer girls; seventh grade - Pine River-Backus boys, Crookston girls; sixth grade - Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton boys, Thief River Falls girls; fifth grade - Waterville-Elysian boys, Crookston girls

SnoDrifters snowmobile club recently purchased a snowmobile trail groomer. The club, which has about 100 members, also completed a new trail system called the Beltline trail which helps direct snowmobile enthusiasts in and around the community. The SnoDrifters are also organizing the Ironman 250 in Thief River Falls this weekend.

City gets ready for snowmobile races the trail or at restaurants, motels and gas stations.

Registration

The Thief River Falls Ironman 250 race headquarters will be at the Best Western in Thief River Falls, and that's where registration will take place unless otherwise stated.

Spectator comfort

Thousands of spectators are expected. An added comfort to spectators this year will be bleachers with padded seats and a wind break. Admission to these preferred seats is $8. A general admission ticket is $6. Coupons on the tickets give them extra value and $1 of every ticket sold goes to the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Minnesota. There will be concession stands located a various spots around the course.

The schedule

On Friday, January 7, registration for pro stock only will take place from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. A drivers meeting will be held from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Best Western.

Also on Friday, the SnoDrifters will sponsor the annual Poker Run, which is usually connected with this race. Registration begins at 6:30 p.m. at the Lantern Restaurant and Lounge on Highway 59 south in Thief River Falls. The event begins at 7 p.m.

On Saturday, January 8, last chance registration for pro stock only will take place from 6:30 to 7:30 a.m. A driver's meeting will be held from 8 to 8:30 a.m. The Ironman 250 race will start at 9:30 a.m. across from the Best Western.

Special events during the Ironman 250 include a radar run, oval races, Pabst Dash for Cash, and the Make-a-Wish celebrity auction.

The radar run, which is open to the public begins at 11 a.m. and costs $2 per run or $5 for three runs. The oval race begins near the Eighth street bridge at 11:30 a.m. The Pabst Dash for Cash begins at 1:30 p.m. The Make-A-Wish celebrity auction will be from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Best Western.

On Sunday, January 9, registration for all classes, except pro stock, will be from 7 to 8 a.m. A driver's meeting will be held from 8 to 8:30 a.m. Race inspections begin at 8:30 a.m. and end at 9 a.m. The race begins at 9 a.m.

At 11 a.m. the radar run, which is open to the public, will begin. Oval races will be held near the Eighth street bridge beginning at 11:30 a.m.

Kitty Cat Races

The Kitty Cat race finals begin at 12:30 p.m. Registration for the races, sponsored by KC-PRO, will be from 9 to 10:30 a.m. in the big tent near the Kitty Cat race track. Eliminations are expected to begin around 11 a.m. at the separate Kitty Cat race track. Finals will be held in front of the grand stand.

There are three classes and four finals in the Kitty Cat races. The amateur stock class is for riders with less than six races under their belt. There will also be a six-man stock class final, and a six-man stock class consolation final. In the fourth class, for modified Kitty Cats, spectators will see some radical changes made to the little snowmobiles. In this class there will also be a six-man final.

Trophies and goodie bags will be distributed to participants after the finals. Following the Kitty Cat finals, race organizers have tentatively scheduled a radar run for the Kitty Cats.

Make-A-Wish

The time scheduled for the Make-a-Wish celebrity race is at 1:30 p.m., but that may change.

This year, Make-A-Wish Foundation of Minnesota has teamed up with the ISOC. During the race in Thief River Falls, several events will help support the foundation including the race and auction, as mentioned above. The Make-A-Wish Foundation of Minnesota is dedicated to the purpose of granting wishes to children under the age of 18, who have been diagnosed with a terminal illness or a medical condition sufficiently life-threatening to create the probability that the child will not survive beyond his or her 18th birthday.

Race of Champions

The race of champions is expected to begin at 2:30 p.m. The Dayco Pro 600 will begin at 3 p.m. The Pabst Dash-For-Cash begins at 3:30 p.m.

The conclusion of the weekend of events takes place at the awards ceremony at the Best Western, which will begin at 7 p.m.

Roseau library begins Adopt-a-book program

Following a donation in the name of Paul Buran, former newspaper reporter, to the Roseau Public Library, the library is implementing an Adopt-A-Book Project.

Anyone wishing to select a book to "adopt" may review the Adopt-A-Book file prepared by Charles Erickson with suggestions from patrons. Book prices are included as well as a description of the book. The "adopter" then donates the cost, or perhaps, recruits a friend or relative to share the expense if the item is expensive. Adopters may designate whether the book is being donated in memory or in honor of someone. Bookplates will carry that information and also indicate if some special occasion such as a birth, anniversary or retirement is involved. Of course, books and other materials, such as videos, may be adopted for no special reason except that the donor is convinced that library patrons should have ready access to that book.

Paul Buran visited the library almost every day for many years. He even had a special corner where his typewriter was kept near a table big enough for research in bound copies of the Roseau Times Region. He used the books for his weekly column "Looking Back". He sometimes even volunteered to watch the desk.

With the help of Paul's brother, Bill Buran, three books have been selected from the new Adopt-A-Book file. These books and a series of World War II videos have been ordered with the money donated in memory of Paul, who was a patriotic veteran.

BEAT DIESEL FUEL SYSTEM WEAR AND CLOGGING WITH STANADYNE'S PERFORMANCE FORMULA
Since October 1, 1993, the government has required reduced levels of sulfur in highway diesel fuels. However, the process reduces lubricity which may accelerate wear in fuel system components and increase formation of varnishes and gums which can plug filters.
Performance Formula additive puts back the lubricants lost in low sulfur processing and can help your diesel run clean, strong and long – in every kind of weather. STANADYNE

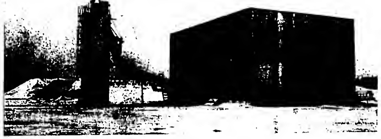
Pennington Co. to hold hearing on solid waste

Pennington County is at a crucial phase of its solid waste management plan. The Pennington county board of commissioners has scheduled a public information meeting for Wednesday, January 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the courthouse meeting room.



The current contract for operation of the county solid waste facility is up and the county board has put the operations of the facility out on bids. Two proposals were bid, the first being a lease on the facility where a private operator would contract to take over and operate the plant. The second bid was for management and labor of the facility as has been contracted in the past. The commissioners have narrowed the bids to three, one for privatization of the plant and the other two for labor and management with the county retaining control of the operation.

According to Howard Person, solid waste officer and extension educator for the county, regardless of the choice, operating costs and consequently tip fees or other service fees will need to be increased. Increasing waste volume coming to the facility in order to reduce costs per ton will be discussed. Capitol improvements that would need financing in order to handle the added waste flow will also be covered.

The county is also considering mandatory county-wide garbage collection to control illegal dumping and maintain the volume of waste at the facility. Use of a per household service fee instead of just tipping fees at the plant is being considered as well as a number of other financing options.

Decisions on these issues will be made soon and the county board wishes to keep the public informed as well as seek their input toward a workable solution for everyone.

All concerned county residents are strongly encouraged to attend.

Mixing plant at the Concrete Inc. site west of St. Hilaire is now equipped to provide heated concrete to contractors around the area. The 40x56 pre-stressed concrete building was built around mixing equipment in five days in November while the plant continued in operation. Doors on the south side of the building permit hoppers to be filled with sand and rock aggregate with a front-end loader. The building has storage capacity for 200 cubic yards of aggregate.

Steam surrounds this ready mixed concrete truck as it is being loaded Wednesday morning at the company's mixing plant four and one-half miles west of St. Hilaire. With a new building constructed this fall, the company can use hot water to mix concrete which is delivered to construction sites in the area at about 70 degrees all winter long.

Concrete 'hot' product

of St. Hilaire was started in 1986. A wash plant had been located there since 1974.

Last November the building for the heated concrete mixing plant went up in five days. It was constructed of pre-stressed concrete panels made at the Concrete Inc. plant in Grand Forks. The panels eight feet wide and 28 feet high were put into place while the mixing plant continued in operation. The side wall panels and molded concrete roof beams are welded together.

"We have room in the 40x56 building for 200 cubic yards of sand and rock aggregate and 100,000 pounds of cement," Haugen said. "The low pressure boiler is basically a 4,000-gallon water heater. I can run it as hot as I need it, but we have been generally running about 170 degrees this winter."

The mixing is basically done in the trucks which have a capacity of six and one-half cubic yards. The company has 11 of its own trucks and can lease others if the need arises. About four trucks are usually used for the school job in Thief River Falls. Thirteen were used for a job at the Dahlgren & Company seed plant in Crookston and six to seven trucks for a job at Stephen. The haul to Crookston was 32 miles, to Stephen it was 54 miles.

"Last week we had a truck take a load three and a half miles northeast of Wannaska," Haugen said. "That's 75 miles one way. It was cold outside, too, but the mix was still plenty warm when the truck got there."

Ready mixed concrete from the St. Hilaire plant was used in reconstruction of the Fourtown store this fall. Mixers on the trucks are constantly turning as they travel down the road to make deliveries. Insulated hot water tanks are built on the trucks for clean-up after delivery.

Haugen said that in the summer the plant can put out a truckload of ready mixed concrete every 10 minutes—six truckloads an hour. That falls off to about 15 minutes in the winter. Even with the heating of loads, the plant has put out up to 190 yards a day this winter.

It costs more to provide the hot mixed concrete so the price goes up accordingly—but only $5 a yard to $55 to $58, depending on the amount of cement in the mix. The price is a delivered price, whether the delivery is to St. Hilaire or Stephen or Wannaska or Crookston or Thief River Falls.

The only added charge is an additional $20 a load if a customer orders less than three yards. And if several small deliveries can be made from one larger load, the additional charge is waived.

Local contractors agree that the service of having heated concrete available in the local area could have an impact on their business.

"It definitely gives us more flexibility in arranging our scheduling," says Bob Kertz of Ram Building Systems, Inc. "It is an asset in bidding a project."

"It stretches out the season," agrees Dwight Johnson, an independent contractor. "And it means we can get going earlier in the spring as well as adding to the length of the season in the fall and winter."

Guy Kruse said he hasn't needed to use the services yet this winter but may well need them next year. It will be handy for things like pouring basement floors in houses.

All of the contractors pointed out that excavation has to be completed before freeze-up in most cases and that it is still necessary to keep the concrete warm after pouring.

The next time you see a concrete delivery truck rumble by when the mercury in the thermometer is huddled near the bulb, it probably isn't just a summer deliveryman out for a nostalgic cruise. It's likely a real live delivery of the hottest product in winter construction in the area—hot concrete.

LHS Students prepare for Mock Trial season

Students on the Lincoln high school Mock Trial team in Thief River Falls will argue about gun control, the right to bear arms and what constitutes self-defense as part of this year's Minnesota State Bar Association's High School Mock Trial competition.

The students will be among 190 teams participation in the 1994 Mock Trial competition. Mock trail is an academic program that teaches students about the law and the legal system.

In mock trial, students assume the roles of attorneys and witnesses and argue a fictitious case. Each team prepares the case with the help of a volunteer attorney-coach and a teacher-coach. The Lincoln high school team will be assisted by teacher coach Cal Lindberg and attorney coach Mike Jorgonson. Each trial is decided by volunteer lawyers who serve as judges. Statewide, more than 600 attorneys and judges volunteer to assist with the Mock Trial program, which is in its 8th year.

"Mock trials are an excellent way to increase students' knowledge of the law and the court system," said Roger Stageberg, president of the Minnesota State Bar Association. "Students develop research and speaking skills as well as learning about our court system. This year's case is especially intriguing."

The case involves the escalating conflict between a homeowner who has hired a youth to complete a remodeling job. The youth comes from a tough neighborhood. The homeowner suspects the youth is not trustworthy and charges that objects are missing from the home. An argument over the issues end when the youth is shot with an unregistered handgun.

"The case raises questions about what constitutes self-defense and the role of guns in our society," Stageberg said. "I think it will be very interesting to see how the students handle it."

Students are beginning their preparations for mock trial this month.

Competitions will be held in January and February. The top 12 teams in the state then meet for a State Mock Trial Tournament March 15-16."

There were 1,722 whitetail deer hides loaded in Thief River Falls, including 245 from the Roseau River chapter, including 184 hides from adult deer which brought $8.25 each. 1,722 deer hides sold to help area habitat

Hides for Habitat, a project of the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association, yielded 1,722 deer hides and 81 other animal hides at the Thief River Falls collection Thursday. They were sold to the Hershey Fur & Hide Company of Hershey, PA, which submitted the high bid for the 23,000 hides expected statewide through the MDHA program.

Hides graded, sorted and loaded for shipment in Thief River Falls Thursday came from five different MDHA chapters in northwestern Minnesota. Deer hides were graded as No. 1 (adult deer) and No. 2. (fawns or badly damaged hides. No. 1 hides brought $8.25 each and No. 2 hides were sold for $1.75.

Prices are to be negotiated for other hides such as moose, bear, elk, antelope and mule deer. Moose hides are expected to bring about $15 each.

Thief River Falls chapter collected and sold 595 No. 1 and 420 No. 2 whitetail deer hides and 44 hides from other animals. The number was down about 20 from a year ago.

Roseau River Deer Hunters Association chapter turned in 184 No. 1 and 61 No. 2 whitetail hides and six other hides. The Karlstad area chapter had 170 No. 1 and 91 No. 2 whitetail hides and 20 other hides.

East Grand Forks chapter had 51 No. 1, 20 No. 2 and three other hides while the Lake of the Woods chapter at Baudette had 85 No. 1, 45 No. 2 and eight other hides.

Volunteers from the Thief River Falls chapter worked about one night a week since the end of the deer season to flesh, salt and stack hides awaiting shipment. More than a dozen workers, including volunteers from the various chapters and law violators serving under the Sentence to Serve program, labored in -20 degree temperatures to assist with the grading, sorting, counting and loading of hides Thursday at the Altra-Power Battery warehouse.

The truck loading hides in Thief River Falls continued on to load hides collected at Detroit Lakes, Park Rapids and Brainerd. The 23,000 hides collected by Hides for Habitat in the state should result in more than $125,000 being available to the chapters for habitat work in their areas.

Thief River Falls chapter of MDHA plans to accomplish several shearing projects for wildlife habitat improvement this winter. The shearing involves running a dozer blade along the frozen ground to shear off willow, aspen and other vegetation to create open areas and permit regrowth of young plants which deer use for food and other wildlife uses for both food and cover.

Shearing planned last winter could not be done in the wetland areas where planned due to the mild winter. This year the cold weather has frozen ground and water to the extent that it will support the heavy equipment used in the process. Work is planned on about 45 acres in two parcels on the Elm Lake wildlife management area, several areas in the Beltrami Island Forest (as a joint project with the Roseau River chapter) and areas of what is known at the Halma Swamp.

In other years funding from Hides for Habitat has been used for similar work as well as fire trails, seeding of trails, browse cutting and other winter feeding projects.

County awards solid waste bid to SwisCorp

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Thursday evening, the Pennington county board of commissioners approved a motion to enter into negotiations with SwisCorp, one of three finalists in a bidding process to see who would operate the county's solid waste facility. The motion was approved on condition that legal issues surrounding a bond issue can be resolved in two weeks.

SwisCorp, which stands for Solid Waste Integrated Systems Corporation, was one of three finalists selected in a bidding process. The other companies bidding on who would operate the county's solid waste facility included the present operator, Future Fuel, and PSG or Professional Services Group.

If legal issues surrounding the issuance of tax exempt bonds recently can be resolved and if the negotiation process with SwisCorp is successful, it would signify an important change in the relationship between the solid waste facility and the county. Unlike the other two bidders, SwisCorp proposed to operate the facility as a private business.

When the county board approved issuance of tax free bonds for capital improvements for the compost process at the facility, it did not know that it would soon be turning over the facility to a company that proposed to operate the facility as a private enterprise. Handling that problem has become the legal "fly in the ointment".

Pennington County Attorney Dave Olin said their bond representatives say the problems are insurmountable. Representatives for SwisCorp said they aren't insurmountable. Both agree, the problem should be resolved within two weeks.

Reaching the decision to negotiate with SwisCorp was not an easy decision to make for the county board. Numerous meetings have been held in the past year, and within the last week, there has been a frenzy of activity.

The county board was helped along in its decision by a recommendation from the Thief River Falls City Council. At the direction of the city council, City Attorney Paul Ihle read the following statement, which was a result of a special meeting of the city council Thursday morning.

The recommendation was also requested of the council by the county board:

"Whereas, following a presentation by Pennington County Solid Waste Coordinator, Howard Person, to the City Council on January 11, 1994, and a public informational meeting held on January 12, the city council met on January 13 to review the matter and determined the following factors to be important in their recommendation:

• Total costs of services to taxpayers and users are very important;

• Privatization would postpone or negate the need for expenditure of public funds for plant equipment;

Arena Walkers come from area towns

Viking, Strandquist, St. Hilaire, Red Lake Falls, Plummer, Newfolden, Mentor, Goodridge, Brooks represented

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Northern Watch Reporter

The weather outside is frightful' ...but inside ... it's so delightful.

When the thermometer reads 30 degrees below zero, it is delightful on the inside of the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center (arena) for those who like to walk. The arena is available for anyone who likes to walk every day or even many times a day, as well as for those who like to take a stroll just now and then.

This is the seventh year that Northwest Medical Center and the Falls Clinic have utilized the arena for a walking program, but this year there is something different about the program. Program organizers have implemented an incentive program for walkers with the "Arena Walker" program.

As of December 30, 1993, 248 people were participating in the Arena Walking incentive program. They not only come to walk from Thief River Falls, but also from the neighboring towns of Viking, Strandquist, St. Hilaire, Red Lake Falls, Plummer, Newfolden, Mentor, Goodridge and Brooks.

Walkers who wish to participate in the Arena Walker incentive program register at Northwest Medical Center and receive a log and sticker book and an Arena Walking pin for a very minimal charge ($2). They are then eligible for incentive prizes.

If a person walks 500 minutes they can be said to have walked 25 miles. The incentive prize for 25 miles is a pair of neon shoelaces. Other prizes are:

•75 miles — marathon walking socks,

•150 miles — copy of "Walk the Four Seasons" book by Robert Sweetgall,

•300 miles — free ticket to the Robert Sweetgall seminar, "Walking Off Weight," which will be held in Thief River Falls on February 8, at 7 p.m. at Northland Community College (tickets for those who are unable to win them will be $3 and they are available from the Pennington County Extension office — everyone, arena walker or not, will enjoy this interesting seminar).

•400 miles — a trophy, and

•500 miles — a Walk the Four Seasons sweatshirt.

Eileen Rhen is an Arena Walker who has been walking for three years. Logging over 200 miles this year, she has earned her neon shoelaces, her marathon walking socks and her copy of Sweetgall's book. She is now working very hard to get her free ticket to Mr. Sweetgall's seminar, but said, "I don't know if I can make it. I'm trying to walk as much as I can."

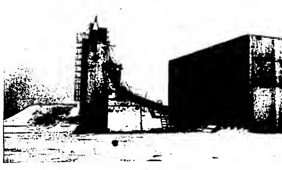
Eileen walks early in the morning, from 7:30 to 9 a.m. every week day, averaging four to five miles a day. She said she can do a mile in about 15 minutes. She and a partner, Marie Engen, walk together most of the time and "help each other out." Eileen said having a partner helps her get out and get going in the morning. If she doesn't feel like walking that day, Marie will encourage her and get her going, and vice-versa. Between the two of them, their encouragment program seems to be working quite well.

Why does she do it? "I know I'm doing something good for my health, I'm doing it for myself," she says. "It makes me feel really great. I miss it when I don't walk and then I feel like I just have to get out there again."

Eileen would like it if the arena were available for summertime walking, too. "Last year the mosquitoes were so terrible I didn't walk much," she said. "I really hate those bugs."

Val Mooney walks while her daughters skate. Since she has four daughters in various skating programs, she is getting in plenty of walking time.

This is Val's first year at arena walking and she has also chosen to participate in the Arena Walker incentive program. She began walking November 11 and has logged 249 miles so far and "will have more," she said.



Her interest in walking began when she entered the Walk Pennington County marathon last summer. She said the walking program has become her own private incentive program. It has taught her that she can set a goal and that she is able to reach that goal. "I want to be able to set a goal and make it and not give up halfway through."

She walks with the early birds, from 6 to 7 a.m., and often again in the evening, before the arena closes. She may also spend some of her lunch hour walking. Needless to

Val Mooney walks in the Arena Walker incentive program while her daughters skate, and with four daughters, that gets to be quite a bit of walking. Val has walked over 250 miles so far and plans to keep on going strong, with a goal of five miles a day or 100 miles a month. Her walking has had an added benefit in that she has lost 12 pounds so far.

Mixing plant at the Concrete Inc. site west of St. Hilaire is now equipped to provide heated concrete to contractors around the area. The 40x56 pre-stressed concrete building was built around mixing equipment in five days in November while the plant continued in operation. Doors on the south side of the building permit hoppers to be filled with sand and rock aggregate with a front-end loader. The building has storage capacity for 200 cubic yards of aggregate.

Steam surrounds this ready mixed concrete truck as it is being loaded Wednesday morning at the company's mixing plant four and one-half miles west of St. Hilaire. With a new building constructed this fall, the company can use hot water to mix concrete which is delivered to construction sites in the area at about 70 degrees all winter long.

of St. Hilaire was started in 1986. A wash plant had been located there since 1974.

Last November the building for the heated concrete mixing plant went up in five days. It was constructed of pre-stressed concrete panels made at the Concrete Inc. plant in Grand Forks. The panels eight feet wide and 28 feet high were put into place while the mixing plant continued in operation. The side wall panels and molded concrete roof beams are welded together.

"We have room in the 40x56 building for 200 cubic yards of sand and rock aggregate and 100,000 pounds of cement," Haugen said. "The low pressure boiler is basically a 4,000-gallon water heater. I can run it as hot as I need it, but we have been generally running about 170 degrees this winter."

The mixing is basically done in the trucks which have a capacity of six and one-half cubic yards. The company has 11 of its own trucks and can lease others if the need arises. About four trucks are usually used for the school job in Thief River Falls. Thirteen were used for a job at the Dahlgren & Company seed plant in Crookston and six to seven trucks for a job at Stephen. The haul to Crookston was 32 miles, to Stephen it was 54 miles.

"Last week we had a truck take a load three and a half miles northeast of Wannaska," Haugen said. "That's 75 miles one way. It was cold outside, too, but the mix was still plenty warm when the truck got there."

Ready mixed concrete from the St. Hilaire plant was used in reconstruction of the Fourtown store this fall. Mixers on the trucks are constantly turning as they travel down the road to make deliveries. Insulated hot water tanks are built on the trucks for clean-up after delivery.

Haugen said that in the summer the plant can put out a truckload of ready mixed concrete every 10 minutes—six truckloads an hour. That falls off to about 15 minutes in the winter. Even with the heating of loads, the plant has put out up to 190 yards a day this winter.

It costs more to provide the hot mixed concrete so the price goes up accordingly—but only $5 a yard to $55 to $58, depending on the amount of cement in the mix. The price is a delivered price, whether the delivery is to St. Hilaire or Stephen or Wannaska or Crookston or Thief River Falls.

The only added charge is an additional $20 a load if a customer orders less than three yards. And if several small deliveries can be made from one larger load, the additional charge is waived.

Local contractors agree that the service of having heated concrete available in the local area could have an impact on their business.

"It definitely gives us more flexibility in arranging our scheduling," says Bob Kertz of Ram Building Systems, Inc. "It is an asset in bidding a project."

"It stretches out the season," agrees Dwight Johnson, an independent contractor. "And it means we can get going earlier in the spring as well as adding to the length of the season in the fall and winter."

Guy Kruse said he hasn't needed to use the services yet this winter but may well need them next year. It will be handy for things like pouring basement floors in houses.

All of the contractors pointed out that excavation has to be completed before freeze-up in most cases and that it is still necessary to keep the concrete warm after pouring.

The next time you see a concrete delivery truck rumble by when the mercury in the thermometer is huddled near the bulb, it probably isn't just a summer deliveryman out for a nostalgic cruise. It's likely a real-live delivery of the hottest product in winter construction in the area—hot concrete.

Pennington Co. to hold hearing on solid waste

Pennington County is at a crucial phase of its solid waste management plan. The Pennington county board of commissioners has scheduled a public information meeting for Wednesday, January 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the courthouse meeting room.

The current contract for operation of the county solid waste facility is up and the county board has put the operations of the facility out on bids. Two proposals were bid, the first being a lease on the facility where a private operator would contract to take over and operate the plant. The second bid was for management and labor of the facility as has been contracted in the past. The commissioners have narrowed the bids to three, one for privatization of the plant and the other two for labor and management with the county retaining control of the operation.

According to Howard Person, solid waste officer and extension educator for the county, regardless of the choice, operating costs and consequently tip fees or other service fees will need to be increased. Increasing waste volume coming to the facility in order to reduce costs per ton will be discussed. Capitol improvements that would need financing in order to handle the added waste flow will also be covered.

The county is also considering mandatory county-wide garbage collection to control illegal dumping and maintain the volume of waste at the facility. Use of a per household service fee instead of just tipping fees at the plant is being considered as well as a number of other financing options.

Decisions on these issues will be made soon and the county board wishes to keep the public informed as well as seek their input toward a workable solution for everyone.

All concerned county residents are strongly encouraged to attend.

LHS Students prepare for Mock Trial season

Students on the Lincoln high school Mock Trial team in Thief River Falls will argue about gun control, the right to bear arms and what constitutes self-defense as part of this year's Minnesota State Bar Association's High School Mock Trial competition.

The students will be among 190 teams participation in the 1994 Mock Trial competition. Mock trail is an academic program that teaches students about the law and the legal system.

In mock trial, students assume the roles of attorneys and witnesses and argue a fictitious case. Each team prepares the case with the help of a volunteer attorney-coach and a teacher-coach. The Lincoln high school team will be assisted by teacher coach Cal Lindberg and attorney coach Mike Jorgenson. Each trial is decided by volunteer lawyers who serve as judges. Statewide, more than 600 attorneys and judges volunteer to assist with the Mock Trial program, which is in its 8th year.

"Mock trials are an excellent way to increase students' knowledge of the law and the court system," said Roger Stageberg, president of the Minnesota State Bar Association. "Students develop research and speaking skills as well as learning about our court system. This year's case is especially intriguing."

The case involves the escalating conflict between a homeowner who has hired a youth to complete a remodeling job. The youth comes from a tough neighborhood. The homeowner suspects the youth is not trustworthy and charges that objects are missing from the home. An argument over the issues end when the youth is shot with an unregistered handgun.

"The case raises questions about what constitutes self-defense and the role of guns in our society," Stageberg said. "I think it will be very interesting to see how the students handle it."

Students are beginning their preparations for mock trial this month.

Competitions will be held in January and February. The top 12 teams in the state then meet for a State Mock Trial Tournament March 15-16.

County awards solid waste bid to SwisCorp

When the county board approved issuance of tax free bonds for capital improvements for the compost process at the facility, it did not know that it would soon be turning over the facility to a company that proposed to operate the facility as a private enterprise. Handling that problem has become the legal "fly in the ointment".

Pennington County Attorney Dave Olin said their bond representatives say the problems are insurmountable. Representatives for SwisCorp said they aren't insurmountable. Both agree, the problem should be resolved within two weeks.

Reaching the decision to negotiate with SwisCorp was not an easy decision to make for the county board. Numerous meetings have been held in the past year, and within the last week, there has been a frenzy of activity.

The county board was helped along in its decision by a recommendation from the Thief River Falls City Council. At the direction of the city council, City Attorney Paul Ihle read the following statement, which was a result of a special meeting of the city council Thursday morning.

The recommendation was also requested of the council by the county board.

"Whereas, following a presentation by Pennington County Solid Waste Coordinator, Howard Person, to the City Council on January 11, 1994, and a public informational meeting held on January 12, the city council met on January 13 to review the matter and determined the following factors to be important in their recommendation:

• Total costs of services to taxpayers and users are very important;

• Privatization would postpone or negate the need for expenditure of public funds for plant equipment;

Arena Walkers come from area towns

Viking, Strandquist, St. Hilaire, Red Lake Falls, Plummer, Newfolden, Mentor, Goodridge, Brooks represented

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Northern Watch Reporter

The weather outside is frightful ...but inside ... it's so delightful.

When the thermometer reads 30 degrees below zero, it is delightful on the inside of the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center (arena) for those who like to walk. The arena is available for anyone who likes to walk every day or even many times a day, as well as for those who like to take a stroll just now and then.

This is the seventh year that Northwest Medical Center and the Falls Clinic have utilized the arena for a walking program, but this year there is something different about the program. Program organizers have implemented an incentive program for walkers with the "Arena Walker" program.

As of December 30, 1993, 248 people were participating in the Arena Walking incentive program. They not only come to walk from Thief River Falls, but also from the neighboring towns of Viking, Strandquist, St. Hilaire, Red Lake Falls, Plummer, Newfolden, Mentor, Goodridge and Brooks.

Walkers who wish to participate in the Arena Walker incentive program register at Northwest Medical Center and receive a log and sticker book and an Arena Walking pin for a very minimal charge ($2). They are then eligible for incentive prizes.

If a person walks 500 minutes they can be said to have walked 25 miles. The incentive prize for 25 miles is a pair of neon shoelaces. Other prizes are:

•75 miles — marathon walking socks,

•150 miles — copy of "Walk the Four Seasons" book by Robert Sweetgall,

•300 miles — free ticket to the Robert Sweetgall seminar, "Walking Off Weight," which will be held in Thief River Falls on February 8, at 7 p.m. at Northland Community College (tickets for those who are unable to win them will be $3 and they are available from the Pennington County Extension office — everyone, arena walker or not will enjoy this interesting seminar),

•400 miles — a trophy, and

•500 miles — a Walk the Four Seasons sweatshirt.

Eileen Rhen is an Arena Walker who has been walking for three years. Logging over 200 miles this year, she has earned her neon shoelaces, her marathon walking socks and her copy of Sweetgall's book. She is now working very hard to get her free ticket to Mr. Sweetgall's seminar, but said, "I don't know if I can make it. I'm trying to walk as much as I can."

Eileen walks early in the morning, from 7:30 to 9 a.m. every week day, averaging four to five miles a day. She said she can do a mile in about 15 minutes. She and a partner, Marie Engen, walk together most of the time and "help each other out." Eileen said having a partner helps her get out and get going in the morning. If she doesn't feel like walking that day, Marie will encourage her and get her going, and vice-versa. Between the two of them, their encouragment program seems to be working quite well.

Why does she do it? "I know I'm doing something good for my health. I'm doing it for myself," she says. "It makes me feel really great. I miss it when I don't walk and then I feel like I just have to get out there again."

Eileen would like it if the arena were available for summertime walking, too. "Last year the mosquitoes were so terrible I didn't walk much," she said. "I really hate those bugs."

Val Mooney walks while her daughters skate. Since she has four daughters in various skating programs, she is getting in plenty of walking time.

This is Val's first year at arena walking and she has also chosen to participate in the Arena Walker incentive program. She began walking November 11 and has logged 249 miles so far and "will have more," she said.

Her interest in walking began when she entered the Walk Pennington County marathon last summer. She said the walking program has become her own private incentive program. It has taught her that she can set a goal and that she is able to reach that goal. "I want to be able to set a goal and make it and not give up halfway through."

She walks with the early birds, from 6 to 7 a.m., and often again in the evening, before the arena closes. She may also spend some of her lunch hour walking. Needless to

Val Mooney walks in the Arena Walker incentive program while her daughters skate, and with four daughters, that gets to be quite a bit of walking. Val has walked over 250 miles so far and plans to keep on going strong, with a goal of five miles a day or 100 miles a month. Her walking has had an added benefit in that she has lost 12 pounds so far.

Soupçon

By Sherry LaCoursiere

This weather is made for hot, nourishing soup. Today's recipes are some good soups that you can make in minutes, chosen to warm up your innards when you come in from the cold.

Use leftover ham for this delicious cream soup:

POTATO HAM SOUP

1 cup diced carrots
1 cup finely cut onions
2 cups finely diced celery
6 cups raw, peeled, diced potatoes
1 tablespoon parsley
2 to 3 cups diced cooked ham
8 to 10 peppercorns
1 large bay leaf

Mix all ingredients and cook about 1/2 hour in 4 cups water. Cook slowly to conserve liquid.

Add 2 cups milk and 1/2 cup cream just before serving and heat through. Salt to taste. If more liquid is desired, add more milk.

Here is a quick way to make a hearty soup tonight:

VEGETABLE BURGER SOUP

2 pounds ground beef
1 can stewed tomatoes
1 can tomato soup
6 cups water
1 package dry onion soup mix
1 package frozen mixed vegetables
salt and pepper to taste
1/2 cup ketchup (optional)

Brown beef lightly. Add to all other ingredients and bring to a boil.

Reduce heat, cover and simmer for 20 minutes or until soft.

You may have to make a trip to the store to make this recipe, but it will be well worth it, and it doesn't take all day to make, either:

COUNTRY CHICKEN SOUP

4 cans (14 1/2 ounces each) clear chicken broth
5 carrots, peeled and cut into 1 inch pieces
1 pound turnips, peeled and cut into 1 inch pieces
1 pound red potatoes, cut into 1 inch pieces
1 small bay leaf
1/8 teaspoon thyme, crushed
1 medium clove garlic, minced
2 1/2 to 3 pound broiler-fryer chicken, cut and skinned
1 large parsnip, peeled and cut into matchstick strips
1/4 cup chopped fresh parsley
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 medium leek, split in half lengthwise and cut into 1 inch pieces

In 6-quart soup pot, heat broth to boiling. Reduce heat to low. Add carrots, turnips, potatoes, bay leaf, thyme and garlic.

Cover and simmer 10 minutes. Add chicken, parsnips, parsley and pepper. Simmer 30 minutes more until vegetables are tender.

Remove chicken from soup and remove meat from bones. Return meat to soup.

Add leeks and heat through. Remove bay leaf.

Soupçon

By Sherry LaCoursiere

This weather is made for hot, nourishing soup. Today's recipes are some good soups that you can make in minutes, chosen to warm up your innards when you come in from the cold.

Use leftover ham for this delicious cream soup:

POTATO HAM SOUP

1 cup diced carrots
1 cup finely cut onions
2 cups finely diced celery
6 cups raw, peeled, diced potatoes
1 tablespoon parsley
2 to 3 cups diced cooked ham
8 to 10 peppercorns
1 large bay leaf

Mix all ingredients and cook about 1/2 hour in 4 cups water. Cook slowly to conserve liquid.

Add 2 cups milk and 1/2 cup cream just before serving and heat through. Salt to taste. If more liquid is desired, add more milk.

Here is a quick way to make a hearty soup tonight:

VEGETABLE BURGER SOUP

2 pounds ground beef
1 can stewed tomatoes
1 can tomato soup
6 cups water
1 package dry onion soup mix
1 package frozen mixed vegetables
salt and pepper to taste
1/2 cup ketchup (optional)

Brown beef lightly. Add to all other ingredients and bring to a boil.

Reduce heat, cover and simmer for 20 minutes or until soft.

You may have to make a trip to the store to make this recipe, but it will be well worth it, and it doesn't take all day to make, either:

COUNTRY CHICKEN SOUP

4 cans (14 1/2 ounces each) clear chicken broth
5 carrots, peeled and cut into 1 inch pieces
1 pound turnips, peeled and cut into 1 inch pieces
1 pound red potatoes, cut into 1 inch pieces
1 small bay leaf
1/8 teaspoon thyme, crushed
1 medium clove garlic, minced
2 1/2 to 3 pound broiler-fryer chicken, cut and skinned
1 large parsnip, peeled and cut into matchstick strips
1/4 cup chopped fresh parsley
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 medium leek, split in half lengthwise and cut into 1 inch pieces

In 6-quart soup pot, heat broth to boiling. Reduce heat to low. Add carrots, turnips, potatoes, bay leaf, thyme and garlic.

Cover and simmer 10 minutes. Add chicken, parsnips, parsley and pepper. Simmer 30 minutes more until vegetables are tender.

Remove chicken from soup and remove meat from bones. Return meat to soup.

Add leeks and heat through. Remove bay leaf.

LETTERS

To the Editor:

It is so disheartening to listen to most news broadcasts—trouble, trouble and more trouble.

The heart needs a change so people think differently. People have to want to do good before they will. People want to do what they want to do and when they want to do it. Laws against this and that don't change the human heart.

If they see what love can do instead of hate there would be more forgiveness instead of hate and doing things for spite and people would quit hurting one another.

Gun control, what good or what harm will it do? If every gun was taken away, what would be the next weapon used? What good does a get tough policy do in an effort to keep young people from drinking? "The heart is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked, who can know it." (Jeremiah 17:9)

God promised to change the hearts of people back in Old Testament times if they turned to Him. (Psalm 86:5; Jeremiah 17:7, 8; 24:7, Ezekiel 24:19, 20)

In the New Testament in Second Corinthians 5:17 God promised to make us a new creation and so all things become new when we turn to Christ.

Maybe you think I am too religious, but I am happy my thoughts and words are protected by the First Amendment. I believe very strongly in keeping the law of our land but laws don't seem to do the trick many times.

Turning to God and His way of doing things is the only way to make a change and make the world a safer place for all of us to live in.

Sincerely,
Lillie Asp
Thief River Falls.

Fill in the blank spaces with the word "Bibles" and you would upset many.

Fill in the blank spaces with the word "newspapers" and you would upset many more.

Fill in the blank spaces with the word "directories" or the words "telephone directories" and you have the precise wording of Subdivision 4, Section 29, Article 1, chapter 593, Laws of Minnesota for 1992 scheduled to be effective August 1, 1994.

Obviously, this new law establishes a new precedent that is a dangerous threat to what we have left of freedom. This new concept of assigned responsibility can not and will not be equally and justly administered. It only gives the government more power and control. It will give you and me less freedom and more costs.

We should not lose or give up freedom to the false pretense of "saving the environment." This new ideology which I choose to label as godless pragmatism will lead us to ruin. Godless pragmatism will serve us no better than godless communism served the former Soviet Union.

If you value freedom, I urge you to fight to get these bad laws appealed. Make your state and federal legislators accountable and responsible. If you can do it legally, resist, test and protest at the risk of fines and jail.

If you are a sleeper, my advice: WAKE UP!

If you are a couch potato, my sympathy. You have become the prime target for mass indoctrination, just as sure as my name is

Karlstad, Minnesota

To The Editor:

When wheat producers in Minnesota experience what was in 1993 one of the worst crops in state history, of course the Minnesota Association of Wheat Growers wants to do everything it can to ensure the situation doesn't happen again.

Thus, the MAWG has proposed to state lawmakers a $3 million, seven-year research plan that contains short-term, intermediate-term and long-term research objectives to address scab. The $3 million research appropriation would be one per cent of the $300 million in estimated losses to state wheat growers in 1993.

Northern Watch editor Marvin Lundin said recently in an editorial that he understands and supports an appropriation for scab research. However, he referred to the MAWG's estimate of $300 million in 1993 wheat losses as "phantom dollars," because "it's impossible for a person to lose what he or she never had" and that "unrealized potential is not a loss, no matter how much it is anticipated."

The MAWG appreciates Mr. Lundin's support for scab research appropriations. However, we believe that $300 million in lost wheat profits in 1993 must be maintained as a valid consideration on which to base a scab research appropriation.

That $300 million in losses represents $42 million from acres burned, $217 million in lost yields and $42 million in price discounts from scab and vomitoxin. To have a bumper crop in hand one month that is burned, robbed of yield potential and discounted in price just a few weeks later cannot be called anything but a loss. $300 million in 1993 wheat losses is not phantasmic, but indeed a real loss to farmers and Minnesota's economy.

To look at the value of a loss in another way, consider this analogy: What wonderful news it would be if an out-of-state Fortune 500 company suddenly announced that it was going to relocate in northwest Minnesota, and that based on business output projections of the company, this move would figure to boost the region's economy by $300 million.

Imagine the mournful disappointment if the company changed its mind at the last minute and instead relocated in a different state. Many would refer to this as a $300 million loss to the economy of northwest Minnesota.

Much the same as Minnesota's decimated wheat crop induced by scab in 1993.

Wheat production is an important contributor to Minnesota's economy. If Fortune Magazine kept a list of Minnesota's most-produced crops and state farm commodities that contribute to the nation's export market, wheat would rank third. Since most wheat in Minnesota is produced in the northwest part of the state, the crop is particularly important to this region's rural economy.

Research is an investment and we want state lawmakers to know that a $3 million research appropriation could return many times that amount in increased economic activity. That's because wheat contributes much not only to northwest Minnesota's rural economy, but to the state's export output as well.

Sincerely,
Warren Affeldt, President
Minnesota Association of Wheat Growers
Fosston, Minnesota

A Trial That Should Never Be Held; A Mentality That Should Frighten Us All

An agency of a federal government that can attack us in our homes, rationalize killing women and children without remorse, then bring survivors of the attack to trial as criminals for defending themselves is a government agency beyond control of the people and one to be suspected, feared and despised. That government agency is the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (BATF) of the United States of America.

News accounts inform us that jury selection began January 10 in U.S. District Court in San Antonio, TX, for 11 members of the Branch Davidian sect who survived a BATF attack on its compound near Waco, TX, Feb. 28, 1993. The botched attack that was repelled by the occupants began a seven-week siege followed by another attack that resulted in the fiery deaths of all occupants of the compound, including many women and children.

An Associated Press story by Kelley Shannon in the Grand Forks Herald January 11 contained several troubling points.

It states that U.S. District Judge Walter Smith "questioned a panel of 80 prospective jurors Monday after shedding his black judicial robe to keep from 'intimidating' them. The defendants—10 men and one woman—sat attentively as the judge asked questions....Twelve jurors and six alternates are needed to hear testimony on the charges that the 11 followers of doomsday prophet David Koresh conspired to murder federal agents during a raid on the religious group's compound near Waco on February 28.

"The case pits the prosecution's evidence of tape recordings, law enforcement testimony and the group's stockpile of weapons against defense claims of excessive government force.

"Outside the presence of the jury pool, (Judge) Smith hinted at the legal argument expected to come over self-defense.

"'I think it's a very iffy thing at best,' he told lawyers. 'I don't want to waste time putting it in their minds.'

"Four agents of the U.S. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms were killed and 16 wounded in a shootout when about 100 BATF agents tried to execute a search warrant."

An accurate account of what actually transpired at the Branch Davidian compound on February 28 will never be obtained, given the history of federal agencies and government representatives to lie, deny, falsify, deceive and attempt to cover up its actions. An "official" report will be presented in testimony, carefully crafted and formulated over the nine months since the compound and its occupants were incinerated, and contrived to place white hats on the BATF attackers and black hats on the Koresh followers.

Here is a federal agency bringing federal charges in a federal court before a federal judge who, before the jury is even selected, suggests that a key basic element of the defense is "iffy." Here are people who were attacked in their communal home being charged with conspiracy for a spontaneous defense of their lives and property which, individually, they may not even have done.

Excessive government force a question? A hundred heavily armed agents to execute a search warrant....storming privately owned property unannounced.....attempting to capture a man who could be easily found on the public streets of Waco on any given day. If this is accepted standard BATF procedure, no wonder private citizens are worried to death about BATF involvement in other gun control enforcement.

The survivors who left the Branch Davidian compound should never have been charged and should never be tried. Those who perpetrated this act against them and who later were responsible—out of frustration, impatience, embarrassment and vindictiveness—for the deaths of all remaining in the compound are the ones who should stand trial for their fatal actions against fellow human beings.

If a government agency is permitted to act without restraint against private citizens in the manner of the BATF in the Waco fiasco, and if private citizens are to be denied the basic right of self defense when threatened, then every citizen of this country should quake with fear that he or she may be subjected to similar treatment.

A far-fetched fear? Not at all. A representative government should be a responsible government, acting with wisdom and restraint. If its agencies are permitted to take physical action against their perceptions of what is right or wrong, and not held accountable for the death and damage they cause, then freedom under the law has a hollow ring and the rights of the individual are no longer valid.

For Americans to have any faith in justice and the ability of the nation's legal system to provide it, the improperly charged must be acquitted and the aggressors must be tried and held accountable for their offenses.

To The Editor:

I know what you're probably thinking: "Good grief! It's her again, with another call to arms!" Well, you're quite right! This is a call to arms: to arms everywhere; to give blood.

Like most people I used to cringe at the mere thought of giving blood. Look, I admit it! I'm nobody's hero. I am a baby when it comes to pain and, if truth be told, I have a supreme fear of needles. In high school I was 16 and luckily too young to give. In college, I chickened out by saying that I weighed less than 110 pounds (Ha! Like anyone really believed that!).

Then one day I was asked to give blood for someone who I knew. No excuses this time. I bit the bullet knowing that she would do the same for me.

Call me crazy, but I tossed and turned the night before. I envisioned a sadistic lab technician with a dastardly laugh who would take out a needle the size of a harpoon and poke me gleefully as if drilling for oil.

I'm happy to report that the next day my technician did not resemble a harpoonist but rather resembled my mother. She gave me a warm smile, a comfortable seat and punch and cookies when I was through. More importantly, though, she explained that my little pint of blood would benefit as many as four people.

You see, today blood can be separated into several components such as red blood cells (used for surgical patients), plasma (used for burn, shock and accident victims), platelets (used for leukemia and cancer patients) and cryoprecipitate (which provides the clotting factor for hemophiliacs).

That's when it dawned on me. My blood could actually save someone's life! Now, I may be a chicken about needles and a baby when it comes to pain, but that day I realized that every time I give blood I am somebody's hero.

O.K., O.K., so I didn't leap tall buildings in a single bound, but I did leave the blood drive that day walking a little taller, proud that I'd taken the time to do something nice and so important for someone else.

I confess that I turned away when my blood was drawn, but it really didn't hurt (serious, serious). I didn't faint or feel weak and I retained full use of my arm! It was amazing! What was I so scared of? This donating business was a cinch!

What's more amazing still is that I can save up to four people's lives without having to rush into a burning building or attempt a daring rescue. I'll leave those to professionals. I simply laid back, relaxed, and then ate cookies. Now, that's my kind of lifesaving!

I know it's easy to say you're too busy, but every 12 seconds somewhere in this country someone needs blood—and for these people, blood is as precious as life itself. The fact of the matter is that in emergency situations we all rely on the kindness of strangers. And they, in turn, rely on us. They're counting on us now. Let's come through for them.

I know I may sound passionate about this, but these days it seems like everyone has a pet cause. Some save whales, some save the planet, I say "let's save some people."

You can make a difference! By taking a half hour of your time to donate blood you can revel in the knowledge that because of you tiny babies are born, couples can grow old together and wounded bodies can heal and become whole once again.

Studies show that the main reason people don't donate blood is because they aren't asked. Well, I'm asking! Give the gift that means the world for someone to receive. Give blood and be somebody's hero. The Northwest Medical Center Auxiliary will be hosting a blood drive January 19 from 1 to 7 p.m. and January 20 from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. Please join us, won't you?

Sincerely,
Shelby Sorvig

Girls high school basketball...

Gators beat Nordics second time

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River beat Marshall County Central for the second time this winter Thursday as the Gators completed the home-and-home sweep with a 44-36 girls high school basketball win at Greenbush.

The two rivals met in the 1993-94 season opener at Newfolden, where Badger/Greenbush-Middle River won 56-45.

Results left both teams at 6-4. It was a tough week for the Nordics, who lost three games by a combined total of 13 points.

Marshall County Central led 8-6 at the end of the first quarter, but Badger/Greenbush-Middle River went ahead 22-18 at halftime, held on to a 30-28 third quarter edge, then out-scored the Nordics 14-8 over the final eight minutes. It was still a two-point game with 1 1/2 minutes left before consecutive traveling calls on the Nordics took them out of it.

"Defenses did a lot better job than the offenses for both teams," said Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Tom Neibauer, whose team met a season-long defensive goal of holding opponents under 40 points.

A key to meeting that objective, explained Neibauer, was the defensive efforts by Krissi Super that limited Marshall County Central standout Sara Lokstad to 11 points. None of the other Nordics were able to pick up the slack.

Super scored 18 points to lead the Gators, while Robyn Iverson turned in a strong 14-point game and Sara Melby was credited with 12 assists.

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River put up just 35 shots, but made 16 of them (46 percent). Marshall County Central was 15-for-36 (42 percent). The Gators cashed in on 11 of 12 free throw opportunities, including a 6-for-6 fourth quarter, while the Nordics went 5-for-9 at the line.

"We played well enough to win defensively, but we're in a shooting slump right now," said Marshall County Central coach Tom Mjelde. "The shots we made earlier in the year just aren't falling for us right now."

The Nordics had a 26-24 rebound edge, but they also had more turnovers, 23-12.

"I thought we handled their full-court press a lot better than we have in the past, but after we broke the press, we wound up making unforced errors in the front court," mentioned Mjelde.

Lakers beat Prowlers in swim dual

Thief River Falls out-numbered Detroit Lakes, but the Prowlers didn't out-swim the Lakers Thursday, losing a 105-69 boys dual high school swim meet at the Franklin Middle School pool.

"Detroit Lakes usually doesn't have very many kids, but they always seem to come up with four-five good swimmers," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken. "I figured they would beat us, but I was hoping to be closer than what we were."

The Prowlers won the first three events – Ryan Browning, Brad Cota, Aaron Sjaaheim, and Jason Curfman in the 200 medley relay; Cota in the 200 freestyle; and Sjaaheim in the 200 individual medley – but they didn't return to the winners circle until the final race of the day when Chris Pribula, Chris Efta, Browning, and Sam Adams combined on a first place 400 freestyle relay effort.

Northland women win 76-71

Five Northland Community College scorers reached double figures to spark a second half comeback as the Pioneers resumed their 1993-94 women's basketball schedule with a 76-71 Wednesday night win at NDSU-Bottineau.

Playing for the first time after a month-long break that spanned the holidays, and then some, the Pioneers faced a 39-30 halftime deficit and were down 15 five minutes into the second half before things turned around.

"It took us a while to get going," acknowledged Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "Having not played for 30 days, I knew we were going to be rusty. It just took us that long to put it together."

The balanced Northland attack featured Ronda Olson and Holly Gram with 16 points apiece, and Fay Cassavant 14, while Sandi Gustafson and Renae Blazejewski both netted 10.

"We played well," said Nikunen. "We had a very good second half. We shot well and we executed well."

Northland shot 45 percent from the field for the game, hitting 31 of 63 attempts. The Pioneers had a little more trouble at the free throw line, where they were 14-for-30, but NDSU-Bottineau also missed a bunch of free throws in a 16-for-29 night at the line. Northland finished with a 35-30 rebound edge.

It was just the second win in eight starts for the Pioneers, but it sent them into the Minnesota Community College Conference portion of the season on a positive note. "It was a good tune-up for us," said Nikunen.

Red River is 5-4 overtime winner

Failure to cover players in front of the net cost Thief River Falls big time Tuesday as Grand Forks Red River scored three goals on rebounds, including the game winner at 4:34 of overtime, in a 5-4 high school hockey decision over the visiting Prowlers.

Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo wasn't happy with the results that put the Prowlers at 4-9.

"On almost every goal they scored, we have somebody standing there watching a good hockey game," said Chiodo. "We do so many other things well, but we keep making the same mistakes over and over. You can't leave people standing alone in front of your net. It's sad you have to lose a game like that."

The game was tied at every period break – 1-1 after one, 2-2 after two and 4-4 at the end of regulation time.

But near the midway mark of the eight-minute sudden death overtime, a sliding block of a Thief River Falls shot from the point led to what would be a game-winning Red River rush. Thief River Falls goalie Eric Dowers made a nice pad save on Paul Murphy, but the rebound came out to Jeff Pettit, who put it in the net.

Pettit also opened the scoring by banging home a centering pass at 4:33 of the first period.

Thief River Falls tied it on a power play goal by Kaine Martell, who got a slap shot from the point through a crowd and just inside the post to the left of goalie Ryan Skarperud with 52 seconds left in the opening period.

Nick Chiodo got a piece of the puck for a tip-in goal off a shot by Martell just 66 seconds into the second period for a 2-1 Thief River Falls lead, but Red River then took over, tying it on a power play goal by Kris Peeler at 12:31.

The Roughriders went ahead 3-2 when Scott Wilson tapped in his own rebound off a 2-on-1 rush at 4:26 of the second period.

Thief River Falls went back on top 4-3 when Tim Barry tipped in Brian Howe's ice-hugger at 6:55 and Chiodo completed a neat-looking power play when he buried a Brent Kleinvachter pass at 8:39.

Grand Forks forced overtime, however, when Ben Kirkeby grabbed his own rebound after a point blank save by Dowers and did a backhand spin to whip it past the netminder at 10:25.

Scoring

Grygla-Gatzke rally tops MCC

Grygla-Gatzke completed a game-long comeback by out-scoring Marshall County Central 16-3 in the fourth quarter Tuesday as the Eagles beat the visiting Nordics 52-50 in North Border Conference boys high school basketball.

Marshall County Central opened the game with a 25-11 first quarter lead and maintained a 37-22 halftime spread. Grygla-Gatzke still trailed 47-36 heading into the fourth quarter.

The Eagles' rally benefitted from 1-for-10 fourth quarter shooting by the Nordics, who were scoreless over the last four minutes, missing a potential go-ahead 3-pointer and a game-tying tip-in in the final moments.

"It looked like we were dead in the water," admitted Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson. "But our kids never gave up. It was a nice win for us."

Grygla-Gatzke reached .500 with the win at 4-4. Marshall County Central fell to 5-4.

"The turning point," explained Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland, "came late in the third quarter when we had three starters with three fouls and we had to go to a zone defense. We became too tentative after that, both offensively and defensively. We quit playing to win and started playing not to lose."

Mike Jelle led the Eagles with a 21-point, 11-rebound effort, including the go-ahead basket with 1:14 remaining. He was their only double figure scorer, but Rod Holte contributed 9 points, while Jamie Lunsetter and Jeremy Verbout both chipped in with 8. Jake Rantanen scored 16 points to lead the Nordics, with Scott Zak and Kent Rokke both netting 10.

Grygla-Gatzke made 21 of 44 field goal attempts (48 percent) and 7 of 17 free throws. Marshall County Central was just 19-for-56 from the field (34 percent) and 6-for-8 at the line. The turnovers were even at 18-apiece, but the Eagles did not turn it over during their fourth quarter rally.

"One of the keys was a defensive switch we made late in the second quarter," explained Johnson, who gave assistant coach Steve Sparby much of the credit for suggesting the change that was ironed out during halftime. "We made the switch and the kids did a great job with it."

Slow start costs NCC men, 97-91

Slow starts have plagued the Northland Community College men's basketball team all year, and Wednesday it was no different as the Pioneers fell behind host NDSU-Bottineau 20-2 before making a game of it. But the deficit was just to much to overcome, resulting in a 97-91 loss.

"We started off just like we started every game – slow," said Northland coach Mark Dannhoff. "We just didn't come mentally ready to play in the first half. We came back and had a nice second half, but we were never able to get that basket that would give us a tie or a lead."

Northland pulled within 44-37 by halftime and did make it a two-point game late before NDSU-Bottineau wrapped it up with free throws.

Scott Burton scored 23 points, Chad Kujava 20, Demond Watson 17, and Mitch Bernstein 12 to give the Pioneers four double figure scorers. But the winners had five, including three with 20 or more – Travis Johnson with 22, Mike Kegley 21 and Reggie McBride 20.

It was the end to a season-opening nonconference schedule for the Pioneers, who went into Minnesota Community College Conference play at 3-8.

Minnesota Twins manager Tom Kelly addressed Thief River Falls sixth, seventh and eighth grade students Thursday during a program at Franklin Middle School. Kelly, catcher Derek Parks and broadcaster John Gordon took part in the program – a stop on the annual Twins Talking Baseball Tour. Instead of luncheon and supper gatherings with the general public, this year's promotional tour is featuring stops at schools in the Upper Midwest, with the Twins personnel stressing the importance of education and staying drug-free.

Wolverines lose on last-second basket

A 10-point third quarter lead disappeared for the Goodridge/Grygla girls Thursday as the Wolverines lost a 51-50 high school basketball game to Kittson County North at Lancaster.

The Cougars trailed 12-8, 24-19 and 40-30 at the quarter stops before out-scoring the Wolverines 21-10 down the stretch.

It was still a 10-point spread with four minutes left before it came unraveled for the Wolverines.

Winning play came on the final tick of the clock. With one second left, Kittson County North had the ball out of bounds under the Goodridge/Grygla basket. But a length-of-the-court pass and a turnaround shot by Shannon Wilson beat the buzzer – much to the dismay of Wolverines coach Mike Gast.

"That was the longest second I've ever been involved in," said Gast. "But I'm not blaming the officials. We lost the game. We should never have put ourselves in position to lose it like that."

It was the fourth straight loss for the Wolverines, dropping them to 3-6 for the year.

"We played well for 3 1/2 quarters," noted Gast, "but we didn't show the poise we needed at the end. We just made too many mistakes."

Deanna Kotrba and Brandi Stratton led Goodridge/Grygla with 17 and 16 points, respectively. The Kittson County North offense featured Lavonne Nelson with 16 points, Nancy Lupien 15 and Jenny Swenson 13.

Both teams were 21-for-46 from the field (45 percent). The Wolverines struggled with an 8-for-18 free throw night, including a 4-for-10 fourth quarter. The Cougars made 7 of 12 free throws.

Girls JV basketball squad splits games vs. Moorhead, MCC

Recent outings for the Thief River Falls girls junior varsity high school basketball team include a 54-24 Saturday loss at Moorhead and a 46-45 Tuesday home court victory over Marshall County Central.

Kara Boughton scored 10 points to lead the Thief River Falls scoring against Moorhead. The winners had quarter leads of 11-4, 28-12 and 36-20.

Lisa Swanson had a 14-point effort to lead Thief River Falls past Marshall County Central in a game that featured a close first half and a see-saw second half.

Thief River Falls led 14-13 at the first stop and it was tied 26-26 at halftime before the winners opened up a 42-29 third quarter spread, only to be outscored 16-4 over the final eight minutes.

TRF girls hold off MCC to win 58-53

Start strong, then hold on for a win. That was the formula for success Tuesday for the Thief River Falls girls in a 58-53 high school basketball win over Marshall County Central.

The Prowlers' fast break offense produced an 18-3 first quarter lead that forced the visiting Nordics to play catch up basketball the rest of the night.

"We came out ready to play basketball," said Thief River Falls coach Sally Wiltse. "We beat them down the court at the start. Our fast break was working pretty well."

Marshall County Central stayed within 29-21 at halftime, but saw the spread go to 43-28 in the third quarter before staging a late-game comeback that made it 56-53 following a Tricia Pederson free throw with seven seconds left.

The Nordics' rally was cut short, however, when the Prowlers' Lisa Rendulich scored on a fast break lay-up at the end.

Three Thief River Falls scorers reached double figures as Lisa Ulrich netted 16, while Carrie Lawrence and Rendulich both had 11.

"It was nice to see us scoring consistently in each quarter, and it was nice to see the balanced scoring," offered Wiltse.

Pederson led Marshall County Central with 19 points, and Darlene Nelson was a key performer with 15. Special defensive attention given to Sara Lokstad held the Nordics' high-scoring senior to two field goals, although she still hit double figures with 10 points.

A Thief River Falls team that normally struggles with its shooting, had a solid 41 percent, 24-for-59 night from the field to go along with a 9-for-15 free throw effort.

RLCC girls lose one-sided 70-38 decision to EGF

East Grand Forks had little trouble in beating Red Lake County Central 70-38 Tuesday in girls high school basketball at Plummer.

The Green Wave had quarter leads of 21-10, 45-26 and 59-32.

"Not much defense on our part," said Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto. "We just couldn't stop them."

Meckenzie Malwitz scored 12 points and Angel Mickelson 10, despite running into early foul trouble, to lead the Mustangs' offense. Shana Mitzell had a 20-point game to pace the Green Wave.

Red Lake County Central was 18-for-51 from the field (35 percent) and 2-for-6 at the free throw line. East Grand Forks went 31-for-72 from the field (43 percent) and 8-for-18 at the line. The winners had a 38-33 rebound advantage.

Slow start doesn't stop Goodridge

■ Huskies bounce back to beat Gators 50-47

Goodridge spotted Badger/Greenbush-Middle River an 11-0 head start Tuesday before coming back to beat the host Gators 50-47 in boys high school basketball.

The early double digit deficit forced Goodridge to abandon a game-opening zone in favor of a man-to-man defense, and the switch worked wonders for the Huskies.

"We cut their zone apart in a hurry," reported Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Eldon Sparby, "but then they made the switch and we didn't adjust."

The Goodridge rally started with a 13-3 scoring run that all but wiped out a 13-2 Badger/Greenbush-Middle River lead. The Huskies went ahead 28-27 at halftime and it was a 39-39 tie through three quarters.

"We picked up the intensity," pointed out Goodridge coach John Rahn. "We played 12 kids, and they all responded well. They all hustled. It was an up-hill battle the whole way, but the kids did a nice job coming back like they did."

Eldon Quam scored 15 points and Brady Wiseth had 11 to lead the winners. Billy Holum collected 14 points and Erik Heggedal netted 11 for the Gators.

Neither team shot well, with Goodridge hitting only 20 of 61 field goal attempts (33 percent), while Badger/Greenbush-Middle River made 17 of 48 (35 percent). The Gators were 11-for-16 at the free throw line, where the Huskies we just 4-for-15.

"The credit goes to their (Huskies) defense," offered Sparby. "They played excellent defense in the second half."

Goodridge improved to 5-4 with the win. Badger/Greenbush-Middle River is 4-5.

Prowlers win dual swim meet

Thief River Falls boys got to enjoy the taste of success Tuesday when the Prowlers beat Bagley/Fosston 48-31 in high school swimming at Fosston.

It was just the second dual meet and the first win of the year for the Prowlers.

"It was a good, close meet – it always is when we face them because we match-up really well," explained Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken. "It's kind of fun going into a meet knowing it should be close and you have a chance to win."

The balance showed in the winners circle – six first place finishes for Thief River Falls; five for Bagley/Fosston. Depth, normally the Prowlers' downfall against stronger, bigger teams on the schedule, wound up producing the win.

Thief River Falls first place finishes came from Brad Cota in the 200 individual medley and 100 breaststroke; Sam Adams, 50 freestyle; Jason Curfman, 100 butterfly; Chris Pribula, 500 freestyle; and the 200 medley relay team of Charley Follett, Steve Lyman, Aaron Sjaaheim, and Adams.

"We had some good time drops," noted Lokken, who gave special recognition to improvements by Curfman and Sjaaheim in a 1-2 finish in the 100 butterfly.

Agassiz harvest figures released for deer, moose

Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge officials have announced harvest figures for the 1993 deer and moose hunting seasons on the refuge and adjoining wildlife management areas.

The 1993 deer harvest in Area 203 was 582 – 23 percent below the 1992 record harvest of 755. Ten-year average is 554.

There were 1,000 antlerless permits available for Area 203 in 1993, a figure unchanged from 1992. There were 660 permits issued. An additional 425 deer management (bonus) permits were made avilable.

Number of hunters in Area 203 increased 42 percent, from 1,006 in 1992 to 1,426 in 1993.

There were 400 deer registered with an antlerless permit, a buck-only, or multi-buck license, and 182 with deer management permits. The harvest included 240 adult bucks (41 percent), 216 adult females (37 percent), 60 fawn males (11 percent), and 66 fawn females (11 percent). Two deer were harvested on adjoining state wildlife management areas during the archery season.

Current climactic conditions are reported favorable for good winter survival of the deer herd, according to refuge personnel, with abundant summer rains producing excellent winter browse. A mid-winter aerial deer census will be completed in February. Results of this census, combined with the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources deer model, will determine the number of antlerless permits available for the 1994 season.

Reports also show that 20 parties harvested 19 moose (a 95 percent success rate) during the Dec. 4-12 Zone 2 hunt. Seventeen of the moose were harvested on Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge and two were taken on the Eckvoll Wddlife Management Area.

Sixteen bulls (13 adults and 3 yearlings) accounted for 84 percent of the harvest. The greatest antler spread was 52 inches. Three adult cows were also harvested.

All moose appeared to be in excellent condition.

Current winter conditions would appear to be favorable for maintaining a healthy moose population.

While the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources will have a moose season in other zones next fall, there will not be a moose season in Zone 2 in 1994.

Registrations are accepted for NCC Football Coaching Clinic

Reduced rate advanced registrations are still being accepted for the annual Northwest Minnesota Football Coaching Clinic, scheduled to be held Saturday, Jan. 29, at Northland Community College.

Cost of the clinic is $10 if registration is received prior to Jan. 26. Registration fee is $20 after that day. A school can register its entire football staff for $40.

Among the guest speakers will be Neal Hofland, who has been head high school football coach at Chokio-Alberta for 25 years. His 199 career wins include state Nine-Man playoff titles in 1991 and 1993.

Hofland is no longer employed by the school, but still works the coaching duties around his job as an insurance salesman. Hofland, whose son Dave is currently head high school football coach at Warren-Alvarado, will address the clinic about long-term success in football programs.

Others who will offer clinic presentations include high school coaches Dave Nelson, Blaine, Keith Urbaniak, Kittson Central; Jeff Mumm, Thief River Falls; and Rod Oksendahl, Cavalier; along with University of North Dakota assistant Dale Lennon.

To register, or for additional information, contact clinic director Rick Nelson at Northland Community College, 1101 Highway 1 East, Thief River Falls, MN 56701; telephone 681-2181.

Brantl leads RLCC past Sacred Heart

Farrah Brantl scored 24 points and Meckenzie Malwitz had 19 Thursday as Red Lake County Central snapped a four-game losing streak with a 67-46 girls high school basketball win over East Grand Forks Sacred Heart at Plummer.

The Mustangs won it by out-scoring the Eagles 28-9 in the fourth quarter to break open a close game. East Grand Forks Sacred Heart led 15-11 at the end of the first quarter. It was a 22-22 tie at halftime and Red Lake County Central had just a 39-37 edge to start the fourth quarter.

"We finally played a decent fourth quarter," said Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto. "Our press worked pretty well. We haven't used it very much, they did a nice job with it."

Brantl was 11-for-18 from the field in her 24-point effort. Angel Mickelson turned in an 8-point, 14-rebound game.

Sarah Blackmun led the Eagles with 18 points.

Red Lake County Central was 28-for-72 (39 percent), while Sacred Heart went 20-for-52 (38 percent). Both teams had trouble at the line, where the Mustangs were 9-for-20 and the Eagles went 3-for-13. The winners had a 39-28 reboud edge.

The win put Red Lake County Central at 4-6 for the year.

Off-Road Vehicle Permits

Licenses are now available for motorcycles and 4x4 trucks used on public lands that permit such use, according to the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources. The first licenses were sold at the DNR headquarters in St. Paul recently to a group of off-road motorcyclists and 4x5 enthusiasts who advocated passage of the new legal requirement for Minnesotans.

The new licensing requirement will help fund a program to manage use of the recreational vehicles on public land, according to Ray Hitchcock, DNR assistant commissioner for operations.

Whitetail deer hides were graded, sorted and stacked on pallets Thursday as five area chapters of the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association (MDHA) sold donated hides in the organization's Hides for Habitat program. Funds from the sale of hides are used by the local chapters in habitat improvement projects for deer. The MDHA expected about 23,000 hides to be donated and sold this year with the high bidder being the Hershey Hide & Fur Company of Hershey, PA. There were 1,803 hides loaded at Thief River Falls Thursday.

DEATHS

Eldred Ayers, 81

Thief River Falls — Eldred Ayers died Monday at the CNC unit of Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls at the age of 81.

Funeral services for Eldred Ayers will be Saturday at 2 p.m. at First Baptist church in Thief River Falls with Rev. Carroll Erickson officiating.

Visitation was Friday from 1 to 9 at the Green Funeral Home and will also be for one hour prior to the service at the church on Saturday.

There will be a complete obituary in Wednesday's edition of The Times.

CORRECTION

An article on sign-ups for DirecTv in the January 8 issue of the Northern Watch stated that Garden Valley Telephone Company would handle distribution in the cities of Goodridge, Grygla and St. Hilaire. These are communities provided with telephone service by Garden Valley but where Garden Valley will not provide the satellite TV service. The Northern Watch and Times apologize for the error.

Pennington county awards solid waste handling bid to SwisCorp

• Privatization would increase the solid waste stream, but it is recognized that any proposal would increase the solid waste stream in order to hold down public costs:

• Certain concerns with privatization could be addressed through contractual restrictions; and,

• Environmental concerns such as odor, pests, aesthetics, etc., must be addressed.

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that, based on the information that has been presented, the city council hereby recommends that the county board of commissioners consider privatization as it relates to the solid waste matter.

"Be it further resolved, that a representative from the city be designated to work with the county of Pennington to have input into this matter."

Wednesday evening, representatives of Future Fuel, Professional Services Group and SwisCorp were given an opportunity to publicly present their proposals to operate the solid waste facility in Pennington county.

Pennington County Commissioner Ken Murphy explained at the outset of the informational meeting Wednesday night at the courthouse that the management and services contract with Future Fuel was coming to an end and they had advertised for proposals to operate the facility. They received six proposals, three of which had already been eliminated. Murphy also said the county was not dissatisfied with the performance of Future Fuel.

Howard Person, the solid waste coordinator for the county outlined income and expenses for the facility for the past two years. "It was particularly revealing as it explained to the many people present that much of the cost of operating the facility is subsidized by the public.

In 1992, total income at the plant was $735,661.27. Total expenses were $730,818.57. Subsidies to the plant totaled $181,738.30.

In 1993, total income at the plant was $756,989.19. Total expenses, which haven't been totally accounted for, were estimated at $773,901.64. Subsidies to the plant totaled $216,009.08.

There are at least fouc sources of income used to support the plant: government grant, taxpayers, tipping fees to users of the plant, and sale of a product, which includes recyclables, compost and refuse densified fuel pellets.

One of the most telling figures used Wednesday evening was the cost to repair and maintain equipment. During the past two years, substantial repairs have driven expenses higher. Person said, equipment is eight years old, and it is in need of replacement.

The county has put $2.5 million into the facility. Money to build and operate the plant came from government grants and bonds plus income. An increasing amount of money to support the plant has come from taxpayers partially because the equipment has been failing, and the tipping fee has remained at $45 per ton since 1985. In addition, the county is currently repaying bonded debt at $120,000 per year for the next 10 years.

Although not specifically addressed, hauling solid waste directly to a landfill was alluded to. Excercising that option would result in the county being forced to repay half of the grants from the government, which was estimated at $1 million. The tipping fee at Mar-Kit landfill is $45 per ton. The county waste facility has been processing an average of 10,000 tons of garbage per year.

Although it may seem less costly to haul directly to a landfill, there are many hidden costs. In addition, the current belief is that Minnesota Pollution Control Agency will soon require separation of recyclables from the waste stream before waste is taken to a landfill.

PSG or Professional Services Group is of St. Paul but the company is a subsidy of Compagnie Generale Des Eaux of France. A representative of PSG provided details about the company, which has substantial financial backing, considerable experience in the field and expert staff. It has several facilities in the United States and operates a solid waste facility in Wright County, Minnesota. They propose to operate the facility for the county on a management and labor contract. The county will own the equipment and share in risks, but will have input into the operation. The total projected budget under their management was estimated at $695,000. They also bid on an anticipated 10,000 tons of garbage per year. Even with their bid, Howard Person predicted that the county will have to continue to subsidize the plant.

Rick Nordhagen of Future Fuel explained that he has been involved in the solid waste facility in the county since its inception. He noted that Future Fuel has a great deal of experience, but because it has been the leader in the state it has had to overcome many disadvantages. Future Fuel is the only kind of its type in the nation. If Future Fuel won the contract, it would continue to operate the facility as it has in the past — under a labor and management contract. Nordhagen explained that Future Fuel invited SwisCorp to Pennington County and that he is a member of the board of directors for SwisCorp.

Headquarters for SwisCorp or Solid Waste Integrated Systems Corporation is located in Eden Prairie. Bob Kruse of SwisCorp, vice president and secretary, explained that the company has substantial financial backing. SwisCorp would privatize the county solid waste facility. Basically, there would be little risk to the county, the company would finance equipment, there would be no hidden increases to citizens, and services would remain basically the same. SwisCorp would have the option to purchase the plant at the end of 10 years. The SwisCorp bid, however, was based on handling 100 tons of garbage per day. Currently, the facility handles 40 tons per day. Don Brauer, president of the corporation, explained that they would be getting additional solid waste from neighboring counties. Brauer also claimed that they would "make a flagship of this plant." It would be a model for other plants according to Brauer.

Issues facing the county include whether the county should continue to operate the plant or whether it should allow the plant to be privatized? The concern would be over control of the plant. The risks would involve increased costs or potential collapse of the private company.

Another issue faced by the county and city is whether it can accept an increase in the waste stream to the plant. SwisCorp proposes to more than double the waste processed at the plant. That helps to reduce costs, but the fear is that it will more than double the environmental nuisances of smell, appearance and rodents.

To the many citizens attending the meeting, cost appeared to be the most important issue, but attempts to define costs and make comparisons always resulted in problems because the proposals are so different. As the meeting progressed later into the evening, residents only wanted to know what it would cost them under each plan, but those figures were not available. It was made clear, however, that under any of the proposals, costs will increase.

Another pallet of deer hides was loaded on the semi-trailer Thursday in Thief River Falls as 1,803 hides donated to the Hides for Habitat program of five northwestern Minnesota chapters of the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association were sorted, graded and loaded for shipment. The whitetail deer hide total included 1,015 from the Thief River Falls chapter, 245 from the Roseau River chapter, 261 from the Karlstad chapter, 71 from the East Grand Forks chapter and 130 from the Lake of the Woods chapter at Baudette and were valued at $10,066. There were also 81 moose, deer, elk, bear and antelope hides sold at a price to be negotiated later. Funds from the sale are used for deer habitat improvement.

Despite a thermometer reading 24 below zero, the arena walkers were up and walking as usual. This mom took off her coat, bundled up the baby, and took off at a brisk pace, wheeling the happy baby before her. The Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center (arena) is available seven days a week from 7:30 a.m. to closing for anyone who likes to walk. This year Northwest Medical Center and Falls Clinic have implemented an Arena Walker Incentive program in which incentive prizes are awarded for 25, 75, 150, 300, 400 and 500 miles of walking. They will also sponsor seminars on the benefits of walking by noted author and speaker, Robert Sweetgall, around town on February 8. The main seminar for the public will be at 7 p.m. at Northland Community College that evening.

Eileen Rhen (right) walks with her friend, Marie Engen. With the accompaniment and encouragement of a friend, they have each been walking four to five miles a day, or a mile every 15 minutes. Eileen has been in the arena walking program for three years and naturally joined the Arena Walker incentive program when it was offered. She has her incentive prizes of neon shoelaces, marathon walking socks and book, "Walk the Four Seasons," by Robert Sweetgall.

Arena Walk program has area interest say, Val is another proud owner of a pair of neon shoelaces, a pair of marathon walking socks, and a copy of Sweetgall's book. Her goal is to walk 100 miles every month, or five miles a day.

Eleven-year-old Casey Wilson is also a participant in the Arena Walker incentive program. Casey is in fifth grade at Northrop and the daughter of Steve and [illegible] Wilson of Thief River Falls. She only started the Arena Walking incentive program the first part of December, but already has her neon shoe laces for 25 miles of walking.

Casey said she started the walking program because she wants to get into shape for a portage trip to Hackensack that her class will be taking this year. She and her dad also plan to participate in the spring Walk-A-Thon, so she is walking with an eye toward that, too.

With school and other activities, Casey is able to walk at the arena only once a week and on weekends, but she also gets program credit for walking around her neighborhood. She has mapped out a walking strategy at home and knows just how many miles she walks around the neighborhood blocks. She said sometimes friends walk with her and sometimes her mother goes with her.

But she never walks alone because she carries a Walkman and listens to her favorite tunes as she walks. Her mom said she has gone through several radio headsets since she started all of this walking.

Eileen, Val and Casey are just examples of those who take part in the walking program. You will find people of all types walking at the arena at just about any time of day or night. And the best thing is, every one of them looks like they are having the time of their life and enjoying every minute of it.

The Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center is available for walking seven days a week from 7:30 a.m. (or earlier) until closing, but walkers are asked not to walk during hockey games, recreational skating or other organized activities. No walking is allowed from 7:30 a.m. to noon on days following hockey games to allow for clean-up.

If you are interested in participating in the Arena Walking program, contact Gail Holland at Northwest Medical Center, 681-4240, extension 210. If you just want to walk a little without earning a prize, feel free to stop in at the arena any of the designated times. You can be sure that you will meet interesting people there of every size, shape and description, especially if, like today, the weather outside is frightful.

Casey Wilson is the proud owner of neon shoelaces, her prize for walking 25 miles (500 minutes) in the Arena Walking incentive program. Whenever she walks, she walks to music, connected to her Walkman. Casey only started the walking program in December and has already logged over 25 miles, despite the demands of school and, like any eleven-year-old, wanting to spend a little time with her friends.

Welcome to real winter weather

Lake of the Woods — A film crew from California came to shoot a new Acura commercial for Honda on Lake of the Woods in 30 below zero temperatures. The director, Doug Taub, said they needed the wide open space they found on the lake. "Viewers won't know if it's Lake of the Woods or Siberia or just where, because it could be any of those places...We also needed an area big enough so that you couldn't distinguish where the sky meets the land." He said his crew was "adjusting" to the cold and had plenty of cold weather clothing with them. The film crew spent three days filming on the lake.

Caught in snow storm

Karlstad — Rev. J. A. Riveness was rescued by Kittson county fire department personnel and sheriff's deputies after his vehicle became stuck on a township road when he set out to visit a former parishioner. Riveness left Karlstad about 3:30 p.m., took a wrong turn, and became stuck on a low maintenance road. His car soon ran out of gas and he was stranded in strong winds and blowing snow. Riveness' snow-covered car was finally spotted at about 11:45 p.m. by Sam Graedstrand and Pat Collins. Riveness, who is in his eighties, was cold, but otherwise unharmed.

Klingon camp nets Red Lake Falls international stardom

Red Lake Falls — The January issue of "Premiere Magazine," Japan edition, carried an article featuring Red Lake Falls and its Klingon Camp. Another magazine, "Utne Reader," is planning a feature story on the Klingon camp and the city. Clips from the camp were shown on national television and an Associated Press story called the Klingon Language Camp one of the most interesting "wacky" stories out of Minnesota in 1993. All of this happened before a story about the Language Camp ran in the Grand Forks Herald January 9. After that, the camp had more national and international news with coordinator Glen Proechel appearing on several talk shows and being interviewed for magazine and newspaper stories.

"Steel Magnolias," Act II, to be presented

Admission is free and refreshments will follow. The 30-40 minute presentation will give the public an opportunity to see the effort the students put into preparing for state competition.

Give us a top feature idea and win cash

In keeping with its regional intent, the Northern Watch staff attempts to provide coverage of events, people and topics of interest from throughout its circulation area. An effort is now being made to involve our readers in helping the staff with that task.

In February the Northern Watch will initiate a contest for readers to provide the best suggestion for a news or feature story from the paper's general circulation area. If you receive the Watch on a regular basis, you are within that area.

Each month the Northern Watch staff will select a story "Idea of the Month" from among the suggestions received and the winner will receive a $25 cash prize and be recognized in the newspaper for his or her suggestion. Those who submit ideas that lead to stories in the Watch but are not winners in the monthly competition will be recognized with the story when it appears.

If more than one person suggests the same story subject, the first person to make the suggestion will be eligible for the cash prize.

Here's all that we need: Give us a call at 681-4450 or write to us at P.O. Box 100, Thief River Falls, MN 56701. Give us your idea for a story from within the circulation area along with your full name, complete address and a telephone number where you may be contacted for further information. We will take it from there.

If a story is developed and published from your idea, you will be in competition for the monthly award. The prize will be awarded the first week of the month following the month of competition.

Help alert us to interesting people, unusual circumstances or timely happenings in your area and be eligible for the $25 cash prize. The contest is open immediately and you can enter as often as you like. We are eager to hear from you.

Immunization clinics set in Marshall Co.

Immunization clinics have been scheduled for four locations in Marshall county in February by the Marshall County Nursing Service. Clinics will be from 9 to 11 a.m. February 1 in the Newfolden community center, February 2 in the Middle River community center, February 10 in the Grygla civic building and February 21 at the Evangelical Covenant church in Warren.

Provided at the clinics will be children's vaccinations including MMR, DTP, Hib and Trivalent oral polio and adult vaccinations for tetanus. Vaccine is provided free of charge by the Minnesota Department of Health. There is a $4 fee for administering the vaccine but no one is refused for inability to pay.

The nursing service asks parents to take their infant to their family physician for the initial DTP and oral polio immunization or to bring a signed referral from the physician indicating the immunization is to be given at the nursing service clinic.

"We also want to make it known that immunization services given at these public clinics should not be substituted for the child's usual well-child visit to his or her physician," states Nancy Maurstad, RN, at the Marshall County Nursing Service.

Parents should bring their child's immunization record with them each time they bring their child to the immunization clinic. Immunizations will not be given without presentation of the immunization record unless it is the first shot to be given.

Different type of sunflower seeds studied

by Gary McVey
Technical Services Manager
Agricultural Utilization Research Institute

A seed breeder from Fertile wants to change the way you eat sunflower seeds.

Sunflower seeds, grown in Minnesota and other parts of the Midwest for the past 30 years, come in many varieties. The kind you buy salted in the shell are generally small, known as "spitting seeds" for the way they're shelled in the mouth.

Europeans prefer a different type of seed—one that's consumed in what might be called a more refined way. The kind of sunflower seed that has caught on in Europe is a long weed with a large nut meat. People bite off the end of the long shell, eat the seed inside, and discard the shell. There's less mess.

Monroe Hagen, owner of Hagen Seed in Fertile, thinks long seeds have more than etiquette going for them. He's convinced that long sunflower seeds will catch on here, and we'll soon be eating them instead of popcorn as we watch television. But he's not waiting around for that to happen.

With funding from the Agricultural Utilization Research Institute, Hagen is developing seed stock for the European confectionery market. Most sunflowers grown throughout the world are produced for their oil, but a substantial market exists for the eating varieties—many of which were developed in northwest Minnesota.

A graduate of North Dakota State University and a plant breeder with more than 30 years of experience, Hagen will be testing more than 100 hybrids this coming summer to perfect the long-hulled variety. Last summer he produced 40 acres of one variety and is marketing that seed.

The nut meat itself tastes just like the sunflower seeds that eaters are used to eating. The hull is black with white stripes. The biggest difference is the shape: It's about half again as long as an ordinary sunflower seed.

Goodridge high school Sno-Fest which has been underway this week included a competitive penny drive among the seventh through 12th grade classes. Students donated pennies to their own class for one point each, but students from other classes could contribute silver coins to any class and they subtracted from the point total of that class. For instance, if a freshman donated 11 pennies to the freshman fund, and a student from one of the other classes deposited a dime in the freshman fund, the freshman would net only one point. Julie Kiesow (right) of the Goodridge school staff brought the donations through Thursday to Northern State Bank for counting. The pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars were in bank bags, whipped topping containers and quart jars. Jeanie Kvick operated the coin counting machine. Donations through Thursday included $375.55 in pennies and $234.95 in other coins for a total of $610.50. The money will be used toward purchase of a new stereo sound system for the school gymnasium. Contributions were still being taken Friday.

Mentoring is offered by Arts Council

Arts Council of the Northwest Regional Development Commission now has applications available for the 1994 artist/mentor program for performing and visual arts, according to Mara Lunde, Arts Council director.

High school students from Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Polk, Pennington, Red Lake and Roseau counties are eligible to receive an award to study with a local professional artist. Application deadline is March 1, 1994.

Students currently in grades nine, 10 or 11 may apply to study one of a variety of disciplines, including visual arts, music, voice, literary arts, media arts, dance or theater. Study sessions can be held from May through November, 1994.

"The goal of the program is to enhance each student's artistic creativity and skill through one-on-one studies with an artist/mentor," Lunde said. "The students will be selected on the basis of motivation, commitment, creativity, potential and past accomplishments."

Interested students may obtain application materials or additional information by writing to Mara Lunde, Arts Council Director, NWRDC, 525 Brooks Avenue South, Thief River Falls, MN 56701 or calling her at 681-2637 or 1-800-450-2637.

Ault serves on IR search committee

Ev Ault of Thief River Falls is among a number of Seventh Congressional District residents named to a search committee to find qualified candidates who will seek the Independent-Republican party endorsement as the district's candidate for Congress in 1994.

Others on the committee from this area are Sandy Dunham of Roseau, who was elected secretary, and Arlan Anderson of Argyle. The chairman is David Hauser of Fergus Falls.

David Beito is president of Northern State Bank

David Beito has been elected to serve as president of Northern State Bank in Thief River Falls, the third generation of the Beito family to hold that position since the bank was established by George A. Beito and others Aug. 24, 1935. Election took place at the bank's annual meeting.

David Beito

Gene Beito, David's father, has served as the bank's president since 1965 and will continue as chairman of the board. He will still be in the bank on a regular basis and available to customers, although the shift in responsibility is intended to permit him more time to travel and pursue other interests.

The administrative change involves the Thief River Falls bank only. Gene Beito will continue as president and chairman of the board at the Northern State Bank of Gonvick, Security State Bank of Oklee, First National Bank of McIntosh and Marshall County State Bank of Newfolden. David Beito is a board member of those four banks.

David Beito is a graduate of Lincoln high school and a 1983 graduate of St. Olaf College in Northfield. Following his graduation from St. Olaf he began work at Northern State Bank where he set up the computer system and worked on an investment analysis program called Asset/Liability Management.

In August of 1985 he enrolled at Columbia University in New York City and in June of 1987 he graduated with a Master of Business Administration degree in finance and commercial banking. He returned to Northern State Bank as vice president and was appointed chief financial officer in January of 1992.

David and his wife Mirelle have one son, Benjamin, age eight months. David has served as acting president of the Thief River Falls Jaycees, is vice chairman of the board of the Occupational Development Center, a director of the Chamber of Commerce, member of the leadership board of the Lincoln high school tech prep program, board member of Jobs Incorporated and the Thief River Falls Concert Association and a member of the

I-500 snowmobile race this weekend

I-500 International snowmobile race will be held January 23 and through Tuesday, January 25.

The field is full, the route has been determined, and the weather appears to be cooperating for the I-500 Snowmobile race from Thunder Bay, Ontario to the Twin Cities in Minnesota. The race, which begins at 9 a.m. on Saturday, January 23, is considered the largest and roughest in North America. A total of 350 racers have entered from as far away as Finland and Sweden.

The route for the approximately 600 mile race continues from the Thunder Bay starting point through the Superior National Forest to Grand Marais on day 1 and then runs from Grand Marais to Duluth on day 2. It begins in Superior, WI, and finishes in the Twin Cities on day 3.

Over $100,000 in cash and prizes will be awarded to racers in the I-500.

The I-500 began in 1966 as a part of the St. Paul Winter Carnival, a nationally-known winter outing for residents of the Twin Cities. It was suspended in 1981 but was resumed in 1987 after a complete restructuring. This year it is again a part of the St. Paul Winter carnival; the carnival's royalty will help begin the race in Thunder Bay. Last year's race had as its overall winner Kirk Hibbert of Driggs, Idaho, and Thief River Falls. Hibbert, along with the other top 10 finishers from last year, will compete again this year.

The Children's Miracle Network is the official charity selected by the I-500.

The field is full, the route has been determined, and the weather appears to be cooperating for the I-500 Snowmobile race from Thunder Bay, Ontario to the Twin Cities in Minnesota. The race, which begins at 9 a.m. on Saturday, January 23, is considered the largest and roughest in North America. A total of 350 racers have entered from as far away as Finland and Sweden.

The route for the approximately 600 mile race continues from the Thunder Bay starting point through the Superior National Forest to Grand Marais on day 1 and then runs from Grand Marais to Duluth on day 2. It begins in Superior, WI, and finishes in the Twin Cities on day 3.

Over $100,000 in cash and prizes will be awarded to racers in the I-500.

The I-500 began in 1966 as a part of the St. Paul Winter Carnival, a nationally-known winter outing for residents of the Twin Cities. It was suspended in 1981 but was resumed in 1987 after a complete restructuring. This year it is again a part of the St. Paul Winter carnival; the carnival's royalty will help begin the race in Thunder Bay. Last year's race had as its overall winner Kirk Hibbert of Driggs, Idaho, and Thief River Falls. Hibbert, along with the other top 10 finishers from last year, will compete again this year.

The Children's Miracle Network is the official charity selected by the I-500.

SOUPCON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Recipes today are for more tasty, hot soups that can be made in a short time. These are from the Trinity Lutheran church cookbook.

You'll be surprised to see how little time it takes to make this delicious soup:

BEER CHEESE SOUP
3/4 cup finely chopped carrots
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup margarine or butter
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/8 teaspoon cayenne pepper
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 cup Bisquick
2 (14 1/2 ounce) cans chicken broth
1 cups half and half (or reduced calorie milk)
2 cups sharp Cheddar cheese, shredded
6 ounces beer

Cook carrots, celery and onion in butter until tender, approximately 10 minutes. Add Bisquick, paprika, cayenne pepper and pepper.

Remove from heat. Gradually stir in chicken broth. Heat to boiling over medium heat, stirring constantly. Boil and stir 1 minute.

Reduce heat and stir in half and half and cheese until cheese is melted. Add beer. Heat and serve.

– Marilyn and Jerry Wigness

Here is another hearty main dish soup that can be made in a short time:

NEW ENGLAND POTATO-CLAM CHOWDER
4 slices bacon, cut up
1/4 cup chopped onion (1 small)
1 cup boiling water
2 cups peeled and diced potatoes
2 stalks celery, chopped (1 cup), if desired
1 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 can (8 ounces) minced clams
2 cups hot milk

Fry bacon until crisp in 2-quart saucepan. Remove bacon and drain on paper towels.

Cook onion in bacon fat until tender.

Stir in water, potatoes, celery, salt and pepper. Cover and heat to boiling.

Reduce heat; cook 15 minutes or until potatoes are tender. Stir in clams with liquid. Heat through.

Stir in milk, sprinkle with bacon and serve immediately.

– Ethel Hyatt

Try this nourishing soup when you want a meal in minutes:

TACO SOUP
1 (50 ounce) can bean with bacon soup
1 can water
1 (16 ounce) can tomatoes, chopped
2 tablespoons chili powder
8 ounces shredded Cheddar cheese

Combine all ingredients except cheese and heat. When hot, add cheese, stirring to melt.

Serve with taco chips and additional shredded cheese.

– Katherine Campbell

Here is one more soup you can make in a hurry, filled with good things to keep you warm on these cold days:

HAMBURGER-TOMATO SOUP
2 pounds hamburger
4 quarts water
1 (51 ounce) can tomato soup
1/2 gallon whole tomatoes
2 1/2 cups celery
1 cup onion
1/2 cup ketchup
3/4 cup rolled oats
Salt and pepper

Brown hamburger lightly. Cook all ingredients together except the oats. Add oatmeal when celery is tender. Stir and cook 10 minutes.

– Mrs. Robert Flynn

This soup is elegant, but also very quick to fix:

WILD RICE SOUP
6 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon minced onion
1/2 cup flour
3 cups chicken broth
2 cups cooked wild rice
1/3 cup minced ham
1/2 cup finely grated carrots
3 tablespoons chopped slivered almonds
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup half and half
2 tablespoons dry sherry (optional)
minced parsley and/or chives

Melt butter in saucepan. Saute onion until tender. Blend in flour and gradually add broth.

Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Boil one minute.

Stir in rice, ham, carrots, almonds and salt; simmer about 5 minutes.

Blend in half and half and sherry and heat to serving temperature. Garnish with parsley and/or chives.

Snowmobile Olympics in Oklee on January 22

First Annual Oklee Snowmobile Olympics will be held Saturday, January 22, in Oklee, according to The Oklee Herald.

Events celebrate winter and perhaps some of the craziness that goes along with bitter cold. A snowmobile parade will go down Main Street at 1 p.m. At 2 p.m. the Snowmobile Olympics will include a rescue race (bring your own victim) followed by a Back Seat Driver Contest (bring your own partner).

Beginning at 10 a.m. there will be a youth course and rides, and an Old Timers Ride at the football field.

Registration for the parade takes place at the Oklee Elevator. There will be a free sweatshirt given to the first 25 entries.

The Snowmobile Olympics will end at 5 p.m. with an awards ceremony. Following the awards ceremony there will be a dinner downtown and a social hour at the Oklee Liquor store. At 9 p.m. a Teen Dance will be held at the Oklee Hall.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

"We have to make safer guns and safer bullets." This statement was made by our illustrious Surgeon General Jocelyn Elders and reflects the mentality of gun control advocates. Elders possesses the same great mind that advocates studying the possibility of legalizing drugs.

Where do such brilliant people come from? How on earth do they find themselves in positions of power? These are the people who told us that they believe in traditional family values. They must think that we're all morons to believe their brain-tied babble.

Why, if gun control will help reduce crime, does Washington, D.C., have one of the highest crime rates in the country? This seems rather odd since D.C. also has one of the most restrictive gun laws in the country. Who are those who have the guns in D.C.? The answer to this question is fairly simple: "When guns are outlawed, only outlaws will have guns!"

Our federal politicians live in D.C. Are they blind or do they simply suffer from the inability to analyze problems and devise effective solutions?

Criminals, by definition, are not law abiding. All of the gun control laws in the world will do nothing except make it more difficult for you, the law abiding citizen, to own and use a gun. Criminals don't abide by these laws in Washington and they won't abide by these laws in your town. Why do so many people have such difficulty understanding this?

The solution to the crime problem is quite simple: When criminals know that they will be caught and that when caught that they will be punished severely, they will be much less likely to commit crimes. The liberal experiment of the 1960s has gone awry, folks. It does not work! We should have figured that out by now! The criminals are laughing at us.

The agenda of the gun control advocates becomes apparent when upon passage of the "Brady Bill" statements such as "this is the first step" are made. Why would some want to disarm the American public? This is not paranoid ranting on my part, it is simply prudent analysis and concern about what is happening in this country.

To loosely quote an unknown author, "... people seldom lose all of their freedoms at once, they lose them a little at a time." Each small loss of freedoms seems insignificant in and of itself, however, taken as a whole, these losses are very significant. These losses of freedoms are like an insidious disease, when one finally realizes what is happening, it is almost too late.

There should be a wake up call here somewhere folks!

Sincerely,
Lee Barron

Legalizing Narcotics Not A Good Idea

In his years as U.S. Surgeon General, Dr. C. Everett Koop was sometimes criticized for his views on what was best for the health of the nation, since they were considered too conservative or old-fashioned although based on proven data, established practice or just plain common sense.

Well, the pendulum has swung.

Present Surgeon General Jocelyn Elder's recent suggestion that the nation should consider the idea of legalizing narcotics contradicts the views of most experts who warn that legalization would increase the overall rate of drug abuse and violent crime.

Not that we should be surprised by Elder's suggestion. While still a nominee for the position on June 19, 1993, she was asked on a television talk show about crack cocaine-addicted prostitutes who give birth to crack-addicted babies. "I would hope," she answered, "that we would provide them Norplant, so they could still use sex if they must to buy their drugs."

That's certainly an insightful solution.

The topic is one on which anyone who has dealt with drug abusers has an opinion that he or she considers to be expert. But some are more expert than others.

Thomas P. Griesa, chief judge of the U.S. District Court of the Southern District of New York, has many years of legal experience and says there is no more case for legalizing drugs than decriminalizing murder, rape and burglary.

"No one suggests that we take these crimes off the books because we have not achieved some ideal solution," he says. "To countermand the existing laws (against drugs) would tell the populace that our governing authorities are morally indifferent to this form of criminality or actually approve it.....As bad as the situation is, the consequences of legalizing narcotics would be far graver, especially in increased addiction."

Campaigns against drug abuse by the young have had some effect, since so-called "casual" use of drugs has declined in recent years. Despite this progress, there are signs that today's high school students regard drug use as less risky than the high schoolers of a few years ago and that young teenagers are again being attracted to marijuana and LSD.

People who point to Prohibition as a failed experiment tend to ignore the damage to society by legal availability of alcohol. Abuse of that product is rampant and the cost to society is staggering, despite a billion dollars a year spent by the liquor industry itself to encourage moderation. Imagine the increase in problems by the legalization of other addictive drugs, most of which are more destructive and uncontrollable.

The nation's "war on drugs" has cost at least $100 billion in the past dozen years with this year's anti-drug budget of $13.1 billion divided about 70 per cent for interdiction and enforcement and 30 per cent for prevention and treatment. This despite the fact that hardcore users consume some 70 per cent of the drugs smuggled into the country and account for most of the narcotics-related crime.

Despite his pre-election campaign call for "treatment on demand," treatment centers can currently accommodate only a fourth or less of the four to six million Americans who need such specialized care. The Clinton administration has reduced the staff of the National Drug Policy office from 146 to 25 and accepted a House-passed $231 million cut in anti-drug education and treatment programs. Given the Surgeon General's suggestion to study legalization of narcotics, little support for curbing drug abuse can be expected from that office.

Herbert Kleber, executive vice president of the Center on Addiction and Substance Abuse, sums up the problem quite succinctly: "It is going to be hard to reform health care in a cost-effective way," he says. "If the President doesn't pay adequate attention to this group of heavy (drug) users we're hearing about. It's also going to be hard to stop violence."

Putting a juvenile officer back in public schools

by David Hill
Associate Editor

For at least the last few years, educators, social services and law enforcement officials have attempted to treat the problem of juvenile delinquency at the source — the home. Instead of being caught up in responding to a problem, officials were interested in taking a proactive, preventative approach. In Thief River Falls, funding for a juvenile officer ran dry and educators developed their own policies and procedures, as did social service workers. Don't take me wrong, taking a proactive, preventative approach is necessary. It is also wise to channel resources to the home where minds and attitudes are formed. Eliminating a juvenile officer from the schools, however, eliminated an opportunity for different agencies to work together and ensure protection of our children and schools.

Should juvenile problems be solved in the courts? Only as a last resort, and that has been the policy in Thief River Falls. When local law enforcement reports include incidents involving juveniles, that usually means school officials feel they have done everything possible to resolve problems internally. There are instances where extreme violence requires a law enforcement presence. For the most part, however, incidents are resolved internally.

At the time these policies were formed, courts were handling a wide variety of juvenile offenses. The system adjusted by forming a juvenile court procedure, which is not at all like the criminal case process. It usually involves parents or guardians and results in a "dispositional hearing". As a result of the policy changes at the schools, however, juvenile courts have been handling more serious crimes. Whether courts are equipped to deal with this situation under current policies is an issue currently under study statewide. Of course, educators and law enforcement will advance many other theories why juvenile crime appears to be on the rise. Nevertheless, juvenile crime is a problem.

When DARE, Drug Abuse Resistence Education, came to Thief River Falls one of the advantages discovered during the process involved a greater degree of understanding between students and law enforcement and law enforcement and educators. With an officer in the schools there was more communication, and less fear and distrust of authority. It resulted in greater respect and understanding for that authority figure.

I don't agree that our responses to juvenile crime have been completely appropriate. Personally, I think the system is undermanned, ill-equipped and many of our responses have been weak and ineffectual. I do agree that our resources have to be directed to the home, but I also believe that we have to take a tougher approach with juveniles. Introducing a police officer as a juvenile officer into the schools is being proposed and I think needs encouragement.

I don't believe having officers in the schools will result in "Rambo-like", gun-totting officers goose-stepping their ways through the halls of education creating fear and abusing civil rights. I do believe an officer at the schools, who has the interest of juveniles and the public at heart, is necessary. It would be good for the community, good for the schools and good for law enforcement.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

Late Sunday evening I was flipping through the TV channels and I came upon a program on Prairie Public TV. A woman was telling how great it was to be a lesbian and was telling of other women who have been telling her how wonderful lesbian experiences were. This woman predicted that soon large corporations would be seeking out lesbians to serve on their boards and be their executives.

It was sickening! I have never heard such garbage on Public TV. I have never contributed to Public TV. Now I know I will never support their programming. I want others to know what their dollars are supporting and I urge you to become aware.

Homosexuality is immoral, perverse, utterly a sin! I grieve when some of our mainline churches bow to the deception that homosexuality is a normal, alternate lifestyle. Wake up, America! We are being deceived by the great deceptor who told Eve she would not die, but would be like God.

I am a Protestant, but I thank God for the stance the Catholic church has taken against immorality such as homosexuality, abortion, premarital sex and other sins of the flesh. Now is the time for all believers to stand and make our voices heard.

Sincerely,

TRF boys beat Crookston second time, 51-44...

Prowlers struggle, but win

Maybe it was a sign of progress. Thief River Falls' boys high school basketball program has apparently reached the point where the Prowlers can play at less than their best, and still win.

That was hardly the case the past two years when Thief River Falls went 2-21 then 4-19. The Prowlers already find themselves 6-2 this year following Thursday's less-than-perfect 51-44 home court win over Crookston.

"It's important for us to win games like this," said Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke. "You need to be able to win the ugly ones. You're not going to win pretty every night."

Because of weather-related postponements, it was the Prowlers' first game in two weeks, and only their second outing since the end of December – which might have created some of the problems.

"We didn't execute very well offensively," mentioned Brekke. "We didn't handle the ball very well, as evident by the turnovers."

The lead swapped hands at the start, which included a 14-13 Crookston lead at the end of the first quarter. But the Prowlers outscored the Pirates 10-3 over the final 7:11 of the first half for a 25-19 advantage at intermission. They never trailed after that.

Crookston, down 40-33 through three quarter, pulled within striking range when Nate Hanson opened the fourth quarter with a 3-point basket from the corner, but Thief River Falls answered with a 10-2 run that began with a pair of Kyle Sanden free throws and ended with a Sanden basket from underneath for a 50-38 cushion with just 1:11 remaining.

"We didn't play all that well, but we had a couple of little runs, and that was the difference," noted Brekke.

Eric Bjorgaard led the Prowlers with 15 points. Sanden and Nathan Anderson both had 10. Hanson and Strem, the Pirates' starting guards, had 11 points apiece.

Thief River Falls shot 44 percent from the field (18/41), while Crookston shot only 36 percent (17/47). The Prowlers were 12-for-20 at the free throw line, where the Pirates were 3-for-7. Thief River Falls had a 28-22 rebound edge, but also had more turnovers, 20-18.

Scoring

	1	2	3	4	T
Crookston	14	5	14	11	44
Thief River Falls	13	12	15	11	51

Crookston - Nate Hanson 11, Chris Fee 9, Bobby Shimpa 3, Josh Vadnais 2, Brooks Royal 2, Cory Strem 11, Mike Rinderknecht 4.

TRF - Eric Bjorgaard 15, Preston Treat 5, Wayne Iverson 4, Nathan Anderson 10, David Johnson 4, Kyle Sanden 10.

Crookston defender Chris Fee couldn't stop Thief River Falls center Kyle Sanden from getting off this shot during Thursday's high school basketball game in the Lincoln gym. The Prowlers won 51-44.

Mustangs pin 60-10 loss on TRF wrestlers

Red Lake County Central won 10 of the 13 matches – all by pins – Thursday in a one-sided 60-10 high school wrestling win over Thief River Falls in Plummer.

Only wins for the Prowlers were decisions by Luke Davis at 135, Jason Homme 160 and John Davis 171.

Northland men's team completes weekend sweep

Northland Community College men's basketball team completed a Minnesota Community College Conference-opening home court weekend sweep with a late-reported Saturday (Jan. 15) win over Rainy River, 97-88.

The Pioneers, who defeated Hibbing 89-71 the night before in their 1993-94 MCCC opener, went to 5-8 overall. They will finish their swing through the Northeast Division this weekend with Friday's game at Vermilion and a 2 p.m. contest today (Saturday) at Mesabi.

Rest of the Northland MCCC schedule will be home-and-home series against Northwest Division rivals Fergus Falls, Brainerd and the University of Minnesota-Crookston.

Five Northland scorers hit double figures in the matinee win over the Voyageurs as Scott Burton collected 21 points, Chad Kujava 16, Mitch Bernstein and Demon Watson 14 each, and Antonio Parker 12.

The balanced attack off-set the 1-2 Rainy River punch of Eartis Beaudoin and Malcolm White. The two Louisiana high school products both finished with 22.

Northland led 44-42 at halftime.

NCC women edge MSU JV

Ronda Olson scored 23 points, Denise Johnson netted 20 and Holly Gram grabbed 20 rebounds Wednesday as the Northland Community College women's basketball team edged the Moorhead State University junior varsity 73-71.

It was the second meeting of the season between the two teams, and the second time they played each other even. The Dragons won the first encounter, 84-73 in triple-overtime back on Dec. 7 in Thief River Falls.

Northland started the rematch in great shape, opening up an early 19-9 lead, but a switch to a zone defense helped Moorhead take a 34-30 halftime lead. There was never more than a four-point spread in the second half.

Ahead 72-71, Northland turned the ball over with 12 seconds left. But the Dragons missed an open shot and wound up putting the Pioneers' Fay Cassavant at the free throw line with 2.7 seconds showing. She made one of the two free throws for the two-point final.

"It was a well-played basketball game," said Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "We played really well."

Northland shot 51 percent from the field (27/53) and went 17-for-29 at the free throw line. Moorhead shot 40 percent from the field (30/75) and made 6 of 9 free throws. The Pioneers finished with a 47-45 rebound edge. Turnovers were even at 18-apiece.

The nonconference road win put Northland at 4-7 overall.

Blaine coach is part of coaching clinic line-up

Dave Nelson, head high school football coach at suburban power Blaine, will be one of the featured speakers at the 11th annual Northwest Minnesota Football Coaching Clinic. The event is planned Saturday, Jan. 29, at Northland Community College.

Nelson is a 1978 University of Minnesota-Duluth graduate, where he was a three-time all-conference guard for the Bulldogs. He was captain of both the UMD football and baseball teams as a senior and was named the school's top scholar-athlete.

After serving as an assistant coach at Blaine for six years, Nelson was elevated to the Bengals' head coaching job in 1984. In the past 10 years, Blaine has won five Twin Cities Suburban Conference championships and two Class AA state championships. Nelson was named Minnesota Football Coach of the Year in 1988 and was selected the Twin Cities Suburban Conference Coach of the Year in 1988, 1991 and 1993.

Recognized as an outstanding speaker in and around the Twin Cities area, Nelson's Northwest Minnesota Football Coaching Clinic presentation will focus on the fundamentals and techniques in teaching the wing-T offense.

Other clinic speakers include Jeff Mumm, Thief River Falls; Neil Hoftland, Chokio-Alberta; Rod Oksendahl, Cavalier, ND; Keith Urbaniak, Kennedy; and Dale Lennon, University of North Dakota defensive coordinator.

For additional information or registration material, contact clinic director Rick Nelson at Northland, by calling 681-2181.

MCC girls end losing streak

Outside shooting by 5-10 sophomore Tricia Pederson sparked Marshall County Central past Lake of the Woods 78-37 Thursday in girls high school basketball at Newfolden.

Pederson scored 23 points and the Nordics shot 51 percent from the field (35/69) to put an end to a three-game losing streak. Sara Lokstad and Shanon Magner joined Pederson in double figures for the winners with 16 and 13 points, respectively.

The Nordics had quarter leads of 17-8, 34-16 and 59-28 in improving their record to 7-4. They lost three times by a combined total of 13 points the week before.

"This was a big win for us," said Marshall County Central coach Tom Mjelde. "We were in three close games last week and came out 0-3; the kids were down. We needed this one. They came out and played basketball. We were aggressive on offense and the shots fell for us."

The Bears shot 38 percent from the field (16/42) and were 6-for-12 at the free throw line, where the Nordies had a similar 7-for-12 night.

Fosston girls win 80-57 over RLCC

Red Lake County Central was able to stay with Fosston in the first half, but the Greyhounds' high-scoring offense kept rolling after intermission Thursday en route to an 80-57 girls high school basketball win at Oklee.

The Mustangs were down only 20-15 and 38-30 at the first two quarter stops, but lost ground in the second half, falling behind 59-42 in the third quarter. A 10-point Fosston run to close the game inflated the final spread.

"We played a nice first half," pointed out Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto. "We just don't have the depth."

The Mustangs' offense was led by 5-9 sophomore Meckenzie Malwitz with 17 points and 5-10 senior Angel Mickelson with 15. Leah Sonstelie paced the winners with a game-high 20 points.

Red Lake County Central shot only 35 percent from the field (25/71) and struggled through a 4-for-17 night at the free throw line. Fosston shot 45 percent from the field (30/66) and had a busy 18-for-24 free throw night. The Greyhounds out-rebounded the Mustangs 42-30.

The loss dropped the Mustangs to 4-7. Red Lake County Central will play Red Lake Falls Monday at Oklee, then meet Goodridge/Grygla Tuesday in a make-up game at Grygla.

Scoring

RLCC - Amy Arit 2, Rachel Demarais 3, Farrah Brand 6, Karlene Jolly 6, Angel Mickelson 15, Meckenzie Malwitz 17.

Lincoln High School postponements...

Make-up dates listed

Work has been finalized on rescheduling Lincoln High School sporting events that were postponed because of inclement weather.

Girls Basketball

Thief River Falls' Jan. 18 game at Bemidji has been moved to Saturday, Feb. 26.

However, school officials were unable to come up with a suitable make-up date for the Jan. 15 Alexandria visit to Thief River Falls, and the game was cancelled.

Boys Basketball

Thief River Falls and Bemidji meet today (Bemidji) in an earlier-announced make-up for a Tuesday, Dec. 21 postponement. The Lincoln gym matinee includes a 1 p.m. junior varsity game and a 2:30 p.m. varsity tip-off.

It will be another mid-day start when a Jan. 14 Thief River Falls trip to Fergus Falls is made up on Saturday, Feb. 5 – at 11 a.m. (junior varsity) and 1 p.m. (varsity).

A planned Jan. 18 Thief River Falls visit to Moorhead has been switched to Saturday, Feb. 19.

Hockey

Warroad will be at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center Thursday, Jan. 27, to make up the Jan. 18 postponement.

Thief River Falls' scheduled Jan. 15 visit to Detroit Lakes has been moved to Tuesday, Feb. 15.

Boys Swimming

Fosston Invitational that was called off Jan. 15, will take place Saturday, Feb. 12, when an already-planned junior varsity meet will be expanded to varsity/junior varsity competition.

Wrestling

Plans for a Jan. 15 North Sub Section 8AA Dual Invitational at Detroit Lakes have been scrapped, but a scheduled Thursday, Jan. 27, Thief River Falls wrestling dual at Detroit Lakes will be converted into a multiple-team event.

Rebounds key Huskies win

Goodridge converted a big rebound advantage into a 49-45 boys high school basketball win over rival Grygla-Gatzke Thursday.

According to Grygla-Gatzke charts, the Huskies out-rebounded the visiting Eagles 43-21, getting 20 of them on the offensive boards.

"That was the key right there," said Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson, looking at the rebound figures. "They just killed us on the boards. We're about the same size, but they just out-muscled us and out-worked us inside."

Despite the rebound difference, it was a close game. The Eagles led 14-10 at the end of the first quarter. The Huskies went ahead 23-22 at halftime and had a 35-32 edge to start the fourth quarter.

It was still a two-point game until Goodridge junior Brady Wiseth sank a pair of free throws with 10 seconds left to complete the scoring.

"It was a real intense basketball game, back and forth all night long," said Goodridge coach John Rahn. "The kids did a nice job defensively, and we made some clutch free throws down the stretch."

Wiseth finished with 13 points, Mitch Smsky had 12 and Travis Kotrba 10 for the Huskies, who played without leading scorer Eldon Quam, a 6-2 senior sidelined by a knee injury.

"The kids played hard," said Rahn. "Without Eldon, we needed each one of them to pick up their game, and they responded. They did a nice job."

Mike Jelle had a game-high 22 points for the Eagles, but he was their only double figure scorer.

Neither team had a great shooting night. Goodridge was 19-for-60 from the field (32 percent), while Grygla-Gatzke went 17-for-52 (33 percent), missing 10 lay-ups in the process, noted Johnson. The Huskies also struggled at the free throw line, making 10 of 21. The Eagles were 9-for-12. Turnovers were minimal – 10 by the Eagles; six by the Huskies.

It was the second win of the year for the Huskies over the Eagles. Goodridge won a 55-48 match-up in the Northland Invitational in December. It was also the Huskies' third straight win, putting them at 6-4. The Eagles fell to 5-5.

Scoring

Bitter cold freezes Hallock water tower

Nearly one-quarter of the community of Hallock was without water last weekend when a water line on the water tower froze.

Myles Johnson, superintendent of utilities in Hallock, said insulation around a collar joint slipped off and two to three inches of pipe on the water tower was exposed to the bitter cold. The line froze and because of its position, false readings were recorded in the control rooms, pumps automatically kicked in and the system became over pressured. Suddenly, the utilities department had to deal with eight watermain breaks.

Johnson said water was restored to homes by Sunday afternoon. As of Wednesday afternoon, they had repaired six of the eight broken watermains.

This prolonged spell of cold weather has been difficult on equipment and personnel, but Johnson wanted to thank everyone who came to their aid or assistance. Offers of help came from all over, Johnson said. A crew from Argyle worked two days with steaming equipment. Dozens of offers of help came from people all over the community, as well. Johnson said people brought workers donuts and coffee and the Cenex station fed the crew. Two back hoe crews and police helped. Johnson said he really hated to mention all of the names because he might miss someone. He was very thankful for all of the help they received.

Johnson said he hopes to have the watermains repaired before too long. There wasn't any damage to the tower and someone will be checking out the control board next week.

David Beito elected as bank president

Rotary Club and Zion Lutheran Church.

Northern State Bank was chartered in 1935 with George A. Beito as president, O. D. Osthy and E. M. Bennes as vice presidents, George W. Werstlein as cashier, A. Skarstad as assistant cashier and Rasmus Oen of Thief River Falls and C. M. Berg of McIntosh as directors. George Beito remained active in the bank here until his death in 1965.

When the bank opened, it had paid-in capital of $25,000, surplus of $5,000 and undivided profits of $2,500. Shortly after Gene Beito joined his father at the bank in June of 1960 it had total assets of $4.4 million. Assets had reached the $10 million mark by 1968 and grown to $91 million by August of 1991. At that time Northern State Bank assumed the deposits and acquired certain assets of First Federal Savings and Loan Association in Thief River Falls. Total assets currently exceed $129 million.

The bank opened at the corner of LaBree Avenue and Third Street in the building which had housed the former First National Bank. That bank had not survived what the Thief River Falls Times of August 22, 1935, referred to as "the banking crisis in March, 1933."

Over the years the bank expanded into space it had previously leased to Neal Fox Studio and Hall's Flower Shop. In 1973 the adjacent Ole's Northern Supply building was purchased and in 1991 the bank acquired the former First Federal Savings & Loan Association building across the street and half a block east.

Major remodeling took place in 1970 and 1983 and exterior and interior renovation was done in 1993. The bank now uses all of the space in both locations and has approximately 50 full-time and part-time employees.

AURI studies new sunflower type

When the seed is perfected, Hagen will sell it to a handful of confectionery seed companies that in turn will market the variety to farmers. Minnesota growers could capture up to a fourth of the lucrative European confectionery market, estimated at $20 million.

Hagen worked for a large seed company in the 1960s and 1970s. Going on his own, he saw a lot of promise in developing confectionery sunflower varieties, but getting financial backing was tough. The Agricultural Utilization Research Institute helped him get established.

With 400,000 acres devoted to confectionery sunflowers in the United States—and the acreage is growing—Hagen's venture looks promising.

For more information about AURI programs, call 1-800-279-5010 or write to AURI, Owen Hall Annex, University of Minnesota, Crookston, MN 56716.

Sheryl Winters, left, Innkeeper and owner of the Elm Street Bed and Breakfast in Crookston, presented Desiree' Varner, director of Violence Intervention Project with a check for $500. The funds were raised at the annual craft show and bake sale held in December at the Bed and Breakfast. Sheryl and John Winters also donated two nights stay at the Inn as a fundraiser for VIP. Municipal Power Agency meets in TRF

NMPA awarded a plaque to Percy Walstad of Park River, ND. Walstad has been a member of the NMPA board of directors since July 1980. He also served as mayor of Park River for 24 years and served on their city council four years before becoming mayor. His relationship with NMPA began in 1978. The award, presented by NMPA President John T. Anderson (left), was for Walstad's dedicated service to NMPA from July 1980 to January 1994.

Northern Municipal Power Agency held its 18th annual meeting at the Best Western in Thief River Falls on Monday. Routine business, such as election of officers, was conducted and there were comments from the Station manager of the Coyote Electric Generating plant at Beulah, ND, John Wilkens, and Minnkota Power Cooperative General Manager, David Loer of Grand Forks, ND. Member representatives were also given an overview of marketing efforts made by Minnkota and the agency's consultant.

Northern Municipal Power Agency is a municipal corporation and political subdivision of the State of Minnesota. The agency was organized in 1976 under a Minnesota law which permits cities to joint together to create Joint Power Agencies that operate on a cooperative basis. NMPA's goal is to be the all-requirements, bulk electric energy supplier for the participating members at the lowest costs consistent with sound business and utility practices.

There are 12 participating member cities: Thief River Falls, Bagley, Baudette, Fosston, Halstad, Hawley, Roseau, Stephen, Warren and Warroad in Minnesota, and Grafton and Park River in North Dakota. Combined, they serve the electrical requirements of about 30,000 people.

Many of the member cities received power needs from the Western Area Power Administration, which markets hydro power from Garrison Dam and other Missouri River dams. In the 1970's WAPA announced that it would no longer be able to meet 100 per cent of the increasing power demands of its customers. Many turned to the Minnkota system for their supplemental power needs. As a result of some other difficulties in securing long-term transmission and power supply, the cities formed a joint power agency called Northern Municipal Power Agency. Using tax-free municipal bonds, the agency was able to purchase a 30 per cent interest in the Coyote generating unit at Beulah, ND, from Minnkota and created a joint Minnkota/Agency system.

Advantages of the agreement include a guaranteed long-term, low cost source of power for members and a long-term, low cost source of financing for the Minnkota/agency joint system.

Last year, member cities purchased 391,546,627 kilowatt hours.

Blended Kwh purchased in 1982, which included NMPA and WAPA, for the same cities totaled 273,113,659.

John T. Anderson, president of NMPA, stated in his annual President's report, that "The Coyote generation station had an excellent year in 1992. In fact, the plant produced a record amount of electric energy during the year. The plant availability was also very high, making us very pleased with the operation of the Coyote plant. Montana-Dakota Utilities, the operator of the power plant, is to be commended for their efforts during 1992 to achieve these records at the Coyote plant."

Anderson also noted in his report that the load-management program had been extremely successful. "On cold winter days when our system peaks, approximately 45 per cent of the load can be controlled." He explained that it means that costly power plants don't have to be constructed to cover the small

Teacher at Greenbush high school reinstated

Following a decision made by Jay C. Fogelberg of the State of Minnesota Bureau of Mediation Services, teacher Delbert Stordahl has been returned to the classroom at the Greenbush-Middle River high school. He has returned to teaching high school English at the school.

A 25-year teacher in the Greenbush school system, Stordahl was placed on indefinite suspension with pay in late May of 1993 by the Greenbush school board. In July the school board passed a resolution proposing that he be immediately discharged pursuant to state law for conduct unbecoming a teacher, and his suspension with pay was continued. Through the Minnesota Education Association, Stordahl requested a hearing before an arbitrator.

The arbitration hearing was conducted November 2 and 3 in Greenbush on the issue if the school district had just and sufficient cause to terminate the employment of a continuing contract teacher.

The incident precipitating the board action took place May 20, 1993, in a seventh-hour class comprised solely of ninth grade students. Testimony indicated that the class was boisterous and inattentive and Stordahl grew impatient with the behavior. He pushed an empty desk toward one of the students which pinched the fingers of the student between his own desk and the one pushed at him. This caused more laughter in the classroom.

Stordahl then reportedly lifted the front of another student's desk which tipped backward and the student fell, hitting his head on the floor. He did not appear to be injured and did not report an injury until he informed his parents after school. They contacted principal Robert Anderson and a meeting was held with the teacher, principal, Supt. Phillip Dyrud and assistant principal Eldon Sparby. Following that meeting the suspension took place.

Neither the MEA nor Stordahl denied the events that were alleged to have occurred on May 20. They maintained that Stordahl did not willfully engage in any act intended to harm a student and that he had made numerous attempts over the course of the school year to discipline a number of students in that class who had been repeatedly disruptive. These included at least three discussions with the principal and sending "notices of deficiency" to the parents of seven boys in the class, noting that their sons' behavior was disruptive and requesting that the parents talk to their children about it.

The MEA contended that such efforts were wasted since the administration refused to support the teacher, and other members of the teaching staff as well, in this regard.

"There is no question but that one student was 'harmed' by the grievant's actions," arbitrator Fogelberg said in his report. "Regarding the other factors to be weighed however, I find the evidence favors the grievant more than it does the district.

Pennington board goes with plan to carve up Future Fuel

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Progress is being made on negotiations with a company that proposes to take over the solid waste operation in Thief River Falls.

Next week, SwisCorp, an Edina corporation, is expected to present a proposal to the county board to manage and operate the solid waste facility in Pennington county. During the past week, representatives of the company and the Pennington county board of commissioners have been working out some of the details. One significant stumbling block has been how to turn over a public corporation to a private company when tax exempt bonds have been issued to purchase equipment.

In the last year nearly $820,000 in tax-exempt bonds were issued to finance the compost facility at Future Fuel. To turn over the entire facility to private ownership would change the tax status of the bonds.

Last Tuesday, the board and SwisCorp officials decided the best way to handle the situation would be to "carve up" the holdings. Under the agreement, SwisCorp would own or lease to purchase the waste handling facility and subscribe to a labor-management agreement for operating the compost facility.

It appears that the arrangement is agreeable to the county board and representatives of SwisCorp, but the final details have to be ironed out by attorneys and in the contracts that will have to be signed.

Representatives of SwisCorp said Tuesday that the tentative starting date for taking over of the waste handling facility is July 1. In the meantime, Future Fuel will continue to operate the county's solid waste facility.

Fifth graders invited to get ready for band

Fifth graders in the Thief River Falls public schools are being invited to consider being a part of the sixth grade band program during the 1994-95 school year, according to Mike Lehrer and Bruce Felt, directors.

The invitation is being extended at this time because sixth grade class scheduling will be starting soon and band is held during the school day on a daily basis.

To give fifth grade students and their parents a first hand idea of what the band program is all about, a meeting has been scheduled for Monday, January 31, at 7:30 p.m. in the Franklin middle school cafeteria and the band room.

At the meeting the band program will be explained, Joe Kezar from Kezar Music will review programs for instrument rental and/or purchase, and the sixth grade band of 68 members which is in its fifth month of instruction, will perform. A question and answer session will also be provided.

Parents unable to attend the Monday meeting may call Franklin middle school at 681-8813 and leave their name and phone number. One of the band instructors will return the call as soon as possible. Information on securing an instrument may also be obtained by calling Kezar Music at 681-2148.

As an additional insight into the band program, fifth graders and their parents are being invited to attend, free of charge, the annual pops concert Tuesday, February 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the Franklin gymnasium. At that event the sixth, seventh and eighth grade bands, "Morning Darkness" jazz band and "Sunrise Singers" jazz choir from Franklin school will all perform

Rotary Club and Zion Lutheran Church.

Northern State Bank was chartered in 1935 with George A. Beito as president, O. D. Osthy and E. M. Bennes as vice presidents, George W. Werstlein as cashier, A. Skaustad as assistant cashier and Rasmus Oen of Thief River Falls and C. M. Berg of McIntosh as directors. George Beito remained active in the bank here until his death in 1965.

When the bank opened, it had paid-in capital of $25,000, surplus of $5,000 and undivided profits of $2,500. Shortly after Gene Beito joined his father at the bank in June of 1960 it had total assets of $4.4 million. Assets had reached the $10 million mark by 1968 and grown to $91 million by August of 1991. At that time Northern State Bank assumed the deposits and acquired certain assets of First Federal Savings and Loan Association in Thief River Falls. Total assets currently exceed $129 million.

The bank opened at the corner of LaBree Avenue and Third Street in the building which had housed the former First National Bank. That bank had not survived what the Thief River Falls Times of August 22, 1935, referred to as "the banking crisis in March, 1933."

Over the years the bank expanded into space it had previously leased to Neal Fox Studio and Hall's Flower Shop. In 1973 the adjacent Ole's Northern Supply building was purchased and in 1991 the bank acquired the former First Federal Savings & Loan Association building across the street and half a block east.

Major remodeling took place in 1970 and 1983 and exterior and interior renovation was done in 1993. The bank now uses all of the space in both locations and has approximately 50 full-time and part-time employees.

When the seed is perfected, Hagen will sell it to a handful of confectionery seed companies that in turn will market the variety to farmers. Minnesota growers could capture up to a fourth of the lucrative European confectionery market, estimated at $20 million.

Hagen worked for a large seed company in the 1960s and 1970s. Going on his own, he saw a lot of promise in developing confectionery sunflower varieties, but getting financial backing was tough. The Agricultural Utilization Research Institute helped him get established.

With 400,000 acres devoted to confectionery sunflowers in the United States—and the acreage is growing—Hagen's venture looks promising.

Municipal Power Agency meets in TRF

NMPA awarded a plaque to Percy Walstad of Park River, ND. Walstad has been a member of the NMPA board of directors since July 1980. He also served as mayor of Park River for 24 years and served on their city council four years before becoming mayor. His relationship with NMPA began in 1978. The award, presented by NMPA President John T. Anderson (left), was for Walstad's dedicated service to NMPA from July 1980 to January 1994.

Northern Municipal Power Agency held its 18th annual meeting at the Best Western in Thief River Falls on Monday. Routine business, such as election of officers, was conducted and there were comments from the Station manager of the Coyote Electric Generating plant at Beulah, ND, John Wilkens, and Minnkota Power Cooperative General Manager, David Loer of Grand Forks, ND. Member representatives were also given an overview of marketing efforts made by Minnkota and the agency's consultant.

Northern Municipal Power Agency is a municipal corporation and political subdivision of the State of Minnesota. The agency was organized in 1976 under a Minnesota law which permits cities to joint together to create Joint Power Agencies that operate on a cooperative basis. NMPA's goal is to be the all-requirements, bulk electric energy supplier for the participating members at the lowest costs consistent with sound business and utility practices.

There are 12 participating member cities: Thief River Falls, Bagley, Baudette, Fosston, Halstad, Hawley, Roseau, Stephen, Warren and Warroad in Minnesota, and Grafton and Park River in North Dakota. Combined, they serve the electrical requirements of about 30,000 people.

Many of the member cities received power needs from the Western Area Power Administration, which markets hydro power from Garrison Dam and other Missouri River dams. In the 1970's WAPA announced that it would no longer be able to meet 100 per cent of the increasing power demands of its customers. Many turned to the Minnkota system for their supplemental power needs. As a result of some other difficulties in securing long-term transmission and power supply, the cities formed a joint power agency called Northern Municipal Power Agency. Using tax-free municipal bonds, the agency was able to purchase a 30 per cent interest in the Coyote generating unit at Beulah, ND, from Minnkota and created a joint Minnkota/Agency system.

Pennington board goes with plan to carve up Future Fuel

Progress is being made on negotiations with a company that proposes to take over the solid waste operation in Thief River Falls.

At the meeting the band program will be explained. Joe Kezar from Kezar Music will review programs for instrument rental and/or purchase, and the sixth grade band of 68 members which is in its fifth month of instruction will perform. A question and answer session will also be provided.

Parents unable to attend the Monday meeting may call Franklin middle school at 681-8813 and leave their name and phone number. One of the band instructors will return the call as soon as possible. Information on securing an instrument may also be obtained by calling Kezar Music at 681-2148.

As an additional insight into the band program, fifth graders and their parents are being invited to attend, free of charge, the annual pops concert Tuesday, February 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the Franklin gymnasium. At that event the sixth, seventh and eighth grade bands, "Morning Darkness" jazz band and "Sunrise Singers" jazz choir from Franklin school will all perform.

SOUPCON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Try one or two of these soups for your Soup-er Bowl party this weekend:

Here is an elegant home-made soup that you can make for guests in about an hour:

CHICKEN AND BROCCOLI SOUP

- 2 whole chicken breasts, split, skinned, boned and cut into chunks
- 2 tablespoons oil
- 6 cups water
- 2 tablespoons chicken bouillon or 6 cubes
- 2 cups broccoli flowerets
- 1 (10 ounce) package frozen whole kernel corn
- 3/4 cup chopped red pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 cup dry white wine (optional)

In large kettle, brown chicken in oil.

Add remaining ingredients, except wine. Bring to a boil.

Reduce heat and simmer, uncovered, 45 minutes. Add wine and heat through. Refrigerate leftovers.

Try something different tonight - this soup is very nourishing and will warm you through and through:

HOT RUSSIAN BORSCHT

- 2 1/2 cups peeled beets, cut in strips
- 2 cups canned tomatoes
- 4 cups water
- 1 small onion, diced
- 3/4 pound beef (rump, round or breast), cut in small pieces
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- salt
- 4 eggs

Place beets in small soup pot. Strain tomatoes through a fine sieve over the beets, not allowing any seeds through.

Add water, onion and meat pieces. Bring to a boil and skim.

Lower heat to simmer and cook, partially covered, 30 minutes.

Add lemon juice, sugar and salt to taste. Bring back to simmer and let bubble lightly 30 more minutes or until meat is very tender.

Whisk eggs thoroughly in bowl. Slowly add 1 cup of the hot mixture, stirring constantly. Gradually add egg mixture to soup. Serve immediately - topped with sour cream, if desired. (Recipe serves 6.)

This is a smooth, satisfying taste treat that takes just minutes to prepare:

SOUTH OF THE BORDER BLACK BEAN SOUP

- 2 slices bacon, chopped
- 1/3 cup finely chopped carrot
- 1/3 cup finely chopped celery
- 1/3 cup finely chopped onion
- 2 cans (15 ounces each) black beans, drained
- 1 can (14 1/2 ounces) chicken broth
- 1 tablespoon lime juice
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cumin
- Chili Pesto

In 2 quart saucepan over medium heat, cook bacon until crisp. Drain. Spoon off all but 1 tablespoon drippings.

In drippings, cook carrot, celery and onion until tender.

In blender or processor, blended cooked vegetables, 1 1/2 cans of the beans and 1 cup broth until smooth.

Return mixture to saucepan, add remaining beans and broth, lime juice, cumin and bacon. Heat through. Serve topped with Chili Pesto.

Chili Pesto

- 1/4 cup toasted pine nuts
- 1 (4 ounce) can chopped chilies
- 1/4 cup parsley
- 1/4 cup grated parmesan cheese
- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 1 small clove garlic, minced
- 1 tablespoon lime juice

In blender or processor, blend all ingredients into smooth paste. (Recipe serves 5 - makes 4 1/2 cups of soup.)

This tasty soup is another that can be made in just minutes:

TACO SOUP

- 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 (28 ounce) can whole tomatoes with juice
- 1 (14 ounce) can kidney beans with juice
- 1 (17 ounce) can corn with juice
- 1 (8 ounce) can tomato sauce
- 1 package taco seasoning
- 1-2 cups water
- salt and pepper to taste
- 1 cup grated cheddar cheese

Brown beef in heavy kettle. Drain and add onions. Cook until onions are tender.

Add remaining ingredients except cheese. Simmer for 15 minutes. Ladle into bowls and top with cheese. (Delicious served with taco chips.) (Recipe serves 6-8)

This hearty soup will keep everyone cheering, whether their team is winning or not:

JOCKS AND JILLS CHILI

- 2 pounds ground beef
- 1/4 cup diced green pepper
- 2 (16 ounces each) cans kidney beans
- 2 (16 ounces each) cans crushed tomatoes
- 2 (16 ounces each) cans tomato puree
- 1/2 large diced Spanish onion
- 2 tablespoons diced jalapeno
- 1 1/4 cups chili powder
- 48 ounces water
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1 tablespoon onion powder
- 1 tablespoon garlic powder
- 12 ounce bottle of beer

Brown beef and drain.

Saute onions and peppers until tender. Add beef and all remaining ingredients except beer.

Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Add beer and simmer for 30 minutes. Top with shredded cheddar and diced red onions. (Recipe serves 6-8.)

To The Editor:

The real answer to the gun control debate is to lead by example. If these inanimate objects (guns) are the cause of public mayhem, then let's disarm the police and the FBI.

Gun control advocates are saying that private citizens don't need firearms for protection. If people have no need for defense weapons in the neighborhoods where they live, why do the police need to go about armed in the same neighborhoods. A place safe enough for unarmed citizens should certainly be safe enough for unarmed police.

As for the FBI, its agents spend a good deal of their time wearing business suits in nice offices interviewing witnesses, etc. Why should the FBI be armed?

For that matter, if our cities are so safe that ordinary working men and women shouldn't be allowed to have guns, then all the "big shots" with doormen, bodyguards, security gates and, yes, pistol permits, should shuck all that stuff and share the peaceful life with us common folk.

That's the advice the gun control promoters offer private citizens. You don't need a firearm, they say, because if some emergency threatens, you can call the police and wait until they arrive.

Well, you say, suppose an unarmed police officer finds himself confronted by an armed criminal. What would he do? The same thing private citizens do when they are confronted by an armed criminal—whatever the criminal tells them to do.

If you think carefully about the gun control movement and analyze its positions and tactics, you will see that it has a great deal more to do with people control than crime control. It's a case of the elitists' distrust of the common people.

The rich get their protection. These elitists are telling people to do something that they themselves refuse to do. They want their bodyguards, gun permits, etc.

Our system of government was set up so the control rested in the hands of the people, not the government. But to turn this around, the American people will first have to be disarmed. Then the government can control every facet of an individual's life.

Sincerely,
Ken Chruszch

To The Editor:

I greatly fear that George Orwell mislabeled his book that depicts Big Brother controlling his people. Rather than entitling it "1984," he should have called it "1994." What parallel exists between scenarios in the book and events occurring now? The insidious and unconstitutional encroachment of individual rights by the officials in power. My specific concern is this government's subtle attempt to erode every citizen's right to bear arms.

Although I had no objection to the Brady Bill's passage, I do take exception to Clinton's, Reno's and numerous Congress members' interpretation of that bill's passage as America's approval of additional gun restrictions and bans.

The problem with this government's proposed gun control policy is that it will only punish ordinary law-abiding citizens. We will lose our right to own weapons eventually. "Gun control" will do nothing to deter youths and criminals from gaining possession of handguns, high-powered rifles and ammunition. Their source is not legally operated gun shops: it is a parent's unsecured gun cabinet or the black market.

What will happen if our leadership is permitted to pursue its course? We defenseless citizens will be as vulnerable to armed criminals and gang members as babes surrounded by wolves.

A responsibly armed citizenship can protect itself against violent assault. An intelligent citizenship recognizes that the police can not be everywhere to safeguard everyone. Thus, we the citizens of this still great land must fight for the survival of our constitutionally guaranteed right to possess guns.

Our government was established for the people, to be ruled by the people. We can not allow the government's power to become so extensive and overwhelming that it controls us, as in the novel "1984." Raise your voice against excessive government constraints now, for regaining a lost freedom is a costly struggle.

Sincerely,
Joan M. Becker
Warroad, MN

To The Editor:

I strongly agree with your editorial condemning the violent and illegal actions of the federal government through its Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (BATF). Other federal executive agencies are often as guilty.

It is terrifying to see in my own nation—which purports to espouse freedom for its citizens—such flagrant and horrifying oppressions and atrocities.

I want to be proud of my country, and brag to friends in the Middle East, Korea, China and Down Under that everything is so much better here. But I cannot. They have lived here. They have seen the States. They know better. We are not much, if any, better off than most of them are at home.

Article II (an addition to, and Amendment of) our once fine but now inadequate Constitution, once granted us the right to "keep and bear arms." But our own courts have virtually taken that right away. Our Constitution has been modified beyond recognition.

If law enforcement fumbled and stumbled its way into my closet and found my three assault rifles (modified into fully automatic weapons) or my sawed-off shotgun, they would arrest me and charge me with possession of illegal weapons. I would serve ten years in federal prison in Michigan just for getting caught with one of these weapons.

George Washington was not convicted of owning the most sophisticated musketry and cannon firepower available in the 1780s. He even USED his weapons, and yet was praised as a great hero and asked to serve as our first King. He declined.

Now we can only possess little pop-guns, while the BATF and Federal Bureau of Investigation carry rocket launchers and torch our innocent homes with tanks. These brutal attacks may only be mini-holocausts to their victims, but are clearly the precursor of another dark age in politics that is contemporaneously emerging in this blessed era of technological enlightenment.

Article I (ib) prohibits Congress from "respecting an establishment of religion." Settlers were tired of English tyrants and other egotistical governmental powers dictating exactly how they should worship God.

Our highest court has now transmogrified the religion clause into a perverse "separation" clause, without legal basis—with an almost satanic argument that true agnostics would feel offended—rather than mildly amused—by prayer in school.

Ecological deadbeats have bribed Congress into taking private citizens' land rights and imposing outrageous fines, simply to protect some obscure and useless subspecies of rodent or insect, in clear violation of the Article V protection against taking "for public use, without just compensation."

Power corrupts, and the Orwellian doublespeak that collapsing western-civilization-courts have permitted heedless politicians to utilize in denigrating doctrines of justice firmly established since 1791 allows Congress virtually an absolute power. Absolute power, as the wise saying correctly puts it, corrupts absolutely.

When the bloodless revolution (that must ensue if "Rome" in the States is not to fall again) finally transpires to cleanse this depravity from our midst, the meek shall truly inherit the earth, the Constitution shall be redrafted in even stronger, less ambiguous terms, and the Supreme Court shall earn its title, refusing to let Congress warp Constitutional connotations from its original function.

A 300-pound government will stop feasting on its own populace, lose 120 pounds of federal agencies, lower its stress level by 70 per cent; and then a lean, healthy and happy nation will once again step proudly and sagely forth as a beacon of light in the forefront of world events.

Sincerely,
Jon K. Sannes

What Happened To Davidian Trial Coverage?

For weeks the national television newscasts, radio talk shows and the daily newspapers have expounded in minutia on the results of a domestic incident in which a wife, Lorena Bobbitt, claiming she had been raped by her husband, severed his sex organ. Perhaps never in the annals of journalism has so much been made of so little.

The trials of both husband and wife were extensively covered and editorial writers and columnists throughout the land drew huge social implications from the act, the trials, the arguments and the decisions. Because of this pandering to the prurient curiosity of the public, two individuals whose mental elevators do not go to the top floor became nationally known figures in what epitomized the worst in masculine and feminine behavior.

While this nonsense was dominating the newscasts and newspapers, somebody rapped a U.S. woman figure skater on the leg with a bar or baton and fled, touching off another national furor. For days and nights in newscasts and day after day in newspapers the attack on skater Nancy Kerrigan and its ramifications surrounding her closest competitor, Tonya Harding, rivaled the Bobbitt fiasco. Prime time television newscasts became the Nancy and Lorena show.

While these major news events were being so extensively covered and graphically reported, a modest little event was getting underway down in San Antonio, TX. Eleven survivors of a federal Bureau of Alcohol; Tobacco and Firearms attack on a Branch Davidians communal living center at Waco, TX, were being placed on trial in federal court for the deaths of four federal officers involved in the assault.

About two months after the Feb. 28, 1993 attack, another aggressive action by the federal authorities resulted in the deaths of 89 men, women and children in a fire which consumed the compound that had been under federal siege since the initial assault. Not much of importance is at issue in this trial, except perhaps a fundamental principle of law called self defense and the right of individuals to be free from government oppression—practically nothing compared to a skater's bruised leg and the bizarre actions of a vindictive spouse. We're being sarcastic here.

So what have you been able to hear or read about that trial in San Antonio?

That's what we thought. Neither have we.

There was a brief Associated Press story about 10 days ago about jury selection getting underway. Last Friday's Star Tribune of Minneapolis, which had a front page article on the Bobbitt trial, noted in the eighth of nine items under a National News heading on page 7A the following:

"A reporter who witnessed the Feb. 28 raid on the Branch Davidian compound testified that the first shots were fired by sect members before all the federal agents were out of their trucks. Marc Masferrer of the Waco Tribune Herald testified at the San Antonio, Texas, murder trial of 11 sect members. Defendants say they retaliated after being fired upon."

We admit we haven't heard every newscast nor read every daily paper, but while we were unable to escape the Bobbitts, Harding et al, we have heard nothing and been able to read practically nothing about the San Antonio trial.

We believe this is a grave indictment of the television networks, the national news wire services and, for lack of a better term, the national conscience. How can they (we) aggrandize the trivial and trivialize the significant while claiming to be responsible reporters and citizens? And why is so little effort being made or so little time or space being devoted to coverage of this trial?

Principles To Guide Political Action

Among the most recent people to announce candidacy for the U.S. Senate position to be vacated at the end of his term by Sen. Dave Durenberger is State Sen. Gen Olson of western Hennepin county. She has been in the state legislature since 1983.

It is much to early to form any opinions on candidates for the Senate post, but we liked her announcement of candidacy. Instead of a wordy list of perceived ills of the nation and her ability to cure them, it simply contained five principles for public policy decision making which she subscribes to and which, if accepted and followed by all elected federal officials, would make for much better government. The five principles she lists follow:

(1) The federal government should not usurp functions that more properly belong to the states, families or individuals;

(2) Government has an uncanny ability to pursue courses of action that bring about results exactly the opposite of what is intended;

(3) Political reaction to a perceived "need" which usually involves large sums of money does not necessarily mean it will work;

(4) You get less of what you tax and more of what you subsidize;

(5) There is no limit to what you can accomplish if you don't care who gets the credit.

To The Editor:

I am a senior citizen living in subsidized housing. Once we get moved in and get rid of all the boxes from moving we have very little garbage, yet we have to pay $9 a month to get it hauled. Here where we have a dumpster we can easily get by with just putting our stuff that might stink and draw flies in the plastic bags that we get our groceries in.

I think that when the city got greedy and said we have to use the bags with Thief River Falls printed on them that they just put themselves out of the garbage bag business. A little conflict of interest here, isn't there?

I figure the city must pay $12 a year just for the 100 bags that they give to me, of which I might need about six. I have enough bags on hand to last me the rest of my life. I could have bought what I use in a store and paid about a dollar for a box of a dozen and that dealer would have earned a profit and had to pay taxes so there would be some revenue. I imagine the business places lose many thousands of dollars in business when the city supplies these bags.

It's a state law that we have to recycle, so in order to make believe that this is being done here, there is one bin so far out of town that most of us can't get to it. I question if there is really a serious attempt being made to recycle.

I found it interesting that there was a picture in a recent issue of The Times that showed our two state legislators discussing ways to save tax dollars. Maybe the city should follow their example.

Sincerely,
Donella Larson

To The Editor:

President Clinton's success with his socialist agenda is due more to the backing of Republicans than to his own Democratic party.

If was Republican votes that confirmed two leftists—Janet Reno 100 to 0 and Ruth Ginsberg 96 to 3. Republicans gave Clinton his NAFTA victory which was initiated by Republican George Bush as a step to the New World Order and backed by the eastern industrialist establishment. Republicans, with the manipulation of Robert Dole, helped push through the Brady gun control bill.

Most Republican lawmakers are as much Socialist as Democrats. As George Wallace said years ago when he was running for President, "there isn't a dime's worth of difference between the two parties." The truth is neither party even tries to uphold the Constitution which they took an oath to do.

The Republicans gave Mikhail Gorbachev $70,000 to speak at a morning of its key donors. Here is a Communist who came up through the ranks of the Communist party with the blood of men, women and children on his hands, not only in Afghanistan but also as a member of the KGB. He is the ultimate Communist and has publicly affirmed his belief in communism in his speeches, writings and books. He has been given the use of buildings in the closed Presidio army base in California and oversees closed army bases where most of the auctioned material is bought by Russian buyers.

Farmers and dealers paid to clean up chemical spills

More than $930,000 was paid in 1993 to farmers and agricultural chemical dealers to help defray costs associated with cleaning up pesticide or fertilizer spills, according to the Minnesota Department of Agriculture.

The funds came from the Agricultural Chemical Response and Reimbursement Account (ACRRA).

"The legislature established this fund in 1989 because the high cost of cleaning up ag chemical spills can be financially overwhelming to small business owners and operators," noted Paul Liemandt, ACRRA board executive. "Many such companies can't obtain environmental contamination insurance coverage because insurance carriers refuse to provide it."

"ACRRA was the first fund of its kind in the nation designed specifically to clean up contaminated sites," states Elton Redalen, Minnesota Agriculture Commissioner, who was co-author of the legislation while a state legislator in 1989. "By doing this, we take an important step in ensuring drinking water in rural areas remains safe and water quality standards in general remain high."

The commissioner also noted that, in most cases, taxpayers' dollars are not spent on these cleanups. Funding for the ACRRA comes from surcharges on pesticides and fertilizers sold for use in Minnesota, as well as from licenses issued to those who distribute and apply ag chemicals in the state.

In 1993, funds from ACCRA helped assist in 43 cleanups. Reimbursements ranged from $933 to over $116,000 for a cleanup in which a fire destroyed a small town elevator that housed both grain and pesticides. In all, ACCRA has made 102 reimbursements totaling more than $1.9 million since its inception in 1991.

In order to be eligible for reimbursement funds, farmers, dealers or applicators must report spills and incidents to the Minnesota Department of Agriculture as soon as they are discovered. Once a request has been issued by MDA to investigate the clean up site, the project costs become eligible for ACRRA reimbursement.

Both emergencies and long-term contamination clean-ups are eligible for the funds.

During 1993 response was made to more than 225 emergencies involving spills or releases of agricultural chemicals throughout Minnesota, ranging in size from small to very significant. The majority resulted from transportation accidents while some occurred at agricultural chemical facilities.

For instance, a train derailment at Janesville collapsed a warehouse where pesticides were stored. Cleanup was performed by the facility's manager with oversight from the state department of agriculture.

Along with the emergency cleanups, more than 70 long-term cleanups are taking place throughout rural Minnesota at agricultural chemical facilities. These cleanups resulted from spills that likely occurred years ago.

Reimbursement requests totaling more than $97,000 were denied because certain costs were found to be unreasonable or unnecessary. Liemandt said "the board is sending the message that it will not tolerate excessive markups by consultants or pay for sampling, tests or other work that has not been requested. Several reimbursement requests were also denied because violations of Minnesota's pesticide or fertilizer laws caused or contributed to the incident.

Agronomy service division of the state agriculture department also focuses on the broader issue of ensuring that the routine use of ag chemicals does not degrade water sources.

"Now that the department has implemented a plan to react to pesticide spills," Commissioner Redalen said, "we can get on with the work of trying to prevent water quality problems that are not occurring from a single source like a spill. This is clearly the area where we expect to confront the most difficult and complex issues facing agriculture in Minnesota."

Shop burns near Goodridge

Fire destroyed a shop on the Glen Jensen farm three-quarters of a mile east of Highlanding near Goodridge Wednesday morning.

Dale Hanson, Goodridge fire chief, said they received the report of the fire at 1:45 a.m. and when they arrived, the shop was fully engulfed in flames. Hanson said there was a strong east wind and they concentrated efforts on saving the residence. Nevertheless, they poured about 8,000 gallons of water on the fire.

An insurance investigator looked at the fire but because the fire had been so hot there was no official cause, Hanson said.

Hanson said Jensen had returned home around midnight and was later awaken by an explosion. The fire destroyed the barn that had been converted to a shop, all the shop tools in it along with a semi-tractor and D-7 Caterpillar.

Plan student inventor fair

Possibility of holding a student inventor's fair in Thief River Falls this spring is under consideration, according to Jane Mattson, director of community education for School District 564.

A regional fair would have to be conducted prior to the third week in April in order for the winners to compete at the Minnesota Inventors Congress in Redwood Falls the second week in June.

Persons interested in participating and who would like to work on the planning committee are invited to call and leave their names with Mattson at 681-8740 on or before February 4. An informational meeting will be set for anyone interested in participating.

Newfolden gets grant to help senior project

In its effort to raise funds for the construction of a new senior center, the City of Newfolden has received authorization for a grant of $15,000 from the Otto Bremer Foundation of St. Paul.

Newfolden Mayor Ron Kragness said the city has begun a search for funds to build a new building for its senior meals and activities program which has been operating out of the old depot building. The Bremer grant is the first to be received toward that project.

Kragness said no location for the center has been considered at this time and that the fund-raising effort is in its preliminary stages. He said the project could cost between $100,000 and $175,000.

The Otto Bremer Foundation is a private charitable foundation established in 1944 by Otto Bremer and its giving is concentrated on programs that benefit communities in Minnesota, North Dakota and Northwestern Wisconsin served by Bremer Financial Corporation.

Taylor, Rams gain second win over TRF

Jeff Taylor scored 27 points to lead Roseau past Thief River Falls 66-49 Tuesday in boys high school basketball.

The visiting Prowlers led 17-14 at the end of the first quarter, but fell behind 29-25 at halftime and trailed 45-34 through three quarters.

It was the second time the Rams have beaten the 6-4 Prowlers this winter. The first match-up was a 62-59 overtime decision in the finals of the Russ Smith Northwest Holiday Classic.

Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke was not happy with the Prowlers' showing. "They weren't ready to play basketball," he said. "You can't just show up and expect to win. We didn't execute. We turned the ball over too many times and we didn't rebound."

The Rams more than doubled the Prowlers on the boards 33-15, and Thief River Falls turned it over 21 times.

Scott Lunos and Greg Pladson joined Taylor in double figures for the Rams with 14 and 13 points, respectively. Kyle Sanden scored 12 points and Eric Bjorgaard had 10 for the Prowlers.

Thief River Falls was 23-for-55 from the field (42 percent) and did not make a single trip to the free throw line. Roseau went 26-for-58 from the field (45 percent) and 7-for-8 at the line.

Third quarter trouble leads to G-G defeat

Lake of the Woods turned a 23-17 halftime deficit into a 41-31 third quarter lead Thursday en route to a 58-45 boys high school basketball win over Grygla-Gatzke at Baudette.

"We had a real poor third quarter," noted Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson. "We lost our composure. We turned the ball over and didn't run our offense."

The Eagles, who fell to 6-7, shot only 29 percent from the field (15/51) and went 13-for-26 at the free throw line. The Bears shot 48 percent from the floor (20/42) and were 16-for-24 at the line. Grygla-Gatzke had a 44-34 rebound advantage, but also had more turnovers, 21-17.

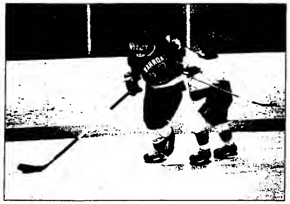
Gators rack up one-sided win vs. Wolverines

Heather Anderson had a perfect shooting night – 8-for-8 from the field and 4-for-4 at the free throw line – in a 20-point effort that helped Badger/Greenbush-Middle River beat Goodridge/Grygla 74-27 Thursday in girls high school basketball at Middle River.

Krissi Super had a 15-point, 13-rebound night for the winners, Robyn Iverson scored 13 points and Sara Melby handed out 9 assists as the Gators went to 11-4. The Wolverines fell to 4-9.

"They happened to catch us on a night where we couldn't do anything wrong," noted Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Tom Neibauer, whose team had a 56 percent 30-for-54 shooting night from the field. "We had a real good passing night, which led to some easy shots."

The Wolverines shot only 19 percent (12/62) and were out-rebounded 40-23. Badger/Greenbush-Middle River was 14-for-20 at the free throw line, where Goodridge/Grygla went 3-for-11.



"We did not play well," said Goodridge/Grygla coach Mike Gast. "They have a good team, but we didn't play up to our ability."

Warroad 8-1 Section 8A high school hockey winner...

Second period blitz tops TRF

Warroad exploded for six second period goals Thursday to turn a 1-1 first period into an 8-1 Section 8A high school hockey runaway over Thief River Falls at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

Wyatt Smith, Rocky Rybolt and Robert Redford each had two goals and Andy Fermoyle collected three assists as the winners improved their record to 13-3 with the make-up game rout. Thief River Falls fell to 5-11.

Warroad started slow, out-shooting Thief River Falls 8-1 but settling for a 1-1 draw through the first 15 minutes. Smith jumped on a loose puck in the slot area, teed it up and beat Thief River Falls goalie Chane Keefe with a rocket at 6:59, but the Prowlers drew even when Tim Barry whipped the puck under Dan Gedde, a surprise starter in the Warroad nets, at the 14-minute mark. Both first period goals were scored on the power play.

However, the visitors lived up to their No. 3 Class A ranking with a sizzling second period.

It started with a Thief River Falls turnover near the Prowlers' net that gave Allan Hashargen an easy point-blank goal with just 1:14 elapsed.

A nice set-up on a cross-ice pass by Smith led to a Tom Lund blast for a 3-1 game at 6:25 and just 15 seconds later it was a three-goal spread on a Rybolt tip.

Warroad killed a penalty with a 2-on-1 rush and a goal by Redford at 8:56, made it 6-1 on a rebound goal by Smith at 10:03 and closed out the big period on a long blast by Rybolt at 11:06.

"Even though we were out-shot, we felt the first period was okay," said Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo. "But they really took it to us in the second period. They exploited some of our weaker areas. You just can't camouflage those things."

Third period running time produce just one goal – by Redford who came in alone on Thief River Falls netminder Eric Dowers to make it an 8-1 final at 14:14.

Keefe and Dowers combined on 26 saves. Gedde, who was replaced by usual starter Willie Marvin at the start of the second period, were called on to make only 7 saves.

And it won't get any easier for the Prowlers tonight (Saturday) when they host a 15-1 Moorhead team that is ranked No. 3 in Class AA. The Spuds smoked Warroad 8-0 last week. Thief River Falls will close out its 1993-94 home schedule next week with a Tuesday (Feb. 1) game against Crookston and a Saturday (Feb. 5) match-up with Alexandria.

MCC boys edge Warroad 49-47

Brandon Borg penetrated the Warroad defense and banked in a tie-breaking 8-foot shot with five seconds left Tuesday, giving Marshall County Central a 49-47 boys high school basketball win over Warroad.

The Nordics started with a 15-12 first quarter lead, but then went into an offensive slump. The visitors managed to hang on to a 21-20 halftime edge, but fell behind 40-34 in the third quarter.

Kyle Halvorson came off the bench to score two key baskets in the Nordics' fourth quarter comeback that also included a late-game 3-point basket by Borg – his first points of the night.

Marshall County Central gained possession with 20 seconds left in a 47-47 game, leading to Borg's game-winner.

"We were lucky to win," said Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland. "We played un-inspired basketball. But give Warroad credit: they took some things away from us."

Scott Zak led the winners with 14 points, while Trever Magner had 11 and Kent Rokke 10. Todd Morin scored 11 of his game-high 17 Warroad points in the first half, with teammate Nolan Thompson netting 13 of his 15 points in the second half.

Shooting figures were nearly identical as Marshall County Central made 23 of 49 field goal attempts and Warroad connected on 22 of 48. Marshall County Central missed its only free throw opportunity of the night; Warroad was 3-for-5. The rebounds were even at 25-apiece. The Nordics topped the turnover charts 10-8.

Third straight win for the Nordics put them at 8-4.

Goodridge beats Crookston 57-55

Goodridge picked up an ego-boosting win Tuesday when the Huskies held off Crookston 57-55 in boys high school basketball.

"It was a nice win for our kids," said Goodridge coach John Rahn. "We've always had trouble getting the bigger schools to schedule us. It was a real important win for us from a mental aspect. We showed we can play with those people. I was very pleased with our kids. They all did a nice job."

Goodridge led 9-6 at the end of the first quarter, fell behind 22-20 at halftime, then went back in front 41-37 at the end of the third quarter. The Huskies opened up a 55-47 fourth quarter cushion, then held on as the host Pirates challenged them down the stretch.

It was the Huskies' fifth straight win, improving their record to 8-4.

Another balanced Goodridge effort included Brady Wiseth with 17 points, Travis Kotrba 15 and Mitch Srnsky 10. Cory Strem scored 13 points and Chris Fee had 12 for Crookston.

The teams were an identical 21-for-64 from the field and they were both 9-for-15 at the free throw line. The difference was a 6-for-13 Goodridge effort from 3-point range, where Crookston was 4-for-14.

Fergus Falls 117-75 winner vs. Pioneers

■ NCC men lose ground second half

It looks like the battle in the Northwest Division will be for second place this winter – behind Fergus Falls. The Spartans went to 5-0 in Minnesota Community College men's basketball Wednesday with a 117-75 win over Northland.

The Pioneers were hoping to close the gap between first and second, but instead fell to 3-2 and will likely be battling University of Minnesota-Crookston and Brainerd for the second MCCC state playoff berth from the Northwest Division. Fergus Falls is 14-2 overall; Northland is 6-10.

Fergus Falls trailed most of the first half before taking a 43-36 lead into intermission. The Spartans then blitzed the Pioneers 74-39 over the final 20 minutes to win in a rout.

Officiating, suggested Northland coach Mark Dannhoff, influenced the second half spread.

"We didn't play well in the second half," admitted Dannhoff. "They're a good team, but I think we have a good team, too. They're not 42 points better than we are. I think we can play with them – if they (officials) let us. In the second half, we couldn't do anything, and they got away with everything. It was the biggest game for our program in two years, and it was sad that we didn't get to determine whether we won or lost.

Fergus Falls was 23-for-36 at the free throw line; Northland made 18 of 27.

Spartans' second half run leads to 70-57 win

Fergus Falls erased a nine-point second half deficit with a run of 24 unanswered points Wednesday as the Spartans beat visiting Northland 70-57 in Minnesota Community College Conference women's basketball.

Results put Fergus Falls at 5-0 in the MCCC Northwest Division and 11-4 overall, while Northland fell to 2-3 and 5-9.

The Pioneers trailed only 32-29 at halftime and scored the first nine points of the second half for a lead that reached 53-44 with 14 minutes left.

But the Spartans' 24-point scoreboard run spoiled what had been a gutty Northland effort on the road.

"Fergus Falls has a good team, and it's one of the toughest places to win," pointed out Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "We're disappointed with the loss, but I think it was a positive for us that we showed we can play with the good teams if we could just put 40 minutes together. We had them on their heels, but then the momentum really switched and we couldn't stop it."

Holly Gram scored 20 points and Ronda Olson had 10 for the Pioneers, who turned in a 32 percent, 19-for-60 shooting performance from the field. Steph Mattson of Fergus Falls led all scorers with 17 points.

Both teams were busy at the free throw line, where Northland was 19-for-36 and Fergus Falls made 22 of 33.

Defense, free throws produce B/G-MR win

Another strong defensive effort, along with a big night at the free throw line, carried the Badger/Greenbush-Middle River boys to a 55-38 high school basketball win at Stephen Tuesday.

The 7-5 Gators have won three in a row, and have given up an average of just 41 points per game during that mini win streak.

"We played a good defensive game," said Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Eldon Sparby. "But we struggled offensively, and we didn't board (rebound)."

The Gators had quarter leads of 11-5, 20-18 and 32-30 before pulling away in the final period.

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River didn't get many shots in a 16-for-38 night from the field, but the Gators cashed in on 22 of 31 free throw attempts. Stephen was 17-for-41 from the field and had a much quieter 3-for-11 free throw game. The Tigers finished with a 28-20 rebound advantage, including a 13-5 edge on the offensive boards.

Marshall County Central girls shade Roseau in overtime

Tricia Pederson hit a 3-point shot with 20 seconds left to tie it, then scored six of the Nordics' nine overtime points Thursday as Marshall County Central outlasted Roseau 69-61 in girls basketball at Newfolden.

The win put the Nordics at 10-4 and moved them into a first place North Border Conference tie with the Rams and Badger/Greenbush-Middle River.

"It was a big win for us," noted Marshall County Central coach Tom Mjelde. "It was a fun game to watch."

Marshall County Central trailed 16-14 at the end of the first quarter, but went ahead 29-26 at halftime, and opened up a nine-point lead in the third quarter before they settled for a 42-41 edge.

"We took the air out of the ball too soon," acknowledged Mjelde.

Roseau led 59-56 in the final minute of regulation time before Pederson hit the 3-pointer for the tie.

Pederson had a chance to win it with a lay-up at the horn, but missed. However, she came right back with a quick basket to start the extra session and finished with 14 points as the Nordics won their fourth straight.

The Nordics' Sara Lokstad and the Rams' Megan Taylor, a pair of 1,000-point scorers, shared game-high scoring honors with 28 points each. Marshall County Central also got a 12-point effort from Shanon Megan and 10 from Wendy Inman. Roseau's Lenni Billberg netted 19.

Marshall County Central was 25-for-54 from the field (45 percent) and a busy 18-for-29 at the free throw line. Roseau went 26-for-64 from the field (41 percent) and 9-for-10 at the line. The Nordics had a 36-25 rebound advantage

RLCC inside game downs Wolverines

An advantage inside produced a 58-45 Red Lake County Central win over Goodridge/Grygla Tuesday in a make-up girls high school basketball at Grygla.

The Wolverines played without Brandi Stratton, who missed the game because of illness, which opened up the inside for the Mustangs' Meckenzie Malwitz and Angel Mickelson, who combined on 34 points and 32 rebounds.

"Without Brandi, we had nobody to bang with them underneath the basket," explained Goodridge/Grygla coach Mike Gast. "We gave up a lot of offensive rebounds."

Malwitz, a 5-9 sophomore, scored 23 points and had 17 rebounds, while Mickelson, a 5-10 senior, netted 11 points and pulled down 15 rebounds.

"We got it inside," acknowledged Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto, and defensively we played pretty well."

The Mustangs had quarter leads of 17-14, 26-18 and 40-31 in going to 5-8 for the year.

Kristy Johnson scored 13 points and Melissa Bernstein had 12 for the Wolverines.

Red Lake County Central was 21-for-49 from the field (43 percent) and 13-for-27 at the free throw line. Goodridge/Grygla went 16-for-53 from the field (30 percent) and 12-for-20 at the line.

TRF basketball JV winner at Roseau

Thief River Falls out-scored Roseau 23-8 in the second half Tuesday en route to a 44-27 boys junior varsity high school basketball win.

Jared Brandt scored 12 points for the winners.

TRF beats EGF in overtime second time

Jeff Twomey scored his second goal of the night 3:11 into overtime Tuesday as Thief River Falls snapped a five-game losing streak with a 5-4 Section 8A high school hockey win at East Grand Forks.

It was the Prowlers' second overtime win of the season over the Green Wave, a 3-2 loser in an earlier match-up in Thief River Falls.

Twomey's game-winning shot dribbled across the goal line after a scramble around East Grand Forks goalie Miles Gregoire.

It wasn't perfect hockey, admitted Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo, but it was a much-improved effort over a disappointing 9-3 loss at Roseau the previous Saturday. "It was a very big win for us," said Chiodo. "It gave us a win against a good club. You can't take away the Saturday loss, but it helps to balance things out a bit."

East Grand Forks had a pair of two-goal leads in the first two periods before Thief River Falls pulled even in a third period shoot-out.

"We could have packed it in when we fell behind early," noted Chiodo, "but we didn't. The kids came back. I was real proud of the way they battled back."

A soft roller by Jeremy Eckman found the net at 8:13 and a Chris Lizakowski rebound goal at 10:54 off a breakaway by Pete McDonald supplied the Green Wave with a 2-0 first period lead.

Twomey scored on a power play rebound at 8:31 of the second period, but Travis Lind rebuilt a two-goal East Grand Forks lead by beating Thief River Falls sophomore goalie Chane Keefe high at 10:35.

The Prowlers tied it 3-3 by scoring twice in the first 1:42 of the third period as defenseman Brent Kleinvachter put a power play slap shot under the cross bar at the 55-second mark and Nick Chiodo tipped a rebound into an open net just 47 seconds later.

East Grand Forks wasted little time regaining the lead as Eckman scored on a rebound at 3:22, but a quick 28 seconds later it was tied again as Kaine Martell corralled a bouncing rebound in front of Gregoire.

Keefe settled down after a slow start for a 33-save effort. "Down the stretch, he made some big saves," pointed out Chiodo.

Gregoire finished with 25 stops.

Bryce Huotari led the winners with 20 points. Justin Gutzman and Jeremy Werness scored 12 and 11 points, respectively, for the Eagles.

"It was kind of a lackluster game," said Red Lake County Central coach Todd Fore. "We played okay at the start, but I wasn't real pleased with our defense after we got the early lead."

Red Lake County Central was 29-for-67 from the field (43 percent) and 11-for-15 at the free throw line. Sacred Heart went 19-for-42 from the floor (45 percent) and 7-for-14 at the line.

S.D. 564 to implement Project 2000 in spring

Completion of the Thief River Falls-St. Hilaire Education Project 2000 Strategic Plan is scheduled for the spring of 1994, according to a news release from the school district. The plan will be implemented in the summer of 1994 and continue for the next five years. Each year the Strategic Plan will be evaluated to see how effective it has been. At the end of the five years, the plan will be discarded and a new plan developed.

Yet to be competed in the Strategic plan are the six strategies. Strategies indicate what should happen for the Strategic Plan to be successful. Residents of the school district are encouraged and invited to get involved in developing plans for their district by serving on work teams for one of the six strategies.

The six strategies are:

1) We will create a Partnership Center for learning.

2) We will plan and expand the technology network to include community access and utilization, instructional uses, information resources, communications link management tool.

3) We will define and create a safe and caring community environment.

4) We will design varied educational opportunities to meet the individual needs of our learners.

5) We will design a quality learning system.

6) We will provide resources and opportunities for youth within our community.

Action plans need to be developed for each strategy. Community input is vital to the development of the Action plans. If anyone is interested in being involved in the development of any of these action plans, they should contact Jean Heinrichs at 681-7420, Project 2000 Chairperson, or Marcia Sandahl at the school district central offices (681-8711). These Action Teams will work during the months of February and March. Action Team Leaders are also needed for each strategy. Training will be provided to the Action Team Leaders prior to the Action Teams beginning their work. There will probably be four to five meetings in order to complete the Action Plans for each strategy.

The Thief River Falls-St. Hilaire Education Project 2000 evolved from two activities. The first activity was the Minnesota 2000 Project which allowed communities to determine their own learning futures. Minnesota 2000 was developed from America 2000 which was established under President Bush's administration. The governors from all 50 states gathered and identified six national education goals which, in summary, are:

1) All children are ready for school.

2) There will be a 90 per cent graduation rate.

3) All children will be proficient in at least math, science, English, history and geography.

4) The United States will be first in the world in math and science.

5) Every adult will be literate and able to compete in the work force.

6) Drugs and violence will be taken out of our schools.

Minnesota 2000 adopted basically the same six goals and then asked communities to join in the effort. Communities were to establish a process in which a diverse cross-section of community members discussed, described and developed solutions to challenges which face students and schools in their own communities.

The second activity was the Thief River Falls-St. Hilaire school district board of education approving the development of a five year strategic plan for the school district. It was their decision at that time to combine the Minnesota 2000 activities with the development of the school district's strategic plan.

Jean Heinrichs, representing the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce Education committee, attending a conference on Minnesota 2000 and volunteered to be the Minnesota 2000 Community Coordinator. With the combining of Minnesota 2000 and the school district strategic plan, the board of education decided to name the project the Thief River Falls-St. Hilaire Education Project 2000 Strategic plan and put it under the direction of the district Planning, Evaluating and Reporting (PER) committee. Nancy Tofte, chairperson of the PER committee, and Jean Heinrichs were named co-chairs for the Thief River Falls-St. Hilaire Education 2000 Project.

During the spring of 1993 community meetings were held to gather input. Surveys were distributed throughout the school district to gather information on what residents of the district, school district staff and students felt were the needs of the district. That information plus other research materials were put together in booklet form and used by the Strategic Planning committee at a three-day retreat in Bemidji in June of 1993. Cathy Neumann, who had been trained as a strategic plan facilitator, was contracted to facilitate this retreat. During the retreat, the Project 2000 committee developed a mission statement, belief statements, outcome indicators, parameters and strategies.

The theme for the Thief River Falls-St. Hilaire Education Project 2000 strategic plan is entitled, "A Community Partnership Focused on Quality Learning". This theme is reflected in the mission statement, belief statements, outcome indicators and strategies. This theme promotes the idea that the community and the school district should work together for the education of students.

The mission statement expresses the unique purpose for which the district exists and the specific functions it performs as follows: "The mission of the Thief River Falls-St. Hilaire School District, a community partnership focused on education, is to ensure quality learning by developing individual abilities within a challenging and caring environment."

The belief statements express the community's fundamental convictions, values and character. The beliefs are the underlying foundation of the strategic plan and state the believe that. . .

1) education is the shared responsibility of the individual, home school and community.

2) a safe environment is critical to learning.

3) each person has equal worth with valued individual differences.

4) learning is a life-long process.

5) self-respect leads to respect for others.

6) each person can learn, wants to learn and has the right to learn.

7) individual learn in different ways.

8) a supporting and caring environment promotes learning.

9) expectations and self-esteem impact performance.

10) change is an opportunity for improvement.

11) cooperation is essential in a competitive world.

12) a global perspective is essential for growth and survival.

The outcome Indicators state how the district will measure the mission statement and the two indicators are:

1) 100 per cent of our graduates will have achieved state and district outcomes reflective of their individual potential.

2) Partnerships and shared resources will be evident throughout the community.

The parameters reflect the guidelines under which the district operates. The parameters that were developed are:

1) Our district will be accountable for quality learning.

2) Our district will only employ personnel who possess skills required to assist the district in reaching its mission.

3) Our district will maintain fiscal stability by the effective use of available resources to accomplish its mission.

4) Our district will ensure equal access to appropriate quality educational programs and services.

5) Our district will provide a safe and caring environment.

6) Our district will involve the entire community in the educational process.

7) Our district will place decision-making where it has the greatest positive impact on education.

The question could be asked, why have a strategic plan? The area within the Thief River Falls-St. Hilaire School District is in a unique position to aggressively address issues to position itself for the future. Thief River Falls-St. Hilaire is a diverse business, industry, governmental, medical and educational center. It hosts not only an excellent pre-K-12 educational system, which also includes an Area Learning Center for alternative education and a Magnet Arts Center, but also educational opportunities through the Technical College, Northland Community College, Adult Basic Education and private schools. A strong educational system is critical to the strength of the economic base of the community and the region. Therefore, it is important that representatives of these entities work together to develop a strong educational system.

There is considerable evidence that when a community is involved in their schools there is more support for education and education is thus enhanced. There is also evidence that the more parents are involved in their children's education, the more supportive the parent then becomes of their schools. The end result of this involvement and support is high student achievement. It is important, therefore, that the school district become truly a community school and that strong emphasis be placed on involvement of parents and other community people in the schools. The community then becomes the classroom. Business and industry as well as other governmental entities should also be involved in the schools since they are the benefactors not only in the quality of the work force, but also because students become contributing members of the community and society.

With community involvement in mind, the Project 2000 Strategic Plan committee used the theme of the old African proverb, "It takes an entire village to education a child", as a focus point as they developed the strategic plan.

The strategic plan will assist the school district and community to know educationally where we are going, how and when to get there, to know if plans have been accomplished, and to know the impact of the plans. A school is a business. Any business that does not have a plan runs a high risk of potential trouble, possibly failure, and may very well miss many opportunities. Strategic planning provides the opportunity for our schools to enjoy a successful future by planning for it now. The Board of Education can evaluate potential growth and spot problems before they happen. This, in turn, saves money by avoiding costly mistakes and missed opportunities. The Strategic plan also focuses organizational efforts and creates a greater sense of teamwork. Everyone ends up rowing in the same direction. Planning also gives the school district much needed stability as time goes on and provides continuity from one year to the next. Failing to plan is planning to fail.

Local investment firm receives high marks in articles

Edward D. Jones & Co., St. Louis, was ranked the number one financial services company in the nation in terms of broker satisfaction, according to the December 1993 issue of Registered Representative magazine. The company also received favorable press in the December 1993 issue of Smart Money, which cited the company's outstanding broker support, freedom from selling pressure, and staff training programs, and low fees.

"Each year, Registered Representative asks brokers to rate their firms in 20 categories, including freedom from pressure to sell certain investments, overall ethics of the firm, and the quality of investments offered by their firms," explains Regan A. Rohl, the investment representative for Jones in Thief River Falls. "This year, nine of the nation's top brokerage firms were polled, and Edward O. Jones & Co. scored highest overall. The firm was ranked number one in 12 of 20 categories."

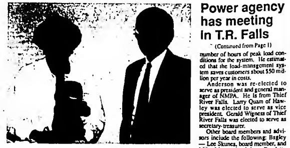
TRF city council looks at plans for Comprehensive Plan

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Stephen Grittman and Scott Richards of Northwest Associated Consultants Inc., St. Louis Park, met with the Thief River Falls city council Tuesday night during a meeting of the council to discuss work on the update of the Comprehensive Plan.

The Comprehensive Plan provides the blue prints for strategic planning into the future as well as provides the city with the authority for going ahead with projects that affect land uses, land subdivisions and other aspects of planning. It also provides a summary of goals and objectives and how they impact development in the city.

This particular plan will stretch out for 10 to 20 years into the future.



In preparing the comprehensive plan, Northwest Associated Consultants will collect a great deal of information in the next year. They will use information about the city, information from recent surveys, employees and citizens. Plans tentatively call for public informational meetings next fall. A March 1995 completion date has been set.

The city is in compliance with the state pay equity implementation guidelines. According to Roger DeLap, city finance officer, a report to the state department of employee relations states that the city of Thief River Falls is in compliance. One test of whether the city is in compliance is the statistical analysis test. The city's underpayment ratio must be 80 per cent or greater. The percentage is calculated by dividing the percentage of male classes below predicted pay by the percentage of female classes below predicted pay. The city's underpayment ratio is 228.1 per cent.

The council approved a recommendation from the city technical services and engineering supervisor, Ron Lindberg, confirming appointment of a contractor, Bonestroo, Rosene and Anderlik, to provide engineering information on the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

The city council has designated Roger DeLap as the deputy city clerk. Minnesota state law allows a city to appoint a deputy clerk to fill in for the city clerk. City Clerk Jerry Wigness will retire at the end of January. Last Tuesday's city council meeting, was the last meeting of the council that Wigness will preside at as city clerk. Members of the city council expressed their appreciation to him for his dedication and hard work over the years.

In other business, the council approved the final plat of the Middle School addition; approved the 1994 to 1999 capital improvements plan; approved a number of appointments to boards and commissions; renewed the city's electrical contractors license; approved a recommendation to advertise for the position of supervisor/clerk for the Municipal Liquor store; approved a dance permit for Matt Perkins at Northland Community College on February 16, and February 4 and 5 at the armory; and approved a bingo premises permit renewal application for the VFW club.

Several stuffed toys were recently donated to the pediatric unit at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls by the local J. C. Penney store. Manager Bill Hannen is shown with Pat Troskey, RN, head nurse in the second floor medical/surgical department. The Barney character toys are to be given to pediatric patients at the hospital.

number of hours of peak load conditions for the system. He estimated that the load-management system saves customers about $50 million per year in costs.

Anderson was re-elected to serve as president and general manager of NMPA. He is from Thief River Falls. Larry Quam of Hawley was elected to serve as vice president. Gerald Wigness of Thief River Falls was elected to serve as secretary-treasurer.

Greenbush teacher reinstated to position

"For esample, the record shows that Stordahl has, for the most part, enjoyed a lengthy and successful career within the Greenbush school system....It was shown that he had been active in seeking to improve the educational environment of the students during that time. He initiated and coached students in the Knowledge Bowl. He instituted the advanced placement program for English in the secondary schools. He had received letters of commendation and, his recent written evaluation authored by principal Anderson had been most favorable.

"Finally, given the previous conclusion arrived at concerning the lack of intent to tip over the desk then occupied by a student, I find that the 'severity' of Stordahl's conduct to be somewhat diminished in this instance, though by no means excusable."

The arbitrator's award concluded that the immediate discharge was not appropriate. He reduced the termination to a two month suspension without pay and left it to the parties to determine if that would be accomplished by reimbursement of wages paid during suspension or by not compensating him for two months following return to the classroom.

"...it is imperative that the grievant understand that the consequences will be far more severe should he again demonstrate his inability to control his temper," the arbitrator said in his award. As a condition of reinstatement, he also required that Stordahl enroll in a course or seminar that addresses the subject of classroom discipline and control, with selection subject to agreement by the school board and the MEA as Stordahl's representative.

The Greenbush school board was represented by attorneys Stephen M. Knutson and Marie C. Skinner. Stordahl was represented by MEA attorney Rebecca H. Hamblin.

Rep. Tunheim looks forward to '94 session

Rep. Jim Tunheim of Kennedy says he is looking forward to the 1994 legislative session. Budgetary decisions were made in the 1993 session, and this year's policy focus will result in a relatively short, 10-week session. "So we'll have to act fast," Rep. Tunheim said.

"This is the first session in many years that we have started a legislative session with a hopeful budget picture. The revenue department thinks we'll have an estra $414 million by the end of the biennium. The tax bill we passed last session directs any extra funds to restore the state's rainy day fund to $500 million and, more importantly, to pay back the property tax recognition shift that causes financial hardship for many school districts," Rep. Tunheim said.

"My immediate recommendation is that we should resist temptation to start any new programs with the surplus. With an improving economy, I feel that an increase in the rainy day fund would be better used to buy down property taxes. I'll be very supportive of this proposal along with other property tax reform measures."

The legislator says he expects a wide range of other topics will be likely to come up during the session. One major issue is education.

"In higher education," he notes, "the legislature is continuing to monitor progress of the merger (in July, 1995) of the state universities and technical and community colleges. In K-12, the graduation rule and measuring outcomes will probably be discussed again, and school bus safety issues will come up."

He said that in the area of crime there have been several proposals for treating juveniles who commit serious violent crimes like adults—with accountability and punishment. The question of what to do about repeat offenders and people who are a constant danger to society also will probably be discussed.

"In the area of health care," he said, "our Minnesotacare health plan is being put into place and we're waiting to see how much of our plan shows up in the federal government's national health care reform plan."

Other issues that have surfaced in some form so far include video gaming, relief for farmers affected by last spring's floods, transportation funding, landfill clean-ups and workers' compensation. The legislature spent a great deal of time on the discussion of nuclear waste storage at the Prairie Island nuclear power plant. The focus of the discussion centers around above ground storage of nuclear waste, Rep. Tunheim edded.

"I'm looking forward to a very intense and productive session," he said. "Any time after February 22 please feel free to stop by and visit me at the Capitol. If you have questions or comments please don't hesitate to contact me at the office, 335 State Office Building, St. Paul, MN 55155 (phone 612-296-9635) or at home at Box 66, Kennedy, MN 56733, phone 674-4480."

Man who talks the walk coming to walk and talk

Robert Sweetgall to present program Tuesday night on "Walking Off Weight"

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

Robert Sweetgall is so focused on the healthful aspects of walking that if someone told him to take a hike, he would probably consider it an invitation to fitness. Here is a person who not only talks the talk, he walks the walk.

A nationally-known walker, author and speaker, Sweetgall will be the focal point on Tuesday, February 8, when the Pennington County Health Promotion Group presents a day-long program on physical activity (especially walking), weight loss, stress reduction and low-fat lifestyles.

Sweetgall has been first a walker and then a talker. Since 1982 he has walked nearly 22,000 miles along highways in the United States on two major journeys. In 1982-83 he covered 10,608 miles walking along the perimeter of the United States. In 1984-85 he covered 11,208 miles on a walk that reached into all 50 states. He has accepted being known as the "Pied Piper of American Walking."

During his stay in Thief River Falls he will start the day by joining arena walkers at 7:30 a.m. in the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center and conclude the day with a public presentation on "Walking Off Weight" at 7 p.m. in the Northland Community College theater. There will be a $3 admission charge for the evening program.

Following his walk and talk period from 7:30 to 8 a.m., he will give a short presentation to people participating in the Arena Walking program at 8 a.m.

At 9 a.m. Sweetgall will present a program for students from two of Thief River Falls' four elementary schools. At 10:30 a.m. he will be at Northland Community College to present information on fitness to students and faculty. At noon he will meet with physicians at Northwest Medical Center and at 1:30 p.m. will present a program for students from the other two public elementary schools. At 3:45 p.m. a presentation will be made especially for Thief River Falls teachers, coaches and school support staff.

Tickets for the evening program are available in advance at the Pennington county extension office in the courthouse in Thief River Falls.

Brad Dekkers (left), son of Will and Beverly Dekkers, won the first place trophy and a plaque awarded by the Thief River Falls Times. Nathan Kellar, son of Bruce and Kathy Kellar, earned the second place trophy. In the spell-down final, Nathan misspelled the word "suggastible" which Brad then spelled correctly and also spelled the next word —"clemency"—to win the championship. Both students will advance to the regional contest March 5 at Northland Community College in Thief River Falls.

Dr. Thomas Clifford, President Emeritus of the University of North Dakota, donated his honorarium to the Northwest Medical Center Foundation after giving the keynote address at the foundation's kick-off celebration Thursday evening at the Best Western Inn. A plaque acknowledging the donation was added to the foundation's "Tree of Life." Dr. Clifford and his wife Gayle were thanked by Mike Parker (left), master of ceremonies for the evening program.

$1.5 million is pledged to NWMC Foundation

Donations, pledges and endowments totaling $1.5 million have been given to the newly-formed Northwest Medical Center Foundation, it was announced at the conclusion of the kick-off celebration Thursday evening at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls.

Jill Dillon, director of the foundation, reported the total and said it had been raised from among the "hospital family" consisting of doctors, nurses, administration, board members and other health professionals and staff involved with the medical center operations.

Dillon's announcement followed the main address by Dr. Thomas Clifford, President Emeritus of the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks, who told the public assembled at the meeting that "the time to give to an endowment fund is when you are strong so you will be ready if lean times come."

Clifford said that it is not only expected changes by the government in the national health care system that creates an uncertain future for medical facilities, it is that the expectations of health care are so much greater than ever before. There will be continuing demand for the latest in treatment and equipment, often without the medical center's ability or authority to respond.

He emphasized that professional people such as teachers and business and industrial representatives do not choose to live or locate facilities in communities that do not have good health care available.

"All of us, whoever we are, want to live as long as we can and with the best quality of life we can have," he said. "That is often dependent on having the availability of the right care in the right time at the right place."

In conversations on the high costs of health care and the high costs of medical equipment one thing that often is not mentioned is the high cost of suffering, the speaker said. Availability of people and facilities that can save lives and relieve suffering has great importance.

Other speakers during the evening were Richard Spyhalski, CEO at Northwest Medical Center; Jim Rogalla, chairman of the new Northwest Medical Center Foundation board; Dr. Peter Johnson, chief of the medical staff; and Orin Green, member of the campaign executive committee.

Spyhalski said that he had advocated a foundation to the hospital board for some time, but it seemed less important as the hospital continued to operate profitably. While the hospital is still strong financially, he said, the uncertainties and expectations regarding Medicare and Medicaid payments and other national changes in health care indicate that this is the time to get started.

Rogalla read the medical center's mission statement which says:

"Northwest Medical Center seeks to provide high quality, comprehensive, community-oriented, physical and emotional health care services, in a cost-effective manner, to the residents of northwestern Minnesota. Northwest Medical Center intends to achieve this mission by providing community-oriented medical, health education, human social services. Northwest Medical Center intends to pursue cooperative endeavors with other health care providers while enhancing its role as a regional leader in the provision of these services and remaining a financially vital health care organization."

Rogalla said the foundation is needed despite the hospital's strong financial position because the nation's health care system is in turmoil. With 50 per cent of the local medical center's revenue coming from Medicare and another 15 to 20 per cent from Medicaid, any changes in the federal program could have a major impact on the hospital's operations.

Dr. Peter Johnson said that the key word in health care today is change. He reviewed some of the changes in the 20 years since he came to Thief River Falls. While other hospitals have faltered and failed throughout the state, he said, Northwest Medical Center has survived and remained strong.

Recruitment of physicians continues to be time-consuming, costly and often frustrating work, he said. Physicians looking at places to locate look for a strong hospital in

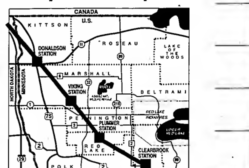
Information meetings planned on Lakehead Pipe Line request

Lakehead Pipe Line, primary transporter of Western Canadian crude oil and other liquid hydrocarbons to North American markets, is proposing an expansion to its existing crude oil pipeline system. The proposal calls for the construction of about 107 miles of new 20-inch outside diameter steel pipe adjacent to its existing pipelines and within its existing multiple line rights-of-way. Construction of the pipeline will take place in the counties of Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Polk and Clearwater.

The Minnesota Environmental quality Board (EQB) will hold a public information meeting in each county to provide information on the proposed project and to receive information to assist the EQB in determining whether to grant or deny the partial exemption application. Meetings, which begin on February 14 include the following:



• 2 p.m. on February 14 a meeting will be held at the Kennedy and Donaldson Senior Citizen Center in Kennedy.

• 7 p.m. on February 14 a meeting will be held at the Newfolden Community Center in Newfolden.

• 2 p.m. on February 15, a meeting will be held at the Pennington County Courthouse in Thief River Falls.

• 7 p.m. on February 15, a meeting will be held at the Oklee Community Center in Oklee.

TRF city council looks at plans for Comprehensive Plan

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Stephen Grittman and Scott Richards of Northwest Associated Consultants Inc., St. Louis Park, met with the Thief River Falls city council Tuesday night during a meeting of the council to discuss work on the update of the Comprehensive Plan.

The Comprehensive Plan provides the blue print for strategic planning into the future as well as provides the city with the authority for going ahead with projects that affect land uses, land subdivisions and other aspects of planning. It also provides a summary of goals and objectives and how they impact development in the city.

This particular plan will stretch out for 10 to 20 years into the future.

In preparing the comprehensive plan, Northwest Associated Consultants will collect a great deal of information in the next year. They will use information about the city, information from recent surveys, employees and citizens. Plans tentatively call for public informational meetings next fall. A March 1995 completion date has been set.

The city is in compliance with the state pay equity implementation guidelines. According to Roger DeLap, city finance officer, a report to the state department of employee relations states that the city of Thief River Falls is in compliance. One test of whether the city is in compliance is the statistical analysis test. The city's underpayment ratio must be 80 per cent or greater. The percentage is calculated by dividing the percentage of male classes below predicted pay by the percentage of female classes below predicted pay. The city's underpayment ratio is 228.1 per cent.

The council approved a recommendation from the city technical services and engineering supervisor, Ron Lindberg, confirming appointment of a contractor, Bonestroo, Rosene and Anderlik, to provide engineering information on the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

The city council has designated Roger DeLap as the deputy city clerk. Minnesota state law allows a city to appoint a deputy clerk to fill in for the city clerk. City Clerk Jerry Wigness will retire at the end of January. Last Tuesday's city council meeting was the last meeting of the council that Wigness will preside at as city clerk. Members of the city council expressed their appreciation to him for his dedication and hard work over the years.

In other business, the council approved the final plat of the Middle School addition, approved the 1994 to 1999 capital improvements plan, approved a number of appointments to boards and commissions, renewed the city's electrical contractors license, approved a recommendation to advertise for the position of supervisor/clerk for the Municipal Liquor store, approved a dance permit for Matt Perkins at Northland Community College on February 16, and February 4 and 5 at the armory, and approved a bingo premises permit renewal application for the VFW club.

Several stuffed toys were recently donated to the pediatric unit at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls by the local J. C. Penney store. Manager Bill Hannan is shown with Pat Troskey, RN, head nurse in the second floor medical/surgical department. The Barney character toys are to be given to pediatric patients at the hospital.

"For example, the record shows that Stordahl has, for the most part, enjoyed a lengthy and successful career within the Greenbush school system ...It was shown that he had been active in seeking to improve the educational environment of the students during that time. He initiated and coached students in the Knowledge Bowl. He instituted the advanced placement program for English in the secondary schools. He had received letters of commendation and, his recent written evaluation authored by principal Anderson had been most favorable.

"Finally, given the previous conclusion arrived at concerning the lack of intent to tip over the desk then occupied by a student, I find that the 'severity' of Stordahl's conduct to be somewhat diminished in this instance, though by no means excusable."

The arbitrator's award concluded that the immediate discharge was not appropriate. He reduced the termination to a two month suspension without pay and left it to the parties to determine if that would be accomplished by reimbursement of wages paid during suspension or by not compensating him for two months following return to the classroom.

"...it is imperative that the grievant understand that the consequences will be far more severe should he again demonstrate his inability to control his temper," the arbitrator said in his award. As a condition of reinstatement, he also required that Stordahl enroll in a course or seminar that addresses the subject of classroom discipline and control, with selection subject to agreement by the school board and the MEA as Stordahl's representative.

The Greenbush school board was represented by attorneys Stephen M. Knutson and Marie C. Skinner. Stordahl was represented by MEA attorney Rebecca H. Hamblin.

Local skaters place in Duluth

Kim Schneider and Becky Mooney of the Thief River Falls Skating Club competed January 21, 22 and 23 at the Northland Figure Skating Competition at the Duluth Entertainment and Convention Center.

Becky placed second in both Pre-Juvenile Freestyle and Pre-Juvenile compulsory. Kim was third in Preliminary Freestyle and fifth in Preliminary Compulsory.

Rep. Tunheim looks forward to '94 session

Rep. Jim Tunheim of Kennedy says he is looking forward to the 1994 legislative session. Budgetary decisions were made in the 1993 session, and this year's policy focus will result in a relatively short, 10-week session. "So we'll have to act fast," Rep. Tunheim said.

"This is the first session in many years that we have started a legislative session with a hopeful budget picture. The revenue department thinks we'll have an extra $414 million by the end of the biennium. The tax bill we passed last session directs any extra funds to restore the state's rainy day fund to $500 million and, more importantly, to pay back the property tax recognition shift that causes financial hardship for many school districts." Rep. Tunheim said.

"My immediate recommendation is that we should resist temptation to start any new programs with the surplus. With an improving economy, I feel that an increase in the rainy day fund would be better used to buy down property taxes. I'll be very supportive of this proposal along with other property tax reform measures."

The legislator says he expects a wide range of other topics will be likely to come up during the session. One major issue is education.

"In higher education," he notes, "the legislature is continuing to monitor progress of the merger (in July, 1995) of the state universities and technical and community colleges. In K-12, the graduation rule and measuring outcomes will probably be discussed again, and school bus safety issues will come up."

He said that in the area of crime there have been several proposals for treating juveniles who commit serious violent crimes like adults—with accountability and punishment. The question of what to do about repeat offenders and people who are a constant danger to society also will probably be discussed.

"In the area of health care," he said, "our Minnesotacare health plan is being put into place and we're waiting to see how much of our plan shows up in the federal government's national health care reform plan."

Other issues that have surfaced in some form so far include video gaming, relief for farmers affected by last spring's floods, transportation funding, landfill clean-ups and workers' compensation. The legislature spent a great deal of time on the discussion of nuclear waste storage at the Prairie Island nuclear power plant. The focus of the discussion centers around above ground storage of nuclear waste, Rep. Tunheim added.

"I'm looking forward to a very intense and productive session," he said. "Any time after February 22 please feel free to stop by and visit me at the Capitol. If you have questions or comments please don't hesitate to contact me at the office, 335 State Office Building, St. Paul, MN 55155 (phone 612-296-9635) or at home ... Box 66, Kennedy, MN 56733, phone 674-4480."

No more beaver dams in the ditches

Warren —In an effort to reduce maintenance associated with beavers in ditch systems in the county, a policy was passed by the Marshall county commissioners that could net legal beaver trappers $25 per beaver. In order to be legal, trappers must be pre-authorized by the district commissioner, have a current DNR license, have a special permit from the DNR to take beaver out of season, turn in the beaver tail or 4 inches of the end of the tail, and then get approval for payment from the board of county commissioners.

Man who talks the walk coming to walk and talk

Robert Sweetgall to present program Tuesday night on "Walking Off Weight"

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

Robert Sweetgall is so focused on the healthful aspects of walking that if someone told him to take a hike, he would probably consider it an invitation to fitness. Here is a person who not only talks the talk, he walks the walk.

A nationally-known walker, author and speaker, Sweetgall will be the focal point on Tuesday, February 8, when the Pennington County Health Promotion Group presents a day-long program on physical activity (especially walking), weight loss, stress reduction and low-fat lifestyles.

Sweetgall has been first a walker and then a talker. Since 1982 he has walked nearly 22,000 miles along highways in the United States on two major journeys. In 1982-83 he covered 10,608 miles walking along the perimeter of the United States. In 1984-85 he covered 11,208 miles on a walk that reached into all 50 states. He has accepted being known as the "Pied Piper of American Walking."

During his stay in Thief River Falls he will start the day by joining arena walkers at 7:30 a.m. in the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center and conclude the day with a public presentation on "Walking Off Weight" at 7 p.m. in the Northland Community College theater. There will be a $3 admission charge for the evening program.

Following his walk and talk period from 7:30 to 8 a.m., he will give a short presentation to people participating in the Arena Walking program at 8 a.m.

At 9 a.m. Sweetgall will present a program for students from two of Thief River Falls' four elementary schools. At 10:30 a.m. he will be at Northland Community College to present information on fitness to students and faculty. At noon he will meet with physicians at Northwest Medical Center and at 1:30 p.m. will present a program for students from the other two public elementary schools. At 3:45 p.m. a presentation will be made especially for Thief River Falls teachers, coaches and school support staff.

Tickets for the evening program are available in advance at the Pennington county extension office in the courthouse in Thief River Falls.

Dr. Thomas Clifford, President Emeritus of the University of North Dakota, donated his honorarium to the Northwest Medical Center Foundation after giving the keynote address at the foundation's kick-off celebration Thursday evening at the Best Western Inn. A plaque acknowledging the donation was added to the foundation's "Tree of Life." Dr. Clifford and his wife Gayle were thanked by Mike Parker (left), master of ceremonies for the evening program.

$1.5 million is pledged to NWMC Foundation

Donations, pledges and endowments totaling $1.5 million have been given to the newly-formed Northwest Medical Center Foundation, it was announced at the conclusion of the kick-off celebration Thursday evening at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls.

Jill Dillon, director of the foundation, reported the total and said it had been raised from among the "hospital family" consisting of doctors, nurses, administration, board members and other health professionals and staff involved with the medical center operations.

Dillon's announcement followed the main address by Dr. Thomas Clifford, President Emeritus of the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks, who told the public assembled at the meeting that "the time to give to an endowment fund is when you are strong so you will be ready if lean times come."

Clifford said that it is not only expected changes by the government in the national health care system that creates an uncertain future for medical facilities, it is that the expectations of health care are so much greater than ever before. There will be continuing demand for the latest in treatment and equipment, often without the medical center's ability or authority to respond.

He emphasized that professional people such as teachers and business and industrial representatives do not choose to live or locate facilities in communities that do not have good health care available.

"All of us, whoever we are, want to live as long as we can and with the best quality of life we can have," he said. "That is often dependent on having the availability of the right care in the right time at the right place."

In conversations on the high costs of health care and the high costs of medical equipment one thing that often is not mentioned is the high cost of suffering, the speaker said. Availability of people and facilities that can save lives and relieve suffering has great importance.

Other speakers during the evening were Richard Spyhalski, CEO at Northwest Medical Center; Jim Rogalla, chairman of the new Northwest Medical Center Foundation board; Dr. Peter Johnson, chief of the medical staff; and Drin Green, member of the campaign executive committee.

Spyhalski said that he had advocated a foundation to the hospital board for some time, but it seemed less important as the hospital continued to operate profitably. While the hospital is still strong financially, he said, the uncertainties and expectations regarding Medicare and Medicaid payments and other national changes in health care indicate that this is the time to get started.

Rogalla read the medical center's mission statement which says:

"Northwest Medical Center seeks to provide high quality, comprehensive, community-oriented, physical and emotional health care services, in a cost-effective manner, to the residents of northwestern Minnesota. Northwest Medical Center intends to achieve this mission by providing community-oriented medical, health education, human social services. Northwest Medical Center intends to pursue cooperative endeavors with other health care providers while enhancing its role as a regional leader in the provision of these services and remaining a financially vital health care organization."

Rogalla said the foundation is needed despite the hospital's strong financial position because the nation's health care system is in turmoil. With 50 per cent of the local medical center's revenue coming from Medicare and another 15 to 20 per cent from Medicaid, any changes in the federal program could have a major impact on the hospital's operations.

Dr. Peter Johnson said that the key word in health care today is change. He reviewed some of the changes in the 20 years since he came to Thief River Falls. While other hospitals have faltered and failed throughout the state, he said, Northwest Medical Center has survived and remained strong.

Recruitment of physicians continues to be time-consuming, costly and often frustrating work, he said. Physicians looking at places to locate look for a strong hospital in Eighth graders earned the top spots in the Thief River Falls public schools spelling bee conducted Tuesday afternoon, February 1, at the Franklin middle school cafeteria. Brad Dekkers (left), son of Will and Beverly Dekkers, won the first place trophy and a plaque awarded by the Thief River Falls Times. Nathan Koller, son of Bruce and Kathy Koller, earned the second place trophy. In the spell-down final, Nathan misspelled the word "suggestible" which Brad then spelled correctly and also spelled the next word —"clemency"—to win the championship. Both students will advance to the regional contest March 5 at Northland Community College in Thief River Falls.

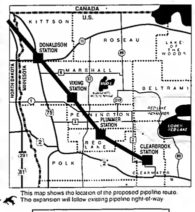
Information meetings planned on Lakehead Pipe Line request

Lakehead Pipe Line, primary transporter of Western Canadian crude oil and other liquid hydrocarbons to North American markets, is proposing an expansion to its existing crude oil pipeline system. The proposal calls for the construction of about 107 miles of new 20-inch outside diameter steel pipe adjacent to its existing pipelines and within its existing multiple line rights-of-way. Construction of the pipeline will take place in the counties of Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Polk and Clearwater.

The Minnesota Environmental quality Board (EQB) will hold a public information meeting in each county to provide information on the proposed project and to receive information to assist the EQB in determining whether to grant or deny the partial exemption application. Meetings, which begin on February 14 include the following:



• 2 p.m. on February 14 a meeting will be held at the Kennedy and Donaldson Senior Citizen Center in Kennedy.

• 7 p.m. on February 14 a meeting will be held at the Newfolden Community Center in Newfolden.

• 2 p.m. on February 15, a meeting will be held at the Pennington County Courthouse in Thief River Falls.

• 7 p.m. on February 15, a meeting will be held at the Oklee Community Center in Oklee.

which to do their work. A hospital with a strong supporting foundation will help encourage physicians to come here, he said.

Orin Green pointed to two former residents of Thief River Falls, Bill LaFave and L. B. Hartz, both now deceased, as examples of people who gave something back to their community on a daily basis. He said that since the formation and building of Northwestern Hospital that the local medical facility had not come back to the people to ask for money. "What a relief it is," he said, "that the meeting tonight is to plan and prepare for the future rather than to find a way to raise half a million dollars to keep it operating." He said the foundation will give community residents a chance to give something back to their community through their donations and support.

As a demonstration of his support, Dr. Clifford donated his honorarium as speaker for the evening the hospital foundation.

Warning: The BATF May Be Hazardous To Your Health

Forgive us for what may seem to be an obsession with a single issue, but we are still inceased about the virtual absence of news coverage regarding the trial of 11 Branch Davidian members in San Antonio, TX. We believe it has immense national importance regarding infringement of government in the lives of private citizens and none of the television news networks nor national press associations sees fit to give it more than a passing glance and a cursory comment.

The people on trial are charged in the deaths of four federal agents involved in an ill-fated (and ill-advised) attack on the Branch Davidian compound headed by David Koresh at Waco, TX, Feb. 28, 1993. They were among the approximately 100 people in the compound at the time of the attack but came out at one time or another during a nearly two-month federal siege of the communal living quarters of the Koresh sect. The siege ended with another assault on the compound that touched off a fire killing the remaining 89 men, women and children who were occupants.

Following the initial attack and throughout the stand-off there was extensive daily coverage of what was happening—primarily as supplied to the news media by the government agents in charge. The national media throughout this time apparently considered the happenings to be of sufficient public interest to report, although the release of what passed for information was managed by the assailants on the outside.

Now, when there has been an opportunity to get additional information through sworn testimony, the national media has turned its back on the situation and maintained what seems to us to be a rather ominous silence.

If the action of federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (BATF) agents in Waco was a bizarre, isolated incident, some of the stupidity and brutality exhibited in the initial attack could be somewhat forgiven if not understood, condoned or excused. But their persistence in pressuring the occupants under siege, rejecting professional advice on how to negotiate, and compounding their errors through obstinacy and militant tactics, culminating in the last fatal assault, is recurrent symbolism of the mindset of this agency.

It is as if the agency feels the occasional need to test its training and selects a target for military type action. In such cases it disdains accepted, normal, conventional and—not incidentally—legal law enforcement actions to force confrontation and violent action. And every time it does so, it winds up getting one or more of its own "troops" killed in the process.

The fiasco at Waco was not an isolated BATF-orchestrated attack on private citizens.

On Aug. 21, 1992, at or near an isolated cabin on Ruby Ridge in the mountains of Idaho, a BATF agent clad in camouflage and face mask shot to death a 14-year-old boy's golden retriever dog, then the boy himself when the youngster fired back, apparently out of shock or fear. The youth was hit in the arm and then in the back when he turned to run for the supposed safety of the cabin. The agent himself was shot in the chest and killed by the boy's companion.

Later another federal agent, an FBI sniper, shot the boy's mother in the head, killing her instantly as she stood in the doorway of the cabin, holding her 10-month-old daughter in her arms. The agent later said it was a mistake—that he was aiming at someone else when he fired. Spoon fed information by the federal agents, the national press reported the shooting of Vicki Weaver as "an exchange of fire" and a "gun battle," although the only shots fired were by the sniper.

The BATF for 16 months prior to the incident at a cost of $13,000 a week had six people roaming the area in camouflage gear, picking surveillance and sniper positions. The object of their attention was Randy Weaver who, in October of 1989 at the request of a friend (actually an undercover informant working for the BATF) had sold him two shotguns and shortened their barrels to less than the legal length. Eight months after the set-up sale, Weaver was approached by two BATF agents with an offer—go to jail or the illegal gun sale or spy for the BATF on the Aryan Nations, a white supremacist hate group headquartered in northern Idaho. He refused to be an informer.

Six months later he was arraigned before a federal magistrate and released on bond. He went back to his cabin and later received a mailed notice to appear in court for a hearing March 20, 1991. The actual hearing date was February 21, but he was technically in violation because he failed to appear on March 20 as notified. He was indicted for failure to appear and the BATF's "Operation Northern Exposure" began.

Following the shootings mentioned above, federal agents surrounded the cabin for six days before the occupants—Weaver, his daughters Sara (16), Rachel (10) and Elisheba (10 months) and a friend, Kevin Harris came out. Mrs. Weaver's body was in the cabin all that time.

As in Texas, the federal government brought Weaver and Harris to trial. The government called 56 witnesses and spent days going over the Weavers' religious views, trying to establish they were racist and demonstrated a long-lived conspiracy to violently confront the government. (Was there an echo of this in Waco?) The defense rested its case without calling a single witness. The government had destroyed its own case with conflicting testimony and admission of illegal and improper actions.

Harris was acquitted on all charges. Weaver was found not guilty of eight federal felony counts, including the gun charge—the one which started the whole violent episode. He was found guilty of failing to appear in court and violating his bail conditions.

Randy Weaver lost a son and his wife in unbelievably traumatic fashion. The surviving Weaver children lost a mother and brother under circumstances that will scar them for life. A BATF agent's family lost its husband and father. And the BATF got a training exercise and—at least so far—off scott free.

The people of America should know what is happening at the public trial in Texas. They should know if their government can manipulate their lives, use them for targets and incinerate their children while ignoring due process.

U.S. Marshal Service witnesses at the trial in Idaho told about a series of pre-siege scenarios to root Weaver out of his cabin. But under questioning by the defense, they said they never considered simply knocking on the door and arresting him. (Another Waco coincidence?)

As a nation we may be misdirecting our attention to a threat from armed criminals. The real threat may be from within our government itself. With wraps on the Texas trial, we may not know until it is too late. The jealously guarded and often self-heralded role of the news media as guardian of human rights and freedom has been abdicated in this case and a nation wonders why.

St. Bernard's school hosts pre-schoolers Wednesday

Children who will begin kindergarten next year will be hosted by St. Bernard's Catholic school at its annual kindergarten visitation Wednesday, February 9. Two sessions have been scheduled from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. and 1 to 2 p.m.

"Families who already have children at St. Bernard's school will be given first priority," states principal Dixie Klein, "but kindergarten at St. Bernard's is open to families who are not Catholic. Class sizes will be limited so early registration is important."

Northland women pull out unlikely 86-75 win over Brainerd

Northland capped a remarkable comeback by outscoring shorthanded Brainerd 17-6 in overtime Tuesday as the Pioneers knocked off the visiting Raiders 86-75 in women's college basketball.

Ahead 31-29 at intermission, Northland struggled through much of the second half and faced a 15-point deficit with 4:37 remaining.

That's when the Pioneers began their rally, which featured four 3-point baskets by sophomore guard Ronda Olson in a 90 second span.

Brainerd helped out by missing the front end of three bonus free throw opportunities in the last two minutes. Renae Blazejewski made one of two free throws with 14 seconds left to pull the Pioneers within 69-68, with Northland controlling the rebound on the miss. Three short field goal attempts were off the mark in a wild scramble under the basket before Tia Hietala was fouled with seven-tenths of a second showing.

Hietala made the first attempt for the tie, but the second shot rolled off the rim, forcing overtime.

Brainerd was ill-prepared to play those five extra minutes. The Raiders began the night with nine players, but the physical game took its toll. Two Brainerd players went down with knee injuries and four others fouled out. The Raiders were down to four players on the foul that sent Hietala to the line at the end of regulation time, and then lost another one on the first possession of overtime.

The two teams entered the game tied for second place behind Fergus Falls in the Northwest Division, a key spot since the top two regular season divisional finishers earn Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament trips.

"In 13 years of coaching, I've never seen anything like it," said Northland coach Rick Nikunen after the unlikely rally was completed. "I've seen comebacks before, but not from that far in that short of time, and then win in overtime against three players. But everything that had to happen for us to win happened. We hit our shots, and they missed their free throws."

Holly Gram scored 26 points to lead the winners, Olson had 21, Kelli Kronschnabel 15 and Blazejewski 10, to go along with 13 rebounds.

Northland was 31-for-65 from the field (48 percent) and 20-for-35 at the free throw line. Brainerd went 30-for-66 from the field (45 percent) and 13-for-19 at the line.

The Pioneers were scheduled to host the Mayville State junior varsity in a free-admission 12-noon non-conference game today (Saturday). Northland then finishes with a swing through the Northwest Division, starting Tuesday at home at 6 p.m. against University of Minnesota-Crookston.

Crookston wins hockey match-up 5-4 in overtime...

Pirates rally stuns Prowlers

Crookston stunned Thief River Falls by overcoming a four-goal third period deficit Tuesday en route to a 5-4 overtime win in Section 8A high school hockey at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

A scoreless first period was followed by a four-goal Thief River Falls second period outburst that was matched by four Crookston third period goals.

An eight-minute sudden death overtime lasted less than a minute as a Trent Habstritt shot from the blue line caromed off the skates of teammate Justin Paul and past Thief River Falls goalie Eric Dowers at the 58-second mark.

The come-from-behind effort completed a regular season sweep over the Prowlers for the Pirates, who won a 3-2 match-up in Crookston back on Dec. 29. Thief River Falls fell to 5-13 heading into the Prowlers' final home appearance of the season tonight (Saturday) against Alexandria.

It was a disappointing loss for the Prowlers, who had hoped to put together a season-ending winning streak to improve their post-season seeding stock.

"Through two periods, we were en route to reaching our goal," offered Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo. "All we had to do was go out and play 15 minutes of solid hockey in the third period and we would have won the game. But in a pressure situation, we played scared. We fell back on our heels. We started playing not to lose instead of playing to win. It's a problem we've face all year long."

Thief River Falls' second period scoring started with a Marc Seaverson tip-in on a Brent Kleinvachter power play slap shot at 2:36.

Nick Chiodo's long uncontested slap shot sailed by Crookston goalie Kevin Capistran at 7:43. Aaron Ehrenstrom scored off a scramble in front of the net at 9:22, and Keith Anderson was left alone at the corner of the net, where he one-timed a goal mouth power play feed from Chiodo at 13.05.

Crookston's comeback started just after the third period got underway as Chris Chandler got his power play shot through at crowd at the 39-second mark.

Erick Wikoff scored on an open net rebound at 9:54, then Ben Parkin came up with two goals in two minutes as he batted in a lose puck at 11:47 and tied it on a close-in power play backhand at 13:44.

Chandler was assessed a penalty on the play. The Pirates came from behind to beat the Prowlers 5-4 in overtime.

Huskies pull away at end in 45-30 win

Brady Wiseth scored 10 of his game-high 17 points in the fourth quarter Tuesday to spark Goodridge to a 45-30 boys high school basketball win at East Grand Forks Sacred Heart.

It was the seventh straight win for the Huskies, putting them at 10-4, but it was not a masterpiece, acknowledged head coach John Rahn.

"We didn't play very well," said Rahn. "Our defense won the game for us."

Goodridge started with a 10-5 first quarter lead, but the underdog Eagles were within 16-15 at halftime and tied it 27-27 at the end of the third quarter before the Huskies closed it out with an 18-3 run over the final eight minutes.

Travis Kotrba joined Wiseth in double figures with 11 and Martin Dahlen contributed 10 rebounds.

Goodridge shot only 29 percent from the field (16/56), but the Huskies did make 9 of 13 free throws. Sacred Heart had an even tougher 26 percent shooting night (12/46) while going 5-for-11 at the line. Goodridge finished with a 37-28 rebound advantage.

Strong Bemidji start sinks TRF

Bemidji wasted little time taking control Tuesday, jumping out to a 24-11 first quarter lead that led to an 88-56 win over Thief River Falls in North Sub-Section 8AA boys high school basketball.

The host Lumberjacks had a 49-24 halftime cushion and maintained a 64-40 third quarter spread in beating the Prowlers for the second time in 11 days.

"They jumped out on us right away and we never caught up," said Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke. "They're a good team. The better team won."

Four Lumberjacks reached double figures, led by Gus Self and Roy Molstad with 17 points apiece. Thief River Falls' Kyle Sanden finished with a game-high 20 points on a 10-for-10 shooting night from the field, and teammate David Johnson had 13.

Bemidji shot 55 percent from the field (35/64). Thief River Falls shot 47 percent (27/58). The Lumberjacks were 8-for-11 at the free throw line, where the Prowlers went 5-for-8. Bemidji finished with a 20-19 rebound edge and Thief River Falls had 27 of the game's 39 turnovers.

The Prowlers' fourth straight loss dropped them to .500 for the year at 6-6.

MCC comeback topples Argyle

Argyle won the first half by 11 points, but Marshall County Central took the second half by 13, resulting in a 61-59 home court victory for the Nordics in Tuesday boys high school basketball at Newfolden.

"It was like two different games," noted Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland. "They dominated the first half; we dominated the second half."

Argyle started with a 16-12 first quarter lead and opened up a 36-25 halftime spread. Marshall County Central chopped the difference to 47-46 in the third quarter, then completed the comeback down the stretch.

"We started getting real aggressive on offense," explained Ueland. "We took the ball to the basket and drew the fouls."

The Nordics were just 14-for-30 at the line for the night, but they had a perfect 6-for-6 fourth quarter.

Five Marshall County Central scorers reached double figures as Brandon Borg netted 15 points, and Trever Magner had 12, while Scott Zak, Kent Rokke and Dean Engen each scored 10.

"It's nice to see that balance," said Ueland. "We're starting to get that more and more."

It was a 1-2 punch for Argyle as Carl Adolphson scored 19 points and Chris Jorgenson had 18.

Marshall County Central was 20-for-44 from the field (45 percent), while Argyle went 20-for-48 ((42 percent). The Eagles made 13 of 19 free throws.

The 10-4 Nordics, who won for the fifth straight time, had a 33-26 rebound edge.

B/G-MR boys hold off Cougars 60-55

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River had enough of a cushion to withstand a fourth quarter Kittson County North comeback Tuesday as the Gators held off the host Cougars 60-55 in boys high school basketball.

"We got the lead, then played well enough to stay ahead," reported Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Eldon Sparby.

The Gators had quarter leads of 14-8, 25-15 and 41-26, then went to the bench extensively in the fourth quarter.

Four Gators reached double figures as Matt Kuznia scored 14 points, while Billy Holum, Erik Heggedal and Sheldon Ruud had 10 each. Mike Whitlock scored 21 points, Kevin Grabowska 18 and Josh Whitlock 12 for the Cougars, with about half of that trio's points coming in the final period rally.

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River, 8-6 for the year, shot only 34 percent from the field (19/55) and struggled with an 18-for-33 free throw night. Kittson County North shot 50 percent from the floor (24/48) and had a quiet 4-for-9 game at the line. The Cougars had a 32-24 rebound edge, but also had more turnovers, 18-9.

Defense highlights a 29-20 RLCC girls win

Red Lake County Central shut out Valley North 9-0 in the fourth quarter Tuesday to finish with a low-scoring 29-20 girls high school basketball win at Plummer.

Both teams concentrated on defense and utilized a clock-eating deliberate offense. The Mustangs were up 9-6 and 17-11 at the first two quarter stops, but the Raiders came back to tie it 20-20 at the end of the third quarter.

Valley North was just 8-for-45 from the field (18 percent), with half of those baskets coming from 3-point range as Red Lake County Central defenders Angel Mickelson and Meckenzie Malwitz closed down the inside. The visitors were awarded just two free throws, and missed them both.

Red Lake County Central put up only 31 shots, hitting 10 of them (32 percent). The game did not have a single transition basket.

"We worked hard on defense," pointed out Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto.

The Mustangs were 7-for-12 at the free throw line and finished with a 30-22 rebound advantage, thanks to 12 boards by Mickelson.

Raiders' second half beats Pioneers 97-76

Brainerd out-scored Northland 51-35 in the second half Tuesday as the Raiders beat Northland 97-76 in Minnesota Community College Conference men's basketball.

The homecourt loss dropped the Pioneers to 6-12 overall and 3-3 in the Northwest Division, where they are battling Brainerd and the University of Minnesota-Crookston for second place behind front-runner Fergus Falls – good for an MCCC state tournament berth. All three went into the weekend with three league losses.

Northland played a solid first half, reported assisted coach Tyson Treat, but the Pioneers' defense and rebounding took a second half beating against a Brainerd team that is 5-12 overall and 2-3 in the MCCC.

The Pioneers host the Mayville State junior varsity today (Saturday) in a 2 p.m. nonconference game before finishing the 1993-94 regular season schedule with four Northwest Division games.

Wrestlers host quadrangular meet

Red Lake County Central and Crookston both went 2-1, while Thief River Falls and Warren-Alvarado were both 1-2 Tuesday as the Prowlers hosted a quadrangular high school wrestling match.

It was a solid showing for the Prowlers, according to head coach John Anderson. "Overall, it was our best outing of the year," he said. "We wrestled pretty well in all three matches."

Thief River River Falls came within one match of beating Warren-Alvarado, took Crookston into the heavyweight finale before losing and caught Red Lake County Central when the Mustangs were switching personnel to fall under the Minnesota State High School League limits on matches. Red Lake Central beat Thief River Falls 60-10 in a straight dual encounter two weeks earlier.

Free throws give MCC girls win over Warroad

Free throws spelled the difference Thursday as the Marshall County Central girls came from behind to beat host Warroad 50-43 in high school basketball.

Warroad was 21-for-47 from the field, while Marshall County Central went 16-for-41, but the Nordics cashed in on 15 of 21 free throws, while Warroad had a 1-for-7 night at the line.

"The free throws were the big difference," acknowledged Marshall County Central coach Tom Mjelde. "It was a physical game. They fouled us, and we made the free throws."

The Nordics led 10-8 at the end of the first quarter, but fell behind 20-16 at halftime and trailed 34-31 through three quarters.

Sara Lokstad and Tricia Pederson both scored 14 points to lead the winners, with Darlene Nelson hitting two key third quarter 3-pointers to keep the Nordics in it. Tammy Knudson and Heather Arntzen scored 12 points apiece for Warroad, and Kendra Corneliusen contributed 11.

The rebounds were even at 26-apiece. The Nordics topped the turnover charts 21-16.

Marshall County Central is 12-4.

B/G-MR girls rally for 56-48 victory...

Gators follow script in win against Rams

Tom Neibauer knew Megan Taylor would get her points. But the Badger Greenbush-Middle River coach told his team if they could hold the rest of the Rams to 15 points, the Gators would win the Thursday night girls high school basketball match-up at Roseau.

Taylor scored 33 including 17 in the third quarter when the Rams overcame a 29-21 halftime deficit to go ahead 44-41. But four other Roseau scorers combined for only 15 points – matching Neibauer's pre-game goal – as the Gators won 56-48.

Krissi Super scored 19 first half points for the winners and kept Taylor in check with a strong one-on-one defensive effort. But she also ran into foul trouble and sat out much of the second half.

Super fouled out with 3:17 remaining and the Gators down by five. But Robyn Iverson hit a field goal and a 3-pointer. Sheree Nelson sank a long base line shot and Sara Melby was 6-for-6 at the line in the fourth quarter to pull out the win.

"Our seniors really came through for us at the end," pointed out Neibauer.

Iverson finished with 15 points and 9 rebounds, Melby handed out 10 assists and Heather Anderson contributed 8 rebounds.

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River was 19-for-43 from the field (44 percent) and a productive 17-for-24 at the free throw line, where Roseau was an even more impressive 19-for-22 – including a 12-for-12 night by Taylor.

The Gators are 12-4.

RLF 60-59 winner over RLCC boys in overtime game

Red Lake County Central boys high school basketball team has lost just three times in 14 starts this winter, with two of those setbacks coming at the hands of Red Lake Falls.

The latest match-up Tuesday resulted in a 60-59 overtime victory for the Eagles over the Mustangs in Red Lake Falls.

Red Lake County Central jumped out to a 20-10 first quarter lead and had a 33-24 halftime spread before Red Lake Falls closed the gap to 41-38 in the third quarter. It was tied 53-53 at the end of regulation time.

Red Lake Falls missed a shot as the fourth quarter ended, but the Eagles had a three-point edge as the overtime came to a close. The Mustangs' Bryce Huotari made both ends of a bonus free throw situation with no time showing to make it a one-point final.

Officiating wasn't a favorite subject of Red Lake County Central coach Todd Fore after the game. "We could have played better in the second half, but we were in deep foul trouble all night, and they (Eagles) didn't have any fouls," he explained.

Nathan Patnode led the winners with a game-high 20 points. Jon Hoefer contributed 10 points. Red Lake County Central double figure scorers included Paul Melby with 14 points, Aaron Rosten 13 and Aaron Chaput 10.

The Mustangs shot just 36 percent from the field for the night, a 27-for-74 showing that included an 0-for-11 effort from 3-point range – normally a Red Lake County Central strong suit. Red Lake Falls shot 40 percent from the floor, hitting 20 of 50 attempts.

Red Lake Falls went to the free throw line 24 times, making 13 of them, while Red Lake County Central was 5-for-7. The Mustangs beat the Eagles on the boards 45-30 and had just six of the game's 19 turnovers.

RLCC comeback falls short against Ponies

A fourth quarter Red Lake County Central comeback bid came up short Thursday as the Mustangs lost a 52-41 girls high school basketball game to Warren-Alvarado at Plummer.

The Ponies had quarter leads of 14-4, 25-14 and 41-20.

"We did a nice job coming back, but we dug ourselves too big of a hole," said Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto.

Angel Mickelson of Red Lake County Central and Tricia Filipi of Warren-Alvarado shared game-high scoring honors with 13 points each.

The Mustangs were 17-for-43 from the field (40 percent), but just 4-for-14 at the free throw line. The Ponies went 23-for-60 from the field (38 percent) and 6-for-13 at the line while coming up with a 28-24 rebound advantage.

Red Lake County Central is 6-10 for the year.

Thief River Falls girls drop 41-34 game to Pirates

Strong defense wasn't enough to compensate for a struggling offense as the Thief River Falls girls lost a late-reported (Jan. 29) Saturday matinee high school basketball game at Crookston 41-34.

"We played really good defense, very aggressive team defense," reported Thief River Falls coach Sally Wiltse. "We just can't score."

The Prowlers were just 14-for-53 from the field (26 percent) and 6-for-13 at the free throw line. The Pirates went 14-for-44 from the field (32 percent) and 12-for-19 at the line. Crookston had a 24-22 rebound edge. The game featured 60 turnovers – 31 for the Prowlers and 29 for the Pirates.

Thief River Falls lost starter Lisa Ulrich to a foot injury early in the game.

The loss dropped the Prowlers to 2-12.

Wolverines fall 72-37 to Tri-County

Goodridge/Grygla girls saw their record dip to 4-11 Thursday following a 72-37 high school basketball loss to Tri-County.

"We played hard, but we were just over-matched," said Goodridge/Grygla coach Mike Gast. "It's really frustrating to work that hard and still get beat that bad."

"They have a very good team," mentioned Gast. "They have a nice inside-outside combination – maybe the best I've seen this year."

Lakehead sets information meets in area

• 2 p.m. on February 16 a meeting will be held at the Gully Community Hall in Gully.

• 7 p.m. on February 16, a meeting will take place at the American Legion Club in Clearbrook.

In deciding whether to grant or deny the partial exemption, the EQB shall consider comments that are filed with the EQB, the record of the public information meetings, and the information contained in the application relevant to the criteria for partial exemption. Any person may file comments with the EQB stating reasons why the EQB should grant or deny the partial exemption. All comments should be submitted to the EQB by April 13, 1994. If the EQB grants the partial exemption application it must issue a pipeline routing permit. If the partial exemption is denied the applicant may request that the EQB continue processing its application under full pipeline route selection procedures.

According to the comments of B.F. MacNeill, president and chief executive officer for Lakehead Pipe Line Company, in the letter to unit holders, the Lakehead system carried approximately two thirds of total Western Canadian crude oil production to markets in the United States and Eastern Canada in 1992. The Lakehead System transported 35 per cent of all deliveries to the Chicago area, 75 per cent of all deliveries to Minneapolis-St. Paul, and virtually all deliveries to Ontario, Canada.

Net income for 1992 was $47 million, compared with a pro forma net income of $26.7 million for 1991. Operating revenue increased to $222.2 million from $202.3 million for 1991 pro forma.

Lakehead Pipe Line Company is proposing an expension to its existing crude oil pipeline system that passes through the counties of Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Polk and Clearwater. Six meetings have been scheduled by the Minnesota Environmental Quality Board to provide information and receive comments about the proposal. Pictured above, a Lakehead Pipe Line crew performs maintenance on one of its lines.

Sweetgall to talk walking

"Walking is the most natural, least threatening and safest weight-bearing form of exercise that there is," Sweetgall said in a telephone interview with the Northern Watch Thursday afternoon. "It burns the most calories and is the number one weight loss exercise. It can be done almost anywhere at almost any time, is non-competitive, requires little or no equipment and can be done in a social setting."

While research shows the need for people to stay active to maintain health, he said, 85 per cent of Americans today are relatively inactive.

When it was suggested that northern Minnesota winters leave something to be desired in incentive for outdoor walking, Sweetgall countered that the people of northwestern Minnesota are not 'weather wimps.' People should not use the fact that there may be 20 or 30 or 40 days a year when the wind chill is 20 degrees below zero or colder as an excuse for not walking the other 345 or 335 or 325 days, he said.

The most healthful time to walk outdoors in the winter months is during the mid-day hours, he said. In the summer the best times are in the morning and evening. He also pointed out that walking longer distances at a moderate pace is the best way to burn calories and lose weight. Shorter distances and a faster pace are better for stimulating the heart.

While walking is natural and most people can do it safely, Sweetgall said that people over the age of 35 or 40 who have had any personal or family history of heart problems would be well advised to have a medical check-up before starting any ambitious walking program.

We asked what could be done to make something as ordinary as walking more appealing. He said that some 75 million Americans think it is an enjoyable activity. "You should select an exercise or physical activity that you enjoy doing," he observed. "While walking you can visit with a friend, take in fresh air, improve your breathing and get a better idea of what your community looks like. And if you walk 20 miles a week you can burn up 2,000 calories."

Sweetgall said that he had been told people in the local arena walking program will make eight laps around the civic center to equal a mile of walking. Each lap would burn up the calories in two M&M candies, he said. It would take two laps to burn up the calories in a single potato chip.

If a person was to walk the equivalent of those eight laps each day, he or she would lose seven pounds of fat on an annual basis. If all 236 people in the arena walking program held to that regimen, they would lose a collective total of 1,652 pounds a year.

Keeping a record is essential for success in being able to continue a walking or other exercise program, Sweetgall said. People who start a walking program should write down what they did each day. It will help motivate them to continue the next day.

Sweetgall said he hopes to get in a half-hour of cross-country skiing while in the Thief River Falls area. He said he looks forward to meeting a lot of people at all of the programs that are scheduled including the arena walkers in the morning and the public at the evening session.

"And you can tell them," he added with a chuckle, "that they are guaranteed a one-pound weight loss when they attend.....if they want it."

The Pennington County Health Promotion Network was formed in 1991 to promote health and fitness to residents of Thief River Falls and the surrounding area. Representatives from Northwest Medical Center, Dakota Clinic-TRF, Arctco, Inc., Pennington County Extension Service, Northland Community College, Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce, Inter-County Nursing Service, the City of Thief River Falls, Pennington County Board of Commissioners and the Zehlians all meet to share ideas and bring projects such as this to reality.

The network has sponsored the KARE-11 health fair and Walk Pennington County in the past. Joining in co-sponsoring the Robert Sweetgall program are Arctco, Inc., Digi-Key, Northland Community College, the Thief River Falls Sports Boosters and School District 564.

Plummer school board to reinstate Lorenson

Negotiations instead of a hearing Tuesday at the Plummer municipal auditorium resulted in the planned reinstatement of Richard Lorenson as principal and superintendent by the board of School District 628. The board will take official action at its regular meeting Monday, February 14, and Lorenson will return to his position 30 school days following that meeting.

Lorenson had been under suspension with pay by the board since last fall when a student accused him of assault by striking him with his fist. The principal denied the accusation and Red Lake county officials could find no grounds to file charges.

When the board announced the suspension at the end of a regular meeting shortly after the alleged incident, Lorenson filed for arbitration through the Minnesota Association of Secondary School Principals. A hearing had been set for February 8 and 9 in Plummer with Judge Walter H. Mann of St. Paul agreed upon as the arbitrator.

The hearing was to have begun at 9 a.m. in the Plummer municipal building but was not convened until about noon as the attorneys for the principal and the board negotiated a settlement throughout the morning. About 50 people who had come to testify or simply attend the hearing awaited its start.

When Judge Mann convened the session about noon, he said it had been his first occasion to meet with the attorneys representing the parties and felt it necessary to review the charges. He stated the laws under which the action had been taken by the board and appealed by the principal. He also listed the attorneys as Mrs. Marie Skinner for the board of School District 628 and Roger Aronson for principal Lorenson.

Judge Mann called on Mrs. Skinner who announced that a tentative agreement had been reached and deferred to Aronson to present it. Aronson said he was selected because he has a louder voice. He prefaced summarizing the agreement by saying it is always preferable to settle a situation rather than litigating it. Aronson then outlined the points of settlement as follows:

(1) The school district is to send a letter (technically termed a Letter of Deficiency) to Mr. Lorenson, outlining what the board expects his conduct to be as a standard.

(2) Mr. Lorenson is to attend classes dealing with the disciplining of students.

(3) Mr. Lorenson is to prepare a letter to the students regarding the significance of their conduct.

(4) Mrs. Skinner and Mr. Aronson will meet with the school staff at some future time to discuss the use of physical force in discipline and dealing with students.

(5) Mr. Lorenson is to return to his position as superintendent and principal 30 days following the February 14 board meeting. During the interim he will no longer be on suspension but will be paid for use of accumulated leave. Also during those 30 days interim superintendent Bob Anderson will arrange to conclude his service.

(6) The settlement is agreed to be a win-win circumstance for both parties and a joint statement is to be issued by Mrs. Skinner and Aronson. (Mrs. Skinner said the joint statement would follow the school board meeting February 14.)

Following Aronson's summary of the agreement, Judge Mann said that he agreed it is better to bring the parties together rather than apart. He said he understood that the details were subject to board of

Jury finds Loeslie not guilty of charges

Tuesday, February 8 at 7:30 p.m. a jury of three women and nine men returned a verdict of not guilty on 21 counts of criminal sexual conduct filed against Don Loeslie of Warren. The verdict came after about three hours of deliberation and after several days of testimony in a Marshall county courtroom before Judge Dennis Murphy.

In an interview with the Northern Watch Wednesday, Loeslie said there are no winners in a deal like this.

This is the second time Loeslie has had to go through this type of trial. In 1991, he was acquitted of charges involving a minor boy. The current charges he was found not guilty of commiting, involved a daughter from the same family.

Loeslie said it was a very serious and hurtful thing and the whole family had been put through hell. But, he said he has sympathy for the child because he feels the child was made a pawn by an imperfect system and the parents.

To the parents of the juvenile, he said he would say that they need to get some help and say they are sorry.

To the two Bureau of Criminal Apprehension agents who investigated the allegations he has harsh words.

He said he feels they have done a great disservice to hard working law enforcement officials in Northwest Minnesota. He said he also believes their work was inadequate

These pennies didn't rain from heaven—at least not directly—but they accumulated at Lincoln high school this week during a Sno-Fest penny collection campaign. Lincoln student council members are shown with the bags, buckets and jars of pennies and other coins and paper currency collected during the event. The contest involved students donating pennies worth one point each to their class fund in an inter-class competition. However, students could also deposit silver coins or currency in the funds of other classes to deduct points earned by the penny donations. Student council members pictured (left to right) are, front row, Heidi Johnson, Danielle Goulet, Kent Larson, Angelique Goulet, Sarah Mugaas and Denae Dekkers; back row, Mandy Johnson, Myndy Olson, Jorden Goldesberry, Josh Clark and Dena McGeary and student council advisor Elaine Grovum. Funds collected were designated for Andrea Vigen, Lincoln student who is being treated for cancer.

Pop concert Tuesday

Winter Valentine Pop Concert will be held by Franklin middle school bands and two special music groups from the school Tuesday, February 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

Admission will be $2 for adults and students in grades 9-12 and $1 for students in kindergarten through eighth grade. Preschool children will be admitted free. Refreshments including cake, punch and coffee will be served by the Band Boosters in the cafeteria following the concert and all attending are invited.

Participating will be the sixth, seventh and eighth grade bands and "Morning Darkness" jazz band, with Bruce Felt and Mike Lehrer as directors, and the "Sunrise Singers" vocal group under the direction of Marcia Knuttila.

Student directors will lead their bands in the concert, including sixth graders Marissa Hanson, Rachel Harger and Jenny Klaven, seventh graders Matt Dyer, Leah Kenner and Kristine Koop and eighth graders Trish Anderson, Beth Olson and Stephanie Stanina.

All bands will be seated in the gymnasium at once so that the presentation will be uninterrupted by groups moving in and out of the gymnasium.

Directors Lehrer and Felt thank the Band Boosters members for serving the refreshments.

Felt and Lehrer added that all music to be performed at the concert will be of a light and popular nature. An example might be "The Blunderer," directed by eighth grader Stephanie Stanina. Its composer is listed in the concert program as Loosewig Von Beethoven.

Program will be as follows:

"Moonstone Rock" by Leland Forsblad, directed by Marissa Hanson; "Movin' Right Along" by Paul Williams and Kenny Ascher, directed by Matt Dyer; "Tarzan Boy" by Naimy Hackett and Maurizio Bassi, directed by Beth Olson; and "Parade of the Champions" by Philip Gordon, directed by Rachel Harger.

Also "I Will Always Love You" by Dolly Parton, directed by Leah Kenner; "The Blunderer" by Loosewig Von Beethoven, directed by Stephanie Stanina; "R.O.C.K. in the U.S.A." by John Mellencamp, directed by Jenny Klaven; and "Bourbon Street Barbeque" by John Edmonson, directed by Kristine Koop;

Also "Tears in Heaven" by Eric Clapton and Miguel A. Morejon, directed by Beth Olson; "Highlights from the Star Wars Saga" by John Williams, directed by Leah Kenner; and "The Hey Song" by Gary Glitter and Mike Leander, directed by Trish Anderson.

In deciding whether to grant or deny the partial exemption, the EQB shall consider comments that are filed with the EQB, the record of the public information meetings, and the information contained in the application relevant to the criteria for partial exemption. Any person may file comments with the EQB stating reasons why the EQB should grant or deny the partial exemption. All comments should be submitted to the EQB by April 13, 1994. If the EQB grants the partial exemption application it must issue a pipeline routing permit. If the partial exemption is denied the applicant may request that the EQB continue processing its application under full pipeline route selection procedures.

According to the comments of B.F. MacNeill, president and chief executive officer for Lakehead Pipe Line Company, in the letter to unit holders, the Lakehead system carried approximately two thirds of total Western Canadian crude oil production to markets in the United States and Eastern Canada in 1992. The Lakehead System transported 35 per cent of all deliveries to the Chicago area, 75 per cent of all deliveries to Minneapolis-St. Paul, and virtually all deliveries to Ontario, Canada.

Net income for 1992 was $47 million, compared with a pro forma net income of $26.7 million for 1991. Operating revenue increased to $222.2 million from $202.3 million for 1991 pro forma.

Lakehead Pipe Line Company is proposing an expansion to its existing crude oil pipeline system that passes through the counties of Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Polk and Clearwater. Six meetings have been scheduled by the Minnesota Environmental Quality Board to provide information and receive comments about the proposal. Sweetgall to talk walking

"Walking is the most natural, least threatening and safest weight-bearing form of exercise that there is," Sweetgall said in a telephone interview with the Northern Watch Thursday afternoon. "It burns the most calories and is the number one weight loss exercise. It can be done almost anywhere at almost any time, is non-competitive, requires little or no equipment and can be done in a social setting."

While research shows the need for people to stay active to maintain health, he said, 85 per cent of Americans today are relatively inactive.

When it was suggested that northern Minnesota winters leave something to be desired in incentive for outdoor walking, Sweetgall countered that the people of northwestern Minnesota are not "weather wimps." When Judge Mann convened the session about noon, he said it had been his first occasion to meet with the attorneys representing the parties and felt it necessary to review the charges. He stated the laws under which the action had been taken by the board and appealed by the principal. He also listed the attorneys as Mrs. Marie Skinner for the board of School District 628 and Roger Aronson for principal Lorenson.

Judge Mann called on Mrs. Skinner who announced that a tentative agreement had been reached and deferred to Aronson to present it. Aronson said he was selected because he has a louder voice. He prefaced summarizing the agreement by saying it is always preferable to settle a situation rather than litigating it. Aronson then outlined the points of settlement as follows:

(1) The school district is to send a letter (technically termed a Letter of Deficiency) to Mr. Lorenson, outlining what the board expects his conduct to be as a standard.

(2) Mr. Lorenson is to attend classes dealing with the disciplining of students.

(3) Mr. Lorenson is to prepare a letter to the students regarding the significance of their conduct.

(4) Mrs. Skinner and Mr. Aronson will meet with the school staff at some future time to discuss the use of physical force in discipline and dealing with students.

(5) Mr. Lorenson is to return to his position as superintendent and principal 30 days following the February 14 board meeting. During the interim he will no longer be on suspension but will be paid for use of accumulated leave. Also during those 30 days interim superintendent Bob Anderson will arrange to conclude his service.

(6) The settlement is agreed to be a win-win circumstance for both parties and a joint statement is to be issued by Mrs. Skinner and Aronson. (Mrs. Skinner said the joint statement would follow the school board meeting February 14.)

Following Aronson's summary of the agreement, Judge Mann said that he agreed it is better to bring the parties together rather than apart. He said he understood that the details were subject to board of

Jury finds Loeslie not guilty of charges

Tuesday, February 8 at 7:30 p.m. a jury of three women and nine men returned a verdict of not guilty on 21 counts of criminal sexual conduct filed against Don Loeslie of Warren. The verdict came after about three hours of deliberation and after several days of testimony in a Marshall county courtroom before Judge Dennis Murphy.

In an interview with the Northern Watch Wednesday, Loeslie said there are no winners in a deal like this.

This is the second time Loeslie has had to go through this type of trial. In 1991, he was acquitted of charges involving a minor boy. The current charges he was found not guilty of committing, involved a daughter from the same family.

Loeslie said it was a very serious and hurtful thing and the whole family had been put through hell. But, he said he has sympathy for the child because he feels the child was made a pawn by an imperfect system and the parents.

To the parents of the juvenile, he said he would say that they need to get some help and say they are sorry.

To the two Bureau of Criminal Apprehension agents who investigated the allegations he has harsh words.

He said he feels they have done a great disservice to hard working law enforcement officials in Northwest Minnesota. He said he also believes their work was inadequate

These pennies didn't rain from heaven—at least not directly—but they accumulated at Lincoln high school this week during a Sno-Fest penny collection campaign. Lincoln student council members are shown with the bags, buckets and jars of pennies and other coins and paper currency collected during the event. The contest involved students donating pennies worth one point each to their class fund in an inter-class competition. However, students could also deposit silver coins or currency in the funds of other classes to deduct points earned by the penny donations. Student council members pictured (left to right) are, front row, Heidi Johnson, Danielle Goulet, Kent Larson, Angelique Goulet, Sarah Mugaas and Danae Dekkers; back row, Mandy Johnson, Myndy Olson, Jordan Goldesberry, Josh Clark and Dana McGeary and student council advisor Elaina Grovum. Funds collected were designated for Andrea Vigen, Lincoln student who is being treated for cancer.

Open house was held for members of the Thief River Falls business community at Hertz Foods offices and warehouse Tuesday afternoon with coffee and cake served and tours conducted. Paul Nelson (left), chief executive officer of the Thief River Falls food wholesale cooperative, visited with Larry Swenson (center), a former member of the Hartz board from Park River, ND, and Mark Garardy, a long-time employee on the Hartz Foods staff.

Pop concert Tuesday

Winter Valentine Pop Concert will be held by Franklin middle school bands and two special music groups from the school Tuesday, February 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

Admission will be $2 for adults and students in grades 9-12 and $1 for students in kindergarten through eighth grade. Preschool children will be admitted free. Refreshments including cake, punch and coffee will be served by the Band Boosters in the cafeteria following the concert and all attending are invited.

Participating will be the sixth, seventh and eighth grade bands and "Morning Darkness" jazz band, with Bruce Felt and Mike Lehner as directors, and the "Sunrise Singers" vocal group under the direction of Marcia Knutson.

Student directors will lead their bands in the concert, including sixth graders Marissa Hanson, Rachel Harger and Jenny Klaven, seventh graders Matt Dyer, Leah Kenner and Kristine Koop and eighth graders Trish Anderson, Beth Olson and Stephanie Stunna.

All bands will be seated in the gymnasium at once so that the presentation will be uninterrupted by groups moving in and out of the gymnasium.

Directors Lehner and Felt thank the Band Boosters members for serving the refreshments.

Felt and Lehner added that all music to be performed at the concert will be of a light and popular nature. An example might be "The Blunderer," directed by eighth grader Stephanie Stunna. Its composer is listed in the concert program as Loosewig Von Beethoven.

Program will be as follows:

"Moonstone Rock" by Leland Forsblad, directed by Marissa Hanson; "Movin' Right Along" by Paul Williams and Kenny Ascher, directed by Matt Dyer; "Tarzan Boy" by Naimy Hackett and Maurizio Bassi, directed by Beth Olson and "Parade of the Champions" by Philip Gordon, directed by Rachel Harger.

Also "I Will Always Love You" by Dolly Parton, directed by Leah Kenner; "The Blunderer" by Loosewig Von Beethoven, directed by Stephanie Stunna; "R.O.C.K. in the U.S.A." by John Mellencamp, directed by Jenny Klaven; and "Bombon Street Barbeque" by John Edmondson, directed by Kristine Koop.

Also "Tears in Heaven" by Eric Clapton and Miguel A. Morejon, directed by Beth Olson; "Highlights from the Star Wars Saga" by John Williams, directed by Leah Kenner; and "The Hey Song" by Gary Glitter and Mike Leander, directed by Trish Anderson.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ERIC JOHN MELBY
Feb. 13, 1979 - Feb. 8 1993

How can it be a year since I last looked into your laughing eyes, and listened to the sound of your voice?

How did I survive without your hugs and hearing the words "I love You."

Your smiling face is lost from my world, you have left such a hole in my life.

Yet in my heart you will never be dead, you live in my being daily. My mind looks into your beautiful eyes and hears your voice so clearly.

You walk through my memories everyday - Eric I will always love you!

DOLLARS THAT LEAVE HOME ARE GONE FOREVER
Market analysts say that every dollar spent at home will circulate here from store A to appliance store B to food store C, and so on. Ultimately that dollar will leave, but not until it has been passed around locally.
Studies show that the average dollar is passed around at least five times before it leaves your community.

To The Editor:
I would love to support the area airline service as asked for in the article in the December 29 issue of The Times but I just cannot afford it.

A recent example is when my daughter flew here for Christmas from Washington, DC, the fare was $325 more to fly into Thief River Falls than Grand Forks. We rented a limo for $165 to pick her up and were still money ahead.

I have four people coming for a family event at the end of February, and again the price is prohibitive to fly into Thief River Falls. What's a person to do?

Sincerely,
Johnnie Martin
Middle River, MN

To The Editor:
I have before me a report from the American Legislative Exchange Council which states that there are currently 38 states under federal court order to release convicted felons because of overcrowding. It further states that the administration plans to cut $500 million in funding for prison construction.

Right now, when the whole country is filled with anger over the ever increasing violence on the streets of our major cities, isn't it time to address the real problem of criminal justice reform? I never went to college in England or anywhere else so would someone please write and answer this question for me: What good will it do to disarm the law abiding public and add thousands of police officers when the back doors to our prisons are wide open?

I was told not long ago that "we have it pretty good here in northern Minnesota, why don't you keep your mouth shut?" I guess I feel that if just one small child is tortured and killed by one of these early release predators that we have failed before God if we stand silently by.

In the December 15 issue of the Red Lake Falls Gazette a group of concerned citizens expressed their opposition to child pornography and all pornography in general. I have heard nothing more of support for these people. I find that odd because a recent article I wrote about timber wolf predation brought angry howls from clear across the state. Are the timber wolves more important than the dignity of our children?

You will hear it said time after time, let the government handle it. Hear this, and hear it plain: You are the government—and if you stand idly by the special interest groups will take over completely.

I dearly love my country but I see the beginning of some terrible moral decay.

Recently on display at the National Art Museum in Washington, DC, was a jar containing the cross of our Lord and filled with urine. Is this the kind of freedom that 50,000 young boys died for in Viet Nam? If you listen in prayerful silence, I believe you will hear their answer.

Sincerely,
Thomas Oscarson

Welfare.... "The Inbreeding Of Social Hopelessness"

It was back in 1965 that President Lyndon Johnson declared his "War on Poverty" and expanded a welfare system which may well have ruined more lives than it has enriched at a monetary cost almost beyond belief.

According to a Heritage Foundation policy study, "America today is spending seven times as much in constant dollars on means-tested welfare as it was when the War on Poverty started in 1965. Overall, U.S. taxpayers have spent five trillion dollars ($5,000,000,000,000) on welfare since LBJ launched his ambitious and generous program—an amount greater than the cost of defeating Germany and Japan in World War II."

The average U.S. household has already invested some $50,000 each in taxes fighting the War on Poverty. "But in many respects," the Heritage Foundation study states, "the fate of lower-income Americans has become worse, not better."

The key reason, the report indicates, is the collapse of the low-income family. One child in eight is being raised on welfare through the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program. Overall, 30 per cent of all children in the U.S. are now born to single mothers. The illegitimacy rate among low-income white high school dropouts is 48 per cent. Two out of three black children are born out of wedlock.

Many, if not most, single parent households are at least partially dependent on welfare, a dependency that tends to become self-perpetuating—especially when welfare benefits increase with each additional child. Zbigniew Brzezinski, National Security Advisor in the Carter Administration, calls it "the inbreeding of social hopelessness," which finds several million second and third-generation "addicts" to welfare.

Few societies are more generous than Americans in reaching out to help the unfortunate, but the present system has gone well past the bounds of what could be considered acceptable. Statistics show that children brought up in welfare-dependent environments are far more likely to fail in school, to drop out before high school graduation and to end up in lives of crime.

"The threat of violence that makes most Americans afraid to walk at night in most major U.S. cities is a direct result of family disintegration engendered by the welfare state," the Heritage Foundation study concludes.

Efforts have been made by state governments to stem the tide and break the chain of persistent welfare with varying degrees of success. Absent fathers are being pressed for child support. Able-bodied welfare recipients are being required to go to work or at least into job training programs. Some recipients are mandated community service or "workfare" to receive AFDC payments.

The recently announced plan of President Clinton calls for recipients to accept low-paying jobs if necessary by supplementing a family's income through tax breaks, food stamps, housing allowances and other benefits whenever a job paid less than welfare. It also would impose a two-year time limit on benefits. All this despite the fact that in his first budget proposal last year the President asked for $110 billion over five years in expanded welfare programs!

Feelings of most working Americans were probably summed up best by Congressman Newt Gingrich of Georgia when he said: "The welfare system has just plain failed and it's failed because it reduces human beings from citizens to clients, because it subjects them to rules.....that are anti-family, anti-work, anti-property and anti-opportunity. The challenge of our generation is to replace the welfare state."

Lip service from U.S. Senators and Representatives rings hollow, however, because there will be no reform unless they provide it. They are the only ones with the authority to effect change, and talk without action is unproductive.

A Thought For The Day

We came across this clipping recently and believe the thought is worth keeping in mind as a daily reminder:

Candle Dipping
by Clara Seit Thurston

A candle's but a simple thing;
It starts with just a bit of string.
Yet dipped and dipped with patient hand,
It gathers wax upon the strand
Until complete and snowy white,
It gives at last a lovely light.

Life seems so like that bit of string:
Each deed we do a simple thing;
Yet day by day if on life's strand
We work with patient heart and hand,
It gathers joy, makes dark days bright
And gives at last a lovely light.

LETTERS

To The Editor:
I've greatly enjoyed the editorials and letters to the editor published in The Watch. I've noticed it's been mighty quiet on pro-life issues lately, so I'm writing in on an issue of great interest and concern to your readers.

If President Clinton's health care proposal becomes law, pro-life citizens are going to have at least two major problems with it.

(1) All of us, regardless of our convictions, will be forced to pay for abortion on demand with out tax dollars and through compulsory insurance premiums. That sounds like an infringement of my First Amendment right to freedom of religion. My religious convictions prohibit me from supporting the taking of innocent human life.

(2) I believe that with the passage of this plan we will see the advent of involuntary euthanasia. This would occur through health care rationing brought on by strict price controls on insurance premiums which would force insurers to ration to cover costs.

The proposed law would in effect keep us from being able to purchase adequate coverage. It's a sneaky, hidden kind of rationing, but it will deny lifesaving care to those who need it most—premature babies, those with birth defects or disabilities, the elderly—anyone whose quality of life is deemed "inadequate."

The Clintons seem to believe that life isn't worth much in the first six months and too expensive to maintain in the last six months. Can we afford to allow this monstrous proposal to become law without raising our voices in opposition? I think not!

I invite other readers to join me in writing to our elected representatives to express opposition to these aspects of President Clinton's health care proposal. Write to Senators Dave Durenberger and Paul Wellstone at Senate Office Building, Washington, DC 20510 and Rep. Collin Peterson, House Office Building, Washington, DC 20515.

Sincerely,
Susan Helweg

FmHA suggests applying early for financing

Recovery relief from the 1993 natural disaster is available through local lenders and the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), according to David W. Altenbernd, Pennington, east Marshall and northwest Beltrami county FmHA supervisor. He urges agricultural operators to apply early for anticipated financing needs.

"FmHA is anticipating a high volume of loan requests due to agricultural conditions in Pennington, east Marshall and northwest Beltrami counties," Altenbernd said. "To assist in timely processing of loan requests, interested farmers should contact the FmHA office and apply for assistance as soon as possible."

He pointed out that the adverse effects of the cold and wet conditions of last season are widespread. "The FmHA emergency loan program will be in demand, but we are also expecting greater use of our regular operating loan program," he said. "Farmers need to check first with their local commercial lender before seeking the direct assistance of the FmHA."

If conventional credit is unavailable, FmHA can assist many operators in restoring property and paying production expenses, Altenbernd said. The key to stabilizing a farm operation this year through financial assistance from your bank or through the FmHA is to apply as early as possible for credit.

For additional information contact Altenbernd at 1305 North Dale Street in Thief River Falls.

Jury finds Loeslie not guilty of charges and biased.

During court testimony, Loeslie said, one of the agents said he would not meet with Loeslie at the Marshall county sheriff's department because he was concerned for his safety. Loeslie said that's an insult to every sheriff's office in Northwestern Minnesota. BCA agents, he said, should be there to work with, not against law enforcement officials.

Loeslie also found fault with the conduct and quality of work of other professionals involved in the investigation, but he said he's not angry with anyone.

He especially wanted to make it clear that he was not against child protection laws. He believes, however, that as a person who has gone through this stressful ordeal twice, he has earned the right to ask some questions that need to be answered. Most of those questions deal with a system that, he believes needs fixing. To Loeslie, investigation of child abuse allegations has become an industry that uses children and abuses those accused of the crime.

Loeslie was represented in court by Marc Kurzman of Kurzman, Grant and Ojala law offices in Minneapolis.

The case was prosecuted by Wayne Swanson, Polk county attorney. The Marshall county prosecutor did not wish to prosecute because of a conflict of interest. On Thursday, Swanson said only that "the jury has spoken".

Plummer school board to reinstate Lorenson education approval but that it was the board's intent to enter into the agreement.

Judge Mann made it clear that the settlement would not be final until approved by the board of education and that the appeal would still be subject to arbitration if the board's decision is not acceptable.

He also commended the parties and their attorneys for resolving the issue short of the arbitration hearing. Having been a judge in a small community for many years, he said, he was aware of the impact of such a disagreement on the people.

Prior to suspending the hearing pending adoption of an acceptable settlement by the board of education, Judge Mann noted that he had not discussed and was not aware of what the evidence to be presented at the hearing might have been. Therefore he would be able to preside at a future hearing if necessary should an acceptable official settlement not be reached.

Lorenson told the Northern Watch following the settlement announcement that he hoped the community and all parties involved would be able to forgive and forget. He quoted attorney Aronson who said that school boards are comprised of lay people trying to do their best and it is easy for them to make bad decisions when they receive bad advice.

Fire insurance rates may drop with new ISO classification

Thief River Falls' fire classification has improved which could mean better insurance rates for some downtown businesses.

Fire Chief Dave Bjorkman planned to deliver to the good news to the Thief River Falls City Council Tuesday night. Bjorkman explained that the Insurance Services Offices (ISO) periodically checks the fire protection capacity of a community and then gives it a rating of between one and nine, with one being the best. The last ISO inspection in Thief River Falls was conducted 15 years ago and the city's rating dropped from seven to six. With the last inspection, the city's overall rating dropped from six to five.

According to a letter from a field representative from ISO Commercial Risk Services, Inc., "The change from six to five does not affect rates for sprinklered properties or residential occupancies insured under homeowners type policies and some other special schedule rated property. The change will affect typical mercantile properties to a degree depending upon the type of building construction, the hazard of occupancy and other rating factors. The overall effect is usually about minus three per cent for wood frame buildings, minus five per cent for masonry buildings and minus one per cent for fire-resistive buildings. However, variations in construction, occupancy and private protection can result in increases or decreases from this average."

The representative further added that, "The above estimates apply only for insurance companies using ISO rates. However, numerous insurance companies use other than ISO rates so that the effect of the change in class may be different for their policy holders.

"The city classification applies to properties with a needed fire flow of 3,500 gallons per minute or less. The private and public protection at properties with large needed fire flows are individually evaluated, and may vary from the city classification."

The survey conducted by Commercial Risk Services was not conducted for property loss prevention or life safety purposes and no life safety or property loss prevention recommendations were made. Bjorkman said 10 per cent of the rating was based on receiving and handling fire alarms, 50 per cent on the fire department, which includes tests of pumpers, training records, equipment on pumpers and number of people on the fire department. Forty-per cent of the survey is based on water supply, which includes the size of watermains, number of hydrants, how big the water towers are and how much water can be stored.

Bjorkman was pleased with the rating. Nobody in Minnesota, he said, has less than a rating of three. He said the only way the city's rating can now improve would be to add more personnel, and more expensive equipment, such as a ladder truck and more engine companies.

Wrestling dual...

Lumberjacks rack up 58-9 win over TRF

Only two Prowlers – brothers Luke and John Davis – came up with wins Thursday as Thief River Falls closed out its 1993-94 home schedule with a 58-9 high school wrestling loss at the hands of Bemidji.

Thief River Falls is 4-13 in dual meet competition. The Prowlers will finish the regular season at Moorhead today (Saturday) with a 12-noon match. Individual portion of the Section 8AA tournament will be held Feb. 18-19 at St. Cloud Apollo.

"Bemidji is tough," said Thief River Falls coach John Anderson. "We knew that. They have six seniors, and two of their younger kids are really good. We're young. We have one senior, and some of our juniors haven't been in it that long. But nobody quit. We just got out-techniqued."

Luke Davis, a freshman wrestling at 135 pounds, decisioned Pat Crompton 9-6 for the Prowlers' first points of the night, and John Davis, a junior wrestling at 171, pinned Josh Wells at the one-minute mark to complete the Thief River Falls scoring.

Being aggressive was the key to the Davis wins, noted Anderson. "Luke's win was a little surprising because he was wrestling a senior," he said, "but when he's aggressive, he's effective. John went after his guy. He can be as good as he wants to be. When he sits back he gets in trouble. But when he goes after people he's tough."

The Prowlers gave up forfeit points at 112 because of an injury to Dusty Eddleman.

Bemidji 58, TRF 9

103 - Mark Gunderson (Bemidji) dec. Brian Unbeehaun 3-10. 112 - Dan Gunderson (Bemidji) by forfeit. 119 - Nicky Goodwin (Bemidji) pinned Billy Fogarty 4:46. 125 - Joe Crompton (Bemidji) dec. Philip Nelson 14-2. 130 - Dusty Fisher (Bemidji) pinned Sam Lane 1:03. 135 - Luke Davis (TRF) dec. Pat Crompton 9-6. 140 - Troy Newby (Bemidji) pinned Jon Parish 3:17. 145 - Jason Richardson (Bemidji) pinned Kyle Nelson 3:26. 152 - Ben Stowe (Bemidji) dec. Steve Bursile 16-4. 160 - Keith Willard (Bemidji) pinned Jason Homme :54. 171 - John Davis (TRF) pinned Josh Wells 1:00. 189 - Shawn Hamilton (Bemidji) dec. Kyle Miller 9-3. 275 - Josh Schmitt (Bemidji) pinned Matt Lawrence 3:24

Only senior in the Thief River Falls line-up for Thursday's 1993-94 home wrestling finale against Bemidji was Jon Parish. He was having trouble getting out of the grasp of the Lumberjacks' Troy Newby at 140 pounds. Newby got the pin and Bemidji won 58-9.

TRF 4-3 overtime winner at Bemidji

Bemidji and Thief River Falls have both struggled to come up with wins this year, and Tuesday's high school hockey match-up at the John Glass Fieldhouse on the Bemidji State University campus reflected the fact the Lumberjacks and Prowlers brought a combined 10-28 record into the game.

Although they both had their moments – Thief River Falls built a 3-0 lead and Bemidji overcame the three-goal deficit – neither side played championship-caliber hockey. But it was even. A winner didn't emerge until the puck popped free in front of the Bemidji net and Thief River Falls sophomore Aaron Ehrenstrom knocked it past goalie John Imsande 3:47 into an eight-minute sudden-death overtime to give the Prowlers a 4-3 victory.

It was the Prowlers' third win in five overtime games this winter, putting them at 7-13. The Lumberjacks, who won the first meeting between the long-time rivals 4-2 back on Dec. 2, fell to 4-16.

"It didn't seem like either team really wanted to win," said Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo. "There's a lot of frustration on both sides. We were just fortunate they didn't put it away."

Thief River Falls started with a 2-0 first period lead as Jeff Twomey whipped a shoulder-high power play wrist shot by Imsande at 6:37 and Brent Kleinvachter's low slap shot from the point found the net at 11:20.

Marc Seaverson swatted in a puck that was rolling in front of the Bemidji net two minutes into the second period for a 3-0 cushion.

Bemidji's Shawn Winkler batted in a loose puck to make it 3-1 at 12:33, but it was still a two-goal spread heading into the final minutes of the third period.

Two goals in 76 seconds changed that. Steve Erickson's power play rebound goal at 12:48 was promptly followed by the equalizer at 13:31 when the Prowlers had trouble clearing the zone and Luke Whiting beat Thief River Falls goalie Eric Dowers with an open straightaway shot.

It finally ended on Ehrenstrom's goal near the midway mark of overtime, giving the Prowlers, who beat Alexandria 6-3 the previous Saturday, back-to-back wins for just the second time this season.

Dowers had a 38-save night; Imsande stopped 22 shots.

Seaverson and Twomey both had two assists to go along with their goals, and Chiodo was complimentary about the play of their line that also includes Tim Barry. "I thought Seaverson's line had a nice hockey game," he said. "Some others played well, too, but a lot of times we didn't seem to have any zip."

The Prowlers, who had a Friday assignment at Fergus Falls, will close out their 1993-94 regular season schedule at Detroit Lakes Tuesday.

Pioneers' balance prevails

■ Northland men knock off UMC 87-77

Balance won out over outstanding individual performances Tuesday as the Northland Community College men's basketball team defeated the University of Minnesota-Crookston 87-77 in Northwest Division basketball in Thief River Falls.

The Trojans' Dan Phillips (32) and Donovan Quam (30) combined for 62 points, but their teammates contributed just 15 more to the UMC total. The Pioneers' offense, featuring four double figure scorers, was more spread out as Scott Burton netted 20 points, Chad Kujava 17, Ryan Rislov 14, and Demond Watson 12.

"We knew Phillips (Langdon, ND) and Quam (Goodridge) were very good ball players," said Northland coach Mark Dannhoff. "We knew they would get their points. But we figured if we could stop the rest of them, we'd be okay."

Northland took control when Rislov, a freshman from Badger, hit 3-point shots on three consecutive first half trips down the court. The Pioneers led 46-37 at halftime, and kept UMC at bay through the second half.

"I thought it was our best defensive game all year," said Dannhoff. "We spent a lot of time working on defense in practice during the week, and it paid off."

Northland struggled through a 12-for-23 night at the free throw line, where UMC went 15-for-19, but the Pioneers made up for it by connecting 13 times from 3-point range. The Trojans came up with only four treys.

The win put the Pioneers at 7-12 for the year and 4-3 in the Minnesota Community College Conference, where they are a game up on Brainerd and two full games ahead of UMC in the race for the second and final MCCC state tournament berth from the Northwest Division. Fergus Falls has a lock on the divisional title.

Northland will finish the regular season with a second swing through the Northwest Division, beginning today (Saturday) with a 2 p.m. test at Brainerd. The Pioneers host Fergus Falls Monday and end the schedule at UMC Thursday in 8 p.m. games.

Moorhead is 90-59 winner against TRF

Moorhead was a 90-59 winner over Thief River Falls Tuesday in North Sub-Section 8AA boys high school basketball.

With the Prowlers missing a half-dozen first quarter lay-ups, the Spuds ran up a 23-8 lead and never looked back. It was 45-23 at halftime 68-37 through three quarters.

"We missed some easy shots early on," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke. "We broke their press, but we didn't finish. It makes it that much harder to stay with somebody when you miss those kinds of shots."

It was the seventh straight loss for the Prowlers, dropping them to 6-9.

"They have a good team – the best we've faced this year," said Brekke.

Sean Greenwaldt led the winners with 23 points, while Steve Meyer had 18 and Ryan Zimmerman 12. Eric Bjorgaard paced the host Prowlers with 17 points. Teammate Kyle Sanden netted 13.

Thief River Falls shot 47 percent from the field (24/51) and was 7-for-15 at the free throw line, but the Prowlers were out-rebounded to the tune of 50-26 and they had 28 of the game's 38 turnovers. The Spuds used their size (four starters going 6-5 and the fifth checking in at 6-2) to get 28 of those rebounds on the offensive boards.

"They're big, but we're just not playing very good defense right now," said Brekke. "They were obviously a lot stronger then we were around the basket."

With those rebounds, Moorhead was able to put up 87 shots, hitting 37 of them (43 percent). The Spuds also cashed in on 13 of 18 free throws.

NCC women beat UMC 70-64

A strong second half carried the Northland Community College women's basketball team to a 70-64 win over rival University of Minnesota-Crookston Tuesday in Thief River Falls.

The Pioneers saw an early 12-1 lead turn into a 37-34 halftime deficit. But they took it to the Trojans in the second half to open up a two-game lead over both UMC and Brainerd in a bid for the second and final Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament berth from the Northwest Division. Fergus Falls has a near-lock on first place.

"It was the best second half we've played all year," pointed out Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "We came out with a lot of intensity and kept it up. We played real good, solid basketball the last 20 minutes."

Holly Gram and Fay Cassavant scored 18 points apiece for the winners, with Kelli Kronschnabel netting 10. Danielle Prussia and Tricia Swenson had 15-point games for UMC, with Chrissy Nettum contributing 13.

Northland went 28-for-65 from the field (43 percent) and 14-for-23 at the free throw line. UMC made 12 of 17 free throws.

The Pioneers are 5-3 in the MCCC and 8-11 overall heading into a 12-noon game today (Saturday) at Brainerd. Northland beat the Raiders in Thief River Falls 86-75 in overtime Feb. 1.

Northland closes out its regular season next week by hosting Fergus Falls Monday, then playing at UMC Thursday in a pair of 6 p.m. starts.

Strong start carries Huskies past RLCC

Goodridge struck early and was rewarded with a 65-50 boys high school basketball win over Red Lake County Central Tuesday.

The Huskies, who had a seven-game winning streak snapped in a 73-63 Friday loss to Climax/Fisher, started with a 17-11 first quarter lead, opened up a 32-18 halftime spread and maintained a 46-32 third quarter gap.

"We came ready to go," said Goodridge coach John Rahn. "We ran our offense, and our defense did a nice job. It was a real nice win for us."

Brady Wiseth scored 16 points, Jason Kotrba 13 and Eldon Quam 10 in a balanced Goodridge attack. Bryce Huotari scored a game-high 18 points for Red Lake County Central, but he was the Huskies' only double figure scorer.

Goodridge was 25-for-52 from the field (48 percent) and 11-for-17 at the free throw line, including a 6-for-8 fourth quarter to thwart any comeback bid by the visitors. Red Lake County Central had a tough shooting night, going 15-for-54 from the floor (28 percent) and 18-for-32 at the line. The Huskies out-rebounded the Mustangs 38-30.

Thief River Falls girls lose to Detroit Lakes 58-50...

Rally falls short against Lakers

Detroit Lakes lost most of a 30-point lead, but managed to hang on for a 58-50 North Sub-Section 8AA girls high school basketball win over Thief River Falls Tuesday.

The Lakers had a 16-6 first quarter advantage and a 39-16 halftime cushion before the visiting Prowlers began their second half comeback. It was 46-36 through three quarters and the spread was just five points early in the final period before the rally ran out of steam.

"We could not hit a thing in the first half," explained Thief River Falls coach Sally Wiltse. "They played really tough defense on us, and we hurried everything. It was not pretty. The kids worked hard, but we just weren't going anywhere."

A second half Thief River Falls full-court press took its toll on Detroit Lakes and steadily reduced the scoreboard deficit. "We knocked the wind right out of them," said Wiltse. "We really had some momentum going."

But early foul trouble finally caught up with Thief River Falls guard Toni Chiodo, who keyed the second half comeback with her strong defensive play. She fouled out with 7:10 left and the Prowlers' rally was cut short.

"Our second half was so good," noted Wiltse. "For us to come back like that was really great."

Lori DeLap scored a game-high 21 points for the Prowlers, but she was their only double figure producer. Three Lakers hit double digits, led by Lisa Althoff with 17 points.

Thief River Falls wound up shooting 27 percent from the field for the night (16/59). Detroit Lakes shot 40 percent (23/58).

The game, which featured 55 free throws and 55 turnovers, wasn't an artistic success, admitted Wiltse. The Prowlers were 16-for-32 at the line and turned it over 28 times. The Lakers made 12 of 23 free throws and had 27 turnovers.

Results left Prowlers 2-14, while the Lakers went to 9-5.

Outside shooting leads to MCC win

Long-range shooting touch came back for Marshall County Central Tuesday as the Nordics bounced back from a 59-56 Monday overtime loss to Badger/Greenbush-Middle River with a 69-53 boys high school basketball win over Tri-County at Newfolden.

The Nordics were just 5-for-25 from 3-point range in the defeat at the hands of the rival Gators, but they made 9 of 20 treys vs. the Wildcats.

"We didn't score as well with our inside people like we have, but our perimeter people did a nice job," noted Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland. "They hit the three's, and they did a good job penetrating. Overall, it was a very good game for us."

The Nordics had quarter leads of 19-10, 38-20 and 58-36.

Brandon Borg led the winners with a 16-point effort, while Jake Rantanen and Trevor Magner both had 12 and Kent Rokke scored 11. Brian Nelson was the lone Tri-County scorer in double figures, finishing with 14 points.

Marshall County Central was 28-for-68 from the field (41 percent) and 4-for-9 at the free throw line. Tri-County went 23-for-60 from the field (38 percent) and 3-for-5 at the line. The Nordics finished with a 42-32 rebound advantage. The Wildcats had more turnovers, 17-11.

Poor shooting costs RLCC

■ Norman County West girls beat Mustangs

Red Lake County Central shot 22 percent against a good Norman County West team Tuesday and paid the price – a 68-41 girls high school basketball loss at Oklee.

The underdog Mustangs had a 13-11 first quarter lead, but trailed 27-18 at halftime and faced a 53-28 third quarter deficit.

"We had a real nice first quarter, but you can't shoot 22 percent and expect to win," said Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto.

The Mustangs were 15-for-67 from the field and 10-for-21 at the free throw line. Norman County West was 26-for-65 from the field (40 percent) and 15-for-26 at the line while out-rebounding Red Lake County Central 42-35.

Meckenzie Malwitz led the Mustangs with 16 points. Holly Jacobson had a 20-point game to pace the winners.

Eagles lose to Bears

Poor shooting did in Grygla-Gatzke Tuesday as the Eagles lost a 64-57 boys high school basketball game to Lake of the Woods.

Dropping to 8-10 for the year, the Eagles shot 38 percent from the field (23/60) and made just 9 of 23 free throws.

Meanwhile, the visiting Bears shot 53 percent from the field (25/47) and went 11-for-19 at the free throw line.

"It was very frustrating," said Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson. "It wasn't for lack of effort. We worked hard, got the ball inside and got lots of good shots. But you have to connect on those opportunities."

The misses at the free throw line hurt, too, especially considering the fact a number of them were the front end of bonus situations, pointed out Johnson.

Lake of the Woods had quarter leads of 19-13, 31-22 and 43-33.

Jeremy Verbout scored 19 points and Mike Jelle had 17 to lead the Eagles. Joe Dobransky had a 32-point night for the Bears, with Darren Mans contributing 13.

Prowlers swim in unique team dual Six-Team Smash

Competitors became teammates Tuesday in an unusual boys high school swimming meet at Crookston.

The 'Six-Team Smash' was scored as a dual as Bemidji, Park Rapids Area and a Bagley/Fosston cooperative teamed up for a 715-662 victory over a unit that featured Thief River Falls, Moorhead and a Crookston/Fertile-Beltrami cooperative.

"It was a fun meet," said Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken. "I think the kids had a lot of fun with it. It gave them an opportunity to swim with the people they normally compete against."

Patriots rally for win over RLCC girls

Red Lake County Central saw an 18-point second quarter lead disappear Thursday as the Mustangs lost a 53-50 girls high school basketball game to Win-E-Mac.

The visitors had a 14-6 first quarter lead and promptly out-scored the Patriots 10-0 at the start of the second quarter as the gap widened to 24-6.

But a half-court Win-E-Mac trap that Red Lake County Central handled earlier began to take its toll as the Patriots pulled within 29-25 at intermission. The Mustangs trailed 40-39 at the end of the third quarter.

"I guess we couldn't stand prosperity," offered Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto.

Farrah Brantl and Meckenzie Malwitz scored 17 points each to lead the Mustangs. Emily Hegg had a 19-point game to pace the Patriots.

Red Lake County Central was 20-for-61 from the field (33 percent) and struggled through a 9-for-19 night at the free throw line. Win-E-Mac went 23-for-66 from the floor (35 percent) and 6-for-11 at the line. The winners had a 36-31 rebound edge.

Goodridge/Grygla wins 58-51 at RLF

Shooting was not the strong part of the Goodridge/Grygla game earlier this year, but the revitalized Wolverines offense turned in a 55 percent shooting night Thursday en route to a 58-51 girls high school basketball win at Red Lake Falls.

The victory ended a five-game losing streak for the 5-12 Wolverines, but it was their second strong outing of the week – following a 55-53 overtime loss at Roseau Monday.

"It was a good game for us," said Goodridge/Grygla coach Mike Gast. "We're playing pretty well right now. We've been more patient on offense."

Leading the Wolverines were Deanna Kotrba with 15 points and 8 rebounds, Melissa Bernstein with 14 points and 12 rebounds, and Brandi Stratton with 12 points and 11 rebounds.

Shelly Audette and Amy Dahle both scored 11 points to lead Red Lake Falls.

The Wolverines were 24-for-44 from the field and 9-for-17 at the free throw line. Red Lake Falls went 21-for-71 from the field (30 percent) and 4-for-9 at the line. The Wolverines out-rebounded the Eagles 38-25.

B/G-MR girls stretch winning streak to 11

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River girls extended their winning streak to 11 games Thursday with a 64-55 high school basketball win over Kittson Central in Greenbush.

Jessica Borgen was battling illness, but still led the Gators with a 23-point, 8-rebound game. She scored 18 of her points in the second half. Krissi Super scored 16 points and pulled down 13 rebounds, while Robyn Iverson contributed 10 points as Badger/Greenbush-Middle River improved to 15-4.

Nicole Albrecht and Krista Bowman had 16 points each for the Wolfpack.

The Gators had quarter leads of 13-10, 28-20 and 44-38.

"We played some decent basketball," said Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Tom Neibauer. "We missed a lot of shots, but it was by far the best game we've ever played on the offensive boards (23 of them)."

The winners were 22-for-62 from the field (35 percent) and had a busy 19-for-28 night at the free throw line, even though Neibauer said many fouls weren't called. Kittson Central made 10 of 14 free throws.

Roseau library seeks writing for anthology

Anyone in Roseau county who has an original story, essay, poem or even a well written paragraph to share with the public is urged to submit it for consideration to be published in a collection of creative writing to be published in late 1994 for sale in the 1995 centennial year.

Written material should be typed and double-spaced. Original art work and photographs will also be considered for publication if they will reproduce well in black and white. A brochure of guidelines and deadlines is available at the Roseau Public Library and lists the many forms of prose and poetry desired for the book.

The book is a project of the Roseau Area Writers' Workshop (RAWW) which wants to make it representative of the writing done throughout the county in each of the 10 decades making up the 100-year history. Typical columns and significant news stories from various county newspapers are welcome.

Writers need not currently live in Roseau county but should have lived there at one time. Work of writers who never lived in the county may be considered if their work relates to the county in some way, such as a short story with a setting in the county.

Excerpts from journals, diaries and letters that reveal how people felt about historical events or about the experiences of daily life could be of great interest, according to Annette Hermansen of the library staff. Short anecdotes, incidents or memories may be developed and short biographical sketches are also welcome. Excerpts from novels or short published pieces may be used if copyright permission can be received.

Only black and white art can be considered due to the expense of color printing. The planning committee hopes that samples of the work of many area artists can be included. Media most likely to qualify are pen and ink, scratch art, photography and possibly pencil if reproduction quality will be good. Visual art submitted should be no larger than 7x10 inches.

Writers who submit manuscripts may be asked to revise (shorten, expand or polish) a particular piece if it is selected for inclusion. An editorial/selection committee will begin work as manuscripts appear at the Roseau Public Library. Final quality of writing is very important, but writers who feel inexperienced are welcome to bring "rough" manuscripts to any session of the Roseau Area Writers' Workshop at the Roseau library on the second Thursday of each month. If the writer desires, the members will make suggestions for improving either prose or poetry.

Deadline for the first round of manuscripts is March 1. Second round deadline is May 1.

Although not a competition, there is no guarantee that every manuscripts will be included as the number of pages is limited. If two or more writers submit items about the same incident, the quality of writing as well as date of submission will be considered. In addition to including as many different writers as possible, the selection committee will aim for variety in subjects, literary forms and time periods.

Manuscripts will not be returned unless a self-addressed stamped envelope is included.

To distribute commodities in E. Marshall

Surplus commodities will be distributed by Northwest Community Action, Inc., of Badger in four eastern Marshall county communities the week of February 21.

USDA products expected to be available for distribution on a first-come, first-served basis will be butter, orange juice, raisins, rice, canned pork, tuna and dehydrated potatoes.

Distribution schedule will be as follows: Tuesday, February 22—Strandquist city hall from 1 to 3 p.m. and Middle River senior center from 3 to 4 p.m.; and Wednesday, February 23—Grygla community center from 10 to 11 a.m. and Gatzke senior center from 10 to 11:30 a.m.

Beltrami county residents who live in the Grygla area may pick up their commodities at the Grygla community center. Holt area residents can pick up their commodities in Middle River. Deliveries to the homebound will be made on request. For additional information call 528-3258.

Households eligible to receive commodities are those who participate in food stamp, AFDC, SSI, GA, WIC or Fuel Assistance programs, or if their gross income is at or below the guidelines of $12,895 for a one-person household, $17,446 for a two-person household or an additional $4,551 for each additional member of the household.

Area counties eligible for special loans

Several area counties are among 14 in Minnesota named by U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Mike Espy as eligible for Farmers Home Administration emergency loans due to continuous and heavy rainfall, flooding, high winds, hail, cool temperatures and weather-related diseases which were experienced from May 1 through November 15, 1993.

On January 4, three counties were named as primary disaster areas—Pennington, Dodge and Fillmore. Eleven other counties have now been named because they are contiguous to the primary counties. They include Beltrami, Clearwater, Freeborn, Goodhue, Mower, Houston, Marshall, Olmsted, Rice, Steele and Winona.

Farmers in all 14 counties have eight months to apply for the loans to help cover part of their actual losses, according to David W. Altenbernd, Pennington county FmHA supervisor.

To be eligible, they must have sustained a 30 per cent loss of normal production, be able to repay the loan and any other loans, be unable to get credit elsewhere and have adequate security, Altenbernd said.

Expansion at Polaris could mean an additional 200 jobs

According to the Roseau Times-Region, Polaris Industries has announced plans to spend from $7 to $10 million on plant improvements and additions in 1994 and 1995. The multi-million dollar expansion could mean as many as 200 people will join the work force at the Roseau-based snowmobile and all-terrain manufacturing company.

According to the news article, a number of changes at the plant have already taken place and more are expected. One of the most visible changes is in the welding department.

Robot welders were moved into a more centralized location, welding cells have been placed in sequence, and lighting has been improved. An additional three robotic welders will be added to the five they already have.

About a year ago, Polaris moved into a new warehouse, but in a few months it was too small. Last week, Polaris started to move into another warehouse addition, which will give the company a third more space than it had a few weeks ago.

A new shipping facility is under construction. An addition is also going into Polaris' plastic paint department, which will include three receiving doors.

One of Polaris' largest investments will go into a new environmentally friendly metal paint system. The new system will be more effective and generate less waste.

Innovations in small grains at Crookston SGI

Latest in innovative products, equipment and production information will be showcased at the 1994 Small Grains Institute (SGI) to be held March 2 and 3 at the Red River Valley Shows building in Crookston.

The institute will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days and there is no admission charge. All growers of small grains are invited to attend.

More than 100 exhibits dealing exclusively with small grains equipment, products and services will cover some 80,000 square feet of space at the institute.

The two-day program will also feature production and policy information important to small grain producers, according to Ray Thompson, Marshall county extension educator and president of the institute's planning committee.

Tom Gilding, director of environmental affairs with the National Ag Chemical Association, will kick off the SGI program at 11 a.m. Wednesday, March 2, by presenting his views of the environmental challenges facing agriculture relating to pesticide use.

On Wednesday afternoon, Marcia McMullen, North Dakota State University plant pathologist, will talk with growers about what was learned about head scab in 1993, what factors favor head scab development, variety response to head scab and what management steps can be taken to reduce head scab in 1994.

Wednesday's program will also include a discussion of the future goals of the wheat breeding program, featuring NDSU wheat breeder Richard Froberg, and opportunities in oat production, featuring Allan Woodbury of Woody's Performance Horse Feed Products and Earl Boos of Hay & Straw. A discussion of trade issues will also be featured as part of Wednesday's program.

Keynoting the program on Thursday, March 3, will be John Soderholm of RDI Technologies and Gary Wagner, a small grain grower from Crookston. They will talk about small grain production in the computer age with an in-depth look at the new global positioning system technology available to growers.

Thursday's program will also feature a series of small grains demonstrations including seeding equipment, yield and seeding depth; grain drying; and a table top spray drift demonstration.

Polaris ends 1993 with record sales

Record 1993 fourth quarter and year-end sales and earnings have been reported by Polaris Industries L.P., topping the half-billion dollar mark in total annual sales for the first time in the company's history.

Polaris reported year-end sales of $528,011,000—up 38 per cent from 1992. Net income for the year was $45,813,000 or $2.25 per unit, a 32 per cent increase over 1992 net income of $34,701,000 or $1.73 per unit.

Sales for the fourth quarter ended Dec. 31, 1993, were $142,858,000, up 34 per cent from 1992 sales of $106,576,000 in the fourth quarter of 1992. Net income of $14,371,000 or 71 cents per unit increased 36 per cent over the same period last year. Per-unit totals are restated to show the effect of the two-for-one split announced in August of 1993.

At year end the company had cash and cash equivalents of $33,798,000, compared with $19,094,000 for the prior year and continues to have no short-term nor long-term debt. Year-end cash flows from operating activities also remained extremely strong, increasing 43 per cent to $79,323,000 or $3.90 per unit in 1993, compared to $55,316,000 or $2.76 per unit in 1992.

Snowmobile sales increased more than 25 per cent over 1992. ATV sales increased 49 per cent and personal watercraft sales—in the second year of production—increased 80 per cent over 1992. Polaris ATV and PWC products and related parts and accessories contribute over 38 per cent of total sales. The company ended the year with record low field inventories for all three of its product lines.

In 1993 Polaris brought on-line a new assembly line at its Roseau manufacturing facility. The new dedicated ATV line gives the company the resources to serve rapidly-growing year-around demand for these products, according to Chief Executive Officer Hall Wendel.

Rachel Sayler of Red Lake Falls looks a little too happy about her predicament. But she is performing Marsha in the comedy "Let's Murder Marsha!" Two Rivers Area Theatre will present its winter production "Let's Murder Marsha!" at the community hall in Red Lake Falls on February 25, 26 and 27. Tickets are $5 per person and they will be sold at the entrance of the community hall starting 45 minutes before each performance. Pictured with Rachel above are Jenny French, who is cast as Lynette Thoren, Sherry Noyes of Red Lake Falls, who is cast as Persis Devore, and Lowell Arlt of Plummer, who is cast as Tobias Gilmore.

"Let's Murder Marsha!" on stage in Red Lake Falls

Two Rivers Area Theatre (TRAT) will present its winter production, "Let's Murder Marsha!" at the community hall in Red Lake Falls on February 25, 26, and 27.

Performances of the three-act comedy will be at 7:30 p.m. on February 25 and 26 and at 2 p.m. on February 27. Tickets are $5 per person and will be sold at the entrance of the community hall starting 45 minutes before each performance. Concessions will be available, sold by the Small World Early Learning Center, Red Lake Falls.

Written by Monk Ferris, "Let's Murder Marsha!" is about a Wall Street broker's wife Marsha, who is played by Rachel Sayler of Red Lake Falls. Marsha spends too much time reading trashy mystery novels, such as "The Creeping Slasher." Her hobby transcends into real life when she is led to believe her husband Tobias Gilmore, played by Lowell Arlt of Plummer, and a strange woman, Persis Devore, who is played by Sherry Noyes of Red Lake Falls, are concocting a plan to "bump her off." So with the help of a slightly peculiar neighbor, Virgil Baxter, who is played by Dan Johanneck of Red Lake Falls, Marsha devises a plan to do in Tobias and Persis before they can launch their plan to do away with her.

"Let's Murder Marsha!" is directed by Carol Kankel of Red Lake Falls. The cast of characters in this hilarious comedy include: Janelle McCollum of Red Lake Falls, who plays Bianca, the Gilmores' nosy but lovable maid; Jenny French of Red Lake Falls, who plays Lynette Thoren, Marsha's mother who further befuddles the odd conspiratorial situation; and Bruce Arvidson of Red Lake Falls, who plays Ben Quade, a police officer and Bianca's boyfriend who stumbles into the mayhem.

Russian teachers look at technology used in classes

Two Russian teachers visited Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls Tuesday to look at the technology used in teaching students.

Vladimir Goosev is the Technical Center Coordinator at Lyceum I in Petrozavodsk, Russia, which is in northwest Karelia. For those not familiar with cities and districts in Russia, it's a town of about 300,000 located near Finland. Lyceum I is a model school for students in grades one through 11 in Petrozavodsk. Goosev was recently invited to the United States by a Bloomington school. In addition to visiting Bloomington, he also visited schools in Duluth, Red Lake Falls and Thief River Falls.

Connie Moe: Teacher of the Year

First grade teacher at Goodridge believes "Learning should be an adventure, not a chore."

Connie Moe, Goodridge school's Teacher of the Year for 1994, helps first grader Elizabeth Nelson write a letter to a pen pal using the Kid Works program on the computer. Mrs. Moe encourages creative writing by her students and each year every first grader has a pen pal in a school in another state. This year the pen pals are in an all girl school in Tennessee.

"Dear Mrs. Moe,

"I wish that I could be in first grade until you retire! It feels wierd to just about be in 3rd grade. The years go so fast! But I wish first grade would of been 100 years if you would be there. You are the best teacher in the whole school and prettyest!!

This letter from one of her previous year's students is only one of many received by Connie Moe, first grade teacher at Goodridge elementary school, and among those kept and treasured with other selected letters, art work and student mementoes.

But it is indicative of the impression she makes on her students who frequently write or stop by her room to see her after they move on to other grades.

The letters she receives also show a couple of other things: (1) Connie's emphasis on writing in first grade which makes writing a letter seem like a natural and familiar thing for a youngster to do and (2) her respect for the feelings of her students by always answering their letters.

Mrs. Moe has been selected by the Goodridge Education Association to be its 1994 Teacher of the Year and its representative in the Minnesota Education Association's annual Minnesota Teacher of the

Expansion at Polaris could mean an additional 200 jobs

According to the Roseau Times-Region, Polaris Industries has announced plans to spend from $7 to $10 million on plant improvements and additions in 1994 and 1995. The multi-million dollar expansion could mean as many as 200 people will join the work force at the Roseau-based snowmobile and all-terrain manufacturing company.

According to the news article, a number of changes at the plant have already taken place and more are expected. One of the most visible changes is in the welding department.

Robot welders were moved into a more centralized location, welding cells have been placed in sequence, and lighting has been improved. An additional three robotic welders will be added to the five they already have.

About a year ago, Polaris moved into a new warehouse, but in a few months it was too small. Last week, Polaris started to move into another warehouse addition, which will give the company a third more space than it had a few weeks ago.

A new shipping facility is under construction. An addition is also going into Polaris' plastic paint department, which will include three receiving doors.

One of Polaris' largest investments will go into a new environmentally friendly metal paint system. The new system will be more effective and generate less waste.

Polaris ends 1993 with record sales

Record 1993 fourth quarter and year-end sales and earnings have been reported by Polaris Industries L.P., topping the half-billion dollar mark in total annual sales for the first time in the company's history.

Polaris reported year-end sales of $528,011,000—up 38 per cent from 1992. Net income for the year was $45,813,000 or $2.25 per unit, a 32 per cent increase over 1992 net income of $34,701,000 or $1.73 per unit.

Sales for the fourth quarter ended Dec. 31, 1993, were $142,858,000, up 34 per cent from 1992 sales of $106,576,000 in the fourth quarter of 1992. Net income of $14,371,000 or 71 cents per unit increased 36 per cent over the same period last year. Per-unit totals are restated to show the effect of the two-for-one split announced in August of 1993.

At year end the company had cash and cash equivalents of $33,798,000, compared with $19,094,000 for the prior year and continues to have no short-term nor long-term debt. Year-end cash flows from operating activities also remained extremely strong, increasing 43 per cent to $79,323,000 or $3.90 per unit in 1993, compared to $55,316,000 or $2.76 per unit in 1992.

Snowmobile sales increased more than 25 per cent over 1992. ATV sales increased 49 per cent and personal watercraft sales—in the second year of production—increased 80 per cent over 1992. Polaris ATV and PWC products and related parts and accessories contribute over 38 per cent of total sales. The company ended the year with record low field inventories for all three of its product lines.

In 1993 Polaris brought on-line a new assembly line at its Roseau manufacturing facility. The new dedicated ATV line gives the company the resources to serve rapidly-growing year-around demand for these products, according to Chief Executive Officer Hall Wendel.

"Let's Murder Marsha!" on stage in Red Lake Falls

Two Rivers Area Theatre (TRAT) will present its winter production, "Let's Murder Marsha!" at the community hall in Red Lake Falls on February 25, 26, and 27.

Performances of the three-act comedy will be at 7:30 p.m. on February 25 and 26 and at 2 p.m. on February 27. Tickets are $5 per person and will be sold at the entrance of the community hall starting 45 minutes before each performance. Concessions will be available, sold by the Small World Early Learning Center, Red Lake Falls.

Written by Monk Ferris, "Let's Murder Marsha!" is about a Wall Street broker's wife Marsha, who is played by Rachel Sayler of Red Lake Falls. Marsha spends too much time reading trashy mystery novels, such as "The Creeping Slasher." Her hobby transcends into real life when she is led to believe her husband Tobias Gilmore, played by Lowell Arlt of Plummer, and a strange woman, Persis Devore, who is played by Sherry Noyes of Red Lake Falls, are concocting a plan to "bump her off." So with the help of a slightly peculiar neighbor, Virgil Baxter, who is played by Dan Johanneck of Red Lake Falls, Marsha devises a plan to do in Tobias and Persis before they can launch their plan to do away with her.

"Let's Murder Marsha!" is directed by Carol Kankel of Red Lake Falls. The cast of characters in this hilarious comedy include: Janelle McCollum of Red Lake Falls, who plays Bianca, the Gilmores' nosy but lovable maid; Jenny French of Red Lake Falls, who plays Lynette Thoren, Marsha's mother who further befuddles the odd conspiratonal situation; and Bruce Arvidson of Red Lake Falls, who plays Ben Quade, a police officer and Bianca's boyfriend who stumbles into the mayhem.

Everywhere he has gone, Goosev has carried a video camera. Since he arrived on January 23 he has shot over nine hours of video tapes. He plans to show edited versions of the tapes to what passes as a school board and eventually hopes to obtain the kind of funding needed to implement some of the programs he has observed.

Goosev was in Thief River Falls with Vera Smirnova who acted as his interpreter. Smirnova is also from Lyceum 1, but is currently teaching at the International Global Studies Institute in Red Lake Falls. She is the assistant principal in charge of international connections with English speaking countries at Lyceum 1 in Petrozavodsk. The school also has connections with schools in Finland, Germany and Sweden.

Lyceum 1 is considered a model school. Smirnova explained that Lyceum 1 is an attempt to return to the type of education in existence before the Revolution of 1917. The curriculum includes subjects such as world culture, psychology, arts, science, sports, and the development of specific skills.

For Smirnova, the emphasis is on establishing or improving international connections. Students from Lyceum 1 are already attending schools in Bloomington, Duluth and Red Lake Falls. This is the second year they and Smirnovo have attended the Global Studies Institute in Red Lake Falls.

Smirnova said she believes the students this year were more prepared for the differences found in the United States and have adjusted better than the first group. One of the more difficult things to adjust to is the strong religious beliefs found especially in more rural areas. Although things are changing quickly in Russia, years of government intervention in religion have had an impact. The styles of dress were also difficult to adjust to.

But with improved international connections and shared information and educational experiences, the differences between Russia and the rest of the world will hopefully become less of a problem and more of something to celebrate.

Newfolden blood drive February 28

United Blood Services will conduct a blood drive at the Newfolden community center from 2:30 to 7 p.m. Monday, February 28. Goal for the drive is to have 69 donors scheduled with appointments for the day.

Anyone interested in making an appointment for a specific time to donate blood may contact Jody Lunke at 449-4465 or Oenae Blawat at 523-3692.

Who needs blood or blood donors? "People do!" says Jan Falk, director of community relations for United Blood Services of Fargo, ND. "As many as 90 per cent of all people who live to age 72 will need blood or blood products during their lives."

While most people will receive blood, only a few donate it. Less than 10 per cent of this area's population donates blood. One of the main reasons people don't donate blood, Falk believes, is because no one has asked them. She said the volunteers arranging the Newfolden drive invite anyone eligible to be a donor.

"Doctors use blood for only one reason," Falk said, "and that is to sustain life. Without blood, the life of the patient would be endangered or lost. Giving blood is one of the most important acts of service an individual can ever do."

United Blood Services collects blood every day so that it is available every day to meet patients' needs. Before donated blood is available to a patient it must be fully tested, which takes more than six hours.

Eligible to donate are people up to 80 years of age (over 80 with a doctor's written permission). Donors may give blood as often as every eight weeks between their 66th and 80th birthdays.

The The Editor:

Do you know the "whole truth" of how your work contract reads? Sometimes the "whole truth" doesn't show until a situation arises pertaining to it. I want to inform the Arctco employees what I found out about one part of their contract.

My brother, Rick Ulrich, was killed two years ago in a snowmobile accident. He was an employee of Arctco for about two years. I called the company to talk to Melba about Rick's insurance and his bonus benefits. Bonus money is paid out to the employees after the year's totals have been calculated.

She told me that Rick would not receive his bonus (money that he already helped the company make) because he would not be returning to work. The contract is written that if a person does not return to work once they are called back they will not receive their bonus.

I couldn't believe I had heard her right. I told her that he would have been back if he had the choice. How can a company refuse to pay a dead person what is rightfully his? He has a 10-year-old son who should receive what his father has worked for. He helped this company make money and in return he is refused his pay because he could not return to work.

I tried for a year and a half to talk to the president, Chris, to confront him on this but he never returned my calls. I feel he was very disrespectful to a mourning family of one of his employees.

I finally talked to a lawyer to find out if I had the right to request to see the contract. He felt that they had no right to refuse a person his pay because of a death being the cause for not returning to work. He made the call for me and his call was returned right away. My lawyer told me that Chris knew I had called there many times but he had no intention of returning my calls.

Why would he let Melba and his secretary be bothered with my calls—why wouldn't he give me 10 minutes of his time? This whole situation has left a sore spot—especially when I read in the paper how well Arctco is doing financially. Pay a little respect to those who have helped you reach your goals! Pay the one person who is so deserving—his son.

Sincerely,
Deb Cota
Red Lake Falls, MN 56701

(Editors Note: In keeping with our policy as stated in each issue of our publication, we have provided a copy of the above letter to Arctco, Inc., and offered an opportunity to respond in the same issue in which the letter is published. The following response has been received.)

Dear Editor:

A death is always tragic and even more so when it is a fellow employee or friend. However, Arctco does not believe it is appropriate to discuss these matters in the local press.

Sincerely,
Christopher A. Twomey
Chief Executive Officer

We Need Action, Not More Words, On Welfare Reform

"We need to reinforce the message that working is always better than welfare. We need to recognize the needs of the current marketplace and provide job training assistance that will quickly move welfare recipients into those jobs. We want to send a message that if you're planning on coming to Minnesota, expect to work, not to receive a welfare check."

These are the words of District 1B State Representative Tim Finseth of rural Warren, about to enter his first term as a state legislator. Rep. Finseth says he will be a co-author on legislation to comprehensively reform Minnesota's welfare system and, if enacted, set the leading pace for change in national welfare programs.

The program proposed is called "Minnesota Works" and is a cooperative effort of Gov. Arne Carlson and House and Senate Independent Republicans. It consists of two parts—one called Work First and the other a redesign of the STRIDE program.

Under the Work First initiative, Rep. Finseth explains, all new applicants for Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) benefits will first be offered job search assistance, not a welfare check. If a private sector job is unobtainable, the applicant will be given community service work with continued job skills training and job search assistance. During this time, the applicant will be offered emergency health and child care but the assistance will be paid directly to the vendor, not the applicant.

The STRIDE employment and training program will be redesigned so that jobs are the first emphasis to self-sufficiency, Rep. Finseth said. After two years on welfare, participation in STRIDE will be mandatory for certain families and failure to participate will result in termination of welfare benefits for adults.

There are other significant initiatives in the Minnesota Works proposal:

- Creating a Working Family Credits Joint Venture that will provide working families with state and federal tax credits on a monthly basis.
- Requiring teenage mothers to live with their parents and stay in school as a condition for getting AFDC. Eligibility would be based on total household income, including that of the parents.
- Removing barriers to work including (1) eliminating the 100 hour work rule that limits AFDC families to 100 hours of work per month or risk losing all benefits; (2) disregarding some earnings and student financial aid; and (3) increasing the value of a car a client is allowed to own.
- Expanding parentage recognition programs in hospital and limiting the number of caseworkers who can grant exceptions for circumstances where clients do not have to disclose the name of the father of the child.
- Expanding the Parent's "Fair Share Program," a program that helps unemployed, non-custodial parents find jobs, to include a mandatory workfare component and an optional mentoring program.
- Strengthening welfare fraud investigative efforts.

Nothing in this program is punitive or unfair, nor will it deprive the truly needy of necessary assistance. Properly understood and enforced, it would be a major step in getting welfare costs back into line with actual need.

"We need a system that promotes family, self-sufficiency and independence," Rep. Finseth said. "Changes to the welfare system must be responsive to the realities families face today. Minnesota Works takes giant leaps toward streamlining the welfare programs to assist those in need by placing the importance of working first."

Minnesota Works offers a lot of common sense—therefore it will be difficult if not impossible to get through the legislature. Unfortunately, the way lawmaking is done in our state and nation is to take great ideas and reduce them to mediocrity so no political party can claim to have achieved significant results. You can bet the farm that the DFL majority in the Minnesota House and Senate isn't going to allow a potentially immensely successful IR plan to become law.

We can hope, however, that the posturing, trade-offs and maneuvering will produce at least some positive change. We have heard enough rhetoric without results over the years. Maybe enough of the IR proposal can be modified to look like a DFL revelation so that at least some can find its way into law. We look forward to seeing how the metamorphosis materializes.

Congratulations To Connie Moe, Goodridge Teacher Of The Year

It was 10 years ago, when Connie Moe was commuting from Grygla to teach 27 kindergarten youngsters in one class at St. Bernard's Catholic school in Thief River Falls, that the principal received a lengthy letter complimenting her on her caring and dedicated service. He gave the letter to Connie and it still is brought out and read whenever she has what seems to be a bad day in the classroom as first grade teacher in the Goodridge school system.

Judging by the satisfaction of her students and their parents, the letter needn't be read very often. Mrs. Moe launches herself into her work every morning like a high diver into a pool and she is still swimming strongly when the last coat has been buttoned and last bus has been boarded at the end of the day. Some comments by her students are included in a feature story in today's issue of the Northern Watch.

We congratulate Connie on her selection. She is proud of it, we know, and deservedly so. For many who struggle in the trenches day in and day out with little public visibility, self-satisfaction must be a major motivation. A recognition by one's peers of a job well done has to be particularly gratifying.

"Whether a child is from a rich family, middle-class family or from a very poor family, Mrs. Connie Moe distributes her love evenly and abundantly to each and every one of her students, and makes them feel like a God-given human being," the letter writer wrote 10 years ago. "She has patience that never seems to run out!"

The patience and understanding are still there and still don't seem as though they will ever run out.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

Once upon a time there was a new king of a poor kingdom. When his reign began, he promised the people of his kingdom a better life. Each family would receive a horse to pull and ride, a cow for milk, chickens for meat and eggs and a plot of land to grow their food.

The people said, "This is a wonderful king!" Then the king told the people the price for all this good fortune: one of every three children would be killed! And the people lamented, "This is too high a price!"

We, too, have leaders who have promised us a better economy and other wonderful things. But these leaders have exacted a high price. They are in favor of legalized abortion on demand, and they want our taxes to pay for them. Every third child conceived in our country is killed by abortion. This is too high a price!

What can we do about this terrible situation? We, in Minnesota, can attend our party caucus on Tuesday, March 1. We can offer resolutions to ask our government to stop this legalized killing of our young. More importantly, we can be delegates to the next level of our party (either our county or state House district) convention. At that point, we should further seek to become delegates to the district and state conventions. There we can endorse strong pro-life candidates for Congressman, Governor and Senator.

Mark your calendars and go to your caucus at 7 p.m. on March 1.

If you care—you will be there.

Sincerely,
Betty Brouillet

Cost share funds available to seal abandoned wells

The Pennington County Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) has cost share funds available to seal abandoned wells. State law requires that all abandoned wells be sealed by a certified well driller. Several local drillers have been working with the SWCD to make this program successful.

Since the beginning of this program in 1991, almost 60 wells have been sealed in the county. Most wells cannot be sealed during the winter, but it is a good time to obtain bids from the drillers.

For more information about the cost share program, contact the SWCD at 1305 Dale Street in Thief River Falls, telephone 681-3348.

Myhrer explains ADHD problems in his lectures

"Let me introduce myself. According to some of my former teachers I am lazy, immature, disorganized, undependable, stupid, unreliable and have the attention span of a puppy!"

This is the way that Patrikk Myhrer of St. Hilaire begins some of the speeches he gives to teachers and parents' groups. So why would anyone want to hire a speaker who is "lazy, immature, disorganized" etc.? People like Patrikk who have a learning disability called Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) are often perceived by those around them as having some of those characteristics. And this learning disability is the topic of Patrikk's speeches.

A week ago he was a guest speaker for the annual conference of the North Dakota Council for Exceptional Children. This Saturday he will speak at the Midwinter Conference for the Northwest Chapter of the Minnesota Association for Education of Young Children and on February 22 he will give a presentation at the ADHD Parents' Support Group in Thief River Falls.

Since being diagnosed with ADHD almost ten years ago, Patrikk has had many negative experiences with school and social relationships that are common to young people with this condition. Fortunately he has developed several interests which have helped to focus his energy in positive ways. It is partly this message that he brings to the groups he visits. He also does some martial arts and sword choreography as part of his talk.

As a high school junior Patrikk was required to do a community service project for a class in school and prepared a speech on what it is like to have a learning disability. Since then he has made similar appearances in several Minnesota and North Dakota college classes for teachers of special eduction programs, a number of parents' support groups in both states and many faculty in-services for school districts.

Patrikk is now 20 years old and a sophomore at Northland Community College. He plans to attend Mankato State University next fall for a major in Technical Theater and a minor in Chemistry and is presently in the process of enlisting in the local National Guard unit.

In his speeches he primarily tries to get two messages across to parents, teachers and often the children with ADHD themselves. First, it is important not to give up on the child even if you are frustrated because he or she is as irritating as Patrikk says he often is. There are many ways a parent or teacher can make a tremendous difference in the child's life by trying to understand the condition and being patient with the child's behavior. Constant criticism for things the child does without understanding why he or she behaves that way only lowers self-esteem and makes things worse.

Patrikk Myhrer of St. Hilaire uses sword choreography in his presentations on Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), one of which will take place February 22 at an ADHD parents' support group in Thief River Falls.

The second thing Patrikk explains is that there are a lot of things that children with ADHD can do well. Therefore it is important to give the child opportunities to find things for which he or she can excel. One good example is martial arts (karate) training which is especially helpful in learning to focus energy and use meditation to calm down. Patrikk, who recently was awarded his brown belt after studying Shotokan karate for about eight years, often uses meditation while he is doing homework. He says it clears his mind and allows him to concentrate on reading textbooks and studying for tests.

Patrikk's interest in theater goes back to his first time on stage in a community theater production of Guys and Dolls at Northland Community College when he was in the eighth grade. For the past three summers he has directed children's theater plays in Thief River Falls and Middle River, as well as serving as technical director of "Of Mice and Men" for the Warroad Summer Theatre last June. Patrikk points out that for him this area of interest has grown from a hobby and extracurricular activity in high school to something that will probably become a career when he finishes college.

Along with the reminders to show patience and look for opportunities to build self-esteem, Patrikk shows his audience what it is like to have a problem like his by giving a simulated English lecture (with essential parts missing) and demonstrates why a hands-on learning approach is easier for ADHD students by showing the difference between sitting at a desk and reading Romeo and Juliet and later acting in the part of Mercutio in a sword fight in the same play.

The sword also comes in handy, according to Patrikk, when his mother wants him to sit still and pay attention. He claims that she has threatened to hold it against his throat and then he says he would sit very still for a long time. Which would be a first.

Tim Bergland settles into the Tampa Bay Lightning line-up

(Editor's note: the following feature about Thief River Falls' Tim Bergland by staff writer Cammy Clark appeared recently in the St. Petersburg Times and was supplied to us by R... Lee)

When Tampa Bay Lightning wing Tim Bergland lived in Crofton, Md., he took Interstate 95 to work. Some days he would go south, some days he would head north.

Going south meant he was playing for the Washington Capitals. North meant he was playing for a Capitals' minor-league team, the Baltimore Skipjacks.

"I never accidently went the wrong way," he said. "Although there were some days I wished I was going south."

Bergland played four seasons for the Washington organization before he was selected in the 1992 expansion draft by Tampa Bay. But the shuttle between the minors and NHL continued, and this time it was more difficult. After all, the hallway point between Tampa Bay and Atlanta is probably Valdosta, Ga.

Tim Bergland

This season Bergland has been sent down to the Knights and recalled three times, all in one month.

"I've punched many things," the 29-year-old Bergland said of his frustrations of not being able to stick in the NHL. "A half an hour to an hour after I find out I've been sent down is not a good time to be around me."

Inanimate objects might be safe from Bergland's fists for a while. The 6-foot-3, 194-pounder has been a fixture on the top checking line with Denis Savard and Mikael Andersson since his last recall Nov. 27.

"He flatly refused to be denied," coach Terry Crisp said. "He played himself on the team. He kept coming back, playing harder and harder. We said, Why are we sending this guy back?"

Bergland grew up in Thief River Falls, Minn., a town of about 8,000 an hour from the Canadian border. He played hockey a lot on outdoor rinks. Shoveling off snow often was a prerequisite to playing.

"We all shot on a goalie," Bergland explained. "Whoever missed had to shovel."

Bergland said he usually got out of the task. "I had a lot of incentive to make it."

As the youngest sibling of three boys and a girl, Bergland said he learned to be tough. After all, Scott, the oldest, was "real mean."

Scott knocked Tim's front tooth out when Scott was about 10. Scott wanted to score and Tim was playing goalie at the time. Tim didn't want to play goalie, but he was the youngest.

The kids in Thief River Falls didn't realize the prestige of the NHL. "We all looked up to the guys who played in high school," Bergland said. "High school hockey was so big in Minnesota."

Bergland's first idol was Tom Goddard, who once tried out for the New York Rangers and Los Angeles Kings and is now an accountant. But a trip to Bobby Hull's house changed that.

Bobby's son, Blake, had once stayed at the Bergland's when his youth team played in town. So the Bergland boys got to go to Winnipeg to meet the "Golden Jet."

Goddard laughed at the thought of being Bergland's first idol. Bergland is the only player from his hometown to make the NHL, Goddard said.

"The great thing about Tim is that he has time for everybody," Goddard said from his home in Thief River Falls. "We ran our first-ever summer hockey school here, and he donated his services for a week."

Bergland was drafted by the Capitals in the fourth round (75th overall) in the 1983 entry draft, but elected to go to college at the University of Minnesota. He played four years for the Gophers, who went to the NCAA finals twice during his stint.

He spent two seasons in the minors before he cracked the Washington line-up during the 1989-90 season. His best season was in 1990-91 when he played 47 regular season and 11 playoff games.

Bergland's main goal, as it has always been, is to play every game in the NHL.

He and his wife, Claudia, made their home in Atlanta to start the season, but moved to Tampa two weeks ago.

"I know I can't get too comfortable, because everything can change quickly," said Bergland, who will become a free agent after this season.

"But if I have my choice, I want to stay here. I like the guys and the team."

Prowlers hold off Lakers 6-4

Thief River Falls scored three goals in a 71-seconds span late in the second period Tuesday and went on to beat Detroit Lakes 6-4 in high school hockey.

It was the 1993-94 regular season finale for the Prowlers, who won three of their last four games to head into Section 8A tournament play at 8-14.

The Prowlers' second period outburst shattered a 2-2 tie as Steve Rambeck finished off a point-blank scramble in front of Detroit Lakes goalie Matt Anderson at 13:37. Kaine Martell put a slap shot from the point through a crowd at 14:19 and Marc Seaverson scored on a rebound at 14:48.

"Until the last few minutes of the second period we weren't able to put it away," said Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo. "Needless to say, I wasn't very fired up about the way we were playing to that point."

Thief River Falls' lead climbed to 6-2 on a nice power play set-up for Nick Chiodo at the side of the net 9:01 into the third period.

But Lakers' Brent Kuehne scored two goals in 22 seconds in the final minute to make it interesting.

A shot from a face-off to the left of the net found the upper corner at 13:59 and a quick return to the Thief River Falls zone pushed the puck into the net at 14:21. Both goals came during a 4-on-4 skate.

And it could have been even closer. The Lakers pulled Anderson for an extra attacker and promptly came up with a 2-on-0 rush that was turned aside by Thief River Falls goalie Jeff Lundgren with 25 seconds left.

"It wasn't pretty," acknowledged Chiodo, "but we got it done. The kids played hard."

Thief River Falls started with a 2-0 lead as Joby Looker put a low power play slap shot into the middle of the net 4:49 into the game and Tim Barry kept a hard shot from the right face-off circle on the ice at 8:22.

But the Lakers came out of the first period with a 2-2 tie as Matt Grabow scored off a scramble in front of Thief River Falls starting goalie Eric Dowers at 10:48 and after getting by the defense, Andrew Kovala finished off a 2-on-1 rush with a close-in tap at 12:17.

It looked like it would remain deadlocked through a scoreless first period before the Prowlers' late outburst.

Gators top Nordics for title

■ B/G-MR wins North Border showdown 60-43

A North Border Conference title was prize for the winner Tuesday in the Badger/Greenbush-Middle River vs. Marshall County Central boys high school basketball showdown at Greenbush. And thanks to a third quarter answer to a second period challenge, the honors went to the Gators 60-43.

It closed out a 7-3 North Border Conference campaign for the winners, which included a 7-1 finish after an 0-2 start. Marshall County Central fell into a second place North Border Conference tie with Lake of the Woods at 6-4. All three had a championship shot heading into their final conference starts of the year. The Bears fell by the wayside with a 57-49 loss to Roseau that same night.

Matt Kuznia scored 32 points and grabbed 10 rebounds to lead the winners. It was the second straight game in which a big individual scoring performance hurt the Nordics. Roseau's Jeff Taylor had a 31-point night in the Rams' 73-56 Friday (Feb. 11) win.

"We couldn't stop him (Kuznia)," said Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland. "They played a very good game. Right now we're just not one of the better teams in the area like we might have thought we were."

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Eldon Sparby was obviously more upbeat as he watched his team beat Marshall County Central for the second time in eight days. "Overall, it was one of our better games of the year," he said. "Defensively it was our best four quarters of the year. Offensively, we shot well. We moved the ball around, got the good shots, and we kept our turnovers down."

The Gators jumped out to a 12-2 head start and had an 11-4 lead at the end of the first quarter. The Nordics stormed back in the second quarter, taking a 23-20 lead, before a 5-0 half-ending run put Badger/Greenbush-Middle River back on top at intermission, 25-23.

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River took control by scoring the first 10 points of the second half en route to a 40-29 spread at the end of the third quarter.

"We got the ball inside to Matt," pointed out Sparby. "He played a real good game."

Billy Holum, who had battled illness in his last two games, showed no ill effects this time out, playing a major role in the Gators' success with 11 points, 10 rebounds and 8 assists.

"Billy was the key," said Sparby. "He really opened things up for Matt."

Marshall County Central did not have a double figure scorer.

The Gators turned in a 50 percent 24-for-48 shooting performance, while the Nordics struggled through a 28 percent 16-for-57 night from the field. Badger-Greenbush-Middle River was 11-for-18 at the free throw line, where Marshall County Central went 4-for-8. The Nordics had a 36-33 rebound edge, and topped the turnover charts 14-10.

Strong start carries TRF past Argyle

Argyle fell behind 13-3 at the start Tuesday and couldn't make up that deficit in losing a 72-58 boys high school basketball game to Thief River Falls.

The host Prowlers led at the quarter stops 17-12, 34-24 and 50-42. The Eagles did pull within two in the fourth quarter, only to be turned back by a 12-0 Thief River Falls run.

Kyle Sanden scored 27 points, Preston Treat had a 16-point, 11-assist night, and David Johnson contributed 10 points as the Prowlers improved their record to 8-9.

"It was a pretty good game for us," said Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke. "Getting up on them early was the key. If they get the lead they spread it out on you."

Dan Bergerson scored 14 points to lead the Eagles.

Thief River Falls turned in an impressive 58 percent 29-for-50 shooting performance from the field. Sanden (11/14) and Johnson (5/6) combined on a 16-for-20 shooting show inside the paint.

"We shot the ball really well," noted Brekke. "You shoot the ball that well, you're going to win some basketball games."

Brekke also praised the play of Mark Tangquist, who was 3-for-3 from the field, Justin Kempert and Wayne Iverson off the bench. "Those kids all came in and did a nice job for us," he said.

Argyle had a solid 49 percent shooting night of its own, hitting 24 of 49 attempts.

The Prowlers were 12-for-19 at the free throw line, where the Eagles went 4-for-9. Thief River Falls had a 34-29 rebound advantage, but also had more turnovers, 24-13.

Poor shooting is factor in Huskies' loss to RLF

Goodridge shot only 28 percent from the field Tuesday (17/61) and wound up losing a 56-51 boys high school basketball game at Red Lake Falls.

The Huskies had a 14-7 first quarter lead, but made just 2 of 14 second quarter free throws to fall behind 26-18 at halftime. The Eagles maintained a 38-31 edge through three quarters.

Goodridge crept within 52-50 late in the game, but two sets of free throws by the Eagles' Nathan Patnode and Brian Remick kept the Huskies from getting any closer.

"We didn't play," said Goodridge coach John Rahn. "It was a lack of execution. We didn't execute our offense at all."

Patnode scored 22 points to lead the Eagles, while Remick and Jeremy Byers both contributed 12.

The Goodridge scoring included 14 points by Eldon Quam, 13 for Travis Kotrba and 10 by Mitch Smsky.

Red Lake Falls shot 37 percent from the field (15/41) and cashed in on 20 of 27 free throw chances. Goodridge made 12 of 14 free throws and finished with a 31-24 rebound advantage.

The loss dropped the Huskies to 13-6.

RLCC girls rally, win

Red Lake County Central girls trailed by 12 early in the fourth quarter Tuesday before putting together a comeback that netted a 44-42 high school basketball win over Norman County East at Gary.

The Mustangs started with an 11-6 first quarter lead, fell behind 20-18 at halftime, trailed 36-27 at the end of the third quarter and were down by a dozen before the rally took effect.

"It was a game of spurts," noted Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto. "We had a real good first quarter, and we finished strong."

Rachel Demarais hit a 3-point shot on an in-bounds play with six seconds left to wipe out a 42-41 Norman County East Lead.

Angel Mickelson had a 15-point, 19-rebound game for the winners. Kari Oullingsrud scored 14 points, while Kacey Tenhenneppe and Stacy Johnson both had 11 for the Eagles.

Red Lake County Central was 18-for-52 from the field (35 percent) and just 4-for-15 at the free throw line. Norman County East went 15-for-57 from the field (26 percent) and 12-for-17 at the line.

Wolverines fall 40-37 vs. Valley North girls

Goodridge/Grygla struggled offensively in a 40-37 girls high school basketball loss to Valley North Tuesday at Goodridge.

The Wolverines shot 34 percent from the field (16/47) and made just 4 of 10 free throws – which included two misses in a 38-37 situation with six seconds left.

Valley North controlled the rebound, drew a foul and made it a three-point final with two game-ending free throws.

"We didn't play the way I would have liked," said Goodridge/Grygla coach Mike Gast. "Our offense just wasn't clicking."

Valley North didn't exactly light it up, either, with a 32 percent shooting night (14/43) and a 6-for-15 free throw night, but it was good enough for a win.

Britt Grinde of Valley North netted 18 points to lead all scorers, with teammate Erin Osowski picking up 10. Brandi Stratton and Melissa Bernstein scored 12 and 11 points, respectively, for the Wolverines.

Scoring

Grygla/Gatzke 84, Red Lake County Central 72...

Eagles out-score Mustangs

Shoot-outs are nothing new to the high-scoring Red Lake County Central boys high school basketball team. The Mustangs win by out-scoring people, not by out-playing them on defense. Grygla-Gatzke generally plays a little closer to the vest – mixing a little offense with a little defense.

But Tuesday, the Eagles got caught up in the Mustangs' game – and won, 84-72.

"There wasn't a lot of defense being played by either side," acknowledged Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson. "It was probably a great game for the fans, but it's a little frustrating for the coaches. Both teams did an excellent job pushing the ball up the floor and getting good shots. Fortunately for us, we got a few more than they did."

It was the most points the 9-11 Eagles have scored all year. It was the most points the 13-6 Mustangs have scored this year, and still lost, since a similar 87-77 setback at the hands of Climax/Fisher Jan. 7.

The two teams played to a 21-21 first quarter tie. Grygla-Gatzke went ahead 36-32 at halftime and had a 58-49 third quarter edge.

A balanced Grygla-Gatzke offense featured Mike Jelle with 18 points, Jamie Lunsetter 16, Jeremy Verboul 14, and Rod Holte 12.

The loss spoiled a big 36-point night for the Mustangs' Aaron Chaput. Teammate Aaron Rosten finished with 19.

Grygla-Gatzke was 34-for-73 from the field (47 percent) and 13-for-20 at the free throw line. Red Lake County Central went 26-for-74 from the floor (35 percent) and 19-for-28 at the line. The Eagles had a 38-35 rebound edge. The turnovers were even at 23-apiece.

Scoreless third quarter beats TRF

An eight-point Thief River Falls halftime lead disappeared when the Prowlers went through a scoreless third quarter, leading to a late-reported 49-38 Friday (Feb. 11) girls high school basketball loss to Fergus Falls.

The visiting Otters trailed 14-12 at the end of the first quarter and were down 30-22 at halftime before going ahead 36-30 in the third quarter.

"I've never gone through a quarter without scoring a point," said Thief River Falls coach Sally Wiltse. "They (Otters) picked it up in the second half. They played a lot better defense on us, and we just couldn't hit a thing."

Thief River Falls was 16-for-41 from the field (39 percent) and 6-for-9 at the free throw line. Fergus Falls went 22-for-50 from the field (44 percent) and 5-for-15 at the line. The Otters had a 28-23 rebound edge. The Prowlers led a busy turnover department 27-19.

Adam Fulton scored twice Tuesday to lead the Thief River Falls junior varsity high school hockey team to a 7-2 win over Detroit Lakes.

Andy Furuseth, Jason Breiland, Bryan Cleven, Cory Jenkins, and Josh Melby also scored for the winners, who improved their record to 6-12-1.

Season ends for NCC men in 109-96 loss

A 109-96 loss at the University of Minnesota-Crookston Thursday closed out an 8-14 season for the Northland Community College men's basketball team.

The Pioneers' bid for a Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament berth required a Northland win over UMC and a pair of final-week losses by Brainerd. Northland finished with a 5-5 Northwest Division record, trailing both Fergus Falls and Brainerd – the two divisional state tournament qualifiers.

"We didn't get it done," said Northland coach Mark Dannhoff. "But we went out fighting. They gave it a 120 percent effort all the way."

Northland trailed 51-40 at halftime and never fully recovered. Every Northland second half comeback attempt was answered by UMC.

"We didn't play very well in the first half, offensively or defensively," admitted Dannhoff. "We talked about it at halftime and played pretty well in the second half."

Dan Phillips had a game-high 32-point effort for the winners, with teammate Donavon Quam, a sophomore from Goodridge, netting 29. Scott Burton led Northland with 31 points.

Northland connected 16 times from 3-point range, but saw a 12-for-19 night at the free throw line pale in comparison to a busy 33-for-46 free throw showing by the host Trojans.

"The effort was there," said Dannhoff, "but it was hard to get into the flow offensively and defensively because of the officiating. I'm not saying the officiating was poor, but it was very inconsistent. It was hard to find a style to play."

It was the final Northland vs. UMC Northwest Division match-up since the Trojans will be playing as a four-year school beginning next year.

Northland Community College women edge UMC 63-62...

Pioneers clinch tournament berth

Northland Community College women's basketball team nailed down its first state tournament berth since 1978 Thursday by closing out its 1993-94 regular season schedule with a 63-62 win at the University of Minnesota-Crookston.

Coupled with a 77-65 Fergus Falls win over Brainerd the same night, the Northland victory over UMC clinched a second place finish in the Northwest Division behind the front-running Spartans. Top two regular season divisional finishers earn Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament berths. Brainerd could have still tied Northland for second and forced a post-season playoff game by beating Fergus Falls Thursday and UMC Saturday, but fell by the wayside with the Thursday loss.

Northland will draw defending state champion Anoka-Ramsey Friday as a quarterfinal foe in the MCCC state tournament at Willmar Community College.

"We're all really tickled," said second-year Northland coach Rick Nikunen after clinching the post-season spot. "Our primary goal throughout the year was getting into the state tournament. Whatever else happens now is just gravy."

With the Trojans leaving the MCCC next year when UMC becomes a four-year school, Thursday's match-up put an end to a long rivalry.

UMC had a 34-28 halftime lead, but Northland went up by 7 with 3 1/2 minutes left, only to fall victim to the Trojans' full-court pressure defense and poor free throw shooting down the stretch that made it a one-point nail-biter at the end.

The teams swapped turnovers in the final eight seconds, giving the Trojans a final chance at a win with two seconds left. But UMC did not get the shot off as Northland went to 10-12 for the year and 7-4 in the Northwest Division.

"We didn't play our best game of the year by any means, but we played okay," said Nikunen. "We made the key plays and got some big baskets at the right time."

Ronda Olson led the Pioneers with a game-high 22 points. Teammate Kelli Kronschnabel netted 14. Danielle Prussia led UMC with 17 points.

Northland was 29-for-69 from the field (42 percent) and 4-for-12 at the free throw line. UMC went 25-for-62 from the floor (40 percent) and 9-for-11 at the line. The Pioneers had a 38-37 rebound edge. The Trojans had more turnovers, 19-15.

EGF girls get by TRF 66-56

Turnovers and free throws were prominent Thursday as East Grand Forks beat Thief River Falls 66-56 in girls high school basketball.

The two teams combined for 60 turnovers and 55 free throws. Unfortunately for the Prowlers, they had 31 of the turnovers and only 14 of the free throws as they lost their sixth straight game to fall to 2-16 for the year.

East Grand Forks was 21-for-41 at the line, which included a 14-for-19 fourth quarter to keep the Prowlers at bay. Thief River Falls made 9 of 14 free throws, and coach Sally Wiltse wasn't happy with the discrepancy.

It wasn't a pretty game, admitted Wiltse, but the Prowlers weren't looking for style points. "We wanted to come out and play aggressive basketball," she explained. "I know we had fouls, but..."

The Green Wave led at the quarter stops 11-10, 30-20 and 46-35.

Toni Chiodo led a balanced Thief River Falls offense with 14 points and also keyed the Prowlers' full court pressure defense. "Toni was end to end the entire game," noted Wiltse. "She must have put on a hundred miles. She had a really good game."

Lori DeLap and Lisa Ulrich joined Chiodo in double figures for the Prowlers with 13 points apiece.

Pollie Bohn hurt the Prowlers big time on the offensive boards and finished with a game-high 22 points. Teammates Jenny Schiller and Jessie Loer added 14 and 12 points, respectively.

Thief River Falls was 20-for-76 from the field (26 percent), while East Grand Forks went 20-for-63 (32 percent). The Prowlers outrebounded the Green Wave 43-41.

Super leads Gators past Tri-County

Krissi Super scored 30 points Thursday to lead the Badger/Greenbush-Middle River girls past Tri-County 61-56 in high school basketball at Greenbush.

It was the 13th straight win for the Gators, putting them at 17-4 heading into a regular season finale Monday at Valley North.

Sara Melby joined Super in double figures for the winners with 12 points, and played a major role in the outcome as the Gators' point guard against the pressing Tri-County defense, pointed out Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Tom Neibauer.

"Sara had a real sound game against their press – only two turnovers," said Neibauer. "That was the key. They're a very hard team for us to play because they're so much faster than we are. They have the best athletes in the district (sub-section)."

Tri-County had a 15-13 first quarter lead, but Badger/Greenbush-Middle River went ahead 30-28 at halftime, had a 46-40 third quarter advantage and opened up a 12-point spread over the final eight minutes before the Wildcats closed within one down the stretch.

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River had a good shooting night, hitting 19 of 37 field goals (51 percent) and 21 of 31 free throws (68 percent).

Tri-County, meanwhile, struggled with a 10-for-21 free throw night.

The Wildcats' Sara Bogestad and Mindy Britten gave the Gators fits on the offensive boards while scoring 20 and 14 points, respectively.

Mustangs' upset bid come up short, 52-51

Missed free throws cost Red Lake County Central a chance to upset Climax/Fisher Thursday as the Knights held off the Mustangs 52-51 in girls high school basketball at Oklee.

"We played really well," said Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto. "We deserved to win."

But the Mustangs lost because they made only 10 of 25 free throws. Up 51-50, they missed the front end of a bonus situation with 27 seconds left. The Knights controlled the rebound and won it on a Paula Evenson rebound basket in the final seconds.

The loss ended an 8-13 regular season campaign for the Mustangs.

Climax/Fisher led at the quarter stops 16-15, 27-25 and 40-37.

Meckenzine Malwitz scored 14 points, while Angel Mickelson and Karlene Jolly both had 12 for the Mustangs. Mickelson also pulled down 15 rebounds.

Laura Reitmeier scored a game-high 18 points for the Knights. Rachel Vigness netted 14.

Red Lake County Central was 18-for-47 from the field (38 percent). Climax/Fisher went 25-for-65 (38 percent) from the floor and had a quiet 2-for-4 night at the line. The Knights finished with a 30-27 rebound edge.

Bemidji swimmers splash TRF 134-40

Regular season competition ended Thursday for the Thief River Falls boys high school swim team when the Prowlers lost a one-sided 134-40 dual meet decision at Bemidji.

Thief River Falls coach Ryan Lokken mixed up his line-up for the meet, figuring the Lumberjacks, who won in similar 146-37 fashion when the two met earlier this year, would dominate again.

Only Thief River Falls win came in the meet-opening 200 medley relay when the two Bemidji entries were disqualified.

The Prowlers finished with a 1-6 dual meet record. They will compete in the Section 8 swimming and diving championships Feb. 25-26 at the University of North Dakota.

Connie Moe: Teacher of the Year

Year competition.

No One-Paragraph Philosophy

Part of the state contest entry is the teacher's preparation of a philosophy of teaching or education. For some entrants, this will be a single paragraph. For Connie it is four and one-half pages (albeit in fairly large type and double-spaced) of what could pass for a teaching manual. And she believes and lives and practices every word of it every day in her classroom.

"Teaching young children is like the sunshine which warms every heart," she begins. "Just as the sunshine touches my life each day, I must reach out to touch the lives of my students. Every student is unique, with individual goals, dreams and hidden talents. It is my responsibility to help every student discover the special qualities within themselves."

She points out the importance of a teacher showing that he or she is concerned about the student and quotes a writer who said, "Students don't care what we know, until they know that we care."

While she works on imparting knowledge she also works on the students' self-esteem and feelings of acceptance and belonging. She talks with each student about family, friends, interests, likes and dislikes. She maintains a "superstar" bulletin board to display pictures and recognize a student each week.

She believes that the secret to motivating children is to help them succeed. "Success begets success," she said, "and students need the opportunity to succeed at the highest possible level while avoiding failure. Students who set their goals too high are continuously failing. If students are afraid of failure and set their goals too low, they fail to receive a sense of accomplishment. It is our responsibility to set up experiences which will lead students to success. Students who succeed are more apt to choose realistic goals.

Teachers, Not Textbooks, Teach

Connie doesn't disdain use of textbooks, but she doesn't teach strictly by them, either.

"Textbooks provide a vast amount of information, but they shouldn't be our only source of learning," she writes. "Some activities in my classroom include creative writing, experiments, projects, games, plays, role playing, puppets, murals, cooking experiences, charts, posters, manipulatives, movies, computers and many other 'hands on' cooperative learning experiences."

Connie could be considered a "sneaky" teacher. She creates situations for her students so that they learn without realizing that they are being taught. It's part of her philosophy that "learning should be an adventure not a chore....School should be FUN!"

Grygla High School Grad

Connie (Holthusen) Moe attended 12 years of school at Grygla, graduating as valedictorian of her class in 1978. She is a magna cum laude university graduate with a bachelor of science degree in early childhood education from the University of Wisconsin—Stout in Menomonie in 1982 and a bachelor of science degree in elementary education from the University of Wisconsin—Eau Claire in 1983.

She taught kindergarten at St. Bernard's Catholic school in Thief River Falls in the 1983-84 school year and in the fall of 1984 began her employment with the Goodridge school district. She was the sixth grade teacher and class advisor, seventh and eighth grade art teacher, 10th grade typing teacher and assistant girls basketball coach. In 1985 she became the first grade teacher and it has been her role ever since.

Connie and Tony Adopt Two

In August of 1983 she married Tony Moe and they have adopted two children, both from Korea. David arrived in March of 1990 at the age of six months and is now four years old. Kimberly arrived on Christmas Eve of 1992 at the age of five months and will be two years old in July.

Connie is a member of the Goodridge and Minnesota Education Associations and is treasurer of the GEA this year. She was a Project SMART (computer) teacher specialist from 1985 to 1987, received the Friend of Education award in 1992 and co-chaired the American Education Week committee which put on the Global Fair this year.

She is a member of Grace Lutheran church at Grygla and of its women's group. She also sings in the choir for Christmas and Easter cantatas, has served three years on its board of education, assisted with Sunday school and Bible school programs, done some Sunday school and Bible school teaching and served as a reader and greeter. She has also been a member of the church's call committee.

She is vice president of Branch 7089 of Aid Association for Lutherans and a member of Northwest Minnesota Families Through Adoption.

Her hobbies include cross country skiing, snowmobiling, skating, hiking, arts and crafts, sewing, reading and spending time (probably scheduled in fractions of seconds) with family and friends.

Making Use of Opportunity

Back in the classroom, Connie makes the most of each opportunity to teach. After reading the story "Green Eggs and Ham," the class actually prepared a meal of green eggs and ham, then invited the second graders to share the meal with them. And when that experience was over, the students wrote their thoughts about making and eating such a dubious dish.

How does a person not only maintain her sanity but derive satisfaction from being surrounded by a horde of energetic young people five days a week. The last few paragraphs of Mrs. Moe's philosophy of teaching explain:

"My goal is to be the best teacher I can be. Therefore, I must continue to evaluate my goals, views and values and plan activities which are appropriate and worthwhile. A continuous review of my teaching theories and philosophies will lead to better defined goals, self growth and improvement.

"We must not be afraid of change; Instead we must strive for excellence. Self evaluation enables a teacher to improve his/her teaching techniques and create a curriculum which challenges students to develop to their greatest potential.

"The rewards of teaching are endless. Where else can I see the sparkle in a child's eye when he or she discovers the wonders of science, or feel the excitement and pride of a child who accomplishes a task he or she felt was unattainable, or hear the laughter accompanying the joys of learning?

"On my desk I find beautiful crayon drawings filled with hearts and the inscription 'I Love You.' I receive wonderful compliments each day such as 'Gee you look pretty, Mrs. Moe' and often I have a student mistakenly call me the distinguished title of Mom or even Grandma.

"I love my job and it's the kids who make it so rewarding."

First graders at Goodridge elementary school have been getting acquainted with this robot for the past two weeks. The robot is on rental from the Northwest Educational Cooperative Service Unit in Thief River Falls and is equipped with computer chips that allow it to perform different programs. Connie Moe, first grade teacher and 1994 Teacher of the Year at Goodridge, puts the robot through its paces for her class.

School to ask bids for Franklin project

Authorization was given by the School District 564 board of education to advertise for bids on the Franklin middle school construction project when the board met in regular session Monday, February 14, at the school district service center.

Steve Porkkonen, superintendent for the Lincoln high school project, reported on progress in that area and requested that the Franklin project, where he will also be superintendent, be put out on bids.

Porkkunen said that the crane had been moved from the Challenger elementary school site to the Lincoln site so that steel beams for the roofs can be erected. His report, and that of Jim Haspas, building project superintendent on the Challenger project, indicated that both projects are generally on schedule. Some work areas are ahead of schedule and others have fallen slightly behind, primarily due to the extremely cold weather in January and early February. With warmer weather in the past few days, masonry workers are back on site.

Employment was approved for Ned Blodgett as temporary part-time youth job supervisor effective January 24 through the end of May, Patricia Smidt as area learning center instructor long-term substitute, Rae Reiner as regular route bus driver and Shelly Mathson as temporary part-time activities director secretary at Lincoln.

Extra-curricular assignments approved were Leslie Nordheim, middle school yearbook advisor; Brenda Kaspnck, high school assistant girls basketball coach; Dann Holm Jr., assistant boys swim coach; and Todd Olson, middle school assistant wrestling coach.

Lane changes on the salary schedule were approved for Lois Bergland, Eleanore Erickson, Bruce Felt and Julie E. Olson. Mid-year step increments were granted to Sharon Baron and Peter Solem, area learning center; Kathleen Duchscher, Mark Twain; Denice Nelson, Knox; Julie K. Olson and Carol Tranby, Washington; Mary Almquist, Mary Follett, Mary Nordhagen, Jeanne Olson and Juneal Peterson, Franklin; and Mike Collette, Elvera Cullen and Constance Stuck, Lincoln.

Letter of agreement with Teamsters Local 320 regarding adjustments in comparable worth status for positions within the administrative support personnel unit was approved as presented.

Notification was received of mediation with the cleaners group scheduled for March 2 at 10 a.m. in the district service center.

Anderson, Poissant, Kays and Company were designated auditors for the district for the fiscal years ending June 30, 1994, 1995 and 1996. Marcia Sandahl, administrative assistant, was appointed to serve as the district's representative on the 1966 Thief River Falls Centennial committee.

Congratulations were extended to Nicole A. Emmons who completed her graduation requirements through the area learning center and to Angie Hamedl, Wendy Walton and Maren Dyrud, student winners of the VFW Voice of Democracy contest.

Recognition was also given to the Eagles aerie for donating $400 to community education's "Youth with Special Needs" program and $500 for weightlifting t-shirts and the the Backcourt Club for donating $2,000 for a speaker system at Lincoln.

Next regular meeting of the board will be Monday, February 28, at 7 p.m.

Sunflower growers invited to meeting

Production and marketing will be topics when the National Sunflower Association holds a sunflower grower information meeting Tuesday, February 22, at the Eagles hall in Thief River Falls.

The meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m. with coffee being served and end at about 2:30 p.m. There is no registration fee and a complimentary lunch will be served.

First section of the meeting will focus on cultural practices with the goal of maintaining yields above the 2,000 pounds per acre level. Howard Person, Pennington county extension educator, will discuss fertility, plant populations, weed control and planting dates. Tom Gulya, USDA plant pathologist, will discuss sunflower head rot and its implications for 1994.

Marketing section will consist of a discussion of the coofection markets by Kelly Engelstad, president of Dahlgren, while oil markets will be addressed by Mike Krueger of AGRI-MARK. Impact of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) and North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) on the sunflower industry will be described by Larry Kleingartner, NSA executive director.

A unique relationship between Minnesota elevators and the National Sunflower Association will be discussed by Jerry Sedlacek of Warren, a member of the NSA board.

Playing the Paraguayan harp is Pastor's pasttime

Karlstad — Pastor Charles and Joyce Knapp of Hegland Free Lutheran church of Karlstad recently gave concerts at the Tri County Elementary School in Strandquist. The Knapps play unusual instruments called Paraguayan harps. They learned to play the harps when they were missionaries in Paraguay nine years ago. The Paraguayan harp has 36 strings on an eight-note scale and can only be played in one of three keys. The Knapps' instruments were hand-made especially for them by a Paraguayan craftsman and cost $250 each.

The case of 15 tons of missing trash

Red Lake Falls — George Dailey, county environmental officer, reported to the Red Lake county board of commissioners that January garbage collection in the county was down 30 tons, and recycling was up 15 tons. However, this leaves a total of 15 tons of missing garbage. County board chairman Eddie Larson came up with a solution, of sorts, for the case of the missing garbage, saying, "Some of the garbage must be getting burned. I guess more stuff can be burned legally this year but I'm also sure a lot is getting burned illegally."

Three juvenile girls make bomb threat

Three 14-year-old girls face charges of making terroristic threats to a school, after they allegedly called in a bomb threat to Franklin Middle School on Thursday.

Police Chief Ken Froschheiser said he intends to make sure the case is prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. He added that Superintendent Bob Duncan was also very upset by the girls' action and would recommend disciplinary action in the school.

The police received a report at 10:26 a.m. Thursday, February 24, that the secretary at the middle school had received a phone call and the caller had made a bomb threat. The caller told her to have the school evacuated.

Law enforcement officials and the fire department responded and conducted a quick search of the building. A decision was made not to evacuate the school, and the investigation of the case was assigned to the juvenile officer, Sgt. Jim Haugen. Investigation by Haugen and other officers, principally Officer Scott Maslowski, revealed that a 14-year-old girl allegedly called in the bomb threat from a phone in the hallway of the school. While she was making the phone call two other girls, also 14-years-old, allegedly acted as look outs. The three girls face a charge in juvenile court that is considered a felony offense, that of terroristic threats to a school.

Police did not want to elaborate on the reason why the girls made the bomb threat, other than to say that the girls wanted to get out of school.

New York designer Raymond Waites will make his second visit to Thief River Falls early next week to work with Thief River Linen on its new pillow line. Following Waites' first design visit to Thief River Falls about a year ago, the pillow line he designed became a third of Thief River Linen's total sales.

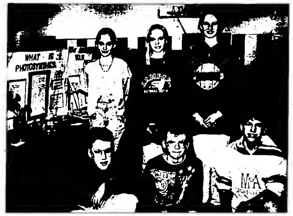
Waites returns to Thief River Linen to design pillows

Raymond Waites, creative vice president and designer for Gear Holdings, Inc. of New York City, will be in Thief River Falls March 2 and 3 to assist with new pillow designs for Thief River Linen, Inc.

"On his first trip here about a year ago," notes Linda Bentson of Thief River Linen, "we added pillows to our product line with extensive use of his designs and the result was that pillows became about a third of our total sales."

Waites is recognized as a pioneering force behind the revitalization of American home design and his intuitive design sense has helped make him an authority in design in Europe and Japan as well as America.

His company's collections bring together all elements of home fashions including bedding, textiles, wallcoverings, area rugs, lamps, ceramics, framed art and other accessories that coordinate with one another. Waites mixes the opulent with the humble to create timeless and refreshing looks with the casual elegance that is his signature.



Bentson said that on Waites' second day in Thief River Falls next Thursday her company is making plans to host an informal gathering for him from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the Best Western Inn. Anyone interested in meeting and visiting with him may receive more information by calling Thief River Linen at 681-3919.

Waites' visit here is to work with the newest designs for the Gear pillow line manufactured by Thief River Linen, Inc., and to be shown at the April furniture market at High Point, NC. Thief River Linen is a licensee of Gear, as is Lane Furniture and nearly 30 other manufacturers.

Waites is featured in a Designer Profile of the March 1994 edition of "Traditional Home" magazine, available on newsstands in Thief River Falls. The article is titled "The New American Look" and centers on his design of a new 66-piece furniture collection for the Lane Company.

The designer has been referred to as "the guru of American country" for his development of design

Humboldt Mom needs more soup labels

Rose Headley needs 90,000 more labels by March 14 to get computers for 7-year-old son with cerebral palsy

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Northern Watch Reporter

Perhaps you have heard about the lady from the tiny town of Humboldt (population: 79) who is collecting Campbell's soup labels to get a computer for her son—perhaps you haven't. If you haven't, it is time you did.

Seven-year-old Jonathan Headley is the little boy who needs the computer. He has cerebral palsy and a computer will help him develop the use of his hands, something he needs to do, his mother said. His mother's name is Rose Headley and she is collecting labels—538,000 of them—to get him a computer. Actually, if she can collect 538,000 labels, she will be able to get Jonathan two computers and a printer. One computer will be kept at school for Jonathan and another and the printer will be at his home.

Rose adopted Jonathan in Texas when he was seven months old, but he was her baby from almost the moment he was born. The parents of the 14-year-old birth mother asked Rose to adopt Jonathan because they knew she was a nurse and could care for him properly.

When he was born on February 26, 1986, Jonathan weighed two pounds, 13 ounces. Doctors told Rose he would be a vegetable, and gave him 30 days to live. But Rose was a nurse. She knew what she was getting into and she knew better.

Jonathan spent five months in the hospital after he was born. When Rose was allowed to bring him home, he was on oxygen and several types of monitors, and was taking 20 different types of medication.

"We wouldn't believe the doctors," she said. "Whatever God wanted, that's what Jonathan would have. We decided we would fight. We don't know the word, 'can't' and we still won't listen to it."

Doctors define cerebral palsy as "mental retardation of the motor system," (but not the brain) and say victims of the disease can live fairly productive lives. Jonathan is very alert and bright, but is physically limited. He has previously spent much of his time in a wheelchair, but Rose said he doesn't use the wheelchair much at home any more. Now he "scoots" all around the house and gets into mischief.

Rose claims Jonathan is going through the "Terrible Twos" at the age of seven. He has found out that his hands "do reach out and grab" and he is taking full advantage of it. He is also feeding himself, something that he hasn't done before. Rose says there will be a limit on Jonathan's use of his hands and that physical activities that require dexterity, like writing, will be difficult, but he needs to develop the use of his hands more, and that is why she wants him to have the computers.

Evidently the word "can't" is still not in Rose's vocabulary, because people told her that she could never collect all of the labels needed for Jonathan's computers, either. In fact she has been told that she is the only individual person who has ever tried to save the amount of labels needed for the computers.

Rose heard about the "Labels for

Three juvenile girls make bomb threat

Three 14-year-old girls face charges of making terroristic threats to a school, after they allegedly called in a bomb threat to Franklin Middle School on Thursday.

Police Chief Ken Fruschheiser said he intends to make sure the case is prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. He added that Superintendent Bob Duncan was also very upset by the girls' action and would recommend disciplinary action in the school.

The police received a report at 10:26 a.m. Thursday, February 24, that the secretary at the middle school had received a phone call and the caller had made a bomb threat. The caller told her to have the school evacuated.

Law enforcement officials and the fire department responded and conducted a quick search of the building. A decision was made not to evacuate the school, and the investigation of the case was assigned to the juvenile officer, Sgt. Jim Haugen. Investigation by Haugen and other officers, principally Officer Scott Maslowski, revealed that a 14-year-old girl allegedly called in the bomb threat from a phone in the hallway of the school. While she was making the phone call two other girls, also 14-years-old, allegedly acted as look outs. The three girls face a charge in juvenile court that is considered a felony offense, that of terroristic threats to a school.

Police did not want to elaborate on the reason why the girls made the bomb threat, other than to say that the girls wanted to get out of school.

Playing the Paragueyan harp is Pastor's pastime

Karlstad — Pastor Charles and Joyce Knapp of Hegland Free Lutheran church of Karlstad recently gave concerts at the Tri County Elementary School in Strandquist. The Knapps play unusual instruments called Paraguayan harps. They learned to play the harps when they were missionaries in Paraguay nine years ago. The Paraguayan harp has 36 strings on an eight-note scale and can only be played in one of three keys. The Knapps' instruments were hand made especially for them by a Paraguayan craftsman and cost $250 each.

The case of 15 tons of missing trash

Red Lake Falls — George Dalley, county environmental officer, reported to the Red Lake county board of commissioners that January garbage collection in the county was down 30 tons, and recycling was up 15 tons. However, this leaves a total of 15 tons of missing garbage. County board chairman Eddie Larson came up with a solution, of sorts, for the case of the missing garbage, saying, "Some of the garbage must be getting burned. I guess more stuff can be burned legally this year but I'm also sure a lot is getting burned illegally."

New York designer Raymond Waites will make his second visit to Thief River Falls early next week to work with Thief River Linen on its new pillow line. Following Waites' first design visit to Thief River Falls about a year ago, the pillow line he designed became a third of Thief River Linen's total sales.

Waites returns to Thief River Linen to design pillows

Raymond Waites, creative vice president and designer for Gear Holdings, Inc. of New York City, will be in Thief River Falls March 2 and 3 to assist with new pillow designs for Thief River Linen, Inc.

"On his first trip here about a year ago," notes Linda Benson of Thief River Linen, "we added pillows to our product line with extensive use of his designs and the result was that pillows became about a third of our total sales."

Waites is recognized as a pioneering force behind the revitalization of American home design and his intuitive design sense has helped make him an authority in design in Europe and Japan as well as America.

His company's collections bring together all elements of home fashions including bedding, textiles, wallcoverings, area rugs, lamps, ceramics, framed art and other accessories that coordinate with one another. Waites mixes the opulent with the humble to create timeless and refreshing looks with the casual elegance that is his signature.

Benson said that on Waites' second day in Thief River Falls next Thursday her company is making plans to host an informal gathering for him from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the Best Western Inn. Anyone interested in meeting and visiting with him may receive more information by calling Thief River Linen at 681-3919.

Waites' visit here is to work with the newest designs for the Gear pillow line manufactured by Thief River Linen, Inc., and to be shown at the April furniture market at High Point, NC. Thief River Linen is a licensee of Gear, as is Lane Furniture and nearly 30 other manufacturers.

Waites is featured in a Designer Profile of the March 1994 edition of "Traditional Home" magazine, available on newsstands in Thief River Falls. The article is titled "The New American Look" and centers on his design of a new 66-piece furniture collection for the Lane Company.

The designer has been referred to as "the guru of American country" for his development of design

Humboldt Mom needs more soup labels

Rose Headley needs 90,000 more labels by March 14 to get computers for 7-year-old son with cerebral palsy

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Northern Watch Reporter

Perhaps you have heard about the lady from the tiny town of Humboldt (population: 79) who is collecting Campbell's soup labels to get a computer for her son—perhaps you haven't. If you haven't, it is time you did.

Seven-year-old Jonathan Headley is the little boy who needs the computer. He has cerebral palsy and a computer will help him develop the use of his hands, something he needs to do, his mother said. His mother's name is Rose Headley and she is collecting labels—538,000 of them—to get him a computer. Actually, if she can collect 538,000 labels, she will be able to get Jonathan two computers and a printer. One computer will be kept at school for Jonathan and another and the printer will be at his home.

Rose adopted Jonathan in Texas when he was seven months old, but he was her baby from almost the moment he was born. The parents of the 14-year-old birth mother asked Rose to adopt Jonathan because they knew she was a nurse and could care for him properly.

When he was born on February 26, 1986, Jonathan weighed two pounds, 13 ounces. Doctors told Rose he would be a vegetable, and gave him 30 days to live. But Rose was a nurse. She knew what she was getting into and she knew better.

Jonathan spent five months in the hospital after he was born. When Rose was allowed to bring him home, he was on oxygen and several types of monitors, and was taking 20 different types of medication.

"We wouldn't believe the doctors," she said. "Whatever God wanted, that's what Jonathan would have. We decided we would fight. We don't know the word 'can't' and we still won't listen to it."

Doctors define cerebral palsy as "mental retardation of the motor system" (but not the brain) and say victims of the disease can live fairly productive lives. Jonathan is very alert and bright, but is physically limited. He has previously spent much of his time in a wheelchair, but Rose said he doesn't use the wheelchair much at home any more. Now he "scoots" all around the house and gets into mischief.

Rose claims Jonathan is going through the "Terrible Twos" at the age of seven. He has found out that his hands "do reach out and grab" and he is taking full advantage of it. He is also feeding himself, something that he hasn't done before. Rose says there will be a limit on Jonathan's use of his hands and that physical activities that require dexterity, like writing, will be difficult, but he needs to develop the use of his hands more, and that is why she wants him to have the computers.

Evidently the word "can't" is still not in Rose's vocabulary, because people told her that she could never collect all of the labels needed for Jonathan's computers, either. In fact, she has been told that she is the only individual person who has ever tried to save the amount of labels needed for the computers.

Rose heard about the "Labels for

Fire at Boise Cascade in Fort Frances, Ont.

Fort Frances, Ont. — A major fire caused by a computer malfunction at the Boise Cascade mill in Fort Frances, Ontario, forced evacuation of the immediate area surrounding the plant and mill as well as several downtown streets on Monday. The International Bridge was also closed to traffic. The evacuation took place because of concerns of a steam build up and possible explosion. Later, Boise officials stated that the evacuation was a "precautionary measure" made in the early stages of tho fire and that there was never any danger to employees or the community. Over 30 firefighters, including eight from the International Falls Fire Oepartment, fought the blaze. Poncho Forsythe, International Falls Fire Chief, described the fire as "a very hot, dangerous fire." No cause for the fire has been determined.

SOUPCON

Sherry LaCoursiere

This chocolate treat is just as good as it sounds and isn't hard to make, either:

CHOCOLATE PIE

1 ounce unsweetened baking chocolate
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons water
4 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon vanilla
Pastry for 1 crust pie, baked
2 cups heavy whipping cream
2 tablespoons powdered sugar

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler over boiling water. Add sugar and water and stir until sugar is dissolved. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each. Stir in vanilla. Cool.

Beat egg whites in bowl until stiff. Fold into chocolate mixture. Pour into baked pie shell and refrigerate for several hours.

Beat whipping cream with powdered sugar and mound on cooled pie.

Drip or not, these are real chocolate-covered cherries that you can make yourself:

CHOCOLATE CHERRY CORDIALS

1 (12 ounce) package semisweet chocolate chips, melted
3 tablespoons cherry liqueur
1 1/2 tablespoons grenadine syrup
24 candied cherries

Spoon small amount of chocolate into each of 24 paper or foil candy cases. Coat sides and bottoms well.

Refrigerate for no more than 5 minutes to set chocolate. Set aside remaining melted chocolate.

Combine cherry liqueur and grenadine syrup and chill well.

Place cherry in each chocolate case and drizzle enough cherry liqueur mixture over to cover halfway.

Spoon melted chocolate over each cherry to fill case. Chill for 5 minutes or until chocolate is set.

Place candy in airtight container. Let stand for at least 24 hours before serving.

Peel casings from chocolate and eat carefully - juice will drip.

This dessert not only looks elegant, but tastes good too:

CHOCOLATE SOUFFLE

1 cup milk
6 tablespoons sugar
2 ounces semisweet chocolate
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
4 large egg yolks
6 egg whites
Powdered sugar for sprinkling

Pour milk into saucepan. Add 2 tablespoons sugar and chocolate. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, until chocolate melts. Immediately remove pan from heat.

Melt butter in another saucepan. Add flour and mix well. Stir in remaining sugar. Add chocolate mixture and simmer for 2-3 minutes, stirring constantly.

Pour chocolate mixture into large bowl. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating constantly with whisk.

Preheat oven to 375 degrees.

Beat egg whites in separate bowl until stiff but not dry. With whisk, gently stir 2 cups of egg whites into chocolate mixture. Mix thoroughly.

Add remaining egg whites, folding gently, cutting down to bottom of bowl with rubber spatula and scooping up egg whites while turning the bowl.

Pour mixture into buttered 2 quart souffle dish. Bake for 20 to 30 minutes, depending on how dry you want the souffle.

Remove from oven and sprinkle with powdered sugar. Serve hot.

Even If the weather has you blue, don't park in the blue!

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Recently, I received a telephone call from a person who was angered by what she experienced in Thief River Falls. Even though her car is equipped with a handicapped license plate that allows her to park in handicapped parking stalls, none of the valuable parking spaces were available because people, who she said, obviously thought they would "only be in the store a few minutes" took up the parking stalls.

Hey, surely the persons parking in the handicapped stalls must have thought that it would be much easier in the bitter cold weather for someone with a physical handicap to park further away from the entrance and handicap sidewalk ramps. Or perhaps, they thought that because they were in a hurry no one would mind. Or perhaps, they are so callous to believe that since there are so few handicapped people that they can't possibly use all the reserved parking spaces.

I have observed this thoughtless behavior myself and listened to offenders try to rationalize their thoughtless actions. Of course there are a few exceptions. There are some who probably do qualify to park in a handicapped parking zone, but don't obtain the necessary permits for any number of reasons.

If you feel you qualify to park in a handicap parking zone, contact your local law enforcement center. They will have all the details about how to obtain the proper permits.

Concerned citizens can also help by letting property owners know that if they have handicap parking zones on their property they need to make sure they comply with state standards. For example, the sign has to be visible from the vehicle and above the driver's steering wheel. In order to comply with this standard, the city of Thief River Falls recently raised its signs to a height of seven feet.

Regardless of whether the zones are properly marked, the point is that even in the best of circumstances, it is much more difficult for someone with a handicap to get to the front door of a local business than it is for a healthy adult; so, don't park in the blue! Show a little common courtesy.

One further reminder . . . parking in a properly marked handicap parking zone is punishable by a fine of $200.

Support increased protection of private landowners

by David Hill
Associate Editor

Legislators will be faced with making decisions on many issues this session, but one which could have a significant impact on the economy and the number of lawsuits filed in court is House File 1757.

House File 1757 would bring Minnesota more in line with at least 30 other states which have recreational use statutes that provide increased protection from liability for private landowners who make their land available for public recreation without charge.

A fear of liability and loss of property rights discourages landowners from opening up their land for recreational purposes, such as hunting, fishing, swimming, boating, camping, hiking, bicycling, snowmobiling, skiing and many other activities. One local man was encouraged by a loss prevention specialist to close the BMX track because of the liability risk. Others in this community have balked at allowing snowmobilers to ride on trails across their property.

The threat to the landowner is real. Every year, there are instances of large awards against property owners who did nothing more than let someone use their property. Landowners have been thrust in the position of being responsible for everything that takes place on their property even though injury might be the result of the actions of the injured party.

Our legislators need to be encouraged to support House File 1757, which would limit liability of private landowners who, without charge, allow recreational use of their property.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

This is in response to Deb Cota's letter regarding Arctco employees' knowledge of policies.

As a fervent Arctco employee I feel a personal responsibility to reply to your letter to the editor.

First, I will tell you I knew Rick and offer you a much belated expression of sympathy. I too lost a brother through an accident at a much too young age.

Yes, I do understand your feelings or belief that Rick's son should receive his bonus and yes, part of me believes that since his death was unplanned he should be able to collect for hours he put in at Arctco, but I have to stress to you that as employees of Arctco we all know (or most know) that to collect our profit-sharing bonus on May 15th we must be working.

As employees we have orientation, round table, employee attitude, many meetings where we are totally free to ask any questions. We have Melba, who is available at all times, to ask any questions we might have and if she can not answer our questions (which is almost impossible to imagine) she will direct us to whomever we need to talk to.

I am sorry Chris did not get back to you; that has not been my experience with him. All I can say is if Melba continued to make our policy clear to you, she probably figured (maybe wrongly) that it should not be necessary for you to talk to Chris directly.

At Arctco we have many, many more benefits than drawbacks to policy. I will list but a few:

(1) Insurance with death benefit. Even though I had previous cancer history (lost kidney to malignant tumor 9-29-87), when I was hired on 7-24-88 I was given insurance with no questions asked upon completion of my short probation period;

(2) Paid vacation; (3) sick leave; (4) nine paid holidays a year; (5) paid funeral leave; (6) 401-K plan; (7) Flex health...plus more I could list. We are also given opportunities for other special benefits throughout the year as a service to employees.

As much as it may hurt, policy is policy and cruel as it seems a line must be drawn in all things. As of now, this is the policy we all (or most of us) understand. If this were not the policy there are many people who would work two to three months, quit and sit back and wait for their check in the mail.

We do have an "open door policy" at Arctco. Maybe payment of bonus upon death should be talked about, but as I stated, for now this is not policy.

Sincerely,
Cheryl Simanovski

leaning heavily toward materials such as pine, handcrafted ceramic bowls and folk art and the beauty and color of old quilts. American country had its heyday through the late 1970s and the 1980s.

Now it's the '90s and Waites feels that the time is ripe for another style direction—one that puts the beauty of the past more in step with contemporary times, according to "Traditional Home."

"It has all the heart, warmth, whimsy and livability of American country," he says, "but its spirit stems from the familiar, classic elements of traditional design."

In addition to his work with Thief River Linen, Inc., Waites will assist with design work for Lady Slipper Designs, Inc. of Bemidji—also a Gear licensee—on his trip to Minnesota.

Humboldt Mom needs more labels

Education" coupon offer in October of last year. She called the Campbell's Soup Company, the sponsor of the offer, and asked if it would be possible for her to participate. They said she could participate if a school would be her sponsor. Jonathan's school, Kittson County Elementary School in Hallock, where he is in kindergarten, agreed to do so, and Rose was off and running.

There are several labels that will be accepted in the offer. They are Campbell's, Swanson's, LeMenu, Prego, Vlasic, Franco American, Early California, Mrs. Paul's, Pepperidge Farm, V-8, Oven Pit, Marie's, Sanwa and Casera.

So how many more labels does Rose need? Right now she is 90,000 short of the 538,000 needed, but the clock is running. The labels must be in the mail by March 14, just 17 short days away. "We're going to do it," she says with no hesitancy at all. "I'm sure we'll get the computers."

Right now the Headley house is overrun with boxes and bundles of coupons. Rose estimates the cost of mailing the 35 large (about 12x24 inches) boxes will be around $250. "We haven't started to raise money for that yet. First we'll get the labels and then worry about the money to mail them afterward."

The Headleys' story appeared in several regional and national newspapers, including twice in the National Examiner, and also on radio and television. After all of the publicity, labels began arriving. Rose said she has not just received labels from the area, but from all of the states, as well as six countries. She even has labels printed in Chinese and Japanese. Humboldt post office officials claim they have three times the mail they used to have before Rose started this endeavor.

Not only labels, but good wishes in the form of cards and letters come in the mail. Rose opens as much of the mail as possible herself, but sometimes gets friends and neighbors to help. She said it takes up to two hours each day for her to open all of the letters and packages by herself.

And Jonathan loves the cards and letters that he receives. He looks at each one-asks, "Mommy, does this one say 'God bless me,' too?"

So, if you should happen to have some of those listed labels around the house, this has got to be one of the best reasons you can find to grab your scissor and clip them off. Send them to Rose Headley, P.O. Box 39, Humboldt, MN 56731.

And if you should happen to have some extra "God Blesses" around, pop them into the envelope along with the labels. Jonathan will be delighted.

The computers should arrive at the Headley house about the first part of June and The Watch plans another story about Jonathan and his new computers after that time.

TRF Academic Boosters meet

Thief River Falls Academic Boosters will meet at 12 noon Thursday, March 3, at the Area Learning Center located above the School District Service Center. Lunch and program will be provided and all members are encouraged to attend. New members are welcome.

Hertz Foods Inc. accepted its first load of fresh produce direct from Galveston, TX, Wednesday. Hertz had discontinued its produce division more than a year ago and has now decided to bring it back because it will help ensure quality and lower prices. Produce will now be shipped direct from all over the country. Pictured from left are: Warren Hanestad, produce manager, Kenny Lindquist, Hartz employee, and Jon Stimec, driver for Hartz Truck Line.

Over 125 Hertz retailers attended the annual food show in Thief River Falls Wednesday. The National Guard Armory was crowded with about 60 food vendor booths. The show gives retailers an opportunity to try new products, talk with Hertz Foods Inc. representatives, meet with other store owners, and make important order decisions.

Hartz reopens division

Hartz Foods Inc. has accepted its first load of produce at the warehouse in Thief River Falls in more than a year. More than a year ago, Hartz Foods entered into an arrangement with Gateway Foods in Superior, WI, in which Gateway shipped fresh produce to Thief River Falls.

Fresh produce is being delivered direct now. Warren Hanestad, of the produce department at Hartz, said that by bringing the produce in direct it ensures a better quality product and pricing.

Produce will be arriving from Florida, Texas, California, Washington and Idaho now. The first load of fresh produce, which was bannanas, was picked up at Galvaston, TX, Monday. It arrived Wednesday morning. A second semi-load was expected Wednesday and two more on Saturday.

When the fresh produce division at Hartz was discontinued Hartz moved employees over to the main warehouse. Some of the employees have since left the company. One of the former employees has moved back and Hanestad explained that the workforce needed for the produce division will come from the main warehouse.

Hartz Truck Line delivered the first load of fresh produce, and they will be involved in delivering more produce.

Mock trial team goes to region

Lincoln high school's mock trial team continued its winning ways Thursday at Bemidji by taking two trials and advancing to the regional final against Virginia Tuesday, March 1, in Grand Rapids.

Teacher coach Cal Lindberg said all of his team members turned in their best performances of the year in wins over International Falls 168-165 and Deer River 156-150.

In the first trial against International Falls Thursday morning, Lincoln represented the defense and not only won on points but had its defendant declared not guilty. Presiding judge Carl Baer had Thief River Falls winning on points 85-83 while scoring judge Susan McKay had Lincoln winning 83-82.

In the afternoon trial against Deer River, Lincoln represented the prosecution and won on points from both judges as well as winning the case on its merits. Presiding judge Tim Faver had Thief River Falls ahead 81-78 and scoring judge Janice Barnes had Lincoln ahead 75-72. Deer River had defeated Cass Lake in the morning to advance to the sub-region final.

Thief River Falls will now have to do some major juggling of roles for the regional final. Key team members Amy Harbolt and Heather Shafland will be in Washington, DC, for the Washington Close-Up sessions and therefore unable to participate.

"Right now it looks like we will have four of the six remaining team members in new roles for the regional final," Lindberg said. "It will be a real challenge, but this is a hard working and determined group of kids and they will give it their best effort."

This is the third successive year that Lincoln's team has advanced to the region final.

Fast start lifts Prowlers over Nordics 72-63

A 14-4 start carried Thief River Falls to a 72-63 boys high school basketball win over Marshall County Central Tuesday at Newfolden.

It was a solid team effort for the Prowlers as Kyle Sanden scored 20 points and pulled down 16 rebounds. Preston Treat scored 15 points and collected 7 assists. Nathan Anderson netted 12 points, and Eric Bjorgaard picked up 10.

"We played pretty well," said Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke. "It's a good win for us. They have a good team. It gets us one step closer to a .500 season."

The Prowlers, who finished 2-21 and 4-19 the past two seasons, took a 10-10 record into a Friday (Feb. 25) game at Warren-Alvarado. They finish regular season play with a March 4 trip to Detroit Lakes.

Sanden was 5-for-7 from the field in the first quarter, which ended with the Prowlers up 16-10.

"We got the ball into Kyle and got him into the game right away," noted Brekke. "Preston did a nice job penetrating and dishing off."

Thief River Falls had a 32-24 halftime lead and enjoyed a 51-39 third quarter cushion.

"The game was decided in the first three minutes," said Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland. "We didn't shoot the ball real well, but I thought we played a pretty decent basketball game."

Trever Magner scored 19 points and Brandon Borg had 14 for the Nordics, who fell to 13-8 heading into a Friday (Feb. 25) regular season finale at Stephen.

Thief River Falls put together a strong shooting package, turning in a 50 percent 25-for-50 effort from the field and a 77 percent 17-for-22 free throw effort.

"We shot the ball pretty well," said Brekke. "We did an excellent job at the free throw line – the best we've done all year."

Marshall County Central went 24-for-63 from the field (38 percent) and 6-for-10 at the line. Intimidated by the 6-10 Sanden under the basket, the Nordics' first half shooting included a 6-for-14 effort from 3-point range and only a 2-for-20 showing inside the 3-point circle.

"We did a better job offensively moving the ball than we have for a while, but we just didn't hit the shots," noted Ueland. "The 6-10 kid had a lot to do with that. Our kids were altering their shots because of his presence."

The Nordics finished with a 37-34 rebound edge.

Prowlers edge Pirates 7-6

■ Overtime win puts TRF in hockey semifinals

Winning ugly beats losing pretty. Especially in post-season play. There wasn't much highlight film material in Thursday's Thief River Falls vs. Crookston Section 8A high school hockey tournament quarterfinal match-up at The Gardens in Warroad, but the Prowlers did get a season-extending 7-6 overtime win out of it, moving them into today's (Saturday) 7:30 p.m. semifinals against top-seeded Warroad.

Nothing that happened Thursday should have surprised those who followed the two teams this winter. They both came in at 8-14, with a pair of one-goal regular season Crookston wins over Thief River Falls giving the Pirates the No. 4 seed while putting the Prowlers No. 5. And for the third time in the 1993-94 season, the skaters didn't dazzle many judges with their artistic impression.

The Pirates, who stunned the Prowlers by overcoming a 4-0 third period deficit to win a 5-4 regular season overtime game at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center earlier this month, tried to pull it off again in Warroad when they turned a 5-1 second period Thief River Falls lead into a 6-6 overtime-producing tie.

It was familiar ground for the Prowlers, who have played a remarkable seven overtime games this winter. A deflection off a Crookston stick at 2:14 of the eight-minute sudden death session put them at 4-3 in those extended games.

The game-winning goal went to Jeff Twomey after sophomore defenseman Paul Gonsorowski got off a tee-shot in the slot. Twomey in front of Crookston goalie Kevin Capistran, along with the Pirates' defender who ultimately tipped the puck into the net.

It might not have been a pretty game-winner, but it certainly wasn't any worse than the Pirates' equalizer that went to Dan Montague with just 1:37 remaining in regulation time – a puck that was inadvertently batted into the Prowlers' net by a defenseman who was trying to glove a high rebound off Thief River Falls goalie Eric Dowers.

"It was a bizarre game," acknowledged Thief River Falls coach Glenn Chiodo. "I think that's about the best description of the game I can come up with. But the way things have gone this year, I would have been the most surprised person in the rink if it would have been any different."

Thief River Falls started the night with a 3-0 first period lead. First shot on goal of the night gave the Prowlers a 1-0 head start as Keith Anderson skated out from behind the net and beat Crookston starting goalie Wes Colborn at 2:01.

Steve Rambeck scored off a scramble in front of the Crookston net at 4:40 and Anderson skated into the zone, through the defense and waited for Colborn to go down before making it 3-0 on a power play opportunity at 14:25.

Justin Paul buried a shot at 2:31 of the second period to put Crookston on the board, but a nice feed in front resulted in a Marc Seaverson goal at 6:24 and a shorthanded boomer by Kaine Martell off a face-off in the Crookston zone opened up a 5-1 Thief River Falls spread at 7:09.

Crookston coach Jon Bittner elected to bring in Capistran at that point, and the Pirates started their comeback.

A slow-rolling rebound goal by Chris Peterson at 8:08 was promptly followed by a long blast by Chris Chandler at 8:35 for a suddenly-close 5-3 game. Both goals came on the same 4-on-4 skate.

Thief River Falls looked like it might have thwarted the Crookston rally on a Tim Barry power play rebound tap-in at 4:58 of the third period, but it took the Pirates just 36 seconds to respond as Trent Habstritt scored on a shorthanded breakaway.

Another breakaway goal, this one by Peterson, made it 6-5 with 9:47 left, leading to the tying goal at the end.

It ended on the first shot on goal in overtime.

Dowers finished with 24 saves, the same figure Colborn and Capistran combined on.

"I feel good about our effort," said Chiodo. "The kids gave it everything they had. It wasn't always perfect, but I thought we did some very good things at times."

Warroad out-shot Lake of the Woods 49-7 in winning the Thursday night doubleheader opener 8-2. Announced attendance for the first session of the first-ever Warroad-hosted tournament was 1,225.

Warroad beat Thief River Falls 4-1 and 8-1 in two regular season meetings.

TRF girls hold off Lakers, win 53-52

Thief River Falls girls ended an eight-game losing streak Thursday with a 53-52 high school basketball win over Detroit Lakes.

It was the final home appearance of the 1993-94 season for the 3-17 Prowlers, and their first victory over a North Sub-Section 8AA opponent. They close out the regular season today (Saturday) at Crookston and will begin tournament play Monday.

"It was really a nice win for the kids," said Wiltse. "It's nice to be able to win that last home game, and it was nice to finally win a conference (sub-section) game. They were pretty excited about it."

Detroit Lakes started with a 13-7 first quarter lead, but a Thief River Falls team that has had trouble scoring this winter, came up with a 21-point second quarter en route to a 28-23 halftime advantage. The Prowlers maintained a 38-32 third quarter spread.

"Things just weren't clicking offensively in the first quarter," said Wiltse, "but we went crazy in the second quarter."

The Lakers rallied behind the play of 6-0 Lisa Althoff, overtaking the Prowlers 48-49 with 2 1/2 minutes left.

However, shortly thereafter, Althoff picked up her fifth foul. The Prowlers picked up a pair of free throws by Lori DeLap and a key three-point play off an offensive rebound by Lisa Ulrich to regain the lead.

Detroit Lakes had a final possession opportunity with eight seconds left, but failed to get off the shot.

Althoff, who was coming off a 34-point effort against Fergus Falls, finished with a game-high 19 points. Teammate Abby Flottemesch had 15.

DeLap led Thief River Falls with 15 points, while Toni Chiodo scored 14, handed out 11 assists, and combined with Lisa Swanson to lead the Prowlers' full-court pressure defense.

Thief River Falls shot only 21 percent from the field (21/63), but did manage to hit 14 of 23 free throws. Detroit Lakes shot 41 percent (21/51), but made just 10 of 25 free throws. Although out-rebounded 32-24, the Prowlers did beat the Lakers 15-8 on the offensive boards.

"We hit the boards hard," noted Wiltse. "We did a real nice job on the offensive boards.

The Lakers had 32 turnovers; the Prowlers finished with 20.

Wolverines' season ends in o.t. setback

A frustrating season ended in frustrating fashion for the Goodridge/Grygla girls Thursday in a 48-47 first round Section 8A Sub-Section 4 high school basketball tournament loss to Kittson County North.

The Cougars' LaVonne Nelson scored on a rebound basket at the final buzzer to advance Kittson County North into today's (Saturday) quarterfinals. The Wolverines' season ended at 6-16.

Goodridge/Grygla had a chance to break a 42-42 tie in the final moments of regulation time, but contact under the basket on a base line drive by Deanna Kotrba resulted in a turnover instead of a foul call the Wolverines' bench was looking for.

"It was typical of the way the season went for us," said Goodridge/Grygla coach Mike Gast after the loss. "We played well at times, but it wasn't good enough."

A 3-point basket by Kristy Johnson and a bucket by Melissa Bernstein with 20 seconds left provided Goodridge/Grygla with a 47-46 overtime lead.

Nelson finished with a game-high 16 points. Teammate Naomi Wilebski netted 14. Johnson scored 12 points to lead the Wolverines, while Brandi Stratton had 11 and Bernstein 10.

Goodridge/Grygla was 19-for-60 from the field (32 percent) and 8-for-13 at the free throw line. Kittson County North went 20-for-48 from the field (42 percent) and 7-for-18 at the line. The Wolverines finished with a 34-27 rebound advantage, but the Cougars controlled the boards in taking a 19-14 halftime lead.

"We couldn't keep them off the boards in the first half, and they got a lot of points off their rebounds," explained Gast. "We did a better job rebounding in the second half. I wasn't happy with our first half, but I thought we played some pretty good ball from the second part of the third quarter on."

Warroad and Roseau joined Kittson County North as first round winners Thursday. The entire tournament is being played at Northland Community College in Thief River Falls.

Aaron Rosten scored 19 points, Aaron Chaput 18 and Paul Melby 11 as Red Lake County Central held off Mahnomen 55-51 in a late-reported Friday (Feb. 18) boys high school basketball game at Oklee.

The Mustangs led at the quarter stops 14-6, 27-12 and 42-28 before the spread narrowed in the final eight minutes.

"We might have slowed it down too soon," admitted Red Lake County Central coach Todd Fure.

Jeremy Seykora led Mahnomen with a game-high 26 points, but he was the only double figure scorer for the visitors.

Red Lake County Central was 15-for-39 from the field (38 percent) and had an accurate 21-for-25 night at the free throw line. Mahnomen went 22-for-49 from the field (45 percent) and had a quieter 4-for-4 free throw night. The Mustangs finished with a 30-15 rebound advantage.

B/G-MR boys get by Tri-County 48-44

There was only one number that really mattered Tuesday – the final on the scoreboard as Badger/Greenbush-Middle River edged Tri-County 48-44 in boys high school basketball at Greenbush.

But Gators coach Eldon Sparby was shaking his head at some of the other figures that showed up in the post-game statistical totals.

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River won despite scoring a single second quarter point, despite putting up just 33 shots (compared to 61 for Tri-County), and despite committing 20 of the game's 26 turnovers.

It wasn't the kind of basketball that teams like to play on the eve of tournament competition. But the win did elevate the Gators to 14-7 heading into a Friday (Feb. 25) regular season finale against Argyle.

Tri-County opened the game with an 8-2 lead, but the best Badger/Greenbush-Middle River basketball of the night put the Gators ahead 16-13 at the end of the first quarter. Then came the the Gators' turnover-plagued second quarter that allowed the Wildcats to take a 24-17 lead into intermission.

"We started a little slow, then we played pretty well the rest of the first quarter," pointed out Sparby. "But we just weren't taking care of the basketball in the second quarter. We played sloppy. I think we turned it over just about every trip down the court."

The Gators regrouped and started the second half with a 10-0 run. They led 35-31 at the end of the third quarter, but never did shake the Wildcats down the stretch.

"We didn't put it away when we had the opportunity," said Sparby.

Eastvold named to state position in North Dakota

Jo Eastvold

Jo Eastvold of Wannaska, who has been program coordinator for the Violence Intervention Project (VIP) headquartered in Thief River Falls for the past 18 months, has been named Domestic Violence Prevention Coordinator for the State of North Dakota by Attorney General Heidi Heitkamp.

The position is a newly-established one for North Dakota and the program Eastvold will develop and administer is being financed with a two-year federal start-up grant. It is expected to become a continuing state program.

Eastvold told the Northern Watch that the position will involve the broad areas of coordinating cross-discipline training, coordination of a public awareness campaign and developing a strategic plan for prevention of domestic violence.

Domestic violence is a strong interest area of Attorney General Heitkamp, Eastvold said, and it is expected that the Attorney General will take an active role in helping to develop the program and create a visible public awareness of the effort.

Following her interview for the position, Eastvold said that a special investigator came to Thief River Falls to make a background check on her. She said that she is sure the community people interviewed by the investigator had a lot to do with her having the opportunity to be selected for the state position, and she appreciates their support.

Eastvold also said that during her 18 months of service in this area that she has been greatly impressed by the people she has been privileged to work with in law enforcement, social services, the courts, the VIP on-call advocates and other volunteer groups.

"I have seen people who really care," she said. "This area has a lot of very good service providers in public protection (law enforcement) and social service agencies and certainly is well served in the courts."

She specifically mentioned Ken Yutrzenka and Sue Miller with Pennington County Social Services' child protection division; Bonnie Anderson, general crime victim advocate for Pennington county; Thief River Falls Police Chief Ken Froschheiser, Pennington County Sheriff Gerald Moe and their officers; and Judges Dennis Murphy, Larry Jorgenson and James Wilson.

Prior to taking the VIP program coordinator position in Thief River Falls, Eastvold served with victim service for two and a half years in Freeborn county. She previously had 12 years of public service experience working with the unemployed, displaced homemakers, injured workers and victims of crime.

Eastvold said she is looking forward to the challenge of creating a new program for North Dakota—a state where reported domestic violence increased 17 per cent in 1993 over the previous year. She said she believes it will be important for her to work with the schools and service agencies as well as community groups and coalitions to reduce the pattern of domestic violence in North Dakota.

Pesticide training set

Private Pesticide Applicator Training for anyone who applies restricted use pesticides will be offered Tuesday, March 1, from 3:30 to 6 p.m. at room 112 in Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls.

The training this year will be conducted through interactive television which will permit coverage of three locations in the area at one time.

Pesticide applicator training is required by the Minnesota Department of Agriculture for farmers who apply any type of restricted use pesticides. This includes several of the more popular herbicides as well as most insecticides and fumigants.

While the certification training is mandatory, attendance at the meeting is not. Should an applicator wish to study the materials and do the testing at home, materials for this purpose are available at any time at the county extension office.

Cost of the certification program is $25 and, once the applicant is certified, the permit received is valid for three years, generally expiring on the applicant's birthday anniversary date. For answers to questions or to receive training materials, call 681-2116.

WATCH

Highway 59 in danger of exclusion from NHS

Highway 59 from Thief River Falls to the Canadian border, and Highway 11 from the North Dakota border to Baudette are in danger of not being included in the National Highway System map.

The map identifies the most vital 155,000 miles (plus or minus 15 per cent) of America's existing 4 million miles of roads. It will be the federal focus of roadway modernization, safety, upgrading and efficiency improvements. Getting Highway 59 on the NHS is important to the economic vitality of the entire region.

Minnesota Department of Transportation announced in December 1993 the Minnesota highways it recommended to be included on the NHS map. Not included in its recommendation was Highway 59 from Thief River Falls to the Canadian border or Highway 11 from the North Dakota border to Baudette. Although one appeal to Federal Highway Administration has been rejected, officials at the Northwest Regional Development Commission believe it is not too late to get the Highways included on the map.

Other than Highway 2 and a stub of Highway 59 from Highway 2 to Thief River Falls, there are no Highways in northwestern Minnesota included in the NHS. The short stump of highway from Highway 2 to Thief River Falls was included only after a grass-roots letter writing campaign was partially successful.

Highway 59 and 11 are vital arterial routes in northwestern Minnesota that carry farm products, such as milk and eggs, wheat, corn and grains to markets, raw materials, such as lumber and gravel to factories, fuel to keep our homes warm, groceries to keep our store shelves stocked as well as commuters, vacation travelers, and others.

Our neighbors to the north in Canada know that and are concerned. About 300 people attended a meeting in St. Pierre recently to discuss the condition of Highway 59 in Canada.

A news article in the Southeastern Dispatch in St. Pierre also summarized a study of Highway 59 in Canada. The study included a description of the historical importance of Highway 59 by a historian.

"Highway 59 is one of the oldest man-made roads for overland travel in Western Canada. Today's paved highway follows very closely what used to be called the Crow Wing Trail. In the early 1800's, this trail was the most direct link between Fort Garry (Winnipeg) and the town of St. Paul, Minnesota. It carried people and merchandise, on foot, horse, in caravans of Red River cars, whose grinding wheels could be heard for miles.

"The pioneers who built this road were mostly members of a tough breed of wintering voyageurs, who had started to build communities along the Red and Rat rivers. They were hard-working, courageous, intelligent people. Intelligent enough to keep out of the swamp and mud and to build this important roadway on solid ground."

Unfortunately, because of heavy use and possibly neglect, Highway 59 in Canada has fallen into disrepair. One startling statistic provided in the article states that the accident rate on Highway 59 in Canada is one every 4.42 days.

According to statistics provided in the article, International travel road traffic from Canada to the United States shows 32,090 in 1990, and 51,000 in 1992. Traffic patterns from the United States to Canada show 38,696 in 1990 and 52,902 in 1991.

A population growth chart in the article also shows that growth in the southeast region of Manitoba (near Highway 59) is growing at a rate of 30.8 per cent, which is much faster than any other region in Manitoba.

According to the Northwest Regional Development Commission, Highway 59 in Minnesota is in relatively good shape when compared to other routes in the seven-county region. Nevertheless, residents in the region can expect that there will be needed maintenance and eventually reconstruction of Violence in the Warroad school

Warroad — Cabin fever has been blamed as the cause of two recent acts of violence at the Warroad Middle School, according to Police Chief Laurence Wright. In an incident of juveniles fighting, one receiving six stitches and in another incident a student was threatened with a knife. The chief said that in the past year school officials have been having to deal more with students being disrespectful of and commiting violent acts against one another.

Cabin lost in February 23 fire

McIntosh — The old Sam Throne cabin in Badger township was a total loss as the result of a fire the evening of February 23. Albert Plante reported the fire on the neighboring farm. The renter of the property, who received minor burns in the fire, was located at the home of a neighbor. Firemen from McIntosh and Erskine responded to the fire call, but most of the cabin was burned by the time the fire departments arrived.

Travel plan is a scam, says Sheriff Morken

Red Lake Falls — People who registered with World View Tours at the Red River Valley Winter Shows in Crookston may be called and told they have won a trip to the Bahamas but the prize is a scam, said Red Lake County Sheriff Al Morken. "When you have to pay money ahead of time to a travel agency or tour company that you don't know anything about, it is often not best," Morken said. The same scam was tried last year at the Home and Sport Show in Thief River Falls.

Burglaries at school and Wagon Wheel

Middle River — Burglars hit the Middle River school and the Wagon Wheel in Middle River the weekend of February 25. The school was entred through a window in the boiler room and seven doors were destroyed to gain entry to school rooms. Approximately $500 in cash was taken, money belonging to school clubs. A bar was used to pry open the east door of the Wagon Wheel and then to pry open the safe. Approximately $3,600 was taken in the Wagon Wheel burglary. A new 24 inch pry bar with green paint and the words, "Woodings-Verona USA" was left at the Wagon Wheel. Anyone who has any information on the burglary or the pry bar is asked to contact Marshall County Sheriff Dennis Brekke.

Still going strong at the age of (almost) 91

Gonvick — Anna Arveson of Gonvick will be 91 years old this May but she is still crocheting. Anna makes very delicate crocheted doilies from crochet thread (not yarn). She sells some and gives others away as gifts. She learned the technique from a school teacher, Alma Dahl. Anna was born in Pennington county in 1903. Her family moved to Neptune, near Trail, when she was a girl.

Michael Tillmann, director of standards and information for the Minnesota Department of Education, was the principal presenter Thursday evening at an informational meeting on the state's proposed graduation rule. About 75 people attended the session in the Lincoln high school cafeteria. It was a homecoming of sorts for Tillmann who taught in the local school district's English department for two years about 20 years ago. A story about the meeting and the proposed graduation requirements will be published in the March 9 edition of The Times.

Skadsem heads Central Marshall County Project

Susan Skadsem was elected chair of the Central Marshall County Project Future committee when the annual election was held at the February 12 meeting.

Other officers elected at the meeting were Marilyn Donarski, vice chair and Lucille Tunheim, secretary-treasurer. Gary Beito and Senora Elseth are directors.

Seven new members appointed to serve on the Project Future steering committee include Sharon Gustafson, Arlynn Tunheim, Gordon Bring, Lucille Skadsem, Vernette Stokke, Ed Stromlund and Delores Stromlund.

Project Future is busy in a number of areas in the community, Skadsem said. The Youth and Education Action Team is working hard at starting a youth center in Newfolden. A teen dance fundraiser was held February 25 and nearly $200 was earned for the youth center fund.

A raffle is also underway to raise funds for all Project Future activities. Prizes include a rod and reel combination, AM/FM stereo cassette recorder and a Woodstream single gun hard case. Tickets are available from Project Future members or at Hardware Hank store in Newfolden. Prizes will be awarded March 27 at the Agassiz Rod & Gun Club sports show.

Next regular CMC Project Future Committee meeting will be March 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the Newfolden Community Center. All meetings are open to the public.

Power lines knocked down in accident Fri.

Power lines were knocked down in an accident near Red Lake Falls early Friday morning.

Red Lake county sheriff's department was alerted to an accident on County road 11 about one mile west of Red Lake Falls at about 1 a.m. Jessie Ray Brinkman, 19, McIntosh, was driving east on County road 11 when he lost control of the vehicle due to slippery conditions on the road and the vehicle rolled over. The vehicle collided with a power pole breaking two guy wires and causing the power pole to fall. Red Lake County Sheriff's deputies contacted Rural Electric Association workers who responded immediately to repair the pole and clear live power lines off of the roadway, preventing possible injury. No one was injured. The extent of the damage to the 1967 Plymouth Fury driven by Brinkman was unknown.

Head Start touches 200 area youngsters

120 in three counties visitied by Home Base workers; another 80 attend Center Base activities at area centers

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Times Reporter

Over 120 children in the area are visited in their homes by ladies carrying boxes filled with games, toys and other fun things to do. Eighty other area children go off to activity centers each day to play with toys and games. None of the children suspect they are being taught skills and habits they will need to know to become responsible citizens. All of these children are getting a head start not only on their education, but physical and mental wellness and social and family values.

The children are participating in the Inter-County Community Council's Head Start Program which serves school districts in Pennington, Red Lake, Clearwater and East Polk counties.

The Head Start Program was a dream of President John F. Kennedy and after his death it became a reality. The program began in 1965 as part of President Lyndon Johnson's "War on Poverty."

The Head Start Program began in Appalachia as a six week summer program designed to prepare disadvantaged children for kindergarten. It has evolved into a leading preschool program which delivers comprehensive services to three, four and five-year-olds and their families.

In this area, the beginning of Head Start was also a six week summer program, started in 1966. It then changed to operate through the academic year in 1976, which is how it continues at the present time. It is expected that the program may become a full year program in the next three years, with summertime activities utilizing community resources and more outdoor activities.

Jo Vigen of Thief River Falls is the director of the Inter-County Community Council Head Start Program. Other supervisors are Betty Tangen from McIntosh, educational disabilities: Linda Oergeson from Oklee, health: Avis Steenerson from Fosston, mental health and literacy: Leann Steiger from Thief River Falls, social services; Linda Ubert from Clearbrook, parent involvement; and Cindy Stonehouse from Oklee, program assistant.

The Head Start Program involves various areas of child welfare:

- Education by providing developmentally appropriate activities for pre-school children:
- Health by providing complete health screenings, including height,

Samantha and Alex's mom, Jane, is shown holding Alex. The finger painting fun is helping to teach Samantha that red and yellow make orange, as well as giving her something gooey to get her fingers into. The Head Start Program provides training and teaching to parents as well as children to promote family interaction.

Ah, the joys of finger painting. Four-year-old Samantha Thibert is having a good time finger painting with her Home Based Educator, Lynn LaCoursiere (far right), but little brother Alex, age 1, wants to get into the action, too. What he really wants to do is get some of that paint in his mouth to see what it tastes like.

Recommendations that Roseau build a new courthouse

Roseau — In an effort to bring the present courthouse up to date with the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Roseau county board hired a Moorhead architect to check on the costs of such an endeavor. They also asked the Roseau County Americans with Disabilities (ADA) Facilities Committee to look into bringing the courthouse up to code. Both the ADA committee and the architect recommended that the county build a new courthouse because it would be too expensive to fix up and try to expand the old building.

Lake of the Woods Too Complex For Politics

Lake of the Woods is not only a body of water which covers parts of two nations—including one state and two Canadian provinces—it is a vast aquatic ecosystem. Its waters cover gradually sloping expanses of sand in some areas, lap against sheer rock walls in others and seep into muskeg and floating bog in still others. It is fed by a number of rivers and streams, all of which affect at least a portion of the lake. And it contains large quantities of a number of species of fish, of which the walleye (pike in the U.S. and pickerel in Canada) is the most prized.

Since the borders and boundaries of the nations, state and provinces which harbor the waters of Lake of the Woods are not walls nor other structural barriers, it may be expected that the fish in the lake don't really care if they are American, Canadian, Minnesotan, Ontarian or Manitoban. They swim unrestricted where the mood moves them and where they are most comfortable with their habitat, temperature and food supply, blissfully unaware that they are being "managed" by humans.

Given this ability of the fish to ignore boundaries and borders, it seems somewhat presumptive of governments and agencies to believe that they can independently "manage" the fish which swim within those separate jurisdictions at any given time. The fact is, however, according to information gained from tagging efforts, that although some fish may roam, most stay at home.

"Precise estimates of how tagged spawning stocks disperse during the fishing season are not possible since tag returns reflect fishing activity as well as walleye movements," states a report in the "Minnesota-Ontario Boundary Water Fisheries Atlas" published in 1992 and containing statistics compiled through 1989.

"Individual fish may also make extreme movements," the report continues, "giving the impression that stocks in the lake are homogenous when, in fact, they are not. The discreteness of fish stocks, or the lack of it, should be assessed using a substantial portion of fish which exhibit the same behavior pattern rather than from occasional observations of extreme movement."

Fish tagging research showed that while fish moved freely about areas of the lake where borders are located, they tended to remain for the most part in a general area. Drastic changes in food supply or other factors such as extreme weather could create an occasional wider dispersal, but such happenings are considered to be at least uncommon.

So it is understandable, according to this premise, that Minnesota, Ontario and Manitoba each has its own means, methods and purposes in the way it deals with the fisheries resource in its particular part of the lake. It is also understandable that where there is something of value—which fish certainly are—there will be efforts to exploit and manipulate it. And what could be more exploitive or manipulative than government?

All of which brings us to the political controversy involving differing viewpoints held by elected representatives in Minnesota and Ontario and—to a considerably lesser extent—in Manitoba. Ontario government has taken a strongly possessive view of its walleyes in general, and especially as they relate to harvest by non-resident, Minnesota-based anglers. This is, of course, the province's prerogative. While the fish swim in Ontario waters, they are Ontario fish, eh? Most recent decision was to limit Minnesota-based anglers to two walleyes per day, while giving non-resident, Ontario-based anglers a larger possession limit.

Minnesota resort operators and Minnesota-based anglers—and their elected representatives—are crying foul. Minnesota resorts and anglers who stay at them have been taking advantage of Ontario's fishery for generations. They don't like the means Ontario has elected to use in protection of its own rather sparse resort industry on the premise of protecting its walleye resource. Retaliatory legislation is being introduced in Minnesota to spite the Ontario government. A bill sponsored in the Minnesota legislature by Rep. Jim Tunheim of Kennedy would limit non-resident, Ontario-based anglers to bringing only two walleyes back into Minnesota.

Take that, you selfish Ontarians! We'll show you who can be the most unreasonable!

Nobody asked, but do you know what we would like to see? We would like to see an empowered Lake of the Woods fisheries commission with equal representation from Manitoba, Minnesota and Ontario, with membership heavily weighted toward anglers and fisheries personnel and lightly weighted toward elected officials.

The commission should be empowered to issue a Lake of the Woods fishing license valid anywhere on the lake with the revenue to support the commission and the Lake of the Woods fishery without regard to state or province. The commission should also be empowered to establish season dates and the limits of fish to be taken in accordance with fish populations and their biologically determined sustainable harvest.

Lake of the Woods is a large lake—too big to be "managed" by political action and reaction and too complex a resource to be fragmented by governmental divisions. To create such a lake-wide authority would require the surrender of political power so it is unlikely to happen. But it could work and, we believe, is preferable to international bickering which serves neither fish nor humans well.

Ken Murphy

Ken Murphy seeks DFL endorsement

Ken Murphy of Thief River Falls announced his intention to seek the DFL endorsement as a candidate for the Minnesota House of Representatives seat in District 1B. Currently the position is held by Tim Finseth (I-R), who won the seat in a contest last summer. An election was held last summer because the District 1B representative, Wally Sparby, was appointed director of the State ASCS office.

Murphy made his announcement at a DFL precinct caucus in Thief River Falls Tuesday. Murphy is no stranger to politics. He has served in a public office for 25 years, which includes 12 on School District 564 board of directors, nine as a Thief River Falls city councilman and four as a Pennington county board commissioner.

If he gets the endorsement from the DFL, Murphy said he will not file for his county commission seat, which will also be on the ballot next November.

Murphy said the decision to announce his candidacy for the DFL endorsement came after a lot of thought and encouragement.

"Pockets" plays for preschool concert Monday

A free family concert featuring "Pockets," a husband and wife team who perform for the young and young at heart, will be presented Monday, March 7, from 6:30 to 7:15 p.m. at the Early Childhood Family Education center in Thief River Falls.

Immediately following the concert (7:15 to 8 p.m.) there will be an open house and registration for spring quarter ECFE classes.

"Some think the entertainers use the name 'Pockets' because the wear aprons with lots of pockets filled with all sorts of props," notes Joyce Fraschberser, director of the ECFE program. "But really it is because those pockets are full of fun and surprises and a little bit of magic to make children smile."

Add melted chocolate to flour mixture. Stir in nuts and remaining chips.

Drop by teaspoonfuls about 2 inches apart on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake 11-12 minutes. (Recipe makes 4 dozen cookies.)

A jar filled with cookies always makes a kitchen more "homey." Here are a few cookie recipes you might like to try this weekend.

Yum, yum, these cookies are filled with dates, cherries and walnuts:

FRUIT 'N' NUT DROPS

8 ounces cream cheese (soften to room temperature)
1 cup margarine
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped dates
3/4 cup chopped walnuts
1/2 cup candied cherry halves
Walnut halves

Combine cream cheese, margarine and sugar. Blend in egg. Add dry ingredients and then stir in dates, nuts and cherries.

Drop by rounded teaspoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Top with walnut half.

Bake at 375 degrees for 9 to 11 minutes until edges are lightly browned. (Recipe makes 4 dozen.)

You can't get much easier than this:

BROWN SUGAR COOKIES

3/4 cup brown sugar
3/4 cup white sugar
1 cup shortening
2 eggs, beaten
Salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon baking powder
Flour to make dough that is easy to handle

Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs, salt and vanilla and mix. Add flour.

Chill, then make into balls the size of a walnut and flatten with sugar-dipped glass. Bake at 350 until browned.

Make these delicious cookies two different ways - try them both:

BUTTER COOKIES

1 cup butter
1 1/2 cups powdered sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/4 teaspoon salt

In mixing bowl, cream butter, gradually adding sugar. Beat light and fluffy.

Gradually add flour, soda, cream of tartar and salt.

Chill dough for easier handling.

On lightly floured surface, roll dough to 1/8 inch thickness.

Cut shapes with floured cutter and sprinkle cookies with sugar, OR roll dough in small balls and press with sugared fork or glass.

Bake at 350 degrees for 6 to 8 minutes. (Recipe makes 6 dozen.)

Childhood screening scheduled for March 8 at church in TRF

Early childhood screening clinic for Thief River Falls will be held Tuesday, March 8, from 2 to 6 p.m. at Redeemer Lutheran Church, 1300 East Nora Street. Screenings are provided free of charge.

This March screening is intended for children who have had or will have their fourth birthday in January, February or March of this year. Other screening clinics will be held later for the remainder of the 1995 kindergarten class.

Although the screenings mentioned are scheduled for certain groups of students, any child between the age of three and five will be screened if the parent has the slightest concern about any area of development.

If a child is in the proper age group for Tuesday's screening and the family has not yet received an information letter, parents are asked to call 681-8670 for an appointment as soon as possible.

According to the Early Childhood Family Education program of School District 564, Minnesota law now requires all children to be screened prior to entering public school, preferably around age three and one-half to four years. The screening includes a family interview, a health and immunization review and a check for vision, hearing, speech, language and general development.

Early detection of a child's health and development problems can reduce the need for costly care at a later time and such difficulties can be addressed before kindergarten. The screening is conducted by trained professionals from the public school system and the county public health services, therefore there is no fee for the service.

A child does not need to go through the screening if he or she will be home-schooled or will attend a private school. If that is the situation involving a child scheduled for screening, a parent should call the number listed above and inform the school district.

Future of program is at stake...

TRF Legion baseball needs to raise funds

by Mike Lundgren, Sports Editor

American Legion baseball, a fixture on the Thief River Falls sports scene each summer, must overcome a major financial hurdle if Post 117 is going to field a team in 1994, according to Howard Dalager, who is spearheading an effort to keep the program alive.

Dalager has been involved in Thief River Falls' summer baseball program since 1980, serving as the Legion head coach the past five years.

Cost of operating Thief River Falls' Legion baseball is covered by Post 117 charitable gaming funds. A significant drop in those revenues has put the program on the endangered species list.

Two years ago three Thief River Falls summer baseball teams for 16-18-year-olds – American Legion (varsity, primarily 18-year-olds), American Legion Bombers (B team, designed basically for 17-year-olds), and VFW (16-year-olds) – operated under a combined budget that was in the $22,000 to $25,000 range.

In 1993, funding fell to $15,000 and the Bombers were dropped.

This year the cupboard is empty, said Dalager. The entire amount, again figured to be in that $15,000 range, will apparently have to come from fund-raising efforts outside of the usual Legion charitable gaming source.

It's a major challenge, acknowledged Dalager. But he doesn't want give up without a fight.

Much of the burden will fall upon the program participants. All prospective players, ages 16-18, and their parents are asked to attend a special Legion/VFW baseball meeting Wednesday, March 9, at 6:30 p.m. at the Legion to discuss the situation.

Possible fund-raising projects, said Dalager, include a baseball lotto, designed similar to the successful Thief River Falls Blue Line Club hockey raffle; corporate sponsorship of billboard signs that would ring the Irv Wilson Field diamond; sponsor names on the back of each uniform; and a series of Sunday breakfasts at the Legion beginning in mid-March.

A 42-game Legion schedule is already in place for the 1994 season, and a 20-game VFW schedule is in the works. But first money will have to be raised to fund those programs.

Dalager, Denny Minks, Rick Looker, and Ron Ostby are scheduled to serve as the coaches for those two teams. And Bill Weigelt has offered to help organize the fund-raising activities. But if the effort is going to be successful, said Dalager, a larger volunteer base must be organized – a baseball association that would provide support help like many of the other booster groups associated with the various sports programs in the schools.

"We need an active group that is willing to work to maintain the level the program is currently at," said Dalager, who would like to see that group work closely with the current Babe Ruth organization that operates the summer baseball program for 13-15-year-olds.

"I know its going to be a lot of work," said Dalager, "but I don't want to just throw up my arms and call it quits. I would like to keep this thing going, and I would like people to step forward and help out. We're open to any ideas. We're looking for some leadership."

Interested parties can attend Wednesday's meeting, or contact Dalager at his St. Hilaire home by calling 964-5761, or Weigelt at the Legion Club, telephone 681-1341.

After a visit to a dental office in Thief River Falls, children in the Center Based Head Start Program developed their own dental office. Ashley Verbout is demonstrating how to brush teeth properly while her "patient" patiently waits in the dental chair. The children have masks, bibs, dental picks and mirrors, and protective eyeglasses in their dental office.

Libraries get grants

Thief River Falls, Warroad, Crookston and Bemidji Public libraries have received $7,500 from the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund to establish resource centers for non-profit organizations and businesses.

In Thief River Falls, the program was developed in consultation with local business people and non-profit executives. The center will house extensive selections of reference volumes and circulating materials. These will include core collections for grant-seekers, fund-raisers, financial managers, board members, supervisors, personnel directors, marketers and business managers. The business center will place special emphasis on audio and video formats.

Similar resource centers are planned for the Warroad, Crookston and Bemidji public libraries. Heidi Hoks, library supervisor for Thief River Falls, has worked closely with these institutes to coordinate their efforts and avoid duplication. Through an inter-library loan system, the collections will supplement one another, ensuring maximum usefulness.

Hoks anticipates that the center will become available to the public in April, when a formal announcement will be made.

The Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund is a charitable foundation committed to improving the quality of life for residents of northwest Minnesota. To achieve this mission, the Fund focuses activities toward two principal goals — increased economic growth and business development, and increased capacity of individuals and organizations to shape the region's future.
